It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

PREFACE

The Book of Services for Congregational Worship is the outcome of the labors of a Committee appointed on November 14, 1911, by the Directors of the American Unitarian Association. The Committee consisted of Rev. Samuel A. Eliot, Rev. Howard N. Brown, Rev. Thomas Van Ness, Rev. William S. Jones, Rev. John H. Lathrop, Rev. Sydney B. Snow. The book has been prepared to meet the growing demand for a convenient and well-considered manual of worship adapted to the use of the Free Churches of the Congregational order. For this reason the simple order of service adopted is the form already familiar in many of these churches. It has had a natural growth and is, apparently, best suited to their common requirements. No part of the book as it stands bears the stamp of any single mind. It is the product of a group of minds, fairly representative of different shades of judgment and experience. In the preparation of the first five services the Committee has limited itself for the most part to editing material already at hand; this has been taken from a wide variety of sources, both ancient and modern. The services for special days and occasions reflect to a greater extent the individual taste and feeling of the members of the Committee.

That the work of the Committee, protracted and painstaking as it has been, has provided a final solution for the problem of public worship would be too much to claim. Services put together with far less thought have, however, held their place for years and have become endeared to the congregations using them. The members of the Committee cherish the hope that the services now offered will win for themselves an even deeper esteem. They are bold enough to think that the suggested readings and prayers contain less to which reasonable minds can make objection and more that is of the highest rank as an expression of religious thought and feeling than any heretofore employed in our churches. Especially do they believe that the Responsive Readings from the Psalms are the best ever compiled for general use.

With the fervent hope that these utterances of the spirit which searcheth the deep things of God may commend themselves to all who are striving to worship the Father in spirit and in truth, these services for congregational worship are offered to the churches of the Free Christian faith.

FIRST SERVICE

¶ *One or more of these sentences to be read
by the minister*

O magnify the Lord with me, and let us exalt his name together; for with him is the fountain of life, and in his light shall we see light. Psalms xxxiv. 3; xxxvi. 9.

The hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth; for the Father seeketh such to worship him. God is a spirit, and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth. John iv. 23, 24.

Surely the Lord is in this place. This is none other than the house of God, and this is the gate of heaven. Genesis xxviii. 16, 17.

Wherewith shall I come before the Lord, and bow myself before the high God? He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God? Micah vi. 6, 8.

Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father who is in heaven. Matthew vii. 21.

Whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, this man shall be blessed in his deed. James i. 25.

Choose ye this day whom ye will serve; but as for me and my house we will serve the Lord. The Lord our God will we serve and his voice will we obey. Joshua xxiv. 15, 24.

¶ To be said by the minister

With reverence and gratitude we adore the Eternal Goodness which makes our lives so rich and fruitful. Let us lift up our hearts unto the Lord, and bless his holy name; and may our praises and our prayers help to make our whole life an offering pure and acceptable in his sight.

Let us pray.

¶ *To be said by minister and people
together*

O Thou, whose never-failing providence ordereth all things, both in heaven and on earth: we praise thee, we glorify thee, we give thanks unto thee for all thou art to us, and all thou doest for us, day by day. For reason and conscience, for nurture and guidance, and for all the gifts of nature and of grace; for thy forbearance and long-suffering, and thy tender mercies which never fail; for all good things received, and for thy promise, and our hope of good in time to come; for these and all other mercies, known or unknown, remembered or forgotten, we will give thanks unto thee now and evermore. Amen.

¶ To be said by minister and people alternately

O God, the source of all being and all joy:

Let thy blessing be upon us, and fill us with thy love.

From all jealousy and envy, from all unkindness, from offence given or taken, from unrighteous anger and an impatient spirit, from a hard and unforgiving temper, and from evil-speaking,

O Lord, deliver us.

From an unquiet and discontented spirit, from despondency and gloom,

O Lord, deliver us.

From fears and misgivings, from doubts of thy boundless love, and from forgetfulness of thy tender mercies,

O Lord, deliver us.

Inspire in us, we pray thee, that spirit which suffereth long and is kind; which envieth not, vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up; which doth not behave itself unseemly, and seeketh not its own;

Grant us to be filled with the fulness of thy spirit.

Quicken in us that charity which is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth in the truth; which beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things; the charity which never faileth.

That so by thy grace we may establish good will upon the earth.

O thou who art the God and Father of us all, who hast breathed thine own spirit into thy children and made us to be at one with each other as members of thy household: enable us, we pray thee, to keep the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace. Amid diversities of knowledge and of faith, may we be one in spirit, in brotherly affection and in devotion to thy holy will. Deliver us from all blindness and prejudice, and whatsoever else would turn our hearts from one another. By the charity of our temper and thoughts, may we show forth the power of the gospel of love, and live in unity with all our brethren, as followers of the Prince of Peace.

¶ To be said by minister and people together

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil; for thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

Lift up your hearts.

We lift them up unto the Lord.

O Lord, open thou our eyes.

That we may behold wondrous things out of thy law.

O Lord, open thou our lips.

And our mouth shall show forth thy praise.

Praise ye the Lord.

The Lord's name be praised.

¶ The service may then proceed with a responsive reading from the Psalms, a scripture lesson, and the singing of anthems or hymns, in such order as has become customary in any church

PRAYERS

¶ The minister to read one or more of the following or offer prayer in his own words

The Lord be with you.

And with thy spirit.

Let us pray. O Lord, show thy mercy upon us.

And grant us thy salvation.

O God, make clean our hearts within us.

And take not thy holy spirit from us.

Father of lights and Giver of all good, we praise thee that thou callest us to share as thine own sons and daughters the life of freedom, truth and love. Grant, we pray thee, that in purity of heart we may receive and manifest the blessings of thy universal life here in thy kingdom upon earth and in thy presence evermore. Amen.

O God, grant unto us that we be not unwise, but filled with the knowledge of thy will; not slothful, but diligent in thy work; that we run not as uncertainly, nor fight thy battles as those that beat the air. Whatsoever our hand findeth to do, may we do it with our might: that when thou shalt call thy laborers to receive their reward, we shall have so run that we may obtain; have so fought the good fight as to receive the crown of eternal life. Amen.

We thank thee, O God, for the endless renewing of life. Thou that art never weary of setting us free from the bonds wherewith we have bound ourselves, make us to walk in this new day without fear or any kind of bondage. Open our eyes to receive new light; open our ears to hear the voices that are calling to us to make the world new by the power of love. Fit us for the task that is ours, and endue us with the spirit of that heavenly kingdom which is to come upon the earth where all shall be brothers and men shall be the people of God. Amen.

Clear, O Lord, our inner vision, that we may see through the false shows of life, and be kept calm and true by thy great realities. Waken us from the dreams of the earthly mind in its forgetfulness of thee. Reveal to the young what it is to live this great life of opportunity; and fill them with the pure and undefiled religion which will keep them unspotted from the world. And in the hearts of elders let not the fires die nor their work linger, till they are overtaken by the lengthening shadows of their appointed time. Though we know nothing of the morrow, may we be faithful to-day; gladly accepting the humblest task that waits for us by thy will and shines with the holy light of thine approval. Amen.

O God, the protector of all who put their trust in thee: we pray for the good estate of this our beloved land, that it may please thee to preserve to us the blessings of an equal and impartial freedom. Unite in mutual understanding men of alien race and faith; revive in all hearts a spirit of devotion to the public good, that strife and tumult may be appeased and justice and truth be exalted. Enable us and all thy people faithfully to discharge the duties of our different spheres, that so the kingdom of brotherhood and peace may be hastened upon the earth and thy will be done even as now it is done in heaven. Amen.

¶ Then may be sung an anthem or, a hymn, to be followed by the sermon, a congregational hymn, and the benediction

SECOND SERVICE

¶ *One or more of these sentences to be read
by the minister*

Bless the Lord, O my soul, and all that is within me bless his holy name. Psalm ciii. 1.

O give thanks unto the Lord, for he is good, for his mercy endureth forever. Psalm cxxxvi. 1.

Know ye that the Lord he is God; it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture. Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise. Psalm c. 3, 4.

Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. Matthew vii. 7, 8.

If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. If we confess our sins, God is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. 1 John i. 8, 9.

Search me, O God, and know my heart; try me, and know my thoughts; and see if there be any wicked way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting. Psalm cxxxix. 23, 24.

The Lord is nigh unto all that call upon him, to all that call upon him in truth. Psalm cxlv. 18.

¶ To be said by the minister

In the holy quiet of this hour, let us draw nigh to him who heareth prayer; and let us remember that he listeneth more to our hearts than to our words. Let each of us bring an offering of penitence, if not of purity; of love, if not of holiness; of teachableness, if not of wisdom; of devout obedience for the time to come, if not the fruits of well-doing in the time that is past. And may we obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need.

Let us pray.

¶ *To be said by minister and people
together*

O God, unto whom all hearts are open, all desires known, and from whom no secrets are hid: we are heartily sorry for the sins which we have at any time committed, in thought or affection, in word or deed. We pray thee to look graciously upon us and forgive us. Help us to lay aside every weight and the sins which so easily beset us. We offer thee our whole being, our bodies and souls, to be thy temple for ever. Take us, O Lord, into thy hands, and let nothing henceforward, either in life or death, separate us from thee any more. Amen.

¶ To be said by minister and people alternately

Almighty and most merciful God, toward whose everlasting blessedness we ascend by the strong desire of the soul, and by patient continuance in well-doing; lead us by thine inspiration to seek our true life with thee, and earnestly to strive to enter thy heavenly kingdom.

Send out thy light and thy truth: let them lead us.

Set us free from the bondage of self-will, and passion, and ungodly desire, that sin may not have dominion over us; but that with a willing mind we may serve thee, the Lord of heaven and earth.

Sanctify and renew us in the spirit of our minds.

From unrighteous anger and an impatient temper; from an uncharitable judgment and readiness to believe evil; from inordinate cares and needless anxieties; from complaints against thee and from rebellion against thy holy will:—

O Lord, deliver us.

Give us a wise and understanding heart, a fervent and faithful spirit, a love of holy things, and a longing for whatsoever is good and pure.

Lord, fix our hearts on thee.

Grant that we faint not, but though our outward man perish, may our inward man be renewed day by day.

Help us to live and walk in thy spirit.

Protect and bless our friends and kindred, and so fill us with gentleness and kindness that we may dwell in our homes with a perfect heart, and have joy in each other which passeth not away.

Hear us and bless us as we pray.

Assist us in all our doings with thy gracious favor and further us with thy continual help; that in all our works, begun, continued, and ended in thee, we may glorify thy holy name.

Lord, our trust is in thee.

¶ To be said by minister and people together

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil: for thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

Lift up your hearts.

We lift them up unto the Lord.

O Lord, open thou our eyes.

That we may behold wondrous things out of thy law.

O Lord, open thou our lips.

And our mouth shall show forth thy praise.

Praise ye the Lord.

The Lord's name be praised.

¶ The service may then proceed with a responsive reading from the Psalms, a scripture lesson, and the singing of anthems or hymns, in such order as has become customary in any church

PRAYERS

¶ The minister to read one or more of the following or offer pro:pr in his own words

The Lord be with you.

And with thy spirit.

Let us pray. O Lord, show thy mercy upon us.

And grant us thy salvation.

O God, make clean our hearts within us.

And take not thy holy spirit from us.

Almighty God, who hast bidden us seek that we may find, and who pourest out on all who desire it the spirit of thy grace: deliver us when we draw near to thee from coldness of heart and wandering of mind, that with steadfast thoughts and kindled affections we may worship thee in spirit and in truth. Amen.

O God, our light in darkness, our strength in weakness, and our eternal home, be unto us merciful, long suffering, and patient: that we who are slow of growth may hope to come at last to thy likeness; and, being upheld by thee, may go from strength to strength, until, having safely passed through the joy and duty of this earthly life, we come, in the fulness of thy mercy, into the land of thine eternal peace. Amen.

Almighty and everlasting God, who art the author of every good and perfect gift: send down upon all ministers of the gospel, and upon all congregations committed to their charge, the needful spirit of thy grace; and that they may truly please thee pour upon them the continual dew of thy blessing. Grant this, O heavenly Father, for thine infinite mercy's sake. Amen.

O Lord, our heavenly Father, who dost behold all the dwellers upon earth: most heartily we beseech thee to behold with thy favor the President and Congress of the United States; and so replenish them with the grace of thy holy spirit that they may incline to thy will, and walk in thy way. Endue them plenteously with heavenly gifts, that they may be enabled to promote the national prosperity and to secure the peace, liberty, and safety of the United States, throughout all generations. Amen.

O God, the Creator and Preserver of all mankind: we pray thee for all sorts and conditions of men, that thou wouldest be pleased to make thy ways known unto them, thy saving health unto all nations. We commend to thy fatherly goodness all those who are any ways afflicted or distressed in mind, body, or estate; that it may please thee to comfort and relieve them according to their several necessities, giving them patience under their sufferings, and a happy issue out of all their afflictions. Amen.

O Thou who hast compassed all the pathway of our lives: we thank thee that thy providence abides through every change. Thou dost cheer the loneliest lot with the comfort of thy presence, and we bless thee for thine unfailing care. Into thine own eternity thou hast called us, and set us in the midst of purposes we cannot measure; but we would thank thee for the good we know, and pray that thou wilt teach us patience till thou send more light. Waken our hearts to gratitude, O God, for mercies which have flowed upon us, day by day, in joy and sorrow, in health and sickness, in labor and repose. Give us grace to serve thee with our whole lives, that all manner of darkness and evil may be driven from our hearts, and that we may walk with joy in the way of thy commandment to love thee with our whole heart, and our neighbor as ourselves. Amen.

¶ Then may be sung an anthem or a hymn, to be followed by the sermon, a congregational hymn, and the benediction

THIRD SERVICE

¶ One or more of these sentences to be read by the minister

There is one God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all. Ephesians iv. 6.

The hour cometh and now is when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth; for the Father seeketh such to worship him. God is spirit, and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth. John iv. 23, 24.

Know ye not, that ye are the temple of God, and that the spirit of God dwelleth in you? 1 Corinthians iii. 16.

For as many as are led by the spirit of God, they are the sons of God. Romans viii. 14.

Behold what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God. 1 John iii. 1.

The path of the just is as the shining light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day. Proverbs iv. 18.

Come walk in his way with songs of joy, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on thee. Isaiah xxvi. 3.

¶ To be said by the minister

God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands; neither is worshipped with men's hands as though he needed anything, seeing he giveth to all life and breath and all things; and hath made of one blood all nations of men to dwell on all the face of the earth; and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation; that they should seek the Lord, if haply they might feel after him and find him, though he be not far from every one of us; for in him we live and move and have our being.

Let us pray.

¶ To be said by minister and people together

O Thou unseen, yet ever near our souls: anew we ask, with common needs and sympathies, thy help and blessing in our lives. Be with us now, as we remember before thee our struggles and our failures. Lord, we confess our unworthiness, and ask of thee more strength for duty, and a deeper faith. Take us into the fellowship of all pure hearts that cry to thee; teach us our kin with all who have conquered in difficulty, and loved even through their pain; and so make our worship fruitful in toil and trust. Amen.

¶ To be said by minister and people alternately

O Thou eternal and everlasting One, who hast chosen for thy temple the souls of them that are righteous: grant to us, we pray thee, a quick and tender conscience, that we fail not to heed every suggestion of thine indwelling spirit.

Lift us into thy light and truth.

Reveal to us the beauty of thy perfect will, the gladness of thy service, the power of thy presence in our hearts, that so without fear we may follow whithersoever thou dost lead.

Be thou, O Lord, our guide and help for evermore.

Calm the turbulence of our passions, quiet the throbbings of our hopes and fears, repress the waywardness of our wills, and direct the motions of our affections.

Strengthen us to bear our trials patiently and to glorify thee through our daily life.

We pray thee to bless and comfort the aged, to give strength unto such as are bearing the burden and heat of the day, and to preserve all whom we love from the dangers of this present life.

Prepare them, O Lord, by thy grace for life eternal.

Sanctify us by thy quickening presence, that no ignorance or sin may pervert us, and deepen in our minds such a sense of thy goodness that we may ever devote ourselves to thy service in word and deed, and praising thee both with our lips and our lives may go onward, through thy mercy, to the joy of life everlasting.

Amen.

¶ To be said by minister and people together

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil: for thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory for ever and ever. Amen.

Lift up your hearts.

We lift them up unto the Lord.

O Lord, open thou our eyes.

That we may behold wondrous things out of thy law.

O Lord, open thou our lips.

And our mouth shall show forth thy praise.

Praise ye the Lord.

The Lord's name be praised.

¶ The service may then proceed with a responsive reading from the Psalms, a scripture lesson, and the singing of anthems or hymns, in such order as has become customary in any church.

PRAYERS

¶ The minister to read one or more of the following or offer prayer in his own words

The Lord be with thee.

And with thy spirit.

Let us pray. O Lord, show thy mercy upon us.

And grant us thy salvation.

O God, make clean our hearts within us.

And take not thy holy spirit from us.

O God, who puttest into our hearts such deep desires that we cannot be at peace until we rest in thee: mercifully grant that the longing of our souls may not go unsatisfied because of any unrighteousness of life that may separate us from thee. Open our minds to the counsels of eternal wisdom; breathe into our souls the peace which passeth understanding. Let our hunger and thirst be for righteousness, that we may be filled with the bread of heaven. O Lord, give us grace to seek first thy kingdom; and we know that thou wilt add unto us all things needful. Amen.

Most merciful God, who never failest them that trust in thee: give us grace in all difficulties and distresses to rest in the assurance of thy wisdom and thy love. Thou wilt keep him, O Lord, in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on thee. Suffer us not to be oppressed with the cares of this life, but grant that, having done our part in all honesty and diligence, we may cheerfully commit ourselves to thy providence, casting all our cares on thee, and being strengthened to say, even in our darkest hour, Father, not our will, but thine, be done. Amen.

Thou who art the Providence of the World, from whom cometh every good and perfect gift: let thy blessing now rest upon us as a people. Enable every race which thou hast drawn hither by thy guiding spirit to dedicate its noblest gifts to the common good. Grant us wisdom to make the homes of our land abodes of comfort; grant us knowledge to lead all children in the right way. Inspire us with a new sense of sympathy for those who are in sorrow, need, or any other adversity, and for those who are worn with excessive toil. Hasten the day when the sense of kinship shall be firm and strong. Increase in us the manifold gifts of thy spirit, that through thy counsel and might we may do those works which glorify thee and gladden and uplift human lives. So, as co-workers with thee, shall we help to establish good will upon the earth, and to bring thy kingdom to every heart. Amen.

O Thou who art the strength of all souls: guide us through the darkness of this world, guard us from its perils, hold us up and strengthen us when we grow weary in our mortal way; and lead us by thy chosen paths, through time and through death, to our eternal home in thy heavenly kingdom. Amen.

¶ Then may be sung an anthem or hymn, to be followed by the sermon, a congregational hymn, and the benediction

FOURTH SERVICE

¶ One or more of these sentences to be read by the minister

Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make straight in the desert a highway for our God. Isaiah xl. 3.

They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary: they shall walk, and not faint. Isaiah xl. 31.

Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? or who shall stand in his holy place? He that hath clean hands and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully. He shall receive the blessing from the Lord, and righteousness from the God of his salvation. Psalms xxiv. 3, 4, 5.

Thoughts of peace, saith the Lord, do I think toward you; ye shall go and pray unto me, and I will hearken to you; ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all your heart. Jeremiah xxix. 11, 12, 13.

Know ye not that ye are the temple of God? The temple of God is holy, which temple ye are. 1 Corinthians iii. 16, 17.

¶ To be said by the minister

God, in whom we live and move and have our being, never leaves us day or night. But the very nearness and custom of his presence hide him from our infirm and sinful hearts, temptations gain a shameful power, and the good that is in us droops and fades. To clear such blindness away and recover the pure wisdom of a Christian mind, we are called to this day of remembrance and this house of prayer. Entering here, therefore, we cross the threshold of eternal things, and commune with the Father who seeth in secret. Let us shake off the dust of transitory care, and every disguise that can come between us and God; and remembering whose disciples we strive to be, come to the simplicity, though it should be also to the sorrows of the Christ.

Let us pray.

¶ To be said by minister and people together

O God, before whose face the generations rise and pass away: age after age the living seek thee, and find that of thy faithfulness there is no end. Our fathers in their pilgrimage walked by thy guidance, and rested on thy compassion; still to their children be thou the cloud by day, the fire by night. Where but in thee have we a covert from the storm or shadow from the heat of life? In our manifold temptations, thou alone knowest and art ever nigh; in sorrow, thy pity revives the fainting soul; in our prosperity and ease, it is thy spirit only that can wean us from our pride, and keep us low. O thou sole source of peace and righteousness, take now the veil from every heart, and join us in one communion with thy prophets and saints who have trusted in thee, and were not ashamed. Not of our worthiness, but of thy tender mercy, hear our prayer. Amen.

¶ To be said by minister and people alternately

Almighty and everlasting God, in communion with thy saints in all ages, with patriarchs and prophets, apostles and martyrs, with our beloved dead who have fallen asleep in thy peace: we, who are still striving to do and bear thy blessed will on earth, adore thee, and offer thee our praises and supplications.

Hear our prayers, O Lord, we beseech thee.

We ask of thee that wisdom which is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easy to be entreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without partiality and without hypocrisy.

Give us, we pray thee, wisdom from above.

Help us to walk with all lowliness and meekness, with long-suffering, forbearing one another in love; endeavoring to keep the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace.

So may we fulfil the law of love.

Enable us, by thy grace, to dedicate ourselves anew to the work which thou layest on conscience and heart.

In all we do, be thou, O Lord, our strength and help.

Lead us by thy chosen paths, through the perils of this mortal life, to our eternal home in thy heavenly kingdom.

Mercifully grant our prayers, O Lord.

Now unto the God of grace: for the might of his spirit and the love of Christ:

Be glory in the church throughout all ages, world without end. Amen.

¶ To be said by minister and people together

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil: for thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

Lift up your hearts.

We lift them up unto the Lord.

O Lord, open thou our eyes.

That we may behold wondrous things out of thy law.

O Lord, open thou our lips.

And our mouth shall show forth thy praise.

Praise ye the Lord.

The Lord's name be praised.

¶ The service may then proceed with a responsive reading from the Psalms, a scripture lesson, and the singing of anthems or hymns, in such order as has become customary in any church

PRAYERS

¶ The minister to read one or more of the following or offer prayer in his own words

The Lord be with thee.

And with thy spirit.

Let us pray. O Lord, show thy mercy upon us.

And grant us thy salvation.

O God, make clean our hearts within us.

And take not thy holy spirit from us.

Eternal God, who dost commit to us the swift and solemn trust of life: waken us now, we pray thee, to the claims of thy holy will: lay to rest, by the persuasion of thy spirit, the resistance of our passion, indolence and fear. Consecrate with thy presence the way our feet must go; and the humblest work will shine, and the roughest places be made plain. Lift us above unrighteous anger and mistrust into faith and hope and charity, by a simple and steadfast reliance on thy sure will, that so we may be modest in our time of wealth, patient under disappointment, ready for danger, serene in death and confident of everlasting life. Amen.

Almighty Lord, of whose righteous will all things are, and were created; who liftest the islands out of the deep, and preparest not in vain the habitable world: thou hast gathered our people into a great nation, and sent them to sow beside all waters and multiply sure dwellings on the earth. Deepen the root of our life in everlasting righteousness. Make us equal to our high trusts, reverent in the use of freedom, just in the exercise of power, generous in the protection of weakness. With all thy blessings bless thy servant the President of the United States. Fill his heart with loyalty to thee. To our legislators and counsellors give insight and faithfulness, that our laws may clearly speak the right, and our judges purely interpret it. Let it be known among us how thou hatest robbery for burnt-offering; that the gains of industry may be upright, and the use of wealth considerate. May wisdom and knowledge be the stability of our times and our deepest trust be in thee, the Lord of nations and the King of kings. Amen.

O God, who didst appoint thy church to be witness of divine things in all the world: revive the purity and deepen the power of its testimony: and through the din of earthly interests and the storm of human passions, let it make the still small voice of thy spirit inly felt. Nearer and nearer may thy kingdom come from age to age; meeting the face of the young as a rising dawn, and brightening the song of the old, "Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace." Already let its light abash our guilty negligence, and touch with hope each secret sorrow of the earth. By thy cleansing spirit make this world a fitting fore-court to that sanctuary not made with hands, where our life is hid with Christ in God. Amen.

Almighty God, who hast given us grace at this time with one accord to make our common supplications unto thee, and dost promise that, when two or three are gathered together in thy name, thou wilt grant their requests; fulfil now, O Lord, the desires and petitions of thy servants as may be most expedient for them, granting us in this world knowledge of thy truth, and in the world to come life everlasting. Amen.

¶ Then may be sung an anthem or a hymn, to be followed by the sermon, a congregational hymn, and the benediction

FIFTH SERVICE

¶ One or more of these sentences to be read by the minister

O give thanks unto the Lord for he is good: for his mercy endureth forever. Psalm cxxxvi. 1.

Come, and let us return unto the Lord; and we shall live in his sight. Let us know, let us follow on to know the Lord: his going forth is as sure as the morning; and he will come unto us as the rain, as the latter rain that watereth the earth. Hosea vi. 1, 2.

It is of the Lord's loving-kindnesses that we are not cast down, because his compassions fail not. They are new every morning; great is his faithfulness. The Lord is my portion, saith my soul; therefore will I hope in him. Lamentations iii. 22, 23, 24.

The Lord is gracious and full of compassion, long suffering and of great mercy. The Lord is good to all, and his tender mercies are over all his works. Psalm cxlv. 8, 9.

Rest in the Lord and wait patiently for him; and he shall give thee the desires of thine heart. Psalm xxxvii. 7.

Let us search and try our ways, and turn again to the Lord. Let us lift up our hearts with our hands unto God in the heavens. Lamentations iii. 40, 41.

Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men; and he shall dwell with them, and they shall be his people; and God himself shall be with them, and be their God. Revelation xxi. 3.

Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God. Matthew v. 8.

¶ To be said by the minister

The heavenly Father, in whose presence we now stand, is always more ready to hear than we to pray; nor does anything hide him from us but the veil of our impure and earthly mind. And since the preparations of even the willing heart are not without him, let us inwardly pray for the grace of a humble and contrite spirit, that for a little while we may rise above the haste and press of life, and commune with him in spirit and in truth.

Let us pray.

¶ To be said by minister and people together

Infinite and gracious Father, giver of all good, to know whom even but in part is to lay hold upon thine eternal life, grant unto us thy children the peace, joy, and courage which come to those whose lives are lived in the spirit of the Master of men, and centred and rooted in the thought of thee. Fix in us each noble hope, each worthy purpose; free our minds from needless fears and cares; confirm our faith in thine Eternal Righteousness that so, as worthy disciples of him whose example we would follow, we may go forward striving to do justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with our God. Amen.

¶ To be said by minister and people alternately

O God, our true life, in whom and by whom all things live, who by thy spirit dost command us to seek thee, and art ever ready to be found; to know thee is life, to serve thee is freedom, to praise thee is the joy and happiness of the soul.

We praise, and bless thee, and give thanks for thy great glory.

For seasons of bounty and of beauty, for nights of quiet sleep, for days of health, for the glory of earth, and its ministry to our need,

We bless thy name, O Lord.

For all the generations before us who through effort and pain have wrought so that we might be heirs of liberty and truth and peace,

We thank thee, our Father, and pray that we may enter into this heritage.

For opportunities used and unused, for victories over besetting sins, for the gladness and courage abiding with loyalty,

We praise thee, O God.

For the discipline that enriches, for the burden that strengthens, for the failure that is true success, and for the sorrow that enlarges the heart,

For these also we rejoice and give thee thanks.

For the soul and its powers, for the impulse to share, to serve, and to save,

We give thee thanks, O Lord.

Keep us, we pray thee, in thy love; and in and through the quickening of our spirits make us worthy of sonship with thee.

And to thee be the honor and glory, world without end. Amen.

¶ To be said by minister and people together

PRAYERS

¶ The minister to read one or more of the following or offer prayer in his own words

The Lord be with you.

And with thy spirit.

Let us pray. O Lord, show thy mercy upon us.

And grant us thy salvation.

O God, make clean our hearts within us.

And take not thy holy spirit from us.

O Lord our God, who turnest into morning the shadows of night, grant that we may be children of the light and of the day. Let the sun of thy righteousness shine in our hearts. Enlighten our minds, animate our consciences, and purify our affections. We give ourselves to thee this day. So rule and govern us by thy spirit that faithless distrust and all evil thoughts may be driven from our minds; that we may walk with joy in the light of thy countenance and in the way of thy salvation. Amen.

O Thou, who hast neither dawn nor evening, yet sendest us the alternate mercies of the darkness and the day: as thou liftest the curtain of night from our abodes, take also the veil from all our hearts. Rise with thy morning upon our souls; quicken all our labor and our prayer; and, though all else decline, let the noontide of thy grace and peace remain. May we walk, while it is yet day, in the steps of him who with fewest hours finished thy divine work. And unto thee, whose we are and whom we serve, will we render praise now and for evermore. Amen.

O Thou, who by thy spirit art continually calling us to be sons of God and who hast set one before us that he might be as the first-born of many brethren, help us, we pray thee, to renounce all vain and evil ways, that so we may be like him in faith and love and heavenly communion, and finally attain, through thy grace, unto the measure of the stature of that fulness which thou desirest in all thy children. Amen.

Almighty God, our heavenly Father, we pray thee to look with favor upon thy worshipping people now before thee. We commend to thee our homes and our country. Defend our liberties and uphold our free institutions. If it be thy will, deliver us from violence within and from strife without; save us from warfare and pestilence; and bless our people with peaceful industries and with happy homes. We pray thee to bless thy servant, the President of the United States. Plenteously endue him with wisdom from above and abundantly enrich him with thy heavenly grace. For all who are in authority, we pray that, as they rule by thy favor, so they may serve in thy fear. So, by thy grace, may we be that happy nation whose God is the Lord. Amen.

Almighty God, who hast given us grace at this time with one accord to make our common supplications unto thee, and dost promise that, when two or three are gathered together in thy name, thou wilt grant their requests: fulfil now, O Lord, the desires and petitions of thy servants as may be most expedient for them, granting us in this world knowledge of thy truth, and in the world to come life everlasting. Amen.

A SERVICE FOR CHRISTMAS

¶ One or more of these sentences to be said by the minister

How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace, that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth salvation; that saith unto Zion, Thy God reigneth. Isaiah lii. 7.

Arise, shine! for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee; and the Gentiles shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightness of thy rising. Isaiah lx. 1, 3.

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will to men. Luke ii. 14.

¶ To be said by the minister

The Lord of Life, who maketh the sun to shed afar its light and warmth, hath also spread abroad his spirit among men that they may know the joy of life lived in peace and good will. For all his manifold blessings we are unfeignedly thankful, but chiefly for the gifts of the spirit which he hath bestowed upon us in those whom he hath raised up to be his prophets. On this day, therefore, let us praise him for the life and grace of Jesus and for that heavenly kingdom which hath taken hold upon the hearts of men throughout the world. May the joy of his gospel be our joy; and may we be not unmindful of the hope that is born on this festival of nativity, as we think of the little child and the divine possibilities in each new birth.

Let us pray.

¶ To be said by minister and people together

O Thou who dwellest on high, accept this day the gladness of our hearts as our richest gift upon thine altar; and confirm the spirit of this holy time that it may be with us throughout the days to come.

¶ To be said by minister and people alternately

O Lord God, who art in the midst of us, mighty to save, who dost rejoice over us with joy, we praise thee that thou art shown unto us in love and mercy, in holiness and devotion everywhere, so that thou art never without witness among thy people. Especially do we praise thee for those members of thy family who so serve thy will that having seen them, we behold thee. May the star of their lives burn before us until we too have made thy will our own and know that thou art with us alway.

Open our eyes, O Lord, that we may see thy glory round about us.

Make us quick to know each one of whom thou dost say "Hear ye him," that we may follow the voices of the shepherds of mankind. Let no accent of thy holy spirit be lost in us, that we also may wonder at the words of grace which proceed out of the mouths of thy holy prophets. We would sit at the feet of Jesus on the mount and be taught of blessedness and love.

Open our ears, O Lord, that we may hear the multitude of the heavenly host.

Father, thou alone knowest the cares that press upon us and the burdens that weigh us down. When we are beset by fears, when we are disheartened, lonely or sorrowful, freshen our faith in thee and in thy kindly providence, that we may praise thee for the hand that bears us up. In hours of victory and joy as well, save us from ingratitude and from forgetfulness of thee.

Open our mouths, O Lord, that we may sing, Glory to thee in the highest.

Make us humble of heart, that we may be a fit abiding place for thee, even as the manger for the holy child. Purify our minds, that we may behold thy truth; sanctify our wills, that we may move only to thy purposes; and kindle our affections, that our love may be broad as thy redeeming love. We would that the spirit that was in Jesus should be born in us, that we, as thy beloved sons, may call thee Father.

Quicken us, O Lord, that we may receive these things and ponder them in our hearts. Amen.

¶ To be said by minister and people together

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil: for thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

Lift up your hearts.

We lift them up unto the Lord.

O Lord, open thou our eyes.

That we may behold wondrous things out of thy law.

O Lord, open thou our lips.

And our mouth shall show forth thy praise.

Praise ye the Lord.

The Lord's name be praised.

RESPONSIVE READING

Behold my servant, whom I uphold; my chosen, in whom my soul delighteth:

I have put my spirit upon him; he shall bring forth judgment to the peoples.

He shall not fail nor be discouraged, till he have set judgment in the earth; and the isles shall wait for his law.

I will give him for a light to the peoples that he may be my salvation unto the end of the earth.

Sing, O heavens; and be joyful, O earth; and break forth into singing, O mountains: for the Lord hath comforted his people.

The spirit of the Lord God is upon him; because the Lord hath anointed him to preach good tidings unto the meek;

He hath sent him to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound;

To proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord, to comfort all that mourn;

To give unto them a garland for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness;

That they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that he might be glorified.

Praise be to God for that spirit which from generation to generation entering into holy souls maketh them friends of God and prophets!

Blessed be the Lord God; for he hath visited and wrought redemption for his people;

As he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets, which have been since the world began;

That we should serve him without fear, in holiness and righteousness before him all our days.

Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord:

Blessed is the kingdom that cometh.

The Lord is God, and he hath given us light. O give thanks unto the Lord;

Because of the tender mercy of our God, whereby the dayspring from on high hath visited us,

To shine upon them that sit in darkness and to guide our feet into the way of peace.

¶ The service may then proceed with a scripture lesson, and the singing of anthems or hymns, in such order as has become customary in any church

PRAYERS

¶ The minister to read one or more of the following or offer prayer in his own words

The Lord be with you.

And with thy spirit.

Let us pray. O Lord, show thy mercy upon us.

And grant us thy salvation.

O God, make clean our hearts within us.

And take not thy holy spirit from us.

O Thou whose eye is over all the children of men, and who hast called them by the Prince of Peace into a kingdom not of this world: send forth his spirit speedily into the dark places of our guilt and woe, and arm it with the piercing power of thy grace. May it reach the heart of every oppressor, and make arrogancy dumb before thee. Let it still the noise of our strife and the tumult of the people; put to shame the false idols of every mind; carry faith to the doubting, hope to the fearful, strength to the weak, light to the mourner; and more and more increase the pure in heart who see their God. Commit thy word, O Lord, to the lips of faithful men, or the free winds of thine invisible providence; that soon the knowledge of thee may cover the earth, as the waters cover the sea. Amen.

Holy Father of whom the whole family in heaven and earth is named; thou who art the giver of every good and perfect gift; we thank thee for home and childhood, and for the friendships and fellowships that are dear to us. Take from us all unhallowed thoughts and feelings; our vanity and pride, and all doubt and jealousy of others. If any have wronged us we ask thee to forgive them and to teach us thy forgiveness. Soften and fill our hearts with love and gratitude, with tenderness and peace, that this day we may enter the kingdom as little children. Consecrate our joy; help us to serve thee with mirth, and whether we eat or drink, or whatsoever we do, may we do all to thy glory. Amen.

Our God, who hast mercifully and patiently led us through the busy year, giving us more than we have deserved or even desired, give us at this Christmas time the grace which was in Jesus Christ. Let the spirit of the little child, as it knocks to-day at the hearts of men, enter our life and bless it. Let duty become touched with delight, and justice be forgotten in love. Ofttimes we ask that we may not fall short of thy requirements. To-day we ask for more: that obligation may be changed to opportunity and duty done with joy. Ofttimes we ask that we may walk uprightly. To-day we pray for grace to bow ourselves to others' needs. Let our ears hear the cry of the needy, and our hearts feel the love of the unlovely. Give our hands strength, not to do great things, but to do small things graciously. Let our gifts to-day be a privilege rather than a sacrifice and let us accept kindness with humility. Heal the wounds of misunderstanding, jealousy or regret, and let the gentler air of the Christmas spirit touch our lives, as the cold of winter is touched by the gentler days of spring. As the old year ends and the new year begins, grant us peace with the world and peace in our own hearts, that those we love and those whom we may help may have sweet joy and rest. Amen.

¶ Then may be sung an anthem or a hymn, to be followed by the sermon, a congregational hymn and the benediction

A SERVICE FOR EASTER

¶ One or more of these sentences to be said by the minister

Sing unto the Lord, for he hath done excellent things! Isaiah xii. 6.

Sing, O heavens; and be joyful, O earth; for the Lord hath comforted his people. Isaiah xlix. 13.

The souls of the righteous are in the hands of God and there shall no evil touch them. Wisdom iii. 1.

For to know thee is perfect righteousness: yea, to know thy power is the root of immortality. Wisdom xv. 3.

And the ransomed of the Lord shall return with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads; they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away. Isaiah xxxv. 10.

Except a grain of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone, but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit. John xii. 24.

When this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory! 1 Corinthians xv. 54.

There is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body. As we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly. Thanks be to God who giveth us the victory. 1 Corinthians xv.

¶ To be said by the minister

On this day we celebrate the coming of that great hope of everlasting life which shines through the Gospel. Believing that through Jesus the immortal world has been brought nearer to the hearts of men, we praise God for the assurance thus given that we shall not die, but live. As it is the summit of all human joy to know that the life of earth may go on into realms of endless love and blessedness, let us hold this festival with gladness and thanksgiving.

Let us pray.

¶ To be said by minister and people together

Father of compassion and fountain of all goodness, we heartily thank thee for thy bountiful gifts to us and to all men. We thank thee for the blessings of health and strength, and for our consolations in time of trial. We thank thee for all kindly charities and pure affections, for the means of doing good thou hast given, and for the victory over sin and death thou hast promised us. Above all, we thank thee for the revelation of thy goodness, and for the love that governs all our ways. We therefore bless thy holy name, and bring our offering of praise and gratitude, praying that thou wilt establish us in every good word and work and make us worthy the love thou hast bestowed upon us. Amen.

¶ To be said by minister and people
alternately

O God, who art Lord over all and within all, teach our hearts to sing for joy when our lips sing praises unto thee for all thy mercies. Banish from our souls, we pray thee, gloom, discontent, and fear, and make thy love of us and our love of thee to be in us joy, confidence, and full satisfaction.

Grant us, O Lord, to rest in thee, and in thee to have our hearts at peace.

O God, who hast made us thy sons, and heirs of eternal life, grant that having this hope we may purify ourselves, and become worthy of what thou hast in keeping for us.

Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see thee.

On this day which celebrates the power of the soul to outlast the changes of earth, and to rise victorious over the bondage of death, may our immortal being hear the call and feel its meaning.

Help us to rise from the death of sin to the life of righteousness.

Make us to know, and feel, that all thy children are precious in thy sight, and that they live evermore unto thee.

There shall be no more death; and thou shalt wipe away all tears from our eyes.

All glory be to thee, O God, whose light hath shined in our hearts to show us a way of everlasting life.

Blessed art thou for this light which no darkness overspreads.

Thou art the Lord, who hast shown us such light.

Thy mercy is everlasting, and thy truth endureth from generation to generation.

¶ To be said by minister and people
together

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil: for thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

Lift up your hearts.

We lift them up unto the Lord.

O Lord, open thou our eyes.

That we may behold wondrous things out of thy law.

O Lord, open thou our lips.

And our mouth shall show forth thy praise.

Praise ye the Lord.

The Lord's name be praised.

RESPONSIVE READING

The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup: thou maintainest my lot.

The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places; yea, I have a goodly heritage.

I will bless the Lord, who hath given me counsel. I have set the Lord always before me: because he is at my right hand, I shall not be moved.

Therefore my heart is glad, and my glory rejoiceth: my flesh also shall rest in hope.

For thou wilt not leave my soul in the grave, neither wilt thou suffer thine holy one to see corruption.

Thou wilt show me the path of life: in thy presence is fulness of joy. At thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore.

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: he leadeth me beside the still waters.

He restoreth my soul: he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.

Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.

Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

Oh, give thanks unto the Lord; for he is good; for his mercy endureth forever.

I called upon the Lord in distress: the Lord answered me, and set me in a large place.

The Lord is on my side; I will not fear what man can do unto me.

It is better to trust in the Lord than to put confidence in man.

It is better to trust in the Lord than to put confidence in princes.

The Lord is my strength and song, and is become my salvation.

The voice of rejoicing and salvation is in the tabernacles of the righteous: the right hand of the Lord doeth valiantly.

I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord.

The Lord hath chastened me sore: but he hath not given me over unto death.

Open to me the gates of righteousness:

I will go into them, and I will praise the Lord.

I will praise thee: for thou hast heard me, and art become my salvation.

The stone which the builders refused is become the head stone of the corner.

This is the Lord's doing: it is marvellous in our eyes.

This is the day which the Lord hath made: we will rejoice and be glad in it.

¶ The service may then proceed with a scripture lesson, and the singing of anthems or hymns, in such order as has become customary in any church

PRAYERS

¶ The minister may read one or more of the following, or may offer prayer in his own words

The Lord be with you.

And with thy spirit.

Let us pray.

O Lord, show thy mercy upon us.

And grant us thy salvation.

O God, make clean our hearts within us.

And take not thy holy spirit from us.

Almighty God, who hast caused the light of eternal life to shine upon the world, grant that at this holy season our hearts may be so kindled with heavenly desires, and thy love may be so shed abroad in us through thy holy spirit, that we may continually seek the things which are above. Help us to abide in purity of heart and mind, that we may at length attain unto thine everlasting kingdom, to dwell in thy presence, world without end. Amen.

Our Father in heaven, we thank thee for all who have walked in thy light, and especially for those near to us and dear, in whose lives we have seen thine excellent glory and beauty. May we know that out of the body as in the body they are with thee, and that, when these earthly days come to an end, it is not that our service of thee and of one another may cease, but that it may begin anew. Make us glad in all who have faithfully lived; make us glad in all who have peacefully died. Lift us into light and love and purity and blessedness; and give us at last our portion with those who have trusted in thee, and sought in all things to do thy holy will. Amen.

O Lord of life, who dwellest in eternity, and who hast planted in our hearts the faith and hope which look beyond our mortal life to another, even a heavenly country, we give thanks to thee this day for the bright shining of the light of immortality in Jesus Christ. As he has showed us the blessedness of heaven on earth, and has called us into a kingdom not of this world, so may our life be made ever richer in the things that do not pass away. Raise us up, we pray thee, in the power of his spirit, from the death of sin to the life of righteousness. Prepare us to follow him, in hope and trust, through all the darkness of the grave into the world of light whither he has led the way. And, when our spirits shrink before the mysteries of life and death, may we be comforted by the thought of that immortal love which knows no change, and feel that, whether we live or die, we are safe in thine everlasting arms. Amen.

O God, the King eternal, who dividest the day from the darkness and turnest the shadow of death into the morning, drive far from us all wrong desires, incline our hearts to keep thy law, and guide our feet into the way of peace; that, having done thy will with cheerfulness while it was day, we may, when the night cometh, rejoice to give thee thanks. Amen.

Almighty God, who hast given us grace at this time with one accord to make our common supplications unto thee, and dost promise that, when two or three are gathered together in thy name, thou wilt grant their requests: fulfil now, O Lord, the desires and petitions of thy servants as may be most expedient for them, granting us in this world knowledge of thy truth, and in the world to come life everlasting. Amen.

¶ Then may be sung an anthem or a hymn, to be followed by the sermon, a congregational hymn, and the benediction

A SERVICE OF THANKSGIVING

¶ *One or more of these sentences to be read
by the minister*

O give thanks unto the Lord, for he is good; for his mercy endureth forever. Psalm cvi. 1.

Because thy loving kindness is better than life, my lips shall praise thee. Psalm lxiii. 3.

The Lord shall preserve thee from all evil, he shall preserve thy soul. Psalm cxxi. 7.

Serve the Lord with gladness; come before his presence with a song. Know ye that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us and not we ourselves; we are his people and the sheep of his pasture. Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise. Psalm c.

Praise waiteth for thee, O God of our salvation: who art the confidence of all the ends of the earth, and of them that are afar off upon the sea; who by thy strength settest fast the mountains, being girded with power; who stillest the waves of the sea, and the tumult of the people. Thou visitest the earth and waterest it; thou greatly enrichest it with the river of God; thou crownest the year with thy goodness, and thy paths drop fatness. Psalm lxxv.

O magnify the Lord with me, and let us exalt his name together. Psalm xxxiv. 3.

¶ To be said by the minister

Let us adore the ever-living God, and render praise unto him who spread out the heavens and established the earth, whose glory is revealed in the heavens above and whose greatness is manifest throughout the world; he is our God and there is none else. Therefore we bow the head and bend the knee and magnify the King of kings, the Holy One; blessed be he.

Let us pray.

¶ *To be said by minister and people
together*

O Lord our God, who hast bidden the light to shine out of darkness, who hast again wakened us to praise thy goodness and ask for thy grace: accept now, in thine endless mercy, the sacrifice of our worship and thanksgiving, and grant unto us such of our desires as may be wholesome for us. Make us to be children of the light and of the day, and heirs of thine everlasting inheritance. Remember, O Lord, according to the multitude of thy mercies, thy whole church: all who join with us in prayer; all our brethren by land and sea, or wherever they may be in thy vast kingdom, who stand in need of thy grace and succor. Pour out upon all the riches of thy mercy, and we will ever praise thy glorious name. Amen.

¶ To be said by minister and people alternately

O God, our heavenly Father, from whom cometh every good and perfect gift: we lift up to thee the voice of our thanksgiving; we praise thee for the life which thou hast given us, and the service to which thou hast appointed us, for the knowledge of thy will, and the inspiration of thy love:

We praise thee, O our God.

For the work we have strength to do, for the truth we have insight to learn; for whatever good there has been in our past lives, and for the hopes which lead us on toward better things:

We praise thee, O our God.

For the revealing of thy presence in nature, and the tokens of thy wisdom and power, in the least as in the greatest; for every moment of nearer communion with thy spirit in all that is fair and glorious in the world:

We praise thee, O our God.

For thy holy word of righteousness and truth, spoken by the wise and good in every age, made manifest in noble and saintly lives:

We praise thee, O our God.

For home and friends, for all the comfort and gladness of our lives, for encouragements to duty, for succor in temptation, for sympathy in sorrow, for the peace that is gained through strife, and the rest that comes after toil:

We praise thee, O Lord, and bless thy holy name.

When our spirits fail, when our way is darkened, when we are oppressed by care, or laden with sorrow, or weighed down by sin, then, for the love which bids us come to thee and lay our burden at thy feet:

We praise thee, O God, our Father and our Friend.

Make us ever more worthy of thy mercies, as we ourselves show mercy to our brethren.

As all have received thy gifts, even so help us to minister the same, that we may be good stewards of thy manifold grace. Amen.

¶ To be said by minister and people together

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil: for thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

Lift up your hearts.

We lift them up unto the Lord.

O Lord, open thou our eyes.

That we may behold wondrous things out of thy law.

O Lord, open thou our lips.

And our mouth shall show forth thy praise.

Praise ye the Lord.

The Lord's name be praised.

RESPONSIVE READING

Praise ye the Lord, for it is good to sing praises unto our God; for it is pleasant, and praise is comely.

He healeth the broken in heart, and bindeth up their wounds.

He telleth the number of the stars;
he calleth them all by their names.

*Great is the Lord, and of great power;
his understanding is infinite.*

Sing unto the Lord with thanksgiving;
sing praise upon the harp unto our God;

*Who covereth the heavens with clouds,
who prepareth rain for the earth, who maketh grass to grow upon the mountains.*

He giveth to the beast his food, and to the young ravens which cry.

The Lord taketh pleasure in them that fear him, in those that hope in his mercy.

Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem, for he hath strengthened the bars of thy gates; he hath blessed thy children within thee.

He maketh peace in thy borders, and fillethe thee with the finest of the wheat.

He sendeth forth his commandment upon earth, his word runneth very swiftly.

*He giveth snow like wool; he scattereth
the hoar-frost like ashes.*

He casteth forth his ice like morsels;
who can stand before his cold?

*He sendeth out his word and melteth
them; he causeth his wind to blow, and
the waters flow.*

Praise ye the Lord from the heavens;
praise him in the heights.

*Praise ye him, sun and moon, praise
him, all ye stars of light;*

Mountains and all hills; fruitful
trees and all cedars;

*Beasts and all cattle; creeping things
and flying fowl;*

Kings of the earth and all people;
princes and all judges of the earth;

Young men and maidens; old men and children.

Let them praise the name of the Lord; for his name alone is excellent;

his glory is above the earth and heaven.
Praise ye the Lord.

¶ *The service may then proceed with a scripture
lesson, and the singing of anthems or hymns, in such order as has become customary in any church*

PRAYERS

¶ The minister to read one or more of the following or offer prayer in his own words

The Lord be with you.

And with thy spirit.

Let us pray. O Lord, show thy mercy upon us.

And grant us thy salvation.

O God, make clean our hearts within us.

And take not thy holy spirit from us.

Almighty God, in whose hands are the destinies of the nations: we pray thee to bless our country, and to lead us in the way of honor and justice, and of true and enduring prosperity. Thou,
Lord, hast permitted us to increase in power and riches. Thou hast endowed us with gifts of knowledge and skill, and assigned us a place among the mighty nations of the world. May we be mindful of the trust which thou hast thus laid upon us, and ever be found faithful to thy cause. Raise up among us noble and upright men, to be leaders and counsellors of the people.
May all who are in authority exercise their power as ministers of thy justice and thy mercy, and may a wise and faithful spirit prevail in all our councils. Deliver us from all evil ambitions and selfish rivalries and false judgments.
May every calling be fulfilled in honesty, and every talent be rightly improved. Make us so wisely to love our country, and so steadfastly to follow after all that makes for its true greatness, that we may hold a worthy place in the community of nations, and live as fellow-citizens of thy kingdom, in loyalty to thee, the sovereign Lord of all. Amen.

O God, who by thy spirit dost purify the minds of men, leading them into the truth, kindling in them the grace of charity, and drawing them unto thyself in the bond of peace: we beseech thee to sanctify our hearts, that everything which beareth evil fruit may die in us, and that all which is good and holy may live, and yield the fruit of righteousness unto eternal life. So guide us through the ways of this world that no snares may entangle us, no temptations lead us astray; but that we may abide in thy truth, be comforted by thy love, and be brought in safety into thine everlasting kingdom. Amen.

Pour into our hearts the spirit of unselfishness, so that, when our cup overrunneth, we may seek to share our happiness with our brethren. O thou God of love, who makest thy sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendest rain on the just and on the unjust, grant that we may become more and more thy true children, as we receive into our souls thine own spirit of unwearying kindness, and show it forth unto the least of thy little ones. Amen.

O most merciful God, whose mercies are as high as the heavens, great and many as the moments of eternity: fill our souls, we beseech thee, with great thoughts of thine unspeakable blessings, that our thankfulness may be as great as are our needs of mercy. Let thy loving-kindness endure forever and forever upon us; and, because we cannot praise thee according to thine excellence, take our souls, in due time, into the land of everlasting praises, that we may spend eternity in ascribing to thy name glory and honor and dominion. Amen.

Almighty God, who hast given us grace at this time with one accord to make our common supplications unto thee, and dost promise that, when two or three are gathered together in thy name, thou wilt grant their requests: fulfil now, O Lord, the desires and petitions of thy servants as may be most expedient for them, granting us in this world knowledge of thy truth, and in the world to come life everlasting. Amen.

¶ Then may be sung an anthem or a hymn, to be followed by the sermon, a congregational hymn and the benediction

A SERVICE OF RIGHTEOUSNESS AND PEACE

¶ One or more of these sentences to be read by the minister

The kingdom of God is righteousness, and peace and joy. Romans xiv. 17.

Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called the children of God. Matthew v. 9.

Let us follow after the things which make for peace, and the things whereby we may edify one another. Romans xiv. 19.

In this the children of God are manifest: whosoever doeth not righteousness is not of God, neither he that loveth not his brother. 1 John iii. 10.

God is no respecter of persons, but in every nation he that feareth him and worketh righteousness is accepted of him. Acts x. 34, 35.

Where the spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty. 2 Corinthians iii. 17.

When the wicked man turneth away from his wickedness which he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall save his soul alive. Ezekiel xix. 27.

Mercy and truth are met together; righteousness and peace have kissed each other. Psalms lxxxv. 10.

Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? or who shall stand in his holy place?

He that hath clean hands and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully. Psalms xxiv. 3, 4.

¶ To be said by the minister

In the holy quiet of this hour, let us pray that the sense of the nearness and faithfulness of God may be quickened within us. May our hearts be filled with gratitude and praise, and our daily lives be gladdened and uplifted by the thought of our divine kinship, and let us earnestly awaken to the high privilege of those accounted worthy to be fellow workers with God, called by his spirit to bring in the reign of righteousness and peace.

¶ To be said by minister and people together

O Thou who keepest the steps of the upright in heart, in knowledge of whom standeth our eternal life: enable us by thy grace to live worthily as in thy sight. Inspire us with the spirit of devotion to thy holy will whereby we may prove faithful in that which is least as well as in that which is most. Join us in one great fellowship with those who seek to make firm and sure thy kingdom upon the earth. By the charity of our temper and thoughts may we show forth the power of the gospel of love and so live in unity and peace with all men. Amen.

¶ To be said by minister and people alternately

O God, who hast made of one blood all nations of men to dwell in the unity of the spirit which is the bond of peace; amid diversities of race and calling enable us to trust thy divine plan of love, in the working out of which thou dost give to each generation its appointed share.

Uphold in us, O Lord, the faith in our common brotherhood, that we may be kindly affectioned one toward another.

Grant that the blessings we have received from those gone before may be transmitted to them that are to come, with no principle impaired, but strengthened and illuminated by our steadfast loyalty and good works.

Make us worthy, O Lord, of all thy benefits.

Revive in us and in the people of this land a spirit of devotion to the common weal, that so we may be kept from sloth and indifference, from every selfish indulgence and impurity, and from all corruption of civil government and the high citizenship committed to us.

Lead us, O Lord, in thy righteousness.

Endue with the spirit of wisdom those entrusted with authority, that there may be peace throughout this land, and that we may be an influence for good among the nations of the earth.

Let thy peace, O Lord, rule in all our hearts.

Take from us all jealousy and envy at the good of others, all unkindness from offences given or taken, all unrighteous anger and an impatient spirit.

O Lord, deliver us from evil.

¶ To be said by minister and people together

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil: for thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

Lift up your hearts.

We lift them up unto the Lord.

O Lord, open thou our eyes.

That we may behold wondrous things out of thy law.

O Lord, open thou our lips.

And our mouth shall show forth thy praise.

Praise ye the Lord.

The Lord's name be praised.

RESPONSIVE READING

The Lord our God hath prepared his throne for judgment. It is he who reigneth over all the earth.

And he will judge the world in righteousness and minister judgment to the people.

He will bring forth justice to the nations; he will bring forth mercy and truth.

The Lord will not fail nor faint till he have set justice in the earth; until he have burst the cruel yoke asunder, and given liberty to the captive and to them that are oppressed.

In righteousness and peace hath he called us, and set us as a great light among the nations.

And in the need of the times that are and shall be, the Lord, the Eternal, shall be our help and that of all generations.

Pray for the peace of our land; let all the people say, Peace be within thee,

Peace be within thee and prosperity within thy borders.

Let the redeemed of the Lord say this, whom he hath redeemed from many lands,

And called from the east and from the west; from the north and from the south.

O let them praise the Lord for his goodness,

And for his wonderful works to the children of men.

Arise, O Lord, that the nations may know thy power; arise, O God, and let not brutish men have dominion upon the earth,

Nor they that know not thy law triumph in their might.

Lighten, O Lord, the dark places of the nations, and give peace and godliness to the world,

*So that the cruel shall be turned to mercy,
and the unthankful shall open his heart.*

Pour out thy spirit upon all flesh and write thy law upon the hearts of men,

For then shall there be the flame of freedom in men's souls and the light of knowledge in their eyes.

Let justice dwell in the far-off isles and righteousness abound among the people.

And the work of righteousness shall be peace, and the effect of righteousness quietness and confidence forever.

And men shall beat their swords into ploughshares and their spears into pruning hooks.

Nation shall not lift up sword against nation; neither shall they learn war any more.

Let good-will speed from nation to nation; let the voice of friendship prevail in distant lands.

Yea: let the whole earth rejoice together as one people.

And the melody of righteousness shall be as the new song of them that are redeemed.

So shall all hearts be filled with rejoicing, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

¶ The service may then proceed with a scripture lesson and the singing of anthems or hymns, in such order as has become customary in any church

PRAYERS

¶ *The minister to read one or more of the following
or offer prayer in his own words*

The Lord be with you.

And with thy spirit.

Let us pray. O Lord, show thy mercy upon us.

And grant us thy salvation.

O God, make clean our hearts within
us.

And take not thy holy spirit from us.

O Thou in whom are calmness and peace, inspire in us that love which suffereth long and is kind, which envieth not, vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up, which doth not behave itself unseemly, and seeketh not its own: reconcile, we pray thee, whatsoever dissensions may now divide us, and bring us more nearly into a unity of purpose which may bear some likeness to thy blessed will, and finally, through thy grace, unite us all as members of one family, that with one heart and one mind we may serve and glorify thee our Father, and the Father of all mankind. Amen.

Lord of all, whose balance trieth the nations, to lift up or to cast down:
never through vain conceit may we be blind to the unchanging conditions of thy blessing. The world and its fullness are thine; our portion thereof

may we hold, not in wanton self-will, but reverently, as of thee; making it the stronghold of right, the refuge of the oppressed, and the moderator of lawless ambition. Make all who speak or act for this nation true organs of thy equity, that through their wisdom and faithfulness thou mayst be our lawgiver and judge. And let it be that, as with the people so with the chiefs, as with the toiler so with him who directeth toil, as with the buyer so with the seller, all may know thee as weighing the path of the just; that righteousness may be the girdle of our power, and by justice our commonwealth may be established. Amen.

O Thou whose kingdom is a kingdom of justice and mercy, impel, by thy righteous spirit, all in whose hands thou has placed power and wealth to be faithful to their stewardship. Protect the efforts of sober and honest industry and suffer not the hire of the laborer to be kept back. Incline to forbearance and good will the hearts of those who are employed, that so the bonds of union and brotherly love may be maintained, and evermore firmly established. Amen.

Almighty God, who hast given us grace at this time with one accord to make our common supplications unto thee, and dost promise that, when two or three are gathered together in thy name, thou wilt hearken unto their requests: fulfil now, O Lord, the desires and petitions of thy servants as may be most expedient for them, granting us in this world knowledge of thy truth, and in the world to come life everlasting. Amen.

¶ Then may be sung an anthem or a hymn, to be followed by the sermon, a congregational hymn and the benediction

A SERVICE OF COMMEMORATION

¶ These sentences to be read by the minister

Give ear, O my people, to my speech:
incline your ears to the words of my mouth.

I will open my mouth in a parable:
I will utter dark sayings of old:

What we have heard and known, and our fathers have told us.

We will not hide them from their children, showing to the generation to come the praises of the Lord, his strength, and his wonderful works that he hath done.

For he established statutes, and appointed a law, which he commanded our fathers to make known to their children:

That the generation to come might know them, even the children which should be born: who should declare them to their children:

That they might set their hope in God, and not forget the works of God, but keep his commandments. Psalms
lxxviii.

¶ To be said by the minister

Let us call to remembrance the dead yet ever-living who have passed the doors beyond which we cannot see.
As they kept the faith in time of trial and held fast to righteousness in the hour of temptation, so inspired by their example, may we, when danger is near and the flesh is weak, triumph over every trial and temptation, and finally attain unto everlasting life.

Let us pray.

¶ *To be said by minister and people
together*

Eternal God, in whom the spirits of the just do rest from their labors: we bless thee for the memory of the righteous, and especially for those most dear to us, who have lived in faith and departed in peace. May we follow their good example, and, truly loving and serving thee on earth, be gathered with them into thy heavenly kingdom.
Amen.

¶ *To be said by minister and people
alternately*

O God, who art, and wast, and art to come, we rejoice that thou hast never left thyself without a witness in the world, but by the words and deeds of wise and faithful souls hast revealed thy abiding presence in the children of men.

Thou didst guide our fathers in their ways and thoughts, and didst protect and bless them.

Thou madest a way for them through deep waters, and didst set their feet in a large place.

The winds heard thy voice and were still, and the waves bore the tempesttossed to their desired haven.

Thou hast wrought great glory by them, through thy power from the beginning, and a little one has become a thousand, and a small one a strong nation. They inherited the land for ever, the branch of thy planting, the work of thy hands, that thou mightest be glorified.

These were noble men and women, whose courage and righteousness have not been forgotten, and whose names shall be kept in everlasting remembrance.

Grant, O Lord, that we, the inheritors of their renown, the heirs of their liberty, may possess their courage and patience and fidelity, and that generations yet unborn may adore thee for thy mercy and desire thee for thy loving-kindness.

¶ To be said by minister and people together

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil: for thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

Lift up your hearts.

We lift them up unto the Lord.

O Lord, open thou our eyes.

That we may behold wondrous things out of thy law.

O Lord, open thou our lips.

And our mouth shall show forth thy praise.

Praise ye the Lord.

The Lord's name be praised.

RESPONSIVE READING

Let us call to remembrance the great and good, through whom the Lord hath wrought great glory:

Those who were leaders of the people by their judgment, giving counsel by their understanding and foresight:

Wise and eloquent in their teachings, and through knowledge and might, fit helpers of the people.

All these were honored in their generation, and were the glory of their times.

There be some who have left a name behind them, and whose remembrance is sweet.

And there be some who have no memorial, who are perished as though they had never been.

But their righteousness has not been forgotten, and the glory of their work cannot be blotted out.

Their bodies are buried in peace, but their name liveth for evermore.

The people will tell of their wisdom, and the congregation will show forth their praise.

For the memorial of virtue is immortal, because it is known with God and with men.

When it is present men take example of it, and when it is gone they earnestly desire it.

It weareth a crown, and triumpheth for ever; having gotten the victory striving for undefiled rewards.

The righteous shall be in everlasting remembrance, and the memory of the just shall be blessed.

Though a good life hath but few days, yet a good name endureth for ever.

Though the righteous be overtaken by death, they shall be at rest; their souls are in the hand of God.

Though they perish from the sight of men, yet is their hope full of immortality.

Seeing we are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us run with patience the race that is set before us;

And let us not be weary in well doing, for in due season we shall reap if we faint not.

Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright; for the end of that man is peace.

The path of the just is as the shining light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day.

¶ The service may then proceed with a scripture lesson, and the singing of anthems or hymns in such order as has become customary in any church

PRAYERS

¶ The minister to read one or more of the following or offer prayer in his own words

The Lord be with you.

And with thy spirit.

Let us pray. O Lord, show thy mercy upon us.

And grant us thy salvation.

O God, make clean our hearts within us.

And take not thy holy spirit from us.

Almighty God, thine is the wisdom of the saint and seer, thine the light shining in the eyes of holy prophets, and thine the love that answereth and filleth every prayerful spirit. We bless thee for all the holy souls that reveal thee; for all unknown and lowly people whose daily lives are offerings heroic, sweet, and beautiful to thee. Renew thy call to us, and lift us into the liberty and joy of thy faithful children. Amen.

Eternal God, with whom do live the spirits that depart hence, we praise and magnify thee for thy grace and blessing manifested to all thy true saints and faithful servants, of every nation and every age, who have glorified thee in their mortal lives. Grant to us, we pray, their spirit of love, and of devotion to thy will. May their example quicken us to a better life; so that we, who cherish their memory, may by thy grace be gathered into the company of those who abide with thee for ever. Amen.

O Thou who hast raised up prophets and apostles to be mighty forerunners in all the blessed privileges of a heavenly inheritance, draw us unto thyself by the same uplifting power, that our feet stumble not on the dark mountains, nor falter in the valley of the shadow of death. Be thou our strength and stay in all times of trial, and keep us in fellowship with those who while on earth strove to make firm and sure thy righteous rule. So may we, having done thy will, be given part in that heavenly heritage wherein peace and love are made perfect and thou art all in all. Amen.

¶ Then may be sung an anthem or a hymn, to be followed by the sermon, a congregational hymn and the benediction

A COMMUNION SERVICE

¶ The minister, standing at the communion table, may begin the service by reading one or more of the following sentences.

Blessed are they that do hunger and thirst after righteousness, for they shall be filled. Matthew v. 6.

Whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant; even as the Son of Man came not to be ministered unto but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many. Matthew xx. 27, 28.

Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you. Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth; but I have called you friends, for all things that I have heard of my Father, I have made known unto you. John xv. 13, 14, 15.

For ye have not received the spirit of bondage again to fear; but ye have received the spirit of children whereby we cry, Father. Romans viii. 15.

If any man will come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross daily, and follow me. For whosoever will save his life shall lose it; but whosoever will lose his life for my sake, the same shall save it. Luke ix. 23, 24.

I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst. John vi. 35.

Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me. Revelation iii. 20.

¶ Here may follow other portions of Scripture and an address. A hymn may then be sung, or, omitting the hymn, the service may proceed as follows.

¶ To be said by the minister

Dearly beloved, we have received it, that the Master on the night before he died, as he supped with his disciples in an upper chamber, took bread and broke it before them, likening it unto his crucified body, and poured out wine as a visible parable of the spilling of his blood. As we repeat this act with reverence, may the spirit which kept him steadfast, though foreseeing death, be quickened in us. We remember also that Christians in all ages have partaken of the bread and wine as a sign of their fellowship. May the symbol of love crown the parable of loyalty, and, in communion with Jesus Christ and all faithful servants of God, who have counted not their lives more dear than the triumphs of the spirit, let us seek the Lord in prayer that we may receive strength to overcome the trials and temptations of this world.

We are assembled here to meditate together on the life and death of Jesus Christ, that we may consecrate ourselves more earnestly to the service of God and of one another. In his acts of love and sympathy for the suffering, his compassion and help for the weak and sinful, he has left us an example that we should follow his steps. In communion with him, and with all who have been faithful servants of God, counting not their lives dear unto themselves, we now offer our prayers together to our Father in heaven.

Let us pray.

¶ To be said by the minister

O God, our heavenly Father, grant that this service may be profitable to all who partake of it, for the sanctification of body and soul, for fruitfulness in good works, and for the establishing of thy holy Church.

We remember in this our communion, and beseech thee to bless, the multitudes of every name who are joined with us in one household of faith, our brethren and sisters in Christ throughout the world.

We remember those who have fallen asleep in Christ, in the joyful hope of resurrection unto life eternal. O Lord, refresh their spirits with the light of thy countenance.

We remember the fathers from the beginning of the world, and all who have wrought righteousness, even down to the present day. Refresh thou their spirits, and give them abundant entrance into the joy of our Lord. And grant unto us, O God, that we may have our part and lot with all thy saints.

We remember all such as journey, and them that sojourn in strange lands. May it please thee to abide with them wheresoever they abide, and when they travel, to bring them in safety to their destined goal.

We remember all who are sick and in distress, all who suffer in body or in mind, all who are in prison and in bonds: as bound with them, and as sufferers with them, we bear them in our hearts and pray for their relief.

We remember our enemies, if there be any who have injured us, or cherish hatred against us. We beseech thee to turn their hearts, that we may live peaceably with all men. May we freely forgive all who have wronged us; and, if there be any whom we have wronged, may we make amends and seek forgiveness.

We remember the whole family of man, beseeching thee that the spirits of all flesh may taste of thy grace, and that the ends of the earth may see the salvation of our God. Amen.

¶ To be said by the minister

The Lord Jesus, the same night in which he was betrayed, took bread; and, when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said: This is my body which is broken for you. This do in remembrance of me.

¶ Then, as he delivers the bread to the people, the minister shall say

Take this in remembrance of Christ.

¶ When all have received the bread, the minister shall say

After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying: This cup is the new testament in my blood. This do ye, as often as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.

¶ Then, as he delivers the cup to the people, the minister shall say

Drink this in remembrance of Christ.

¶ When all have received the bread and wine, the minister shall say

Let us pray.

O Lord, we thank thee for the blessed fellowship of all faithful people who have loved and labored and suffered for others since the world began. Give us grace henceforth to continue in the fellowship of that glorious army which strives to conquer sin and evil, and to make this earth at last thy kingdom of love and peace. Amen.

¶ Or this

Grant unto us, Almighty God, that we, communing with one another and with thee, may feel our hearts burn within us; until all pure and just and holy things are lovely to us, and we find nothing to fear but that which is hateful in thine eyes. Let thy peace possess our souls, while we look to thy loving kindness and tender mercy to lift us above that which is low and mean; and, at last, give to the spirit within us a perfect victory, and bring us safe through death into life everlasting. Amen.

Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

¶ Then may be sung a hymn, after which shall follow the benediction

The peace of God, which passeth all understanding, keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus; and the blessing of God, the Father Almighty, be among you, and remain with you always. Amen.

PRAYERS, THANKSGIVINGS AND COLLECTS FOR OCCASIONAL USE

FOR THE OPENING OF WORSHIP

Almighty God, unto whom all hearts are open, all desires known, and from whom no secrets are hid: cleanse the thoughts of our hearts by the inspiration of thy holy spirit, that we may perfectly love thee, and worthily magnify thy holy name. Amen.

O God, giver of all temporal and spiritual good: grant us thy grace, so to speak, so to know, and so to learn, that our minds may be enlightened, our fears banished, our faith confirmed, and our way directed unto eternal life. Amen.

O thou infinite One, who fillest the universe with thine unsearchable presence, and hast thy dwelling-place in every heart that looks up in love and trust to thee: we come unto thee with our psalm of thanksgiving and our words of prayer, and would commune with thee in this hour of worship, that we may find thee nearer to us in our daily lives, and learn to live as in thy constant presence. May thy spirit rest upon us, and pray with us in our prayer, teaching us the things we should ask, and how to pray to thee as we ought; that we may worship thee, the infinite Spirit, in spirit and in truth. Amen.

FOR THE OPENING OR CLOSE OF WORSHIP

O God, who hast prepared for them that love thee such good things as pass man's understanding: pour into our hearts such love toward thee, that we, loving thee above all things, may obtain thy promises, which exceed all that we can desire. Amen.

O God, from whom all good counsels, all holy desires, and all just works, do proceed: we pray thee to enlighten our minds and sanctify our hearts by thy heavenly truth. What we know not, teach thou us; whatever is amiss in us, dispose us to reform; whatever in us is good, assist us to carry forward to perfection, that we may live evermore to thy praise. Amen.

O Almighty God, who alone canst order the unruly wills and affections of men: grant unto thy people that they may love the thing which thou commandest, and desire that which thou dost promise; that so, among the sundry and manifold changes of the world, our hearts may surely there be fixed where true joys are to be found. Amen.

Almighty God, who hast caused the light of eternal life to shine upon the world: we pray thee that our hearts may be so kindled with heavenly desires, and thy love so shed abroad in us, that we may continually seek the things which are above; and, abiding in purity of heart and mind, may at length attain unto thine everlasting kingdom. Amen.

FOR THE CLOSE OF WORSHIP

Grant, O God, that the words we have heard this day with our outward ears, may, by thy grace, be so grafted inwardly in our hearts, that they may bring forth in us the fruit of good living, to the honor and praise of thy holy name. Amen.

Enlarge now our souls, O Lord, with a divine charity, that we may hope all things, believe all things, endure all things, and become messengers of thy healing mercy to the grievances and infirmities of men. Amen.

Increase in us, O Lord, a true knowledge of thy holy will, that we may devote ourselves to thy service in word and deed; and that, doing thy will with cheerfulness and diligence, and bearing all our trials with patience, we may go on, through thy mercy, into the joy of everlasting life. Amen.

Almighty God, who hast caused the light of eternal life to shine upon the world: we beseech thee that our hearts may be so kindled with heavenly desires, and thy love so shed abroad in us by thy holy spirit, that we may continually seek the things which are above; and, abiding in purity of heart and mind, may at length attain unto thine everlasting kingdom. Amen.

O Lord, who hast taught us that not the hearers of the word, but the doers, are justified in thy sight: let us go hence with an earnest and steadfast resolution, with quickened zeal, and renewed devotion to thy service. If any true word of thine has been spoken to us, if any ray of thy heavenly light has shone upon us, if any righteous purpose has arisen within us, may we be found faithful to what we have received, that all our thoughts and actions may henceforth be more in harmony with thy will. Let thy blessing be upon our uprising and our lying down, upon our going out and our coming in now and evermore. Amen.

MORNING PRAYERS AND COLLECTS

O Lord, our heavenly Father, almighty and everlasting God, who hast safely brought us to the beginning of this day: defend us in the same with thy mighty power; and grant that this day we fall into no sin, neither run into any kind of danger; but that all our doings, being ordered by thee, may be righteous in thy sight. Amen.

O Lord, our God, who turnest into morning the shadows of night: grant that we may be children of the light and of the day. Let the sun of thy righteousness shine in our hearts. Enlighten our reason, make clear our conscience, and purify our affections. We give ourselves to thee this day, beseeching thee so to rule and govern us by thy spirit that faithless distrust and all evil thoughts may be driven from our minds; that we may walk with joy in the light of thy countenance and in the way of thy salvation. Amen.

O Thou, who hast neither dawn nor evening, yet sendest us the alternate mercies of the darkness and the day: as thou liftest the curtain of night from our abodes, take also the veil from all our hearts. Rise with thy morning upon our souls; quicken all our labor and our prayer; and, though all else decline, let the noontide of thy grace and peace remain. May we walk, while it is yet day, in the steps of him who with fewest hours finished thy divine work. And unto thee, whose we are and whom we serve, will we render praise now and for evermore. Amen.

EVENING PRAYERS AND COLLECTS

Almighty Father and keeper of our souls, who alone makest us to dwell in safety: refresh with quiet sleep this night those who are wearied with the labors of the day; and mercifully protect from harm all who put their trust in thee, that, lying down in peace to take our rest, we may fear no evil, but confidently give ourselves into thy holy keeping. Amen.

O God, the Father of lights, in whom is no variableness neither shadow of turning, from whom cometh down every good and perfect gift: help us so to live in thy peace that even the night shall be light about us. O thou who dost neither slumber nor sleep, and who givest thine angels charge over us to keep us in all our ways, send out thy light and thy truth, till all men shall see thy glory, and the whole earth be full of the knowledge of God. Amen.

O God, who givest us these quiet hours of holy thought and prayer: we thank thee for the rest which thou hast granted us, and the peace which thou hast breathed into our souls this day. As the shadows of evening gather, we commend our spirits to thy care. And when the morning calls us forth again to serve thee, may thy love renew the blessing which we have sought to-day. So in new strength for toil, and a holier spirit of devotion to thy will, may we receive thy merciful answer to our prayers. Amen.

O Lord God, the day is thine, the night also is thine. The darkness and the light are both alike to thee. Protect us through the hours of sleep, that our rest may refresh us in body and mind. Soothe our troubled thoughts, and breathe thy peace into our restless hearts. May thy invisible presence watch over us, and in the light of a new day may we rise to bless thee for thy sheltering care. Amen.

We beseech thee, Lord, to behold us with favor, folk of many families and nations gathered together in the peace of this roof, weak men and women subsisting under the covert of thy patience. Be patient still; suffer us yet a while longer — with our broken purposes of good, with our idle endeavors against evil, suffer us a while longer to endure and (if it may be) help us to do better. Bless to us our extraordinary mercies; if the day come when these must be taken, brace us to play the man under affliction. Be with our friends, be with ourselves. Go with each of us to rest; if any awake, temper to them the dark hours of watching; and when the day returns, return to us, our sun and comforter, and call us up with morning faces and with morning hearts, eager to labor, eager to be happy if happiness shall be our portion, and if the day be marked for sorrow, strong to endure it. Amen.

FOR THE NEW YEAR

O thou who art from everlasting to everlasting, without beginning or end of days: replenish us with heavenly grace, at the beginning of this year, that we may be enabled to accept all its duties, to perform all its labors, to welcome all its mercies, to meet all its trials, and to advance through all it holds in store for us, with cheerful courage and a constant mind. O Lord, suffer us not to be separated from thee, either by joy or sorrow, or any sin or weakness of our own; but have compassion upon us, and forgive us, and keep us in the strong confidence of thine eternal love. Amen.

FOR THE CLOSE OF THE YEAR

Lord, thou hast been our dwelling-place in all generations. Unto thee do we lift up our souls. Thy mercy endureth for ever, and thy compassions fail not. As we keep holy time under the deepening shadows of the closing year, we thank thee for all that it hath brought to us of mercy and truth. Let not the experiences of our past days be lost upon us. Fix in our minds every lesson of faith and duty which thou hast been teaching us. Take from our hearts every veil that would hide from us the shining of the heavenly light. Grant unto us, before the record of this year has been finished and sealed, a fresh consecration, a very honest and deep desire to live according to thy will. Amen.

FOR PALM SUNDAY

Almighty God, who knowest the weaknesses which we are slow to confess even to ourselves: take from us, we pray thee, the faithless mind that would shrink from the way by which thou leadest, and draw back from the harder paths of a dutiful life. As disciples of Christ may we steadfastly set our face to go to our Jerusalem, prepared to meet all the counsels of thy will, and to be obedient even unto death, seeking only for strength to glorify the cross thou layest upon us. Amen.

FOR GOOD FRIDAY

O God who hast showed us the way of blessedness: thou hast showed us also that the path of duty may lead to the cross, and the reward of faithfulness be a crown of thorns. Oh, give us grace to learn these harder lessons of pain and darkness and affliction. May we take up our cross and follow Christ in the strength of patience and the constancy of faith; and may we have such true fellowship with him in his sorrows that we may know the secret of his strength and peace, and see, even in our darkest hour of trial and anguish, the shining of thine own eternal light. Amen.

Eternal Refuge of those who are distressed: grant unto us that in all trouble of this our mortal life we may flee to thy loving-kindness and tender mercy; that so, sheltering ourselves therein, the storms of life may pass over us, and not shake thy peace within us. Whatsoever this life may bring us, grant that it may never take from us the faith that thou art our Father and that underneath are the everlasting arms. Amen.

FOR EASTER

O Lord Most High, who art not the God of the dead but of the living: we unite this day in thankful joy in the remembrance of the spirit's triumph over death. We bless thee that out of this dust and out of these mortal conditions thou art striving to raise immortal souls into a diviner fellowship, and to establish them for ever in the heavenly dwelling-places. Amen.

Great and gracious Presence, the Life of all that lives: thou sendest forth thy breath and we are created; thou openest thy hand and we are filled with good. To every faith bowed down and every love laid in the grave, thou bringest a new uplifting and a heavenly birth; and to ignorance and weakness and sin thou givest light and strength and the tender healing of forgiveness. Having received such ministry and comforting regard, help us to set our affections on things above, that so we may finally know the riches of that inheritance which thou didst manifest to him whom we remember this day with joy, and with him be deemed worthy of the crown of immortality. Amen.

FOR WHITSUNDAY

O God, who hast breathed thy holy spirit into the hearts of thy faithful servants, sending them forth in thy might to speak the word and to do the work which has been entrusted to them by thee: send down upon us all, we pray thee, that Spirit of holiness and wisdom and strength. Enlighten our minds that we may know what thou wouldst have us do; strengthen our hands that we may labor steadfastly to the end, and may faint not in thy service. Thou hast bestowed upon us a diversity of gifts; give us all the same spirit, that with one heart and one mind we may glorify thee, speaking the truth in love, and filling our lives with good deeds and faithful affections. In that spirit may we be strong to fight the good fight of faith, to conquer evil, and bear witness to the truth, and help to bring in the kingdom of righteousness and peace. Amen.

FOR ALL SAINTS

Our heavenly Father, we rejoice in the blessed communion of all thy saints, wherein thou givest us also to have part. We remember before thee all who have departed this life in thy faith and love, and especially those most dear to us. We thank thee for our present fellowship with them, for our common hope, and for the promise of future joy. Oh, let the cloud of witnesses, the innumerable company of those who have gone before and entered into rest, be to us for an example of godly life; and even now may we be refreshed with their joy; that so with patience we may run the race that yet remains before us, and obtain an entrance into thy everlasting kingdom. Amen.

FOR ALL SOULS' DAY

Infinite Life, Power, Beauty: thine is the wisdom of the saint and seer, thine the light shining on the eyes of holy prophets, and thine the love that answereth and filleth every prayerful spirit. We bless thee for all the holy souls that reveal thee; for all unknown and lowly people whose daily lives are offerings heroic, sweet, and beautiful to thee; and for thy voice that speaketh within. Oh, may we heed thy call, and rise into the liberty and joy of thy faithful children. Amen.

FOR THANKSGIVING DAY

O Lord God, Father of mercies, the Fountain of comfort and blessing, who fillest heaven with thy glory, and earth with thy goodness: we offer thee most earnest and humble thanks for the gifts of nature and of grace, the support of every moment, and the comforts of every day. We beseech thee to fill our hearts with thy praise; that our thankfulness to thee may be great as are our needs, and that thy grace may so strengthen our purposes that our lives may be a thank-offering to thee, unto whom we ascribe all honor and glory. Amen.

Most merciful God, our Father in heaven, from whom cometh down every good and perfect gift: we give thee most hearty thanks for all thy blessings of nature and of grace; for the power of loving; for everything, whether joy or sorrow, whereby thou hast drawn us nearer to thyself; and for all that thou hast in keeping for them that love thee. Henceforth, even for ever, we would trust thee with our present and our future, our hopes and our fears, for ourselves and for all whom thou hast given us to love. And grant, we beseech thee, that, as thou dost continually pour out thy gifts upon us, we may ever, more and more, abound in thankfulness and in all good works. Amen.

Most gracious and loving Father: thou hast opened the hand of thy bounty, to fill our lives with blessing. Thou dost shelter us in the arms of thy mercy; thou providest for us perpetually, and lovest us with an un-failing love. As thou hast laid thine hand upon us in blessing, so fill our hearts with thankfulness, and tune our lips to praise. Grant that what thou hast sown in mercy may spring up in duty; and let thy grace so strengthen our good purposes that we may walk in the light of thy favor, and in the paths of thy commandments, now and for evermore. Amen.

FOR CHRISTMAS DAY

O God, from whom all holy desires, all good counsels, and all just works do proceed: sanctify unto us, we pray thee, the rich and holy gift of thine abounding love which is manifest to the world in this glad festival of universal joy. Help us to attain unto the fulness of its blessing, that Christ may be born afresh to us this day, in deeper love and reverence for thee, in nobler sense of human brotherhood, in hunger and thirst after righteousness, in eager longing for the spirit of peace. May the passion of his faith and the patience of his love be shared by us this day in quickening consciousness of our eternal sonship to thee, his God and our God, his Father and our Father. Amen.

Almighty God, whom once the nations worshipped under name of fear, but who hast revealed the glory of thy love in the face of Jesus Christ, and called us to live with thee as children: fill our hearts, as we remember his nativity, with the gladness of this great redemption. We would join in the heavenly song of Glory to God in the highest, on earth peace, and good-will toward men. Breathe into our hearts the spirit of Jesus, that we may be led to thee in trust and obedience, and be sent out to live among men in brotherly love and sympathy. Every year, as this joyful festival comes round, may it find the world more and more in harmony with thy will. Amen.

IN WINTER

O God, who rulest the changing seasons, and fullest, in all, thine own unchanging purposes: we bless thee that thou dost clothe all things around us with the beauty of winter, that thou sendest forth the treasures of the snow, and fillest the brief day with thy sunshine, and all night long makest the heavens above us glorious with the countless stars. For all thou givest us thus to enjoy we praise thy goodness, and adore thine unsearchable wisdom and power. Amen.

IN SPRINGTIME

O thou, whose life-giving energy flows through all things: we rejoice in the glorious revealing of thyself in Nature, in the tokens of thy might and of thy love which we behold on every side. We thank thee for all the bountiful gifts and the gracious promise of this season of brightness and hope, when we trace again the workings of the unseen power which calls forth fresh life and growth, and renews the face of the earth. And while we bless thee for the beauty which thou sheddest around our path, we pray that it may find some reflection in our own hearts and lives. May thy creative spirit freshen and renew our souls, and may the precious seed of thy promises fall into good ground, where it may spring up and bear fruit according to the measure which thou hast appointed. Amen.

IN SUMMER

O thou, from whom cometh all the gladness and brightness of life: we praise thee for the riches of thy bounty which thou pourest out in these days of summer. Thou fillest the heavens with radiance, and causest the earth to rejoice in the abundance of thy gifts. Thou preparest the coming harvest; and thou makest our hearts glad with the wonder of thy creation. For all the greatness and glory of Nature we bless thee, and we would join with grateful hearts in the song of praise which all the earth raises to thee. Amen.

IN AUTUMN

We praise thee, O thou Source of all life and strength, for the bountiful provision which thou makest for the wants of thy children. We would bring thee now our joyful thanksgiving for the harvest of the fields, and all the increase that the fertile earth has yielded. Thou hast ordered the course of the changing seasons, and appointed a time for sowing and a time for reaping; and while men have toiled, or watched, or rested from their work, thy providence has never failed, and thou hast prepared for them the reward of their labors. May we enjoy the gifts of thy bounty in wisdom, temperance, and thankfulness, ever mindful of the love which bestowed them. Let the remembrance of thy fatherly goodness quicken in us brotherly goodwill, and make us prompt to lighten any burdens of poverty and distress. So may we show forth the power of the spirit which was in Christ, and become less unworthy to receive thine unnumbered gifts of blessing. Amen.

FOR THE NATION

O thou who fashionest the hearts of men: grant to us, we beseech thee, and to the people of this land, the spirit of obedience to thy commandments, that, walking as in thy presence, we may, under thy mighty guidance, be kept from lawlessness and violence, from discord and confusion and from every evil way. Defend our liberties, preserve our unity, and save us from all injustice, that so we may enjoy a place of honor among the nations and be an example of the blessedness which comes to them that keep thy laws and dwell together in righteousness and peace. Amen.

Almighty God, who in the former time didst lead our fathers forth into a large place, and sent them to sow beside many waters: give thy grace, we pray thee, to us, their children, that we may always approve ourselves a people mindful of thy favor and glad to do thy will. Bless our land with honorable industry and generous public spirit.

Save us from violence, discord, and confusion. Fashion into one happy people the multitude brought hither out of many kindreds and tongues. Endue with the spirit of wisdom those whom we intrust with the authority of governance. In the time of our prosperity restrain our pride and temper our self-confidence with thankfulness, and in the days of trouble suffer not our trust in thee to fail. Amen.

FOR NATIONAL RIGHTEOUSNESS

Lord of all, whose balance trieth the nations, to lift up or to cast down: thou hast planted us, as a people, and laid upon us a mighty trust. Never through vain conceit may we be blind to the unchanging conditions of thy blessing. The world and its fulness are thine: our portion thereof may we hold, not in wanton self-will, but reverently, as of thee; making it the stronghold of right, the refuge of the oppressed, and the moderator of lawless ambition. Make all who speak or act for this nation true organs of thine equity, that through their wisdom and faithfulness thou mayest be our lawgiver and judge. And let it be that, as with the people so with the chiefs, as with the servant so with the master, as with the buyer so with the seller, all may know thee as weighing the path of the just; that righteousness may be the girdle of our power. Amen.

O Lord, our heavenly Father, Lord of lords and King of kings: most heartily we beseech thee to look with favor upon our beloved country. So replenish this people with the grace of thy holy spirit that they may always incline to thy will and walk in thy way. Endue them plentifully with heavenly gifts. By escaping from the bondage of sin may they become free indeed. By brotherly love and the practice of righteousness may they become truly exalted among the nations, and be known as a people whose God is the Lord. And may the blessings of peace, good order, and national union more and more abound. Amen.

FOR GOOD CITIZENSHIP

O Lord, our God, who rulest over the nations and in whose hand are the destinies of the people: we earnestly pray thee, at this time, to so direct us that we may choose and establish in authority over us the men whom thou approvest and who will serve the State with disinterested zeal and unfailing courage. Suffer not thy people to be embittered against each other in partisan strife. O Lord, who lovest truth, deliver us from the false and slanderous tongue, from the selfish designs of evil men, from bribery, corruption, and an inordinate love of power. Dispose thy people to sincerity, and grant that they may unitedly seek good government and just laws, and a righteous administration of the same, to the praise of thy great name. Amen.

FOR THE LEGISLATURE

O thou who rulest in equity and declarest righteous judgment: send down upon the Legislature of this State, now lawfully convened, the spirit of concord, purity, and justice, that all false counsels and evil influences may be absent from the assembly, and that the servants of the people may be directed in wisdom and integrity, according to thy laws. So guide and prosper with thy blessing whatsoever may be devised and enacted, that it may redound to the honor and welfare of this Commonwealth, to the peace and prosperity of the United States, and to the glory of thy name. Amen.

FOR THE UNITY OF THE SPIRIT

O God, our Father, in whom are calmness and peace: reconcile the dissensions which divide us from one another, and bring us into a unity of love which may bear some likeness to thy blessed nature: that we may be spiritually one, as well in ourselves as with each other, through that peace of thine which maketh all things peaceful, and through the grace, mercy, and tenderness wherewith thou, O Lord, art our Father, for ever. Amen.

Our Father in heaven take away from us, we pray thee, all hatred and prejudice, and whatsoever else may hinder us from godly union and concord; that, as there is but one body, and one spirit, and one hope of our calling, one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of us all, so we may be all of one heart and of one soul, united in one holy bond of truth and peace, of faith and charity, and may with one mind and one mouth glorify thee. Amen.

FOR GRACE TO SERVE THE LORD WITH GLADNESS

O Lord, renew our spirits and draw our hearts unto thyself, that our work may not be to us a burden, but a delight.

Grant unto us the mighty love that will sweeten all our obedience. Suffer us not to serve thee with the spirit of bondage as slaves, but to walk before thee with the cheerfulness and gladness of children, delighting ourselves in thee and rejoicing in thy work. Amen.

FOR GRACE TO SPEAK THE TRUTH IN LOVE

O God, whose kingdom cometh in spirit and in power, and who sendest thy word like the dew that falleth silently upon the earth: grant that all who contend for the faith which thou hast given them may never injure it by clamor and impatience, but, speaking the truth in love, may so present it that it may be loved, and that men may see in it thy goodness and thy beauty. Amen.

FOR SPIRITUAL GROWTH

Almighty God, our light in darkness, our strength in weakness, our hope in sinfulness, and our eternal home: be unto us merciful, long-suffering, and patient; that we, who are slow of growth, may hope to come at last to thy likeness, and, being upheld by thee, may by thy mercy go from strength to strength, until, having safely passed through the joy and duty of this earthly life, we in the fulness of thy mercy may come into the land of the eternal peace. Amen.

O God, eternal and unchangeable: we bless thee that, amid all the shadows that fall on our earthly way, the doubts that perplex us, the fears that hinder us, the dimness of our spiritual vision, the partial measure of our approach to thee, we have one steadfast light still shining on our path, even the light of thine infinite love. If thou watchest over us, we are safe; if thou guidest us, we shall not lose the way; if thou art teaching us, we cannot learn amiss. Breathe into our life thy spirit of holiness and love and peace. Awaken in us the high desire and devout affection that will bring us into thy nearer presence. Lift us above the doubts and cares of our unfaithful hearts. Thus may we find the true rest for our souls, the true strength of our life, and joy that abides for ever. Amen.

FOR SPIRITUAL RENEWAL

O God, who art the great deep of eternal peace and the fountain of blessings, who ever sendest peace to those that are ready to receive it: open to us this day the sea of thy love, and water us with plenteous streams from the riches of thy grace. Make us children of quietness and heirs of peace. Enkindle in us the fire of thy love; strengthen our weakness by thy power; bind us closely to thee and to each other in one firm bond of unity. Amen.

FOR SPIRITUAL FRUITFULNESS

Almighty God, we pray thee that, as the sun shines upon this fair world, so thy light may shine upon our spirits, upon our conscience, upon our love; that we may yield unto thee the fruits thou dost delight in, even the fruits of a serviceable, peaceable, honorable life. Amen.

FOR THE SPIRIT OF GRATITUDE AND PRAISE

Almighty God, the Giver of all good: we give thee thanks for thy faithful servants who, having witnessed in their lives the power of thy help, have left the light of their example to shine before thy people upon earth. We thank thee for the life which we have from thee, and for the work to which thou hast appointed us; for whatever of good thou hast enabled us to win, and for the hope that leads us on toward eternal life. Give us, we pray, a heartfelt gratitude for these and all thy mercies, and increase in us the manifold gifts of thy spirit; that through thy counsel and might we may do those works which glorify thee, our Father in heaven. Amen.

FOR HEALTH AND CONTENTMENT

O God, most holy, Preserver and Governor of all thy creatures and all their actions: keep us this day in health of body and soundness of mind, in purity of heart and cheerfulness of spirit, in contentment with our lot and charity with our neighbor; and further all our lawful undertakings with thy blessing. In our labors strengthen us; in our pleasures purify us; in our difficulties direct us; in our perils defend us; in our troubles comfort us; and supply all our needs, according to the riches of thy grace. Amen.

FOR PROTECTION AND DEFENCE

O God, who art the author of peace and lover of concord, in knowledge of whom standeth our eternal life, whose service is perfect freedom: grant us, thy servants, we humbly beseech thee, that peace which the world can neither give nor take away; that we, who in all our dangers rely on thy goodness, may, under thy fatherly protection, be defended against all adversities, and evermore rejoice in thy blessed service. Amen.

FOR COMFORT AND FAITH

O thou whose name is Love and whose compassions fail not: let thy merciful kindness be for our comfort when burdens are heavy and sorrow is near, — when our hearts fail us for the things that are coming to pass, and we fear as we enter into the cloud. When our dear ones die out of our sight, still grant to us a large and happy faith, and in our own last hour lift thou up the light of thy countenance upon us. Thou art the strength of those who put their trust in thee. Send out thy light and thy truth, to shine pure and strong over death and the grave. Amen.

FOR BROTHERLY LOVE

O God of Love, who hast given us a new commandment, that we should love one another, even as thou dost love us, the unworthy and the wandering: we pray thee, Lord, give to us, thy servants, a mind forgetful of past ill-will, a pure conscience, and sincere thoughts, and a heart to love our brethren. Amen.

FOR STRANGERS

O Lord, who lovest the stranger: defend and nourish, we entreat thee, all sojourners in strange lands and poor helpless persons, that they may glorify thee out of grateful hearts; and to such men as are tyrannical and oppressive give searchings of spirit and amendment of ways, that thou mayest show mercy on them also. Amen.

FOR THOSE IN TROUBLE

Almighty and everlasting God, the comfort of the sad, the strength of all who suffer: let the prayers of those who cry out of any tribulation come unto thee, and may they rejoice to find that thy mercy is present with them in their sorrows. Let all who are beset by fears, troubled by poverty, worn by illness, all who are wronged and oppressed, the lonely, the suffering, the weary and heavy-laden, be sustained by thy might, consoled by thy tenderness, and cherished by thy fatherly compassion. Amen.

FOR THOSE IN ADVERSITY

Most gracious God, whose tender mercies are over all thy works, and whose compassions fail not: we commend to thy pitifulness and protection all in this land who are in sorrow, need, or any other adversity. Especially we beseech thee to remember such as are destitute, homeless, or forgotten of their fellow-men. Lift up those that be cast down, mightily befriend innocent sufferers, and sanctify to them the endurance of their wrongs. Cheer with hope all discouraged and unhappy people, and by thy heavenly grace preserve from falling those who are tempted into sin. Though they be troubled on every side, suffer them not to be distressed; though they be perplexed, save them from despair, and finally bring them unto that eternal home, where joy and gladness shall be their portion and where sorrow and sighing shall flee away. Amen.

FOR THOSE IN DISTRESS

Hear us, O Lord God Almighty, as we together pray for our brethren who are overborne with trouble and worn with many cares. Have mercy upon those who have brought their anxieties with them into this house of prayer, and whose spirits are heavy and distressed even in the hour of praise; comfort them by thy grace and lift upon them the light of thy countenance. Strengthen, we pray thee, those who try to bear the burdens of their neighbors, and those who strive to enlighten men with the truth that maketh free. Uphold and inspire those who consecrate their powers to hold back the tides of evil in this our land, and all who are trying to help the world towards peace and purity. And we ask thy blessing for those who have no power to help, but can only wait and hope and pray. Have compassion upon those whose souls are dumb under the shadow of affliction, those whom thou hast newly baptized into the sanctity of suffering. Our Father, thou hast ordained that our mortal life should be a struggle; keep us brave and loyal, deliver us from evil, cleanse us by thy spirit, and renew us in thy grace, and afterward receive us into thy kingdom. Amen.

FOR THE BEREAVED

Almighty God, in whose comforting and keeping there is shelter from the storm, and in whose mercy and pity there is shadow from the heat of life: hear now our prayers, we pray thee, for those who are mourning for their dead. Send thy pity to lighten their darkness, and the sense of thy presence and sympathy to fill their loneliness. Touch their wounds with healing, and help them to be still. Give them strength to do and to bear thy perfect will, and to take up the duties of their daily life more bravely for the sake of the beloved who live no longer here on earth. Soon may the heavens open where they are most darkened now, and the angels descend on the silent home and its saddened hearts. Help us more and more to feel and realize that in thy holy care are all thy children, whether here or there; that the Eternal God is our refuge and that underneath are the everlasting arms. Amen.

O God, our heavenly Father, unto whom we may come in every hour of darkness and sorrow, to pour out our griefs to thee, and to rest our troubled hearts under the shelter of thy compassion: hear now our prayer for those who are bowed down in mourning. Shine upon their darkness, we pray thee, and enfold their loneliness in thy comforting presence. Thou hast given us the blessed assurance that the sorrows of death are but for a little while, and that the grave is only as a gate of entrance to another world of life. We pray thee, O our Father, to grant us in our hour of bereavement the joy and consolation of that hope; that, when we part from those whom thou callest away, we may say in our hearts that we shall meet again. May we who remain behind a little longer keep ever clear and bright the memory of their lives. May we be blest, even now, by a true communion of spirit with the unseen world, and live as members of one family, one company of friends and brethren, on earth and in heaven. Amen.

FOR THE SPIRIT OF HELPFULNESS

O thou who art Love and dwellest in love: teach us how to be thine own fellow-workers. Never may we shut our hearts against the sorrows of even the unthankful and the evil. Make us messengers of thy tender mercy, to soothe the wretched, to lift the penitent, to seek and to save the lost; till all shall at length know themselves thy children, and be one with each other and with thee. Amen.

FOR ALL WHO ARE ENGAGED IN WORKS OF MERCY

O God, whose love, shed abroad in the hearts of thy children, is mighty to overcome evil, and to redeem and bless the world: we give thanks unto thee for all who are engaged in works of mercy and compassion. Grant the aid of thy counsel, and the support of thy strength, to those who teach the ignorant, who minister to the sick, who visit the fatherless and widows, who plead the cause of the weak and the oppressed. Be with those who go forth to reclaim the sinful, to lift up the degraded, to cheer and sustain the disheartened. Make us to have our part, however humble, in these endeavors. Assure us that whatsoever we do for the healing and enlightenment and encouragement of the least of these our brethren, we do as unto thee. By the faithfulness of those whom thou callest thus to labor for thee, may all who wander, all who despair, and all who suffer be comforted and upbuilt, and brought into richer and more abundant life. Amen.

FOR MINISTERS AND CONGREGATIONS

Almighty God, from whom cometh every good and perfect gift: send down on all ministers of the gospel, and on all congregations committed to their charge, the healthful spirit of thy grace; and, that they may truly please thee, pour upon them the continual dew of thy blessing. Amen.

FOR THE SUCCESSION OF PROPHETS

Almighty God, Fountain of Life and Light, who didst raise up prophets in ancient times to warn and inspire, and didst send abroad into the world apostles, evangelists, pastors, and teachers: we pray thee to raise up in these days an increasing number of wise and faithful men, filled with the old prophetic zeal, by whose labors thy Church may be greatly blessed, and thy kingdom come, and thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Amen.

A PRAYER FOR SCHOOL OR COLLEGE

O Lord, our heavenly Father, who givest knowledge to all that ask thee: grant thy blessing, we pray thee, to all who serve thee here, whether as teachers or learners, and help us in the work which thou hast given us to do. Enable us to labor diligently and faithfully, in singleness of heart, remembering that in thy fear is the beginning of wisdom. May we set thy holy will ever before us, and do that which is well-pleasing in thy sight, that so our work here may count for good to others, both now and in the days to come. Open our eyes to know thy marvellous works, to search our own spirits, and to understand the wondrous things of thy law. Pour into our hearts the excellent gifts of friendship and brotherly love, and grant that in truth and purity we may glorify thee, the Father of lights. Amen.

FOR ALL SORTS AND CONDITIONS OF MEN

O God, the Creator and Preserver of all mankind: we humbly beseech thee for all sorts and conditions of men; that thou wouldst be pleased to make thy ways known to them, thy saving health unto all nations. More especially we pray for thy holy Church universal; that it may be so guided and governed by thy good spirit, that all who profess and call themselves Christians may be led into the way of truth, and hold the faith in unity of spirit, in the bond of peace, and in righteousness of life. Finally we commend to thy fatherly goodness all who are in any ways afflicted in mind, body, or estate; that it may please thee to comfort and relieve them, according to their several necessities, giving them patience under their sufferings, and a happy issue out of all their afflictions. Amen.

SHORT COLLECTS FOR GENERAL USE

O God, who art Love, grant to thy children to bear one another's burdens in perfect good-will, that thy peace which passeth understanding may keep our hearts and minds in Christ Jesus. Amen.

O God, who hast ordained that whatever is to be desired should be sought by labor, and who, by thy blessing, bringest honest labor to good effect: look with favor upon our endeavors. Grant us, O Lord, to design only what is lawful and right; and afford us calmness of mind and steadiness of purpose, that we may do thy will in this life and in the life to come. Amen.

Almighty Father, whose grace doth ever keep, and whose love can never fail us: we would commit ourselves and our ways unto thee in humble prayer. May we be glad in the Lord, and in the beauty of holiness worship thee. May we invite thy mercies through our charities, and thy great love through our pure and unselfish affections. Make us wise to know thee and faithful to obey thee. Amen.

O God, the high and Holy One, who inhabitest Eternity: we pray thee so to enlighten and strengthen us that we may make thee our refuge and trust, our confidence and joy. Let us rest our hearts and our hopes upon thee through all the scenes and trials of this our short and uncertain life; that when heaven and earth shall pass away we may be found in thine eternal dwelling-place, rendering to thee all honor and glory and praise. Amen.

We humbly pray thee, O Father in heaven, to guide us through the darkness of this world, to guard us from its perils, to hold us up and strengthen us when we grow weary in our mortal way, and to lead us by thy chosen paths, through time and through death to our eternal home in thy heavenly kingdom. Amen.

O Thou who art infinite in knowledge and in wisdom: though thy ways are past our finding out, we are sure that they are just and right. We would therefore submit our desires to thy will, our actions to thy government, all our concerns to thy disposal; and now, and at all times, we would offer up our prayers to thee in humility and trust. Amen.

SELECTIONS FROM THE BOOK OF PSALMS

FIRST SELECTION

PSALM I

BLESSED is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful.

But his delight is in the law of the Lord; and in his law doth he meditate day and night.

And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper.

The ungodly are not so: but are like the chaff which the wind driveth away.

Therefore the ungodly shall not stand in the judgment, nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous.

For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous: but the way of the ungodly shall perish.

PSALM IV

HEAR me when I call, O God of my righteousness: thou hast enlarged me when I was in distress; have mercy upon me, and hear my prayer.

The Lord will hear when I call unto him.

Stand in awe, and sin not: commune with your own heart upon your bed, and be still.

Offer the sacrifices of righteousness, and put your trust in the Lord.

There be many that say, Who will shew us any good? Lord, lift thou up the light of thy countenance upon us.

I will both lay me down in peace, and sleep: for thou, Lord, only makest me dwell in safety.

PSALM V

GIVE ear to my words, O Lord; consider my meditation.

Hearken unto the voice of my cry, my King, and my God: for unto thee will I pray.

My voice shalt thou hear in the morning, O Lord; in the morning will I direct my prayer unto thee, and will look up.

For thou art not a God that hath pleasure in wickedness: neither shall evil dwell with thee.

But as for me, I will come into thy house in the multitude of thy mercy.

Lead me, O Lord, in thy righteousness; make thy way straight before my face.

Let all those that put their trust in thee rejoice: let them ever shout for joy, because thou defendest them: let them also that love thy name be joyful in thee.

For thou, Lord, wilt bless the righteous; with favor wilt thou compass him as with a shield.

SECOND SELECTION

PSALM VIII

O LORD our Lord, how excellent is thy name in all the earth! who hast set thy glory above the heavens.

Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings hast thou ordained strength, that thou mightest still the enemy and the avenger.

When I consider thy heavens, the work of thy fingers; the moon and the stars, which thou hast ordained;

What is man that thou art mindful of him? and the son of man that thou visitest him?

For thou hast made him a little lower than the angels, and hast crowned him with glory and honor.

Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of thy hands; thou hast put all things under his feet:

All sheep and oxen, yea, and the beasts of the field; the fowl of the air, and the fish of the sea, and whatsoever passeth through the paths of the seas.

O Lord our Lord, how excellent is thy name in all the earth!

PSALM IX

I WILL praise thee, O Lord, with my whole heart; I will shew forth all thy marvellous works.

I will be glad and rejoice in thee: I will sing praise to thy name, O thou Most High.

The Lord shall endure for ever: he hath prepared his throne for judgment.

And he shall judge the world in righteousness, he shall minister judgment to the people in uprightness.

The Lord also will be a refuge for the oppressed, a refuge in times of trouble.

And they that know thy name will put their trust in thee: for thou, Lord, hast not forsaken them that seek thee.

PSALM XV

LORD, who shall abide in thy tabernacle? who shall dwell in thy holy hill?

He that walketh uprightly, and worketh righteousness, and speaketh the truth in his heart.

He that backbiteth not with his tongue, nor doeth evil to his neighbor, nor taketh up a reproach against his neighbor.

He that sweareth to his own hurt, and changeth not. He that doeth these things shall never be moved.

PSALM XVI

PRESERVE me, O God: for in thee do I put my trust.

The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup: thou maintainest my lot.

The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places: yea, I have a goodly heritage.

I will bless the Lord, who hath given me counsel. I have set the Lord always before me: because he is at my right hand, I shall not be moved.

For thou wilt not leave my soul in the grave, neither wilt thou suffer thine holy one to see corruption.

Thou wilt shew me the path of life: in thy presence is fulness of joy; at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore.

THIRD SELECTION

PSALM XVII

HEAR the right, O Lord, attend unto my cry; give ear unto my prayer, that goeth not out of feigned lips.

Hold up my goings in thy paths, that my footsteps slip not.

I have called upon thee, for thou wilt hear me, O God: incline thine ear unto me, and hear my speech.

Shew thy marvellous loving-kindness, O thou that savest by thy right hand them which put their trust in thee.

Keep me as the apple of the eye; hide me under the shadow of thy wings.

As for me, I will behold thy face in righteousness: I shall be satisfied, when I awake, with thy likeness.

PSALM XVIII

I WILL love thee, O Lord, my strength.

The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; my God, my strength, in whom I will trust.

I will call upon the Lord, who is worthy to be praised:

The sorrows of death compassed me, and the floods of ungodly men made me afraid.

The sorrows of hell compassed me about: the snares of death prevented me.

In my distress I called upon the Lord, and cried unto my God: he heard my voice, and my cry came before him.

He sent from above, he took me, he drew me out of many waters.

He brought me forth also into a large place; he delivered me, because he delighted in me.

For all his judgments were before me, and I did not put away his statutes from me.

Therefore hath the Lord recompensed me according to my righteousness, according to the cleanness of my hands in his sight.

With the merciful thou wilt shew thyself merciful; with an upright man thou wilt shew thyself upright; with the pure thou wilt shew thyself pure.

For thou wilt light my candle: the Lord my God will enlighten my darkness.

As for God, his way is perfect: the word of the Lord is tried: he is a buckler to all those that trust in him.

For who is God save the Lord? or who is a rock save our God?

It is God that girdeth me with strength, and maketh my way perfect.

Thou hast also given me the shield of thy salvation: and thy right hand hath holden me up, and thy gentleness hath made me great.

The Lord liveth; and blessed be my rock; and let the God of my salvation be exalted.

Therefore will I give thanks unto thee, O Lord, and sing praises unto thy name.

FOURTH SELECTION

PSALM XIX

THE heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth his handy-work.

Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night sheweth knowledge.

There is no speech nor language where their voice is not heard.

Their line is gone out through all the earth, and their words to the end of the world.

In them hath he set a tabernacle for the sun, which is as a bridegroom coming out of his chamber, and rejoiceth as a strong man to run a race.

His going forth is from the end of the heaven, and his circuit unto the ends of it: and there is nothing hid from the heat thereof.

The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul: the testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple.

The statutes of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart: the commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes.

The fear of the Lord is clean, enduring for ever: the judgments of the Lord are true and righteous altogether.

More to be desired are they than gold, yea, than much fine gold: sweeter also than honey and the honeycomb.

Moreover by them is thy servant warned: and in keeping of them there is great reward.

Who can understand his errors? cleanse thou me from secret faults.

Keep back thy servant also from presumptuous sins; let them not have dominion over me: then shall I be upright, and I shall be innocent from the great transgression.

Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength, and my redeemer.

PSALM XXIII

THE Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: he leadeth me beside the still waters.

He restoreth my soul: he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.

Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.

Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

PSALM XXIV

THE earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein.

For he hath founded it upon the seas, and established it upon the floods.

Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? or who shall stand in his holy place?

He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart;

Who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully.

He shall receive the blessing from the Lord, and righteousness from the God of his salvation.

Lift up your heads, O ye gates; and be ye lifted up, ye everlasting doors; and the King of glory shall come in.

Who is this King of glory? The Lord strong and mighty. The Lord mighty in battle.

Lift up your heads, O ye gates; even lift them up, ye everlasting doors; and the King of glory shall come in.

Who is this King of glory? The Lord of hosts, he is the King of glory.

FIFTH SELECTION

PSALM XXV

UNTO thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul. O my God, I trust in thee: let me not be ashamed.

Yea, let none that wait on thee be ashamed: let them be ashamed which transgress without cause.

Shew me thy ways, O Lord; teach me thy paths.

Lead me in thy truth, and teach me; for thou art the God of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day.

Remember, O Lord, thy tender mercies and thy loving-kindnesses; for they have been ever of old.

Remember not the sins of my youth, nor my transgressions: according to thy mercy remember thou me for thy goodness' sake, O Lord.

Good and upright is the Lord: therefore will he teach sinners in the way.

The meek will he guide in judgment: and the meek will he teach his way.

All the paths of the Lord are mercy and truth unto such as keep his covenant and his testimonies.

For thy name's sake, O Lord, pardon mine iniquity; for it is great.

What man is he that feareth the Lord? him shall he teach in the way that he shall choose.

His soul shall dwell at ease; and his seed shall inherit the earth.

The secret of the Lord is with them that fear him; and he will shew them his covenant.

Mine eyes are ever towards the Lord; for he shall pluck my feet out of the net.

Turn thee unto me, and have mercy upon me; for I am desolate and afflicted.

The troubles of my heart are enlarged: O, bring thou me out of my distresses.

Look upon mine affliction and my pain; and forgive all my sins.

O keep my soul, and deliver me: let me not be ashamed; for I put my trust in thee.

PSALM XXVI

JUDGE me, O Lord; for I have walked in mine integrity: I have trusted also in the Lord; therefore I shall not slide.

Examine me, O Lord, and prove me; for thy loving-kindness is before mine eyes: and I have walked in thy truth.

I will wash mine hands in innocency: so will I compass thine altar, O Lord:

That I may publish with the voice of thanksgiving, and tell of all thy wondrous works.

Lord, I have loved the habitation of thy house, and the place where thine honor dwelleth.

Gather not my soul with sinners, in whose hands is mischief, and their right hand is full of bribes.

But as for me, I will walk in mine integrity: redeem me, and be merciful unto me.

My foot standeth in an even place: in the congregation will I bless the Lord.

SIXTH SELECTION

PSALM XXVII

THE Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?

Though a host should encamp against me, my heart shall not fear: though war should rise against me, in this will I be confident.

One thing have I desired of the Lord, that will I seek after: that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord, and to inquire in his temple.

For in the time of trouble he shall hide me in his pavilion: in the secret of his tabernacle shall he hide me; he shall set me up upon a rock.

Therefore will I offer in his tabernacle sacrifices of joy; I will sing, yea, I will sing praises unto the Lord.

Hear, O Lord, when I cry with my voice: have mercy also upon me, and answer me.

When thou saidst, Seek ye my face; my heart said unto thee, Thy face, Lord, will I seek.

Hide not thy face far from me; thou hast been my help; leave me not, neither forsake me, O God of my salvation.

When my father and my mother forsake me, then the Lord will take me up.

Teach me thy way, O Lord, and lead me in a plain path.

I had fainted, unless I had believed to see the goodness of the Lord in the land of the living.

Wait on the Lord: be of good courage, and he shall strengthen thine heart: wait, I say, on the Lord.

PSALM XXIX

GIVE unto the Lord, O ye mighty, give unto the Lord glory and strength.

Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name; worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness.

The voice of the Lord is powerful; the voice of the Lord is full of majesty.

The Lord will give strength unto his people; the Lord will bless his people with peace.

PSALM XXXI

IN thee, O Lord, do I put my trust; let me never be ashamed: deliver me in thy righteousness.

Bow down thine ear to me; deliver me speedily: be thou my strong rock, for a house of defence to save me.

For thou art my rock and my fortress; therefore for thy name's sake lead me, and guide me.

Into thine hand I commit my spirit: thou hast redeemed me, O Lord God of truth.

I will be glad and rejoice in thy mercy: for thou hast considered my trouble; thou hast known my soul in adversities.

Have mercy upon me, O Lord, for I am in trouble. For my life is spent with grief, and my years with sighing.

But I trusted in thee, O Lord: I said, Thou art my God. My times are in thy hand.

Make thy face to shine upon thy servant: save me for thy mercies' sake.

O how great is thy goodness, which thou hast laid up for them that fear thee; which thou hast wrought for them that trust in thee before the sons of men!

Thou shalt hide them in the secret of thy presence from the pride of man: thou shalt keep them secretly in a pavilion from the strife of tongues.

O love the Lord, all ye his saints: for the Lord preserveth the faithful, and plentifully rewardeth the proud doer.

Be of good courage, and he shall strengthen your heart, all ye that hope in the Lord.

SEVENTH SELECTION

PSALM XXXII

BLESSED is he whose transgression is forgiven, whose sin is covered.

Blessed is the man unto whom the Lord imputeth not iniquity, and in whose spirit there is no guile.

I acknowledged my sin unto thee, and mine iniquity have I not hid.

I said, I will confess my transgressions unto the Lord: and thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin.

For this shall every one that is godly pray unto thee in a time when thou mayest be found.

Thou art my hiding place: thou shalt preserve me from trouble; thou shalt compass me about with songs of deliverance.

I will instruct thee and teach thee in the way which thou shalt go: I will guide thee with mine eye.

Be glad in the Lord, and rejoice, ye righteous: and shout for joy, all ye that are upright in heart.

PSALM XXXIII

REJOICE in the Lord, O ye righteous: for praise is comely for the upright.

For the word of the Lord is right; and all his works are done in truth.

He loveth righteousness and judgment: the earth is full of the goodness of the Lord.

By the word of the Lord were the heavens made; and all the host of them by the breath of his mouth.

He gathereth the waters of the sea together as a heap: he layeth up the depth in storehouses.

Let all the earth fear the Lord: let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of him.

For he spake, and it was done; he commanded, and it stood fast.

The counsel of the Lord standeth for ever, the thoughts of his heart to all generations.

Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord; and the people whom he hath chosen for his own inheritance.

The Lord looketh from heaven; he beholdeth all the sons of men.

From the place of his habitation he looketh upon all the inhabitants of the earth.

Behold, the eye of the Lord is upon them that fear him, upon them that hope in his mercy;

To deliver their soul from death, and to keep them alive in famine.

Our soul waiteth for the Lord: he is our help and our shield.

For our heart shall rejoice in him, because we have trusted in his holy name.

Let thy mercy, O Lord, be upon us, according as we hope in thee.

EIGHTH SELECTION

PSALM XXXIV

I WILL bless the Lord at all times: his praise shall continually be in my mouth.

My soul shall make her boast in the Lord: the humble shall hear thereof, and be glad.

Oh, magnify the Lord with me, and let us exalt his name together.

I sought the Lord, and he heard me, and delivered me from all my fears.

This poor man cried, and the Lord heard him, and saved him out of all his troubles.

The angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them.

Oh, taste and see that the Lord is good: blessed is the man that trusteth in him.

Oh, fear the Lord, ye his saints: for there is no want to them that fear him.

The young lions do lack, and suffer hunger: but they that seek the Lord shall not want any good thing.

Come, ye children, hearken unto me: I will teach you the fear of the Lord.

Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips from speaking guile.

Depart from evil, and do good; seek peace, and pursue it.

The eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous, and his ears are open unto their cry.

The face of the Lord is against them that do evil, to cut off the remembrance of them from the earth.

The righteous cry, and the Lord heareth, and delivereth them out of all their troubles.

The Lord is nigh unto them that are of a broken heart; and saveth such as be of a contrite spirit.

Many are the afflictions of the righteous: but the Lord delivereth him out of them all.

The Lord redeemeth the soul of his servants: and none of them that trust in him shall be desolate.

PSALM XXXVI

THY mercy, O Lord, is in the heavens; and thy faithfulness reacheth unto the clouds.

Thy righteousness is like the great mountains; thy judgments are a great deep: O Lord, thou preservest man and beast.

How excellent is thy loving-kindness, O God! therefore the children of men put their trust under the shadow of thy wings.

They shall be abundantly satisfied; and thou shalt make them drink of the river of thy pleasures.

For with thee is the fountain of life: in thy light shall we see light.

Oh, continue thy loving-kindness unto them that know thee; and thy righteousness to the upright in heart.

NINTH SELECTION

PSALM XXXVII

FRET not thyself because of evil doers, neither be thou envious against the workers of iniquity.

Trust in the Lord, and do good; so shalt thou dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed.

Delight thyself also in the Lord; and he shall give thee the desires of thine heart.

Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in him; and he shall bring it to pass.

And he shall bring forth thy righteousness as the light, and thy judgment as the noonday.

Rest in the Lord, and wait patiently for him: fret not thyself because of him who prospereth in his way, because of the man who bringeth wicked devices to pass.

Cease from anger, and forsake wrath: fret not thyself in any wise to do evil.

For yet a little while, and the wicked shall not be: yea, thou shalt diligently consider his place, and it shall not be.

But the meek shall inherit the earth; and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace.

A little that a righteous man hath is better than the riches of many wicked.

The Lord knoweth the days of the upright: and their inheritance shall be for ever.

They shall not be ashamed in the evil time: and in the days of famine they shall be satisfied.

The wicked borroweth, and payeth not again: but the righteous sheweth mercy, and giveth.

The steps of a good man are ordered by the Lord: and he delighteth in his way.

Though he fall, he shall not be utterly cast down: for the Lord upholdeth him with his hand.

Depart from evil, and do good; and dwell for evermore.

For the Lord loveth judgment, and forsaketh not his saints; they are preserved for ever.

The mouth of the righteous speaketh wisdom, and his tongue talketh of judgment.

The law of his God is in his heart; none of his steps shall slide.

I have seen the wicked in great power, and spreading himself like a green bay tree.

Yet he passed away, and, lo, he was not: yea, I sought him, but he could not be found.

Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright: for the end of that man is peace.

TENTH SELECTION

PSALM XXXIX

I SAID, I will take heed to my ways, that I sin not with my tongue: I will keep my mouth with a bridle, while the wicked is before me.

I was dumb with silence, I held my peace, even from good; and my sorrow was stirred.

My heart was hot within me; while I was musing the fire burned: then spake I with my tongue.

Lord, make me to know mine end, and the measure of my days, what it is; that I may know how frail I am.

Behold, thou hast made my days as a hand-breadth; and mine age is as nothing before thee: verily every man at his best state is altogether vanity.

Surely every man walketh in a vain show: surely they are disquieted in vain: he heapeth up riches, and knoweth not who shall gather them.

And now, Lord, what wait I for? my hope is in thee.

Deliver me from all my transgressions: make me not the reproach of the foolish.

Hear my prayer, O Lord, and give ear unto my cry; hold not thy peace at my tears: for I am a stranger with thee, and a sojourner, as all my fathers were.

O, spare me, that I may recover strength, before I go hence, and be no more.

PSALM XL

I WAITED patiently for the Lord; and he inclined unto me, and heard my cry.

And he hath put a new song in my mouth, even praise unto our God: many shall see it, and fear, and shall trust in the Lord.

Blessed is that man that maketh the Lord his trust, and respecteth not the proud, nor such as turn aside to lies.

Many, O Lord my God, are thy wonderful works which thou hast done, and thy thoughts which are to us-ward:

They cannot be reckoned up in order unto thee: if I would declare and speak of them, they are more than can be numbered.

Sacrifice and offering thou didst not desire; burnt offering and sin offering hast thou not required.

Then said I, Lo, I come: I delight to do thy will, O my God: yea, thy law is within my heart.

I have preached righteousness in the great congregation: lo, I have not refrained my lips, O Lord, thou knowest.

I have not hid thy righteousness within my heart; I have declared thy faithfulness and thy salvation:

Withhold not thou thy tender mercies from me, O Lord: let thy loving-kindness and thy truth continually preserve me.

For innumerable evils have compassed me about: mine iniquities have taken hold upon me, so that I am not able to look up; therefore my heart faileth me.

Let all those that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee:

Let such as love thy salvation say continually, The Lord be magnified.

But I am poor and needy; yet the Lord thinketh upon me: thou art my help and my deliverer; make no tarrying, O my God.

ELEVENTH SELECTION

PSALM XLII

AS the hart panteth after the water brooks, so panteth my soul after thee, O God.

My soul thirsteth for God, for the living God: when shall I come and appear before God?

For I had gone with the multitude, I went with them to the house of God, with the voice of joy and praise, with a multitude that kept holy-day.

Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted in me? hope thou in God: for I shall yet praise him for the help of his countenance.

Deep calleth unto deep at the noise of thy water-spouts: all thy waves and thy billows are gone over me.

Yet the Lord will command his loving-kindness in the daytime, and in the night his song shall be with me, and my prayer unto the God of my life.

Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me?

Hope thou in God: for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God.

PSALM XLIII

JUDGE me, O God, and plead my cause: for thou art the God of my strength.

O send out thy light and thy truth: let them lead me; let them bring me unto thy holy hill.

Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me?

Hope in God: for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God.

PSALM XLVI

GOD is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble.

Therefore will not we fear, though the earth be removed, and though the mountains be carried into the midst of the sea:

Though the waters thereof roar and be troubled, though the mountains shake with the swelling thereof.

There is a river, the streams whereof shall make glad the city of God, the holy place of the tabernacles of the Most High.

God is in the midst of her; she shall not be moved: God shall help her, and that right early.

Come, behold the works of the Lord. He maketh wars to cease unto the end of the earth; he breaketh the bow, and cutteth the spear in sunder.

Be still, and know that I am God: I will be exalted in the earth.

The Lord of hosts is with us; God is our refuge.

TWELFTH SELECTION

PSALM XLIX

HEAR this, all ye people; give ear, all ye inhabitants of the world:

Both low and high, rich and poor, together.

My mouth shall speak of wisdom; and the meditation of my heart shall be of understanding.

They that trust in their wealth, and boast themselves in the multitude of their riches;

None of them can by any means redeem his brother, nor give to God a ransom for him:

Their inward thought is, that their houses shall continue for ever, and their dwelling-places to all generations; they call their lands after their own names.

Nevertheless man being in honor abideth not: he is like the beasts that perish.

But God will redeem my soul from the power of the grave: for he shall receive me.

PSALM L

THE mighty God, even the Lord, hath spoken, and called the earth from the rising of the sun unto the going down thereof.

Out of the perfection of beauty, God hath shined.

Our God shall come, and shall not keep silence.

He shall call to the heavens from above, and to the earth, that he may judge his people.

And the heavens shall declare his righteousness; for God is judge himself.

Hear, O my people, and I will speak; I am God, even thy God.

Every beast of the forest is mine, and the cattle upon a thousand hills.

I know all the fowls of the mountains; and the wild beasts of the field are mine.

I will not reprove thee for thy sacrifices or thy burnt offerings continually before me.

If I were hungry, I would not tell thee: for the world is mine, and the fulness thereof.

Offer unto God thanksgiving; and pay thy vows unto the Most High:

And call upon me in the day of trouble: I will deliver thee, and thou shalt glorify me.

But unto the wicked God saith,
What hast thou to do to declare my statutes, or that thou shouldest take my covenant in thy mouth?

Seeing thou hatest instruction, and castest my words behind thee.

Thou givest thy mouth to evil, and thy tongue frameth deceit.

Thou sittest and speakest against thy brother; thou slanderest thine own mother's son..

These things hast thou done, and I kept silence: thou thoughtest that I was altogether as thyself; but I will reprove thee, and set them in order before thine eyes.

To him that ordereth his conversation aright will I shew the salvation of God.

THIRTEENTH SELECTION

PSALM LI

HAVE mercy upon me, O God, according to thy loving-kindness: according unto the multitude of thy tender mercies blot out my transgressions.

Wash me thoroughly from mine iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin.

For I acknowledge my transgressions:
and my sin is ever before me.

Against thee, thee only, have I sinned,
and done this evil in thy sight.

Behold, thou desirest truth in the inward parts: and in the hidden part thou shalt make me to know wisdom.

Hide thy face from my sins, and blot out all mine iniquities.

Create in me a clean heart, O God;
and renew a right spirit within me.

Cast me not away from thy presence; and take not thy holy spirit from me.

Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation; and uphold me with thy free spirit.

O Lord, open thou my lips; and my mouth shall shew forth thy praise.

For thou desirest not sacrifice; else would I give it: thou delightest not in burnt offering.

The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit: a broken and a contrite heart,
O God, thou wilt not despise.

PSALM LVI

BE merciful unto me, O God: for they be many that fight against me, O thou
Most High.

What time I am afraid, I will trust
in thee.

In God I will praise his word, in God
I have put my trust; I will not fear what flesh can do unto me.

When I cry unto thee, then shall mine enemies turn back: this I know;
for God is for me.

In God will I praise his word: in God have I put my trust: I will not be afraid what man can do unto me.

For thou hast delivered my soul from death: wilt not thou deliver my feet from falling, that I may walk before
God in the light of the living?

PSALM LVII

BE merciful unto me, O God, be merciful unto me: for my soul trusteth in thee: yea, in the shadow of thy wings will I make my refuge, until these calamities be overpast.

I will cry unto God Most High; unto God that performeth all things for me.

He shall send from heaven, and save me. God shall send forth his mercy and his truth.

Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens; let thy glory be above all the earth.

My heart is fixed, O God, my heart is fixed: I will sing and give praise.

I will praise thee, O Lord, among the people: I will sing unto thee among the nations.

For thy mercy is great unto the heavens, and thy truth unto the clouds.

Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens: let thy glory be above all the earth.

FOURTEENTH SELECTION

PSALM LXI

HEAR my cry, O God; attend unto my prayer: from the end of the earth will I cry unto thee, when my heart is overwhelmed.

Lead me to the rock that is higher than I.

For thou hast been a shelter for me, and a strong tower from the enemy.

I will abide in thy tabernacle for ever: I will trust in the covert of thy wings.

For thou, O God, hast heard my vows: thou hast given me the heritage of those that fear thy name.

So will I sing praise unto thy name for ever, that I may daily perform my vows.

PSALM LXII

TRULY my soul waiteth upon God: from him cometh my salvation.

He only is my rock and my salvation;

he is my defence; I shall not be greatly moved.

My soul, wait thou only upon God; for my expectation is from him.

He only is my rock and my salvation: he is my defence; I shall not be moved.

In God is my salvation and my glory: the rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in God.

Trust in him at all times; ye people, pour out your heart before him: God is a refuge for us.

Trust not in oppression, and become not vain in robbery.

If riches increase, set not your heart upon them.

God hath spoken once; twice have I heard this; that power belongeth unto God.

Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: for thou renderest to every man according to his work.

PSALM LXIII

O GOD, thou art my God; early will I seek thee: my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and thirsty land, where no water is;

To see thy power and thy glory, so as I have seen thee in the sanctuary.

Because thy loving-kindness is better than life, my lips shall praise thee. Thus will I bless thee while I live:

I will lift up my hands in thy name.

My soul shall be satisfied; and my mouth shall praise thee with joyful lips:

When I remember thee upon my bed,

and meditate on thee in the night watches.

Because thou hast been my help, therefore in the shadow of thy wings will I rejoice.

My soul followeth hard after thee: thy right hand upholdeth me.

FIFTEENTH SELECTION

PSALM LXV

PRAISE waiteth for thee, O God: and unto thee shall the vow be performed.

Oh, thou that hearest prayer, unto thee shall all flesh come.

Iniquities prevail against me: as for our transgressions, thou shalt purge them away.

Blessed is the man whom thou choos-est, and causest to approach unto thee, that he may dwell in thy courts.

We shall be satisfied with the goodness of thy house, even of thy holy temple.

By terrible things in righteousness wilt thou answer us, O God of our salvation; who art the confidence of all the ends of the earth, and of them that are afar off upon the sea:

Which by his strength setteth fast the mountains; being girded with power:

Which stilleth the noise of the seas, the noise of their waves, and the tumult of the people.

They also that dwell in the uttermost parts are afraid at thy tokens: thou makest the outgoings of the morning and evening to rejoice.

Thou visitest the earth, and waterest it: thou greatly enrichest it with the river of God, which is full of water:

thou preparest them corn, when thou hast so provided for it.

Thou waterest the ridges thereof abundantly: thou settlest the furrows thereof: thou makest it soft with showers: thou blessest the springing thereof.

Thou crownest the year with thy goodness; and thy paths drop fatness.

They drop upon the pastures of the wilderness: and the little hills rejoice on every side.

The pastures are clothed with flocks; the valleys also are covered over with corn; they shout for joy, they also sing.

PSALM LXVI

MAKE a joyful noise unto God, all ye lands: sing forth the honor of his name: make his praise glorious.

All the earth shall worship thee, and shall sing unto thee; they shall sing to thy name.

He ruleth by his power for ever; his eyes behold the nations: let not the rebellious exalt themselves.

Oh, bless our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard:

Which holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to be moved.

For thou, O God, hast proved us: thou hast tried us, as silver is tried.

Come and hear, all ye that fear God, and I will declare what he hath done for my soul.

I cried unto him with my mouth, and he was extolled with my tongue.

If I regard iniquity in my heart, the Lord will not hear me: but verily God hath heard me: he hath attended to the voice of my prayer.

Blessed be God, which hath not turned away my prayer, nor his mercy from me.

PSALM LXVII

GOD be merciful unto us, and bless us; and cause his face to shine upon us; that thy way may be known upon earth, thy saving health among all nations.

Let the people praise thee, O God; let all the people praise thee.

Oh, let the nations be glad and sing for joy: for thou shalt judge the people righteously, and govern the nations upon earth.

Let the people praise thee, O God; let all the people praise thee.

Then shall the earth yield her increase; and God, even our own God, shall bless us.

God shall bless us; and all the ends of the earth shall fear him.

SIXTEENTH SELECTION

PSALM LXVIII

LET the righteous be glad; let them rejoice before God: yea, let them exceedingly rejoice.

Sing unto God, sing praises to his name:

A father of the fatherless, and a judge of the widows, is God in his holy habitation.

God setteth the solitary in families: he bringeth out those which are bound with chains.

Thou, O God, didst send a plentiful rain, thou didst confirm thine inheritance, when it was weary.

Thy congregation hath dwelt therein:

thou, O God, hast prepared of thy goodness for the poor.

The Lord gave the word: great was the company of those that published it.

Blessed be the Lord, who daily loadeth us with benefits, even the God of our salvation.

He that is our God is the God of salvation; and unto God the Lord belong the issues from death.

God giveth strength and power unto his people. Blessed be God.

PSALM LXX

MAKE haste, O God, to deliver me; make haste to help me, O Lord.

Let all those that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee: and let such as love thy salvation say continually, Let God be magnified.

But I am poor and needy; make haste unto me, O God.

Thou art my help and my deliverer; O Lord, make no tarrying.

PSALM LXXI

IN thee, O Lord, do I put my trust: let me never be put to confusion.

Deliver me in thy righteousness, and cause me to escape: incline thine ear unto me, and save me.

Be thou my strong habitation, whereunto I may continually resort: thou hast given commandment to save me; for thou art my rock and my fortress.

For thou art my hope, O Lord God: thou art my trust from my youth.

I am as a wonder unto many; but thou art my strong refuge.

Let my mouth be filled with thy praise and with thy honor all the day.

Cast me not off in the time of old age; forsake me not when my strength faileth.

O God, be not far from me: O my God, make haste for my help.

I will hope continually, and will yet praise thee more and more.

My mouth shall shew forth thy righteousness and thy salvation all the day.

I will go in the strength of the Lord God: I will make mention of thy righteousness, even of thine only.

O God, thou hast taught me from my youth: and hitherto have I declared thy wondrous works.

When I am old and gray-headed, O God, forsake me not; until I have shewed thy strength unto this generation, and thy power to every one that is to come.

Thy righteousness also, O God, is very high: O God, who is like unto thee!

SEVENTEENTH SELECTION

PSALM LXXIII

TRULY God is good to such as are of a clean heart.

But as for me, my feet were almost gone; my steps had well nigh slipped.

For I was envious at the foolish, when I saw the prosperity of the wicked.

They are not in trouble as other men; neither are they plagued like other men.

Therefore pride compasseth them about as a chain; violence covereth them as a garment.

And they say, How doth God know? and is there knowledge in the Most High?

Behold, these are the ungodly, who prosper in the world; they increase in riches.

Verily I have cleansed my heart in vain, and washed my hands in innocence.

When I thought to know this, it was too painful for me; until I went into the sanctuary of God; then understood I their end.

Nevertheless I am continually with thee: thou hast holden me by my right hand.

Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel, and afterward receive me to glory.

Whom have I in heaven but thee? and there is none upon earth that I desire besides thee.

My flesh and my heart faileth: but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion for ever.

It is good for me to draw near to God: I have put my trust in the Lord God, that I may declare all thy works.

PSALM LXXVII

I CRIED unto God with my voice, even unto God with my voice; and he gave ear unto me.

In the day of my trouble I sought the Lord: my soul refused to be comforted.

I remembered God, and was troubled: I complained, and my spirit was overwhelmed.

Thou holdest mine eyes waking: I am so troubled that I cannot speak.

I have considered the days of old, the years of ancient times.

I call to remembrance my song in the night: I commune with mine own heart: and my spirit made diligent search.

Will the Lord cast off for ever? and will he be favorable no more?

Is his mercy clean gone for ever?
doth his promise fail for evermore?

Hath God forgotten to be gracious?
hath he in anger shut up his tender mercies?

And I said, This is my infirmity: but I will remember the years of the right hand of the Most High.

I will remember the works of the Lord:
surely I will remember thy wonders of old.

I will meditate also of all thy work,
and talk of thy doings.

Thou art the God that doest wonders:
thou hast declared thy strength among the people.

Thy way is in the sea, and thy path in the great waters, and thy footsteps are not known.

EIGHTEENTH SELECTION

PSALM LXXXIV

HOW amiable are thy tabernacles, O
Lord of hosts!

My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord: my heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God.

Yea, the sparrow hath found a house, and the swallow a nest for herself, where she may lay her young, even thine altars,
O Lord of hosts, my King, and my God.

Blessed are they that dwell in thy house: they will be still praising thee.

Blessed is the man whose strength is
in thee;

In whose heart are the ways of them who passing through the valley of weeping make it a well.

They go from strength to strength, every one of them appeareth before
God.

For a day in thy courts is better than a thousand. I had rather be a door-keeper in the house of my God, than to dwell in the tents of wickedness.

For the Lord God is a sun and shield:
the Lord will give grace and glory: no good thing will he withhold from them that walk uprightly.

O Lord of hosts, blessed is the man that trusteth in thee.

PSALM LXXXV

LORD, thou hast been favorable unto thy land; thou hast forgiven the iniquity of thy people; thou hast covered all their sin.

Wilt thou not revive us again: that thy people may rejoice in thee? Show us thy mercy, O Lord, and grant us thy salvation.

I will hear what God the Lord will speak: for he will speak peace unto his people, and to his saints: but let them not turn again to folly.

Surely his salvation is nigh them that fear him; that glory may dwell in our land.

Mercy and truth are met together; righteousness and peace have kissed each other.

Truth shall spring out of the earth;
and righteousness shall look down from heaven.

Yea, the Lord shall give that which is good; and our land shall yield her increase.

Righteousness shall go before him;
and shall set us in the way of his steps.

PSALM LXXXVI

BOW down thine ear, O Lord, hear me:
for I am poor and needy.

Preserve my soul; O thou my God, save thy servant that trusteth in thee.

Be merciful unto me, O Lord: for I cry unto thee daily.

Rejoice the soul of thy servant: for unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul.

For thou, Lord, art good, and ready to forgive; and plenteous in mercy unto all them that call upon thee.

Give ear, O Lord, unto my prayer; and attend to the voice of my supplications.

In the day of my trouble I will call upon thee: for thou wilt answer me.

All nations whom thou hast made shall come and worship before thee, O Lord; and shall glorify thy name.

For thou art great, and doest wondrous things; thou art God alone.

Teach me thy way, O Lord; I will walk in thy truth: unite my heart to fear thy name.

I will praise thee, O Lord my God, with all my heart: and I will glorify thy name for evermore.

For great is thy mercy toward me; thou hast delivered my soul.

Thou, O Lord, art a God full of compassion, and gracious, long-suffering, and plenteous in mercy and truth.

Oh, turn unto me, and have mercy upon me: give thy strength unto thy servant, and save the son of thine handmaid.

NINETEENTH SELECTION

PSALM LXXXIX

I WILL sing of the mercies of the Lord for ever: with my mouth will I make known thy faithfulness to all generations.

For I have said, Mercy shall be built up for ever: thy faithfulness shalt thou establish in the very heavens.

And the heavens shall praise thy wonders, O Lord: thy faithfulness also in the congregation of the saints.

God is greatly to be feared in the assembly of the saints, and to be had in reverence of all them that are about him.

O Lord God of hosts, who is a strong Lord like unto thee? or to thy faithfulness round about thee?

Thou rulest the raging of the sea: when the waves thereof arise, thou stillest them.

The heavens are thine, the earth also is thine: as for the world and the fulness thereof, thou hast founded them.

Justice and judgment are the habitation of thy throne: mercy and truth shall go before thy face.

Blessed is the people that know the joyful sound: they shall walk, O Lord, in the light of thy countenance.

In thy name shall they rejoice all the day: and in thy righteousness shall they be exalted.

PSALM XC

LORD, thou hast been our dwelling-place in all generations.

Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God.

For a thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night.

Thou carriest them away as with a flood; they are as a sleep: in the morning they are like grass which groweth up.

In the morning it flourisheth, and groweth up; in the evening it is cut down, and withereth.

Thou hast set our iniquities before thee, our secret sins in the light of thy countenance.

The days of our years are threescore and ten; and if by reason of strength they be fourscore years, yet is their strength labor and sorrow; for it is soon cut off, and we fly away.

So teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom.

O satisfy us early with thy mercy; that we may rejoice and be glad all our days.

Let thy work appear unto thy servants, and thy glory unto their children.

And let the beauty of the Lord our God be upon us: and establish thou the work of our hands upon us.

Yea, the work of our hands establish thou it.

TWENTIETH SELECTION

PSALM XCI

HE that dwelleth in the secret place of the Most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress: my God; in him will I trust.

Surely he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, and from the noisome pestilence.

He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust: his truth shall be thy shield and buckler.

Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night; nor for the arrow that flieth by day.

Nor for the pestilence that walketh in darkness; nor for the destruction that wasteth at noonday.

Because thou hast made the Lord, which is my refuge, even the Most High, thy habitation;

He shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.

They shall bear thee up in their hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.

Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him: I will set him on high, because he hath known my name.

He shall call upon me, and I will answer him: I will be with him in trouble; I will deliver him, and honor him.

With long life will I satisfy him, and show him my salvation.

PSALM XCII

IT is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord, and to sing praises unto thy name, O Most High:

To shew forth thy loving-kindness in the morning, and thy faithfulness every night.

For thou, Lord, hast made me glad through thy work: I will triumph in the works of thy hands.

O Lord, how great are thy works! and thy thoughts are very deep.

A brutish man knoweth not; neither doth a fool understand this.

The righteous shall flourish like the palm tree: he shall grow like a cedar in Lebanon.

Those that be planted in the house of the Lord shall flourish in the courts of our God; they shall still bring forth fruit in old age.

To shew that the Lord is upright: he is my rock, and there is no unrighteousness in him.

TWENTY-FIRST SELECTION

PSALM XCV

O COME, let us sing unto the Lord: let us make a joyful noise to the Rock of our salvation.

Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving, and make a joyful noise unto him with psalms.

In his hand are the deep places of the earth: the strength of the hills is his also.

The sea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land.

Oh, come, let us worship and bow down: let us kneel before the Lord our maker.

For he is our God, and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand.

PSALM XCVI

O SING unto the Lord a new song: sing unto the Lord, all the earth.

Sing unto the Lord, bless his name; shew forth his salvation from day to day.

Declare his glory among the heathen, his wonders among all people.

For the Lord is great, and greatly to be praised.

Honor and majesty are before him: strength and beauty are in his sanctuary.

Give unto the Lord, Oh ye kindreds of the people, give unto the Lord glory and strength.

Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name: bring an offering, and come into his courts.

Oh, worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness: fear before him, all the earth.

Say among the heathen that the Lord reigneth: the world also shall be established that it shall not be moved: he shall judge the people righteously.

Let the heavens rejoice, and let the earth be glad; let the sea roar, and the fulness thereof.

Let the field be joyful, and all that is therein; then shall all the trees of the wood rejoice before the Lord:

For he cometh, for he cometh to judge the earth: he shall judge the world with righteousness, and the people with his truth.

PSALM XCVII

THE Lord reigneth; let the earth rejoice; let the multitude of isles be glad thereof.

Clouds and darkness are round about him: righteousness and judgment are the habitation of his throne.

His lightnings enlightened the world: the earth saw, and trembled.

The hills melted like wax at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.

The heavens declare his righteousness, and all the people see his glory.

Ye that love the Lord, hate evil: he preserveth the souls of his saints; he delivereth them out of the hand of the wicked.

Light is sown for the righteous, and gladness for the upright in heart.

Rejoice in the Lord, ye righteous; and give thanks at the remembrance of his holiness.

TWENTY-SECOND SELECTION

PSALM XCVIII

O SING unto the Lord a new song; for he hath done marvellous things:

His right hand, and his holy arm, hath gotten him the victory.

The Lord hath made known his salvation: his righteousness hath he openly shewed in the sight of the heathen.

He hath remembered his mercy and his truth; all the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God.

Make a joyful noise unto the Lord, all the earth: make a loud noise, and rejoice, and sing praise.

Let the sea roar, and the fulness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein.

Let the floods clap their hands: let the hills be joyful together before the Lord.

For he cometh to judge the earth: with righteousness shall he judge the world, and the people with equity.

PSALM C

MAKE a joyful noise unto the Lord, all ye lands: serve the Lord with gladness: come before his presence with singing.

Know ye that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.

Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise: Be thankful unto him, and bless his name.

For the Lord is good; his mercy is everlasting; and his truth endureth to all generations.

PSALM CI

I WILL sing of mercy and judgment: unto thee, O Lord, will I sing.

I will behave myself wisely in a perfect way. I will walk within my house with a perfect heart.

I will set no wicked thing before mine eyes: a froward heart shall depart from me.

Mine eyes shall be upon the faithful of the land that they may dwell with me:

He that walketh in a perfect way, he shall serve me.

He that worketh deceit shall not dwell within my house. He that telleth lies shall not tarry in my sight.

PSALM CII

HEAR my prayer, O Lord, and let my cry come unto thee.

Hide not thy face from me in the day when I am in trouble; incline thine ear unto me:

My days are like a shadow that declineth; and I am withered like grass.

But thou, O Lord, shalt endure for ever; and thy remembrance unto all generations.

I said, O my God, take me not away in the midst of my days: thy years are throughout all generations.

Of old hast thou laid the foundation of the earth: and the heavens are the work of thy hands.

They shall perish, but thou shalt endure: yea, all of them shall wax old like a garment; as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed.

But thou art the same, and thy years shall have no end.

TWENTY-THIRD SELECTION

PSALM CIII

BLESS the Lord, O my soul: and all that is within me, bless his holy name.

Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits:

Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases;

Who redeemeth thy life from destruction; who crowneth thee with loving-kindness and tender mercies;

Who satisfieth thy mouth with good things; so that thy youth is renewed like the eagle's.

The Lord executeth righteousness and judgment for all that are oppressed.

The Lord is merciful and gracious, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy.

He hath not dealt with us after our sins; nor rewarded us according to our iniquities.

For as the heaven is high above the earth, so great is his mercy toward them that fear him.

As far as the east is from the west, so far hath he removed our transgressions from us.

Like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear him.

For he knoweth our frame; he remembereth that we are dust.

As for man, his days are as grass: as a flower of the field, so he flourisheth.

For the wind passeth over it, and it is gone; and the place thereof shall know it no more.

But the mercy of the Lord is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear him, and his righteousness unto children's children;

To such as keep his covenant, and to those that remember his commandments to do them.

The Lord hath prepared his throne in the heavens; and his kingdom ruleth over all.

Bless the Lord, ye his angels, that excel in strength, that do his commandments, hearkening unto the voice of his word.

Bless ye the Lord, all ye his hosts; ye ministers of his, that do his pleasure.

Bless the Lord, all his works in all places of his dominion: bless the Lord, O my soul.

TWENTY-FOURTH SELECTION

PSALM CIV

BLESS the Lord, O my soul. O Lord my God, thou art very great; thou art clothed with honor and majesty:

Who coverest thyself with light as with a garment: who stretchest out the heavens like a curtain:

Who layeth the beams of his chambers in the waters: who maketh the clouds his chariot: who walketh upon the wings of the wind:

Who maketh his angels spirits; his ministers a flaming fire.

Who laid the foundations of the earth, that it should not be removed for ever.

Thou coverest it with the deep as with a garment: the waters stood above the mountains.

He sendeth the springs into the valleys, which run among the hills.

They give drink to every beast of the field: the wild asses quench their thirst.

By them shall the fowls of the heaven have their habitation, which sing among the branches.

He causeth the grass to grow for the cattle, and herb for the service of man: that he may bring forth food out of the earth;

He appointed the moon for seasons: the sun knoweth his going down.

Thou makest darkness, and it is night: wherein all the beasts of the forest do creep forth.

The young lions roar after their prey, and seek their meat from God.

The sun ariseth, they gather themselves together, and lay them down in their dens.

Man goeth forth unto his work and to his labor until the evening.

O Lord, how manifold are thy works! in wisdom hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches.

So is this great and wide sea, wherein are things creeping innumerable, both small and great beasts.

These wait all upon thee; that thou mayest give them their meat in due season.

That thou givest them they gather: thou openest thine hand, they are filled with good.

Thou hidest thy face, they are troubled: thou takest away their breath, they die, and return to their dust.

Thou sendest forth thy spirit, they are created: and thou renewest the face of the earth.

The glory of the Lord shall endure for ever: the Lord shall rejoice in his works.

He looketh on the earth, and it trembleth: he toucheth the hills, and they smoke.

I will sing unto the Lord as long as I live: I will sing praise to my God while I have my being.

My meditation of him shall be sweet: I will be glad in the Lord.

Bless thou the Lord, O my soul. Praise ye the Lord.

TWENTY-FIFTH SELECTION

PSALM CVII

O GIVE thanks unto the Lord for he is good, for his mercy endureth for ever.

Let the redeemed of the Lord say so, whom he hath redeemed from the hand of the enemy;

And gathered them out of the lands from the east, and from the west, from the north, and from the south.

They wandered in the wilderness in a solitary way; they found no city to dwell in.

Hungry and thirsty, their soul fainted in them.

Then they cried unto the Lord in their trouble, and he delivered them out of their distresses.

And he led them forth by the right way, that they might go to a city of habitation.

Oh that men would praise the Lord for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men!

For he satisfieth the longing soul, and filleth the hungry soul with goodness.

Such as sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, being bound in affliction and iron;

They cried unto the Lord in their trouble, and he saved them out of their distresses.

He brought them out of darkness and the shadow of death, and brake their bands in sunder.

Oh that men would praise the Lord for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men!

And let them sacrifice the sacrifices of thanksgiving, and declare his works with rejoicing.

They that go down to the sea in ships, that do business in great waters;

These see the works of the Lord, and his wonders in the deep.

For he commandeth, and raiseth the stormy wind, which lifteth up the waves thereof.

They mount up to the heaven, they go down again to the depths: their soul is melted because of trouble.

Then they cry unto the Lord in their trouble, and he bringeth them out of their distresses.

He maketh the storm a calm, so that the waves thereof are still.

Then are they glad because they be quiet; so he bringeth them unto their desired haven.

Oh that men would praise the Lord for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men!

Let them exalt him also in the congregation of the people, and praise him in the assembly of the elders.

He turneth rivers into a wilderness, and the water-springs into dry ground.

He turneth the wilderness into a standing water, and dry ground into water-springs.

And there he maketh the hungry to dwell, that they may prepare a city for habitation;

And sow the fields, and plant vineyards, which may yield of fruits increase.

Whoso is wise, and will observe these things, even they shall understand the loving-kindness of the Lord.

TWENTY-SIXTH SELECTION

PSALM CVIII

O GOD, my heart is fixed; I will sing and give praise.

I will praise thee, O Lord, among the people: and I will sing praises unto thee among the nations.

For thy mercy is great above the heavens: and thy truth reacheth unto the clouds.

Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens; and thy glory above all the earth;

That thy beloved may be delivered: save with thy right hand, and answer me. God hath spoken in his holiness; I will rejoice.

Give us help from trouble: for vain is the help of man. Through God we shall do valiantly.

PSALM CXI

I WILL praise the Lord with my whole heart, in the assembly of the upright, and in the congregation.

The works of the Lord are great, sought out of all them that have pleasure therein.

His work is honorable and glorious: and his righteousness endureth for ever.

He hath made his wonderful works to be remembered: the Lord is gracious and full of compassion.

The works of his hands are verity and judgment; all his commandments are sure.

They stand fast for ever and ever, and are done in truth and uprightness.

He sent redemption unto his people: he hath commanded his covenant for ever: holy and reverend is his name.

The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom: a good understanding have all they that do his commandments.

PSALM CXII

BLESSED is the man that feareth the Lord, that delighteth greatly in his commandments.

Unto the upright there ariseth light in the darkness: he is gracious, and full of compassion, and righteous.

A good man sheweth favor, and lendeth: he will guide his affairs with discretion.

Surely he shall not be moved for ever: the righteous shall be in everlasting remembrance.

He shall not be afraid of evil tidings: his heart is fixed, trusting in the Lord.

His heart is established, he shall not be afraid.

PSALM CXIII

PRAISE, O ye servants of the Lord, praise the name of the Lord.

Blessed be the name of the Lord from this time forth and for evermore.

From the rising of the sun unto the going down of the same the Lord's name is to be praised.

The Lord is high above all nations, and his glory above the heavens.

Who is like unto the Lord our God, who dwelleth on high, who humbleth himself to behold the things that are in heaven, and in the earth!

Praise ye the Lord.

TWENTY-SEVENTH SELECTION

PSALM CXVI

I LOVE the Lord, because he hath heard my voice and my supplications.

Because he hath inclined his ear unto me, therefore will I call upon him as long as I live.

The sorrows of death compassed me: I found trouble and sorrow.

Then called I upon the name of the Lord; O Lord, I beseech thee, deliver my soul.

Gracious is the Lord, and righteous; yea, our God is merciful.

The Lord preserveth the simple: I was brought low, and he helped me.

Return unto thy rest, O my soul; for the Lord hath dealt bountifully with thee.

For thou hast delivered my soul from death, mine eyes from tears, and my feet from falling.

What shall I render unto the Lord for all his benefits toward me?

I will take the cup of salvation, and call upon the name of the Lord: I will pay my vows unto the Lord now in the presence of all his people.

O Lord, truly I am thy servant; I am thy servant, and the son of thine hand-maid: thou hast loosed my bonds.

I will offer to thee the sacrifice of thanksgiving, and will call upon the name of the Lord.

PSALM CXVIII

O GIVE thanks unto the Lord; for he is good; for his mercy endureth for ever.

Let them now that fear the Lord say, that his mercy endureth for ever.

I called upon the Lord in distress:

the Lord answered me, and set me in a large place.

The Lord is on my side; I will not fear: what can men do unto me?

It is better to trust in the Lord than to put confidence in man.

It is better to trust in the Lord than to put confidence in princes.

The Lord is my strength and song, and is become my salvation.

The voice of rejoicing and salvation is in the tabernacles of the righteous: the right hand of the Lord doeth valiantly.

I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord.

The Lord hath chastened me sore: but he hath not given me over unto death.

Open to me the gates of righteousness: I will go into them, and I will praise the Lord.

I will praise thee: for thou hast heard me, and art become my salvation.

The stone which the builders refused is become the head-stone of the corner.

This is the Lord's doing; it is marvellous in our eyes.

This is the day which the Lord hath made; we will rejoice and be glad in it.

Save now, I beseech thee, O Lord: O Lord, I beseech thee, send now prosperity.

Blessed be he that cometh in the name of the Lord: we have blessed you out of the house of the Lord.

God is the Lord, which hath showed us light.

Thou art my God, and I will praise thee: thou art my God, I will exalt thee.

Oh, give thanks unto the Lord; for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.

TWENTY-EIGHTH SELECTION

PSALM CXIX

BLESSED are the undefiled in the way, who walk in the law of the Lord.

Blessed are they that keep his testimonies, and that seek him with the whole heart.

Wherewithal shall a young man cleanse his way? by taking heed thereto according to thy word.

With my whole heart have I sought thee: O let me not wander from thy commandments.

Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law.

I will run the way of thy commandments, when thou shalt enlarge my heart.

Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path.

Thy testimonies have I taken as a heritage for ever: for they are the rejoicing of my heart.

Hold thou me up, and I shall be safe: and I will have respect unto thy statutes continually.

Therefore I love thy commandments above gold; yea, above fine gold.

Great are thy tender mercies, O Lord: quicken me according to thy judgments.

Great peace have they which love thy law: and nothing shall offend them.

PSALM CXXI

I WILL lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help.

My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth.

He will not suffer thy foot to be moved: he that keepeth thee will not slumber.

Behold, he that keepeth Israel shall neither slumber nor sleep.

The Lord is thy keeper: the Lord is thy shade upon thy right hand.

The sun shall not smite thee by day, nor the moon by night.

The Lord shall preserve thee from all evil: he shall preserve thy soul.

The Lord shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore.

PSALM CXXIII

UNTO thee lift I up mine eyes, O thou that dwellest in the heavens.

Behold, as the eyes of servants look unto the hand of their masters, and as the eyes of a maiden unto the hand of her mistress; so our eyes wait upon the Lord our God, until that he have mercy upon us.

PSALM CXXIV

IF it had not been the Lord who was on our side when men rose up against us:

Then they had swallowed us up, when their wrath was kindled against us:

Then the waters had overwhelmed us, the stream had gone over our soul:

Blessed be the Lord, who hath not given us as a prey to their teeth.

Our soul is escaped as a bird out of the snare of the fowlers: the snare is broken, and we are escaped.

Our help is in the name of the Lord, who made heaven and earth.

PSALM CXXVII

EXCEPT the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it: except the Lord keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain.

It is vain for you to rise up early, to sit up late, to eat the bread of sorrows: for so he giveth his beloved sleep.

TWENTY-NINTH SELECTION

PSALM CXXX

OUT of the depths have I cried unto thee, O Lord.

Lord, hear my voice: let thine ear be attentive to the voice of my supplications.

If thou, Lord, shouldest mark iniquities, O Lord, who shall stand?

But there is forgiveness with thee, that thou mayest be feared.

I wait for the Lord, my soul doth wait, and in his word do I hope.

My soul waiteth for the Lord more than they that watch for the morning: I say, more than they that watch for the morning.

PSALM CXXXIX

O LORD, thou hast searched me, and known me: thou knowest my down-sitting and mine uprising; thou understandest my thought afar off.

Thou compassest my path and my lying down, and art acquainted with all my ways.

For there is not a word in my tongue, but, lo, O Lord, thou knowest it altogether.

Thou hast beset me behind and before, and laid thine hand upon me.

Such knowledge is too wonderful for me; it is high, I cannot attain unto it.

Whither shall I go from thy spirit?
or whither shall I flee from thy presence?

If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there:
if I make my bed in the grave,
behold, thou art there.

If I take the wings of the morning,
and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea;

Even there shall thy hand lead me,
and thy right hand shall hold me.

If I say, Surely the darkness shall cover me;
even the night shall be light about me.

Yea, the darkness hideth not from thee;
but the night shineth as the day:
the darkness and the light are both alike to thee.

I will praise thee; for I am fearfully and wonderfully made: marvellous are thy works;
and that my soul knoweth right well.

How precious also are thy thoughts unto me,
O God! how great is the sum of them!

If I should count them, they are more in number than the sand:
when I awake, I am still with thee.

Search me, O God, and know my heart:
try me, and know my thoughts:

And see if there be any wicked way in me,
and lead me in the way everlasting.

THIRTIETH SELECTION

PSALM CXLV

I WILL extol thee, O God, my King;
and I will bless thy name for ever and ever.

Every day will I bless thee; and I will praise thy name for ever and ever.

Great is the Lord, and greatly to be praised;
and his greatness is unsearchable.

One generation shall praise thy works to another,
and shall declare thy mighty acts.

I will speak of the glorious honor of thy majesty, and of thy wondrous works.

And men shall speak of the might of thy terrible acts:
and I will declare thy greatness.

They shall abundantly utter the memory of thy great goodness, and shall sing of thy righteousness.

The Lord is gracious, and full of compassion;
slow to anger, and of great mercy.

The Lord is good to all: and his tender mercies are over all his works.

All thy works shall praise thee, O Lord;
and thy saints shall bless thee.

They shall speak of the glory of thy kingdom,
and talk of thy power;

To make known to the sons of men his mighty acts,
and the glorious majesty of his kingdom.

Thy kingdom is an everlasting kingdom,
and thy dominion endureth throughout all generations.

The Lord upholdeth all that fall,
and raiseth up all those that be bowed down.

The eyes of all wait upon thee; and thou givest them their meat in due season.

Thou openest thine hand, and satisfiest the desire of every living thing.

The Lord is righteous in all his ways,
and holy in all his works.

The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon him,
to all that call upon him in truth.

THIRTY-FIRST SELECTION

PSALM CXLVI

PRAISE ye the Lord. Praise the Lord
O my soul.

While I live will I praise the Lord:
I will sing praises unto my God while I have any being.

Put not your trust in princes, nor in the son of man, in whom there is no help.

Happy is he whose hope is in the Lord
his God:

Which made heaven, and earth, the sea, and all that therein is: which keep-eth truth for ever:

Which executeth judgment for the oppressed: which giveth food for the hungry.

PSALM CXLVII

PRAISE ye the Lord: for it is good to sing praises unto our God; for it is pleasant; and praise is comely.

He healeth the broken in heart, and bindeth up their wounds. He telleth the number of stars; he calleth them all by their names.

Great is our Lord, and of great power:
his understanding is infinite.

Who covereth the heaven with clouds,
who prepareth rain for the earth, who maketh grass to grow upon the mountains.

He giveth to the beast his food, and
to the young ravens which cry.

The Lord taketh pleasure in them that fear him, in those that hope in his mercy.

He sendeth forth his commandment
upon earth: his word runneth very swiftly.

He giveth snow like wool: he scat-tereth the hoar-frost like ashes.

He casteth forth his ice like morsels:
who can stand before his cold?

He sendeth out his word, and melteth
them: he causeth his wind to blow and
the waters flow.

PSALM CXLVIII

PRAISE ye the Lord. Praise ye the Lord from the heavens: praise him in the heights.

Praise ye him, all his angels: praise
ye him, all his hosts.

Praise ye him, sun and moon: praise
him, all ye stars of light.

Praise him, ye heavens of heavens, and ye waters that be above the heavens.

Let them praise the name of the Lord:
for he commanded, and they were created.

He hath also established them for ever and ever: he hath made a decree which shall not pass.

Praise the Lord from the earth, ye dragons, and all deeps:

Fire and hail; snow and vapor;
stormy wind fulfilling his word:

Mountains, and all hills; fruitful
trees, and all cedars:

Beasts, and all cattle; creeping things,
and flying fowl:

Kings of the earth, and all people;
princes, and all judges of the earth:

Both young men and maidens; old men and children:

Let them praise the name of the Lord:
for his name alone is excellent.

His glory is above the earth and heaven. Praise ye the Lord.

PREFACE

IN 1868 the American Unitarian Association published a hymn book known as "The Hymn and Tune Book." In 1877 another edition of this book was published, revised by Rev. Rush R. Shippen, then secretáry of the Association. This revised edition of 1877 has for many years held an important place in the worship of the liberal churches of this country. Since its publication, however, there has been a large production of new and excellent hymns and tunes. On September 13, 1910, therefore, the Directors of the American Unitarian Association appointed an Editorial Committee, consisting of Rev. Samuel A. Eliot, D.D., Chairman, Rev. Rush R. Shippen,* Rev. Lewis G. Wilson and Rev. Henry Wilder Foote, Secretary, to prepare a new edition of the Hymn and Tune Book. On September 12, 1911, the Board of Directors appointed, to assist the Editorial Committee in its labors, an Advisory Committee consisting of the following persons: Mr. W. S. Allen, Mrs. C. B. Beatley, Rev. G. H. Badger, Prof. Clayton R. Bowen, Mrs. D. H. Ferrell, Mr. Arthur Foote, Rev. P. R. Frothingham, Mr. P. H. Goepp, Rev. E. A. Horton, Rev. F. L. Hosmer, Rev. A. W. Littlefield, Miss L. P. Loring, Mrs. E. M. Marsh, Rev. C. F. Russell, Rev. E. R. Shippen, Rev. and Mrs. T. C. Williams, and Mr. B. L. Whelpley. The Editorial Committee is under great indebtedness, not only to these persons, but to many others whose advice and assistance have been invaluable, and who have generously given much time and thought to the preparation of the new book.

The book which is here offered reflects the great changes in religious thought which have taken place since the publication of the edition of 1877. A large proportion of the material included in that book has fallen into disuse, but the Editorial Committee has sought carefully to preserve such of the hymns included therein as are vital expressions of the religious life of today, basing its selection upon a widespread inquiry as to which hymns are still actually used. As a result, out of the 885 hymns contained in the edition of 1877, 242 are retained in the present book. To this nucleus a large number of new hymns has been added, with a selection of chants, a few of which were included in the earlier book. In making its selection of new material the Editorial Committee has sought to find lyrical expressions of modern currents of thought and aspiration, especially along the lines of public service and social righteousness. The Committee recognizes that the collection here offered is larger than will be needed by any one minister or congregation, but no two ministers or congregations ever make quite the same selection of hymns, and the Committee has endeavored to provide a collection in which individuals of great diversity of temperament and outlook may find the hymns needed to express the varying religious impulses of many hearts. The Committee's ideal has been a hymn book which should be broad and inclusive in spirit, reverent in tone, and yet a prophetic utterance of the forward-looking religious idealism of our time.

In preparing the text of the hymns for the present book the authors' original readings have been followed wherever practicable, but it has not been felt necessary to adhere absolutely to them, to the extent of rejecting all variations. It is not always possible to ascertain the original form of a hymn. Not infrequently authors have themselves altered and revised their hymns, or some variations from the original text have been long established in common use. In yet other cases some modification may be necessary to make a hymn singable at all. The Committee has, therefore, sought to present the hymns in the form best adapted for practical use. Where there is a variation from the author's text, except in a few cases where such variation is long established and generally accepted, the fact is indicated in connection with the author's name. A slight alteration is noted by an asterisk after the name. More considerable variations are indicated by the word "Adapted" or "Arranged." Where many hands have given a hymn its present form the hymn is signed "Composite." Where practicable the Committee has used the author's own title to the hymn. In such cases the title is enclosed in single quotation marks. Where the hymn is a translation, the first line of the original is given for convenience of reference. Where the hymn is clearly based upon some passage in the Scriptures, that fact is indicated in the title. Titles not included among the above have been assigned by the editors of the book. The dates affixed to hymns and tunes are those of composition when known, otherwise of first publication.

The edition of 1877 contained 300 tunes, of which 102 are retained in the present book. The Committee has endeavored to preserve the familiar association of hymn and tune wherever such actually exists, though associations do, as a matter of fact, vary a good deal according to locality and usage. The Committee has retained all the old tunes which are known to be widely cherished, and has commonly set the new tunes to the new hymns, besides making a large provision for the use of alternative tunes. While the book contains a few tunes available only, or chiefly, for choir use, the Committee has endeavored primarily to produce a book adapted to congregational singing.

The book is offered to all who love perfect liberty in pure religion, with the prayer that within its covers may be found for our age some worthy utterance of the faith and hope and aspiration which in the days of our fathers uplifted the heart of the Church Universal in immortal song.

BOSTON. February 2, 1914.

Sing unto the Lord a new song.

"In the hymn-book is the true key to the doctrine of the communion of saints; for here the saintly ones of all ages meet in their saintliest mood."

OLD HUNDREDTH. L. M.

GENEVAN PSALTER, 1552.

(For the original version see No. 573.)

I. Doxology.

Be thou, O God! exalted high;
And, as thy glory fills the sky,
So let it be on earth displayed,
Till thou art here, as there, obeyed.

NAHUM TATE &
NICHOLAS BRADY.

2. Psalms C.

All people that on earth do dwell,
Sing to the Lord with cheerful voice;
Him serve with fear, his praise forth tell,
Come ye before him and rejoice.

The Lord ye know is God indeed;
Without our aid he did us make;
We are his folk, he doth us feed,
And for his sheep he doth us take.

O enter then his gates with praise,
Approach with joy his courts unto;
Praise, laud and bless his name always,
For it is seemly so to do.

For why? the Lord our God is good,
His mercy is forever sure;
His truth at all times firmly stood,
And shall from age to age endure.

WILLIAM KETHE, 1561.

3. Doxology.

From all that dwell below the skies
Let the Creator's praise arise;
Let the Redeemer's name be sung
Through every land, by every tongue.

Eternal are thy mercies, Lord;
Eternal truth attends thy word;
Thy praise shall sound from shore to shore,
Till suns shall rise and set no more.

ISAAC WATTS, 1718.

4. 'Gott ist gegenwärtig.'

Lo, God is here! let us adore,
And humbly bow before his face;
Let all within us feel his power,
Let all within us seek his grace.

Lo, God is here! him, day and night,
United choirs of angels sing;
To him, enthroned above all height,
Heaven's host their noblest praises bring.

Being of beings! may our praise
Thy courts with grateful incense fill;
Still may we stand before thy face,
Still hear and do thy sovereign will.

GERHARD TERSTEEGEN, 1729.
TRANS. JOHN WESLEY, 1739.

5.

'They rest not day and night, saying, Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, which was, and is, and is to come.' Rev. IV. 8.

Holy, holy, holy! Lord God Almighty!
Early in the morning our song shall rise to thee;
Holy, holy, holy! Merciful and Mighty!
Who wert, and art, and evermore shalt be.

Holy, holy, holy! Though the darkness hide thee,
Though the eye of sinful man thy glory may not see,
Only thou art holy, there is none beside thee
Perfect in power, in love and purity!

Holy, holy, holy! Lord God Almighty!
All thy works shall praise thy name in earth, and sky, and sea;
Holy, holy, holy! Merciful and Mighty!
Who wert, and art, and evermore shalt be.

6.

'Who wert, and art, and evermore shalt be.'

Bring, O morn, thy music! Night, thy starlit silence!
Oceans, laugh the rapture to the storm-winds coursing free!
Suns and planets chorus, thou art our Creator,
Who wert, and art, and evermore shalt be!

Life and death, thy creatures, praise thee, Mighty Giver!
Praise and prayer are rising in thy beast and bird and tree:
Lo! they praise and vanish, vanish at thy bidding, —
Who wert, and art, and evermore shalt be!

Light us! lead us! love us! cry thy groping nations,
Pleading in the thousand tongues, but naming only thee,
Weaving blindly out thy holy, happy purpose, —
Who wert, and art, and evermore shalt be!

Life nor death can part us, O thou Love Eternal,
Shepherd of the wandering star and souls that wayward flee!
Homeward draws the spirit to thy Spirit yearning, —
Who wert, and art, and evermore shalt be!

WILLIAM CHANNING GANNETT, 1893.

7.

'Calling.'

Father, thou art calling, calling to us plainly;
To the spirit comes thy loving message evermore;
Holy One, uplift us, nor forever vainly
Stand calling us and waiting at the door.

In the whirling tempest and the storm thou livest,
In the rain, and in the sweetness of the after-glow;
Summer's golden bounty, winter's snow, thou givest,
And blooming meadows where sweet waters flow.

Clearer still and dearer is thy voice appealing,
Deep within the spirit's secret being speaking low:
Enter, O our Father! truth and life revealing;
From every evil free us as we go.

In thee living, moving, unto thee uprearing
All the hope and joyfulness and trust that fill the soul,
Father, we adore thee, asking naught nor fearing;
We cannot wander from thy dear control.

JAMES VILA BLAKE, 1880.

Invocation.

Come, thou Almighty King!
Help us thy name to sing;
Help us to praise!
Father all-glorious,
O'er all victorious,
Come and reign over us,
Ancient of Days!

Come, thou all-gracious Lord,
By heaven and earth adored!
Our prayer attend!
Come, and thy children bless;
Give thy good word success;
Make thine own holiness
On us descend.

Never from us depart;
Rule thou in every heart,
Hence, evermore.
Thy sovereign majesty
May we in glory see,
And to eternity
Love and adore.

9.

Strength, Love, Light.

Come, thou Almighty Will!
Our fainting bosoms fill'
With thy great power:
Strength of our good intents,
Our tempted hour's defence,
Calm of faith's confidence,
Come, in this hour!

Come, thou most tender Love!
Within our spirits move,
Their sweetest guest:
Extinguish passion's fire,
Exalt each low desire,
To deeds of love inspire,
Quickener and Rest!

Come, Light serene and still!
Our darkened spirits fill
With thy clear day:
Guide of the feeble sight,
Star of grief's darkest night,
Reveal the path of right,
Show us thy way!

Hymns of the Spirit, 1864.

10.

Psalm CIV.

O worship the King, all glorious above,
O gratefully sing his power and his love,—
Our Shield and Defender, the Ancient of days,
Pavilioned in splendor, and girded with praise.

O tell of his might, O sing of his grace,
Whose robe is the light, whose canopy space.
His chariots of wrath the deep thunderclouds form,
And dark is his path on the wings of the storm.

This earth, with its store of wonders untold,
Almighty, thy power hath founded of old;
Hath 'stablished it fast by a changeless decree,
And round it hath cast, like a mantle, the sea.

Thy bountiful care what tongue can recite?
It breathes in the air, it shines in the light;
It streams from the hills, it descends to the plain,
And sweetly distils in the dew and the rain.

Frail children of dust, and feeble as frail,
In thee do we trust, nor find thee to fail:
Thy mercies how tender, how firm to the end,
Our Maker, Defender, Redeemer, and Friend!

II.

Psalm CXLVIII.

Praise the Lord; ye heavens adore him;
Praise him, angels, in the height;
Sun and moon, rejoice before him;
Praise him, all ye stars of light.
Praise the Lord, for he hath spoken;
Worlds his mighty voice obeyed;
Laws, which never can be broken,
For their guidance he hath made.

Praise the Lord, for he is glorious;
Never shall his promise fail;
God hath made his saints victorious;
Sin and death shall not prevail.
Praise the God of our salvation;
Hosts on high his power proclaim;
Heaven and earth, and all creation,
Praise and magnify his name.

Worship, honor, glory, blessing,
Lord, we offer unto thee,
Young and old, thy praise expressing,
In glad homage bend the knee.

As the saints in heaven adore thee,
We would bow before thy throne;
As thine angels serve before thee,
So on earth thy will be done.

ANON., 1796.
Third stanza by EDWARD OSLER.

I2.

Psalm XCI.

Call Jehovah thy salvation;
Rest beneath the Almighty's shade;
In his secret habitation
Dwell, nor ever be dismayed;
There no tumult can alarm thee,
Thou shalt dread no hidden snare;
Guile nor violence can harm thee,
In eternal safeguard there.
He shall charge his angel legions
Watch and ward o'er thee to keep,
Though thou walk through hostile regions,
Though in desert wilds thou sleep.
Since, with pure and warm affection,
Thou on God hast set thy love,
With the wings of his protection
He will shield thee from above.

Praise.

For the beauty of the earth,
For the splendor of the skies,
For the love which from our birth
Over and around us lies;
Lord of all, to thee we raise
This, our hymn of grateful praise.

For the joy of ear and eye,
For the heart and mind's delight,
For the mystic harmony
Linking sense to sound and sight;
Lord of all, to thee we raise
This, our hymn of grateful praise.

For each perfect gift of thine,
Unto us so freely given,
Graces human, Grace divine,
Peace on earth, and joy in heaven;
Lord of all, to thee we raise
This, our hymn of grateful praise.

FOLLIOTT SANDFORD PIERPONT,* 1864.

I4.

'Thanksgiving for Daily Mercies.'

O give thanks to him who made
Morning light and evening shade!
Source and Giver of all good,
Nightly sleep and daily food!
Quickener of our wearied powers,
Guard of our unconscious hours!

O give thanks to nature's King,
Who made every breathing thing!
His our warm and sentient frame;
His the mind's immortal flame;
O, how close the ties that bind
Spirits to the Eternal Mind!

O give thanks with heart and lip,
For we are his workmanship,
And all creatures are his care;
Not a bird that cleaves the air
Falls unnoticed; — but who can Speak the Father's love to man!

יְגִדַּל אֱלֹהִים חַי וְיִשְׁתַּבַּח

Praise to the living God!
 All praised be his Name,
 Who was, and is, and is to be,
 For aye the same!
 The One Eternal God
 Ere aught that now appears:
 The First, the Last, beyond all thought
 His timeless years!

Formless, all lovely forms
 Declare his loveliness;
 Holy, no holiness of earth
 Can his express.
 Lo, he is Lord of all!
 Creation speaks his praise,
 And everywhere, above, below,
 His will obeys.

His Spirit floweth free,
 High surging where it will:
 In prophet's word he spoke of old, —
 He speaketh still.
 Established is his law,
 And changeless it shall stand,
 Deep writ upon the human heart,
 On sea, or land.

Eternal life hath he
 Implanted in the soul;
 His love shall be our strength and stay,
 While ages roll.
 Praise to the living God!
 All praised be his Name
 Who was, and is, and is to be,
 For aye the same!

Universal praise.

Come, O come in pious lays,
Sound we God Almighty's praise;
Hither bring, in one consent,
Heart, and voice and instrument.
Strike the viol, touch the lute;
Let no tongue nor string be mute,
Nor a creature dumb be found
That hath either voice or sound.

Come, ye sons of human race,
In this chorus take your place:
And amid the mortal throng,
Be you masters of the song.
Let, in praise of God, the sound
Run a never-ending round,
That our song of praise may be Everlasting, as is he.

So this huge wide orb we see
Shall one choir, one temple be;
And our song shall over-climb
All the bounds of place and time,
And ascend from sphere to sphere
To the great Almighty's ear.
Then, O come in pious lays,
Sound we God Almighty's praise.

O 't was a joyful sound to hear
Our tribes devoutly say,
Up, Israel! to the temple haste,
And keep your festal day.

At Salem's courts we must appear,

MONKLAND. 7.7.7.7.ANON.
Arr. by JOHN BERNARD WILKES, 1861.20. Psalm CXXXVI.

Let us with a gladsome mind
Praise the Lord, for he is kind,
*For his mercies ay endure,
Ever faithful, ever sure.*

Let us blaze his name abroad,
For of Gods he is the God:
*For his mercies ay endure,
Ever faithful, ever sure.*

Who by his all-commanding might
Did fill the new-made world with light:
*For his mercies ay endure,
Ever faithful, ever sure.*

And caused the golden-tresséd sun
All the day long his course to run:
*For his mercies ay endure,
Ever faithful, ever sure.*

The hornéd moon to shine by night
Amongst her spangled sisters bright:
*For his mercies ay endure,
Ever faithful, ever sure.*

Let us, then, with gladsome mind,
Praise the Lord, for he is kind;
*For his mercy shall endure,
Ever faithful, ever sure.*

JOHN MILTON, 1623.

21. Psalm XCII.

Thou who art enthroned above,
Thou in whom we live and move,
Thou who art most great, most high,
God from all eternity!

O how sweet, how excellent
'T is when tongues and hearts consent,
Grateful hearts, and joyful tongues,
Hymning thee in tuneful songs!

When the morning paints the skies,
When the stars of evening rise,
We thy praises will record,
Sovereign Ruler, mighty Lord!

Decks the spring with flowers the field?
Harvest rich doth autumn yield?
Giver of all good below,
Lord, from thee these blessings flow.

Sovereign Ruler, mighty Lord!
We thy praises will record:
Giver of these blessings, we
Pour the grateful song to thee.

GEORGE SANDYS, 1636

SILVER STREET. S. M.

ISAAC SMITH, 1770.

Alternative Tune: St. Michael.

22. Stand up, and bless the Lord.

Stand up, and bless the Lord,
Ye people of his choice;
Stand up, and bless the Lord your God,
With heart and soul and voice.

Though high above all praise,
Above all blessing high,
Who would not fear his holy name,
And laud and magnify?

O for the living flame,
From his own altar brought,
To touch our lips, our minds inspire,
And raise to heaven our thought!

Stand up, and bless the Lord;
The Lord your God adore;
Stand up, and bless his glorious name,
Henceforth, for evermore.

JAMES MONTGOMERY, 1825.

23. Psalm XCV.

Come, sound his praise abroad,
And hymns of glory sing;
Jehovah is the sovereign God,
The universal King.

He formed the deeps unknown;
He gave the seas their bound;
The watery worlds are all his own,
And all the solid ground.

Come, worship at his throne,
Come, bow before the Lord:
We are his work, and not our own;
He formed us by his word.

To-day attend his voice,
Nor dare provoke his rod;
Come, like the people of his choice,
And own your gracious God.

ISAAC WATTS, 1719.

24.

Dedication.

Unto thy temple, Lord, we come
With thankful hearts to worship thee;
And pray that this may be our home
Until we touch eternity: —

The common home of rich and poor,
Of bond and free, and great and small;
Large as thy love for evermore,
And warm and bright and good to all.

And dwell thou with us in this place,
Thou and thy Christ, to guide and bless!
Here make the wellsprings of thy grace
Like fountains in the wilderness.

May thy whole truth be spoken here;
Thy gospel light for ever shine;
Thy perfect love cast out all fear,
And human life become divine.

ROBERT COLLYER, 1873.

25.

'The Truth as it is in Jesus.'

Great God, the followers of thy Son,
We bow before thy mercy-seat,
To worship thee, the Holy One,
And pour our wishes at thy feet.

O grant thy blessing here to-day!
O give thy people joy and peace!
The tokens of thy love display,
And favor that shall never cease.

We seek the truth which Jesus brought;
His path of light we long to tread:
Here be his holy doctrines taught,
And here their purest influence shed.

May faith and hope and love abound;
Our sins and errors be forgiven;
And we, in thy great day, be found
Children of God and heirs of heaven!

HENRY WARE, JR., 1819.

26. Acting as seeing him who is invisible.
Heb. XI. 27.

Eternal and immortal King,
 Thy peerless splendors none can bear;
 But darkness veils seraphic eyes,
 When God with all his luster's there.

Yet faith can pierce the awful gloom,
 The great Invisible can see;
 And with its tremblings mingle joy,
 In fixed regards, great God, to thee.

Then every tempting form of sin,
 Shamed in thy presence, disappears;
 And all the glowing, raptured soul,
 The likeness it contemplates, wears.

O ever conscious to my heart,
 Witness to its supreme desire,
 Behold, it presseth on to thee,
 For it hath caught the heavenly fire!

This one petition would it urge, —
 To bear thee ever in its sight;
 In life, in death, in worlds unknown,
 Its only portion and delight!

PHILIP DODDRIDGE, 1755.

27. Psalm C.

Nations, attend before his throne
 With solemn fear and sacred joy;
 Know that the Lord is God alone,
 He can create, and he destroy.

His sovereign power, without our aid,
 Made us of clay, and formed us men;
 And when, like wandering sheep, we strayed,
 He brought us to his fold again.

We are his people, we his care,
 Our souls, and all our mortal frame:
 What lasting honors shall we rear,
 Almighty Maker, to thy name?

We'll crowd thy gates with thankful songs;
 High as the heavens our voices raise;
 And earth, with her ten thousand tongues,
 Shall fill thy courts with sounding praise.

Wide as the world is thy command,
 Vast as eternity thy love;
 Firm as a rock thy truth must stand,
 When rolling years shall cease to move.

ISAAC WATTS, 1705

Alternative Tune: Coronation.

28.

The Lord of all.

Sing forth his high eternal name
 Who holds all powers in thrall,
 Through endless ages still the same, —
 The mighty Lord of all.
 His goodness, strong and measureless,
 Upholds us lest we fall;
 His hand is still outstretched to bless, —
 The loving Lord of all.

His perfect law sets metes and bounds,
 Our strong defense and wall;
 His providence our life surrounds, —
 The saving Lord of all.
 He every thought and every deed
 Doth to his judgment call;
 O may our hearts obedient heed
 The righteous God of all.

When, turning from forbidden ways,
 Low at his feet we fall,
 His strong and tender arms upraise, —
 The pardoning Lord of all.
 Unwearied he is working still,
 Unspent his blessings fall,
 Almighty, loving, righteous One,
 The only Lord of all.

29.

This latter day.

Our God, our God, thou shinest here,
Thine own this latter day;
To us thy radiant steps appear,
Here goes thy glorious way!

We shine not only with the light
Thou sheddest down of yore;
On us thou streamest strong and bright,
Thy comings are not o'er.

The fathers had not all of thee,
New births are in thy grace;
All open to our souls shall be
Thy glory's hiding-place.

We gaze on thy outgoings bright;
Down cometh thy full power;
We, the glad bearers of thy light,
This, this thy saving hour!

On us thy spirit thou hast poured,
To us thy word has come;
We feel, we bless thy quickening, Lord!
Thou shalt not find us dumb.

Thou comest near; thou standest by;
Our work begins to shine;
Thou dwellest with us mightily, —
On come the years divine!

'An Invocation.'

Sovereign and transforming Grace!
We invoke thy quickening power;
Reign the spirit of this place,
Bless the purpose of this hour.
Holy and creative Light!
We invoke thy kindling ray;
Dawn upon our spirits' night,
Turn our darkness into day.
To the anxious soul impart
Hope all other hopes above;
Stir the dull and hardened heart
With a longing and a love.
Work in all; in all renew,
Day by day, the life divine;
All our wills to thee subdue,
All our hearts to thee incline.

FREDERIC HENRY HEDGE, 1820.

31.

'At the portals of thy house.'

Lord, before thy presence come,
Bow we down with holy fear:
Call our erring footsteps home,
Let us feel that thou art near.

Wandering thoughts and languid powers
Come not where devotion kneels;
Let the soul expand her stores,
Glowing with the joy she feels.

At the portals of thine house,
We resign our earth-born cares:
Nobler thoughts our souls engross,
Songs of praise and fervent prayers.

32. The Lord is in his holy temple.

God is in his holy temple:
Earthly thoughts, be silent now,
While with reverence we assemble,
And before his presence bow.

He is with us now and ever,
When we call upon his name,
Aiding every good endeavor,
Guiding every upward aim.

God is in his holy temple, —
In the pure and holy mind;
In the reverent heart and simple;
In the soul from sense refined.

Then let every low emotion
Banished far and silent be,
And our souls in pure devotion,
Lord, be temples worthy thee!

Hymns of the Spirit, 1864.

33. The salutation of peace.

Peace be to this congregation!
Peace to every heart therein!
Peace, the earnest of salvation;
Peace, the fruit of conquered sin;

Peace, that speaks the heavenly Giver;
Peace, to worldly minds unknown;
Peace, that floweth, as a river,
From the eternal Source alone.

O thou God of Peace, be near us,
Fix within our hearts thy home;
With thy bright appearing cheer us,
In thy blessed freedom come.

Come with all thy revelations,
Truth which we so long have sought;
Come with thy deep consolations,
Peace of God which passeth thought!

34. Evening hymn.

Lo! the day of rest declineth;
Gather fast the shades of night:
May the Sun that ever shineth
Fill our souls with heavenly light.

While thine ear of love addressing,
Thus our parting hymn we sing,
Father, give thine evening blessing;
Fold us safe beneath thy wing.

35.

Temple worship.

Where ancient forests widely spread,
Where bends the cataract's ocean-fall,
On the lone mountain's silent head,
There are thy temples, God of all!

All space is holy, for all space
Is filled by thee; but human thought
Burns clearer in some chosen place,
Where thine own words of love are taught.

Here be they taught; and may we know
That faith thy servants knew of old,
Which onward bears, through weal or woe,
Till death the gates of heaven unfold.

Nor we alone: may those whose brow
Shows yet no trace of human cares
Hereafter stand where we do now,
And raise to thee still holier prayers.

ANDREWS NORTON,* 1833.

36.

A pillar of fire by night.

When Israel, of the Lord beloved,
Out from the land of bondage came,
Her fathers' God before her moved,
An awful guide, in smoke and flame.

By day, along the astonished lands,
The cloudy pillar glided slow;
By night, Arabia's crimsoned sands
Returned the fiery column's glow.

Thus present still, though now unseen,
When brightly shines the prosperous day,
Be thoughts of thee a cloudy screen,
To temper the deceitful ray.

And O! when gathers on our path,
In shade and storm, the frequent night,
Be thou, long-suffering, slow to wrath,
A burning and a shining light.

WALTER SCOTT,* 1819.

37. 'The Chapel of the Hermits.'

O sometimes gleams upon our sight
Through present wrong the eternal right;
And step by step, since time began,
We see the steady gain of man, —

That all of good the past hath had Remains to make our own time glad,
Our common, daily life divine,
And every land a Palestine.

Through the harsh noises of our day
A low, sweet prelude finds its way;
Through clouds of doubt and creeds of fear
A light is breaking calm and clear.

Henceforth my heart shall sigh no more
For olden time and holier shore:
God's love and blessing, then and there,
Are now and here and everywhere.

JOHN GREENLEAF WHITTIER,* 1851.

38. 'Matin Hymn.'

O God, I thank thee for each sight
Of beauty that thy hand doth give, —
For sunny skies and air and light:
O God, I thank thee that I live.

That life I consecrate to thee:
And ever, as the day is born,
On wings of joy my soul would flee
To thank thee for another morn, —

Another day in which to cast
Some silent deed of love abroad,
That, greatening as it journeys past,
May do some earnest work for God.

Another day to do, to dare,
To use anew my growing strength,
To arm my soul with faith and prayer,
And so reach heaven and thee at length.

CAROLINE AHERTON MASON.

39.

God all in all.

Immortal, invisible, God only wise,
In light inaccessible hid from our eyes,
Most blesséd, most glorious, the Ancient of Days,
Almighty, victorious, thy great name we praise.

Unresting, unhasting, and silent as light,
Nor wanting, nor wasting, thou rulest in might;
Thy justice like mountains high soaring above
Thy clouds which are fountains of goodness and love.

To all, life thou givest — to both great and small;
In all life thou livest, the true life of all;
We blossom and flourish as leaves on the tree,
And wither and perish — but naught changeth thee.

Great Father of Glory, pure Father of Light,
Thine angels adore thee, all veiling their sight;
All laud we would render; O help us to see,
'Tis only the splendor of light hideth thee.

The beauty of the Lord.

Thou art, O God, the life and light
Of all this wondrous world we see;
Its glow by day, its smile by night,
Are but reflections caught from thee:
Where'er we turn thy glories shine,
And all things fair and bright are thine.

When day, with farewell beam, delays
Among the opening clouds of even,
And we can almost think we gaze
Through golden vistas into heaven, —
Those hues that make the sun's decline
So soft, so radiant, Lord, are thine.

When youthful spring around us breathes,
Thy Spirit warms her fragrant sigh;
And every flower the summer wreathes
Is born beneath that kindling eye:
Where'er we turn, thy glories shine,
And all things fair and bright are thine.

The watches of the day and night.

Father, the watches of the night are o'er;
To light and life the soul has risen once more;
Blesséd be thou, who, through the helpless hours,
Hast kept in deepest peace her slumbering powers.

Father, the watches of the day are here;
More than from those of night we have to fear;
By rude cares troubled, by temptations pressed,
Through the day-watches, Father, give us rest!

 Whose voice created, and whose wisdom guides,

'Dreieinigkeit, der Gottheit wahrer Spiegel.'

We praise thee, Lord, with earliest morning ray;
We praise thee with the glowing light of day:
All things that live and move, by sea and land,
Forever ready at thy service stand.

Thy Christendom is singing night and day,
'Glory to him, the mighty God, for aye,
By whom, through whom, in whom, all beings are!'
Grant us to echo on the song afar.

O God, O Spirit, Light of all that live,
 Who dost on them that sit in darkness shine!
 The darkness ever with the light doth strive,
 Yet pour on us again thy beams divine.

O Breath from out the eternal silence! blow
 Softly upon our spirits' waiting ground;
 The precious fulness of our God bestow,
 That fruits of faith, love, reverence may abound.

O Fountain, that dost unexhausted flow
 To quench the thirst that seeks thy waters clear!
 O God, O Spirit, Life of life! flow now
 Into the hearts which seek thy quickening here.

'The Spirit-Land.'

Father, thy wonders do not singly stand,
 Nor far removed where feet have seldom strayed:
 Around us ever lies the enchanted land,
 In marvels rich to thine own sons displayed.

In finding thee are all things round us found;
 In losing thee are all things lost beside;
 Ears have we, but in vain sweet voices sound,
 And to our eyes the vision is denied.

Open our eyes that we that world may see,
 Open our ears that we thy voice may hear,
 And in the spirit-land may ever be,
 And feel thy presence with us always near.

JONES VERY, 1830, 1846.

46.

The universal presence.

O Lord, where'er thy people meet,
There they behold thy mercy-seat;
Where'er they seek thee, thou art found,
And every place is hallowed ground.

For thou, within no walls confined,
Inhabitest the humble mind:
Such ever bring thee where they come,
And, going, take thee to their home.

With heavenly grace our souls endue;
Thy former mercies here renew;
Here to our waiting hearts proclaim
The sweetness of thy saving name.

Here may we prove the power of prayer
To strengthen faith and sweeten care;
To teach our faint desires to rise,
And bring all heaven before our eyes.

Psalm CXXXVI.

Give to our God immortal praise!
Mercy and truth are all his ways:
Wonders of grace to God belong;
Repeat his mercies in your song.

Give to the Lord of lords renown,
The King of kings with glory crown:
His mercies ever shall endure,
When lords and kings are known no more.

He built the earth, he spread the sky,
And fixed the starry lights on high:
Wonders of grace to God belong;
Repeat his mercies in your song.

He fills the sun with morning light,
He bids the moon direct the night:
His mercies ever shall endure,
When suns and moons shall shine no more.

Reverence and love.

O Source divine, and Life of all,
The Fount of being's fearful sea,
Thy depth would every heart appall
That saw not love supreme in thee.

We shrink before thy vast abyss,
Where worlds on worlds unnumbered brood.
We know thee truly but in this, —
That thou bestowest all our good.

And so, mid boundless time and space,
O grant us still in thee to dwell,
And through thy ceaseless web to trace
Thy presence working all things well;

Nor let thou life's delightful play
Thy truth's transcendent vision hide,
Nor strength and gladness lead astray
From thee, our nature's only guide.

Bestow on every joyous thrill
Thy deeper tone of reverent awe,
Make pure thy creature's erring will,
And teach his heart to love thy law.

JOHN STERLING,* 1839.

'God through all, and in you all.'

God of the earth, the sky, the sea,
Maker of all above, below,

Thy love is in the sunshine's glow,
Thy life is in the quickening air;
When lightnings flash and storm-winds
blow,
There is thy power, thy law is there.

We feel thy calm at evening's hour,
Thy grandeur in the march of night,
And when the morning breaks in power,
We hear thy word, 'Let there be light.'

But higher far, and far more clear,
Thee in man's spirit we behold,
Thine image and thyself are there, —
The indwelling God, proclaimed of old.

The Lord is my light.

Lord of all being, throned afar,
Thy glory flames from sun and star;
Center and soul of every sphere,
Yet to each loving heart how near!

Sun of our life, thy quickening ray
Sheds on our path the glow of day:
Star of our hope, thy softened light
Cheers the long watches of the night.

Our midnight is thy smile withdrawn;
Our noontide is thy gracious dawn;
Our rainbow arch, thy mercy's sign:
All, save the clouds of sin, are thine.

Lord of all life, below, above,
Whose light is truth, whose warmth is love,
Before thy ever-blazing throne
We ask no luster of our own.

Grant us thy truth to make us free,
And kindling hearts that burn for thee,
Till all thy living altars claim
One holy light, one heavenly flame.

'Providential Bounties Surveyed and Improved.'

Father of lights, we sing thy name,
Who kindlest up the lamp of day:
Wide as he spreads his golden flame,
His beams thy power and love display.

Fountain of good, from thee proceed
The copious drops of genial rain,
Which, o'er the hill and through the mead
Revive the grass and swell the grain.

O let not our forgetful hearts
O'erlook the tokens of thy care;
But what thy liberal hand imparts
Still own in praise, still ask in prayer!

So shall our suns more grateful shine,
And showers in sweeter drops shall fall,
When all our hearts and lives are thine
And thou, O God, enjoyed in all!

'The heavens declare the glory of God.' Psalm XIX. 1.

The spacious firmament on high,
With all the blue ethereal sky,
And spangled heavens, a shining frame,
Their great Original proclaim.
The unwearied sun from day to day
Does his Creator's power display,
And publishes to every land
The work of an almighty hand.

Soon as the evening shades prevail
The moon takes up the wondrous tale,
And nightly to the listening earth
Repeats the story of her birth;

Whilst all the stars that round her burn,
And all the planets in their turn,
Confirm the tidings as they roll,
And spread the truth from pole to pole.

What though in solemn silence all
Move round the dark terrestrial ball?
What though no real voice nor sound
Amid their radiant orbs be found?
In reason's ear they all rejoice
And utter forth a glorious voice,
Forever singing as they shine,
'The hand that made us is divine.'

With glory clad, with strength arrayed,

The world's foundations strongly laid,
And the vast fabric still sustains.

How surely stablished is thy throne,
Which shall no change or period see!
For thou, O Lord, and thou alone,
Art God from all eternity.

The floods, O Lord, lift up their voice,
And toss the troubled waves on high;
But God above can still their noise,

'For all thy gifts.'

Thou One in all, thou All in one,
Source of the grace that crowns our days,
For all thy gifts 'neath cloud or sun,
We lift to thee our grateful praise.

We bless thee for the life that flows,
A pulse in every grain of sand,
A beauty in the blushing rose,
A thought and deed in brain and hand.

For life that thou hast made a joy,
For strength to make our lives like thine,
For duties that our hands employ, —
We bring our offerings to thy shrine.

Be thine to give and ours to own
The truth that sets thy children free,
The law that binds us to thy throne,
The love that makes us one with thee.

Morning, noon, evening.

The morning walks upon the earth,
And man awakes to toil and mirth;
All living things and lands are gay —
Dear God, walk with me through the day.

Sweet is the breathing of the world,
As in thy love it lies enfurled;
And blue and clear the immortal sky;
'T is thine, and thine its purity.

Now noon sits throned, her golden urn
Pours forth the sunshine! Laugh and burn
Cornland and meadow, lake and sea!
Lord of my life, pour love on me.

Slow comes the evening o'er the hill,
The labor of the world is still;
Homeward I go, and muse of thee —
Father of home, abide with me.

Now droops the dark, but worlds of light,
Hidden by day, fulfil the night!
Infinite Stillness, silent sea
Of truth and power, flow over me.

O thou, whose love the night has made
Outwearied earth and man to aid,
Who givest labor, and then rest,
Give me the peace that fills thy breast.

Psalm CXLVII.

With songs and honors sounding loud,
Address the Lord on high;
Over the heavens he spreads his cloud,
And waters veil the sky.

He sends his showers of blessing down
To cheer the plains below;
He makes the grass the mountains crown,
And corn in valleys grow.

His steady counsels change the face
Of the declining year;
He bids the sun cut short his race,
And wintry days appear.

His hoary frost, his fleecy snow,
Descend and clothe the ground;
The liquid streams refuse to flow,
In icy fetters bound.

He sends his word, he melts the snow, —
The fields no longer mourn;
He calls the warmer gales to blow,
And bids the spring return.

The changing wind, the flying cloud,
Obey his mighty word,
With songs and honors sounding loud,
Praise ye the sovereign Lord.

ISAAC WATTS, 1719.

57.

The splendor of the Lord.

My God, I feel thy wondrous might
In nature's various shows, —
The whirlwind's breath, the tender light
Of the rejoicing rose.

For doth not that same power enfold
Whatever things are new,
Which shone about the saints of old
And struck the seas in two?

Ashamed, I veil my fearful eyes
From this, thy earthly reign;
What shall I do when I arise
From death, but die again?

What shall I do but prostrate fall
Before the splendor there,
That here so dazzles me through all
The dusty robes I wear?

I dare not pray to thee to give
That heaven which shall appear;
My cry is, help me, thou, to live
Within the heaven that's here!

ALICE CARY.

58.

Nature's worship.

The harp at Nature's advent strung
Has never ceased to play:
The song the stars of morning sung
Has never died away.

And prayer is made, and praise is given
By all things near and far:
The ocean looketh up to heaven
And mirrors every star:

The green earth sends her incense up
From many a mountain shrine:
From folded leaf and dewy cup
She pours her sacred wine.

The blue sky is the temple's arch,
Its transept, earth and air;
The music of its starry march,
The chorus of a prayer.

So Nature keeps the reverent frame
With which her years began;
And all her signs and voices shame
The prayerless heart of man.

JOHN GREENLEAF WHITTIER.

The book of nature.

There is a book, who runs may read,
Which heavenly truth imparts;
And all the lore its scholars need,
Pure eyes and Christian hearts.

The works of God, above, below,
Within us and around,
Are pages in that book, to show
How God himself is found.

The glorious sky, embracing all,
Is like the Maker's love,
Wherewith encompassed, great and small
In peace and order move.

Two worlds are ours: 't is only sin
Forbids us to descry
The mystic heaven and earth within,
Plain as the sea and sky.

Thou who hast given us eyes to see
And love this sight so fair,
Give us a heart to find out thee,
And read thee everywhere.

'Himmel, Erde, Luft, und Meer.' Acts XIV. 17.

Heaven and earth, and sea and air,
Still their Maker's praise declare;
Thou, my soul, as loudly sing,
To thy God thy praises bring.

See the sun his power awakes,
As through clouds his glory breaks;
See the moon and stars of light,
Praising God in stillest night.

See how God this rolling globe
Swathes with beauty like a robe;
Forests, fields, and living things,
Each its Maker's glory sings.

Through the air thy praises meet,
Birds are singing clear and sweet;
Fire, and storm, and wind, thy will
As thy ministers fulfil.

The ocean waves thy glory tell,
At thy touch they sing and swell;
From the well-spring to the sea,
Rivers murmur, Lord, of thee.

Ah! my God, what wonders lie
Hid in thine infinity!
Stamp upon my inmost heart
What I am, and what thou art.

Universal praise.

Let the whole creation cry,
Glory to the Lord on high!
Heaven and earth, awake and sing,
'God is good, and therefore King.'

Praise him, all ye hosts above
Ever bright and fair in love!
Sun and moon, uplift your voice;
Night and stars, in God rejoice.

Chant his honor, ocean fair!
Earth, soft rushing through the air;
Sunshine, darkness, cloud and storm,
Rain and snow, his praise perform.

Let the blossoms of the earth
Join the universal mirth;
Birds, with morn and dew elate,
Sing with joy at heaven's gate.

Warriors fighting for the Lord,
Prophets burning with his word,
Men and women, young and old,
Raise the anthem manifold.

And let children's happy hearts
In this worship bear their parts:
Holy, Holy, Holy One,
Glory be to God alone!

Ye Holy Angels Bright.

Ye holy angels bright,
Who wait at God's right hand,
Or through the realms of light
Fly at your Lord's command,
Assist our song,
For else the theme
Too high doth seem
For mortal tongue.

Let not his praises grow
On prosperous heights alone,
But in the vales below
Let his great love be known.
Let no distress
Curb and control
My wingéd soul
And praise suppress.

My soul, bear thou thy part,
Triumph in God above,
And with a well-tuned heart
Sing thou the songs of love:
Let all thy days
Till life shall end,
Whate'er he send,
Be filled with praise.

JOY. 7.6.7.6.7.7.6.

Arr. from LUDWIG VAN BEETHOVEN.

Alternative Tune: Amsterdam.

63.

Open, Lord, my inward ear.

Open, Lord, my inward ear,
 And bid my heart rejoice;
 Bid my quiet spirit hear
 The comfort of thy voice.
 Never in the whirlwind found,
 Or where earthquakes rock the place, —
 Still and silent is the sound,
 The whisper of thy grace.

From the world of sin and noise
 And hurry I withdraw;
 For the small and inward voice
 I wait with humble awe:
 Silent I am now and still,
 Dare not in thy presence move;
 To my waiting soul reveal
 The secret of thy love.

64.

The mighty power of God.

I sing the mighty power of God,
That made the mountains rise;
That spread the flowing seas abroad,
And built the lofty skies.
I sing the wisdom that ordained
The sun to rule the day:
The moon shines full at his command,
And all the stars obey.

I sing the goodness of the Lord,
That filled the earth with food:
He formed the creatures with his word,
And then pronounced them good.
Lord, how thy wonders are displayed,
Where'er I turn my eye;
If I survey the ground I tread,
Or gaze upon the sky!

There's not a plant or flower below,
But makes thy glories known;
And clouds arise, and tempests blow,
By order from thy throne.
Creatures that borrow life from thee
Are subject to thy care:
There's not a place where we can flee,
But God is present there.

ISAAC WATTS, 1709.

65.

Consider the lilies.

He hides within the lily,
 A strong and tender Care,
 That wins the earth-born atoms
 To glory of the air;
 He weaves the shining garments
 Unceasingly and still,
 Along the quiet waters,
 In niches of the hill.

We linger at the vigil
 With him who bent the knee
 To watch the old-time lilies
 In distant Galilee;
 And still the worship deepens
 And quickens into new,
 As brightening down the ages
 God's secret thrilleth through.

O Toiler of the lily,
 Thy touch is in the man!
 No leaf that dawns to petal
 But hints the angel-plan:
 The flower-horizons open,
 The blossom vaster shows;
 We hear thy wide worlds echo,
 'See how the lily grows!'

Shy yearnings of the savage,
 Unfolding, thought by thought,
 To holy lives are lifted,
 To visions fair are wrought:
 The races rise and cluster,
 And evils fade and fall,
 Till chaos blooms to beauty,
 Thy purpose crowning all!

66.

Lord God Omnipotent.

Lord God Omnipotent,
 Lord God alone,
 High o'er the firmament
 Planting thy throne,
 Curtained about with light,
 Under thy feet a bright
 Pavement of stars,
 No shade of darksome night
 Thy glory mars.

Sun, moon, and stars fulfill
 Their times by thee;
 Angels to do thy will
 Fleet lightnings be;
 Rain, hail, and frost and snow,
 And all the winds that blow,
 Are at thy nod;
 Oceans and tempests know
 Their mighty God.

Thou breathest on the earth,
 And there is spring,
 Leaf buds come bursting forth,
 All the birds sing,
 Flocks on the hills are seen
 Herds on the meadows green,
 Forests rejoice,
 All that had silent been
 Lifts up its voice.

Lord God Omnipotent,
 'Bide with thy flock;
 O keep them, when they faint,
 Safe on the Rock;
 Show them thy tender grace,
 And the light of thy face
 To them accord;
 Praise to thy holiness,
 Praise to the Lord.

67.

'Benedicite omnia opera Domine.'

Angels holy,
High and lowly,
Sing the praises of the Lord!
Earth and sky, all living nature,
Man, the stamp of thy Creator,
Praise ye, praise ye, God the Lord!

Sun and moon bright,
Night and noonlight,
Starry temples azure-floored,
Cloud and rain, and wild wind's madness,
Breeze that floats with genial gladness,
Praise ye, praise ye, God the Lord!

Ocean hoary,
Tell his glory,
Cliffs, where tumbling seas have roared,
Pulse of waters blithely beating,
Wave advancing, wave retreating,
Praise ye, praise ye, God the Lord!

Rock and high land,
Wood and island,
Crag where eagle's pride hath soared,
Mighty mountains, purple-breasted,
Peaks cloud-cleaving, snowy-crested,
Praise ye, praise ye, God the Lord!

Rolling river,
Praise him ever,
From the mountain's deep vein poured;
Silver fountain, clearly gushing,
Troubled torrent, madly rushing,
Praise ye, praise ye, God the Lord!

Bond and free man,
Land and sea man,
Earth with peoples widely stored,
Wanderer lone o'er prairies ample,
Full-voiced choir in costly temple,
Praise ye, praise ye, God the Lord!

Praise him ever,
Bounteous Giver!
Praise him, Father, Friend, and Lord!
Each glad soul its free course winging,
Each blithe voice its free song singing,
Praise the great and mighty Lord!

'The God of Sea and Shore.'

O God, whose smile is in the sky,
Whose path is in the sea,
Once more from earth's tumultuous strife,
We gladly turn to thee.

Now all the myriad sounds of earth
In solemn stillness die;
While wind and wave unite to chant
Their anthems to the sky.

We come as those with toil far spent
Who crave thy rest and peace,
And from the care and fret of life
Would find in thee release.

O Father, soothe all troubled thought,
Dispel all idle fear,
Purge thou each heart of secret sin,
And banish every care;

Until, as shine upon the sea
The silent stars above,
There shines upon our trusting souls
The light of thine own love.

JOHN HAYNES HOLMES, 1907.

69.

'The Inward Witness.'

O Thou whose Spirit witness bears
Within our spirits free,
That we thy children are and heirs
Of thine eternity, —

Here may this simple faith sublime
O'er-arch us like the sky;
Secure below the drift of time
Its firm foundations lie.

Our thought o'erflows each written scroll,
Our creeds arise and fall;
The life of God within the soul
Lives and outlasts them all.

Here may that witness clearer grow
Each waiting heart within,
The way of filial duty show,
And glad obedience win.

Here be life's sorrow sanctified,
Here truth her radiance pour;
While hope and faith and love abide,
Forever more and more!

70.The silent Spirit.

Unheard the dews around me fall,
 And heavenly influence shed;
 And silent on this earthly ball,
 Celestial footsteps tread.

Night moves in silence round the pole,
 The stars sing on unheard,
 Their music pierces to the soul,
 Yet borrows not a word.

Noiseless the morning flings its gold,
 And still the evening's place;
 And silently the earth is rolled
 Amidst the vast of space.

In quietude thy Spirit grows
 In man from hour to hour;
 In calm eternal onward flows
 Thine all-redeeming power.

Lord, grant my soul to hear at length
 Thy deep and silent voice:
 To work in stillness, wait in strength,
 With calmness to rejoice.

ANON.

71.Eternal Love.

Immortal Love, forever full,
 Forever flowing free,
 Forever shared, forever whole,
 A never-ebbing sea!

Our outward lips confess the name
 All other names above;
 But love alone knows whence it came,
 And comprehendeth love.

Blow, winds of God, awake and blow
 The mists of earth away!
 Shine out, O Light divine, and show
 How wide and far we stray!

The letter fails, the systems fall,
 And every symbol wanes:
 The Spirit over-brooding all,
 Eternal Love, remains.

JOHN GREENLEAF WHITTIER, 1866

72.

'Veni, Creator Spiritus.'

Creator Spirit, by whose aid
 The world's foundations first were laid,
 Come, visit every pious mind;
 Come, pour thy joys on human kind.

Plenteous in grace, descend from high,
 Rich in thy matchless energy;
 From sin and sorrow set us free
 And make us temples worthy thee.

Cleanse and refine our earthly parts,
 But O inflame and fire our hearts!
 O'er all may we victorious be
 That stands between ourselves and thee.

Make us eternal truths receive,
 And practise all that we believe;
 And, lest our feet should step astray,
 Protect and guide us in the way.

Love Divine.

O Love divine, whose constant beam
Shines on the eyes that will not see,
And waits to bless us while we dream
Thou leav'st us when we turn from thee!

All souls that struggle and aspire,
All hearts of prayer, by thee are lit;
And, dim or clear, thy tongues of fire
On dusky tribes and centuries sit.

And everywhere thy Spirit walks
With man as under Eden's trees,
In gardens of the heart, and talks
In all his varied languages.

Nor bounds, nor clime, nor creed thou
know'st:
Wide as our need thy favors fall;
The white wings of the Holy Ghost
Stoop, unseen, o'er the heads of all.

'The thought of God.'

One thought I have, my ample creed,
So deep it is and broad,
And equal to my every need, —
It is the thought of God.

Each morn unfolds some fresh surprise,
I feast at life's full board;
And rising in my inner skies
Shines forth the thought of God.

At night my gladness is my prayer;
I drop my daily load,
And every care is pillowed there
Upon the thought of God.

I ask not far before to see,
But take in trust my road;
Life, death, and immortality
Are in my thought of God.

To this their secret strength they owed
The martyr's path who trod;
The fountains of their patience flowed
From out their thought of God.

Be still the light upon my way,
My pilgrim staff and rod,
My rest by night, my strength by day,
O blessed thought of God.

75.

'O that I knew where I might find him!'

Go not, my soul, in search of him,
Thou wilt not find him there, —
Or in the depths of shadow dim,
Or heights of upper air.

For not in far-off realms of space
The Spirit hath its throne;
In every heart it findeth place
And waiteth to be known.

Thought answereth alone to thought,
And Soul with soul hath kin;
The outward God he findeth not
Who finds not God within.

And if the vision come to thee
Revealed by inward sign,
Earth will be full of Deity
And with his glory shine!

Thou shalt not want for company,
Nor pitch thy tent alone;
The indwelling God will go with thee,
And show thee of his own.

Then go not thou in search of him,
But to thyself repair;
Wait thou within the silence dim,
And thou shalt find him there!

76.The world's Eternal Source.*

Enduring Soul of all our life,
In whom all beings blend,
Unchanging Peace mid storm and strife,
Our Parent, Home, and End:

Through thee the worlds, with all they bear,
Their mighty courses run;
Through thee the heavens are passing fair,
And splendor clothes the sun.

Where'er the living soul looks out
From eyes of beast or bird,
Or tendril yearns in time of drought,
Or forest leaf is stirred —

Thy Spirit breathes, thy way is seen,
O Fount of living force,
Who art, and hast forever been,
The world's eternal Source.

The thoughts that move the heart of man
And lift his soul on high;
The skill that teaches him to plan
With wondrous subtlety, —

These are thy thoughts, Almighty Mind,
This skill is thine, O Lord,
Who dost by hidden influence bind
All powers in sweet accord.

O fill us now, thou living Power,
With energy divine;
Thus shall our wills from hour to hour
Become not ours, but thine.

EBENEZER SHEERMAN OAKLEY, 1889.

77.The Divine Spirit.

Spirit divine, attend our prayer,
And make our hearts thy home:
Descend with all thy gracious powers, —
O come, great Spirit, come!

Come as the light! to us reveal
The truth we long to know,
And lead us in the path of life
Where all the righteous go.

Come as the fire! and purge our hearts
Like sacrificial flame,
Till our whole souls an offering be
In love's redeeming name.

Come as the dew! and sweetly bless
This consecrated hour,
Till every barren place shall own
With joy thy quickening power.

Come as the wind, O breath of God!
O Pentecostal grace!
Come, make the great salvation known
Wide as the human race.

78.

Hail, Truth Divine.

Thou long disowned, reviled, oppressed,
Strange friend of human kind,
Seeking through weary years a rest
Within our hearts to find, —

How late thy bright and awful brow
Breaks through these clouds of sin!
Hail, Truth divine! we know thee now;
Angel of God, come in!

Come, though with purifying fire
And desolating sword!
Thou of all nations the desire,
Earth waits thy cleansing word.

Struck by the lightning of thy glance,
Let old oppressions die;
Before thy cloudless countenance
Let fear and falsehood fly.

Flood our dark life with golden day,
Convince, subdue, enthrall;
Then to a mightier yield thy sway,
And Love be all in all!

ELIZA SCUDDER, 1864.

79.

The stream of faith.

From heart to heart, from creed to creed
The hidden river runs;
It quickens all the ages down,
It binds the sires to sons, —

The stream of faith, whose source is
God,
Whose sound, the sound of prayer,
Whose meadows are the holy lives
Upspringing everywhere.

And still it moves, a broadening flood,
And fresher, fuller grows
A sense as if the sea were near,
Towards which the river flows.

O Thou who art the secret Source
That riseth in each soul,
Thou art the Ocean, too, — and thine,
That ever deepening roll!

WILLIAM CHANNING GANNETT, 1875.

80.

Mysterious Presence.

Mysterious Presence, source of all, —
 The world without, the soul within, —
 Fountain of life, O hear our call,
 And pour thy living waters in.

Thou breakest in the rushing wind,
 Thy spirit stirs in leaf and flower;
 Nor wilt thou from the willing mind
 Withhold thy light and love and power.

Thy hand unseen to accents clear
 Awoke the psalmist's trembling lyre,
 And touched the lips of holy seer
 With flame from thine own altar fire.

That touch divine still, Lord, impart,
 Still give the prophet's burning word;
 And, vocal in each waiting heart,
 Let living psalms of praise be heard.

SETH CURTIS BEACH, 1866.

81.

Truth and love.

O God, whose presence glows in all,
 Within, around us, and above,
 Thy word we bless, thy name we call,
 Whose word is truth, whose name is love.

That truth be with the heart believed
 Of all who seek this sacred place,
 With power proclaimed, in peace received,
 Our spirits' light, thy Spirit's grace.

That love its holy influence pour,
 To keep us meek and make us free,
 And throw its binding blessing more
 Round each with all, and all with thee.

Send down its angel to our side,
 Send in its calm upon the breast;
 For we would know no other guide,
 And we can need no other rest.

82.

Spirit of Truth.

Spirit of Truth, who makest bright
All souls that long for heavenly light,
Appear, and on our darkness shine;
Descend, and be our Guide divine.

Spirit of Power, whose might doth dwell
Full in the souls that love thee well,
Unto these fainting hearts draw near,
And be our daily Quickener.

Spirit of Joy, who makest glad
Each broken heart by sin made sad,
Pour on these mourning souls thy cheer;
Give us to bless our Comforter;

Till thou shalt make us meet to bear
The sweetness of heaven's holy air,
The light wherein no darkness is,
The eternal, overflowing bliss!

83.

Thy Present Spirit.

O Thou in whom we live and move,
Whose love is law, whose law is love,
Whose present Spirit waits to fill
The soul that comes to do thy will!

Unto our waiting spirits teach
Thy love beyond the power of speech,
And bid us feel with joyful awe
The omnipresence of thy law.

Its patient working doth fulfil
Man's hope and God's all-perfect will,
Nor suffers one true word or thought
Or deed of love to come to naught.

Such faith, O God! our souls sustain,
Free, true, and calm, in joy and pain,
That even by our fidelity
Thy kingdom may the nearer be.

SAMUEL LONGFELLOW, 1864.

84.

'Meditation.'

Hath not thy heart within thee burned
At evening's calm and holy hour,
As if its inmost depths discerned
The presence of a loftier power?

Hast thou not heard mid forest glades,
While ancient rivers murmured by,
A voice from forth the eternal shades,
That spake a present Deity?

It was the voice of God that spake
In silence to thy silent heart;
And bade each worthier thought awake,
And every dream of earth depart.

Voice of our God, O yet be near!
In low, sweet accents, whisper peace;
Direct us on our pathway here,
Then bid in heaven our wanderings cease.

STEPHEN GREENLEAF BULFINCH, 1832.

85.

The Love of God.

O Love of God, how strong and true!
Eternal and yet ever new;
Uncomprehended and unbought,
Beyond all knowledge and all thought.

O Love of God, how deep and great!
Far deeper than man's deepest hate;
Self-fed, self-kindled like the light,
Changeless, eternal, infinite.

O heavenly Love, how precious still,
In days of weariness and ill,
In nights of pain and helplessness,
To heal, to comfort, and to bless!

O Love of God, our shield and stay
Through all the perils of our way!
Eternal Love, in thee we rest,
Forever safe, forever blest.

HORATIUS BONAR, 1861.

86.

God is good.

Our God is good: in earth and sky,
 From ocean depths and spreading wood,
 Ten thousand voices seem to cry,
 'God made us all, and God is good.'

The sun that keeps his trackless way,
 And downward pours his golden flood,
 Night's sparkling hosts, all seem to say,
 In accents clear, that God is good.

We hear it in the rushing breeze:
 The hills that have for ages stood,
 The echoing sky and roaring seas,
 All swell the chorus, 'God is good.'

Yea, God is good, all nature says,
 By God's own hand with speech endued;
 And man, in louder notes of praise,
 Should sing for joy that God is good.

For all thy gifts we bless thee, Lord;
 But chiefly for our heavenly food,
 Thy pardoning grace, thy quickening word:

These prompt our song, that God is good.

JOHN HAMPDEN GURNEY,* 1838.

'Be still, and know that I am God.'

He who himself and God would know,
 Into the silence let him go,
 And, lifting off pall after pall,
 Reach to the inmost depths of all.

Let him look forth into the night;
 What solemn depths, what silent might!
 Those ancient stars, how calm they roll,—
 He but an atom mid the whole.

And, as the evening wind sweeps by,
 He needs must feel his God as nigh;
 Must needs that unseen Presence own,
 Thus always near, too long unknown.

How small, in that uplifted hour,
 Temptation's lure, and passion's power!
 How weak the foe that made him fall,
 How strong the soul to conquer all!

A mighty wind of nobler will Sends through his soul its quickening thrill;

No more a creature of the clod,
 He knows himself a child of God.

88.

'The Inner Life.'

O blessed life! the heart at rest
When all without tumultuous seems;
That trusts a higher will, and deems
That higher will, made ours, the best.

O blessed life! the mind that sees,
Whatever change the years may bring,
A mercy still in everything,
And shining through all mysteries.

O blessed life! the soul that soars,
When sense of mortal sight is dim,
Beyond the sense, — beyond, to him
Whose love unlocks the heavenly doors.

O blessed life! heart, mind, and soul,
From self-born aims and wishes free,
In all at one with Deity,
And loyal to the Lord's control.

O life! how blessed, how divine!
High life, the earnest of a higher!
Father, fulfil my deep desire,
And let this blessed life be mine.

WILLIAM TIDD MATSON,* 1866.

89.

'Other sheep I have, which are not of this fold.'

Look from thy sphere of endless day,
O God of mercy and of might!
In pity look on those who stray,
Benighted in this land of light.

In peopled vale, in lonely glen,
In crowded mart by stream or sea,
How many of the sons of men
Hear not the message sent from thee.

Send forth thy heralds, Lord, to call
The thoughtless young, the hardened old,
A wandering flock, and bring them all
To the Good Shepherd's peaceful fold.

Send them thy mighty word to speak
Till faith shall dawn and doubt depart,
To awe the bold, to stay the weak,
And bind and heal the broken heart.

Then all these wastes, a dreary scene
On which, with sorrowing eyes, we gaze,
Shall grow with living waters green;
And lift to heaven the voice of praise.

WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT, 1859.

Alternative Tune: Hesperus.

90.

The Universal Father.

Father and Friend, thy light, thy love,
Beaming through all thy works, we see;
Thy glory gilds the heavens above,
And all the earth is full of thee.

Thy voice we hear, thy presence feel,
Whilst thou, too pure for mortal sight,
Involved in clouds, invisible,
Reignest the Lord of life and light.

We know not in what hallowed part
Of the wide heavens thy throne may be;
But this we know, that where thou art
Strength, wisdom, goodness, dwell with thee.

Thy children shall not faint nor fear,
Sustained by this delightful thought,
Since thou, their God, art everywhere,
They cannot be where thou art not.

JOHN BOWRING, 1824.

91.

God ever near.

What secret place, what distant star,
O Lord of all, is thine abode?
Why dwellest thou from us so far?
We yearn for thee, thou hidden God!

And not in vain we seek, we yearn;
We need not stretch our weary wings:
Thou meetest us where'er we turn;
Thou dwellest, Lord, within all things.

O Glory that no eye can bear!
O Presence bright, our inward guest!
O farthest off, most closely near,
Most hidden and most manifest!

No need, in search of thine abode,
Through starry spheres our thoughts should roam,
Thou, holy Spirit, mighty God,
Dost make in human hearts thy home.

92.

Seeking God.

Thirsting for a living spring,
Seeking for a higher home,
Resting where our souls must cling,
Trusting, hoping, Lord, we come.

Glorious hopes our spirits fill,
When we feel that thou art near;
Father, then our fears are still,
Then the soul's bright end is clear.

Life's hard conflict we would win,
Read the meaning of life's frown;
Change the thorn-bound wreath of sin
For the spirit's starry crown.

Make us beautiful within
By thy spirit's holy light;
Guard us when our faith is dim,
Father of all love and might.

FRANCIS PARKER APPLETON, 1846.

93.

Life more abundantly.

Life of all that lives below!
Let thy spirit in us flow;
Let us all thy life receive,
From thee, in thee, ever live.

O for fuller life we pine!
Let us more receive of thine;
Still for more on thee we call,
Thou who fillest all in all!

Live we now in thee; be fed
Daily with the living bread;
Into thee our spirits grow;
Into us thy spirit flow;

While we feel the vital blood,
While thy full and quickening flood
Through life's every channel rolls,
Soul of all believing souls!

94.

Voices of spring.

Hark, my soul, how everything
Strives to serve our bounteous King!
Each a double tribute pays, —
Sings its part, and then obeys.

Nature's chief and sweetest choir
Him with cheerful notes admire;
Chanting every day their lauds,
While the grove their song applauds.

Though their voices lower be,
Streams have too their melody;
Night and day they warbling run,
Never pause, but still sing on.

All the flowers that gild the spring
Hither their still music bring;
If heaven bless them, thankful, they
Smell more sweet, and look more gay.

Wake, for shame, my sluggish heart,
Wake, and gladly sing thy part;
Learn of birds, and springs, and flowers,
How to use thy nobler powers!

JOHN AUSTIN, 17th Cent.

95.

The Immanent Spirit.

Thou whose spirit dwells in all,
Primal source of life and mind,
In the clod as in the soul,
Ever full and unconfined!

What shall separate from thee?
Naught of all created things!
Joy and sorrow, good and ill,
Each from thee its essence brings.

Thine the atom's faintest thrill,
Thine the humblest creature's breath,
Prophet-soul in every kind,
Yearning still through life and death.

Yearning for the crowning race —
Man, in whom at last unfold
All thy secrets strange and sweet
From the farthest days of old:

Secrets too of things to be,
In the cycles on before:
Love that stronger is than death,
Life with thee forevermore.

96. 'A life hidden in God.'

Let my life be hid in thee,
Life of life and Light of light!
Love's illimitable sea!
Depth of peace, of power the height!

Let my life be hid in thee
From vexation and annoy;
Calm in thy tranquillity,
All my mourning turned to joy.

Let my life be hid in thee
When alarms are gathering round,
Covered with thy panoply,
Safe within thy holy ground.

Let my life be hid in thee
When my strength and health shall fail;
Let thine immortality
In my dying hour prevail.

Let my life be hid in thee,
In the world and yet above;
Hid in thine eternity,
In the ocean of thy love.

JOHN BULL,* 1839.

97. 'On holy ground.'

What has drawn us thus apart,
From the common daily round,
Bringing here a lowly heart,
Standing as on holy ground?

Morning visions high and pure,
Glorious things that are to be,
Faith and hope that shall endure,
Love's abiding unity;

All the things that make for peace
In the daily toil and strife;
All that can our part increase
In the world's diviner life.

Short the time we linger here;
Then, with earnest heart and hand,
Back to work with holy fear;
Every vision God's command.

'Prayer for inspiration.'

Holy Spirit, Light divine,
Shine upon this heart of mine;
Chase the shades of night away;
Turn the darkness into day.

Holy Spirit, Power divine,
Cleanse this guilty heart of mine:
Long has sin, without control,
Held dominion o'er my soul.

Holy Spirit, Love divine,
Glow within this heart of mine;
Kindle every high desire;
Cleanse my soul in thy pure fire.

Holy Spirit, Peace divine,
Still this restless heart of mine;
Speak to calm the tossing sea,
Stayed in thy tranquillity.

Holy Spirit, Joy divine,
Cheer this saddened heart of mine;
Bid my troubled thoughts be still;
With thy peace my spirit fill.

Holy Spirit, all divine,
Dwell within this heart of mine;
Cast down every idol throne;
Reign supreme, and reign alone.

Daily strength for daily needs.

Day by day the manna fell:
O to learn this lesson well!
Still by constant mercy fed,
Give me, Lord, my daily bread.

Day by day, the promise reads,
Daily strength for daily needs:
Cast foreboding fears away;
Take the manna of to-day.

Lord, my times are in thy hand:
All my sanguine hopes have planned,
To thy wisdom I resign,
And would make my purpose thine.

Thou my daily task shalt give;
Day by day to thee I live;
So shall added years fulfil
Not my own, my Father's will.

Where is thy God?

Where is thy God, my soul?
Is he within thy heart;
Or ruler of a distant realm
In which thou hast no part?

Where is thy God, my soul?
Only in stars and sun;
Or have the holy words of truth
His light in every one?

Where is thy God, my soul?
Confined to scripture's page;
Or does his Spirit check and guide
The spirit of each age?

O Ruler of the sky,
Rule thou within my heart:
O great Adorner of the world,
Thy light of life impart.

Giver of holy words,
Bestow thy holy power,
And aid me, whether work or thought
Engage the varying hour.

In thee have I my help,
As all my fathers had;
I'll trust thee when I'm sorrowful,
And serve thee when I'm glad.

The Everlasting.

O Everlasting Light,
Giver of dawn and day,
Dispeller of the ancient night
In which creation lay!

O Everlasting Health,
From which all healing springs, —
My bliss, my treasure, and my wealth,
To thee my spirit clings.

O Everlasting Truth,
Truest of all that 's true,
Sure guide for erring age and youth,
Lead me and teach me, too.

O Everlasting Strength,
Uphold me in the way;
Bring me, in spite of foes, at length
To joy, and light, and day.

O Everlasting Love,
Well-spring of grace and peace:
Pour down thy fulness from above,
Bid doubt and trouble cease.

HORATIUS BONAR, 1861.

102.With Thee.*

Still with thee, O my God,
I would desire to be:
By day, by night, at home, abroad,
I would be still with thee:

With thee when dawn comes in,
And calls me back to care;
Each day returning to begin
With thee, my God, in prayer:

With thee amid the crowd
That throngs the busy mart,
To hear thy voice, where time's is loud,
Speak softly to my heart:

With thee when day is done,
And evening calms the mind;
The setting as the rising sun
With thee my heart would find:

With thee, in thee, by faith
Abiding would I be;
By day, by night, in life, in death,
I would be still with thee.

JAMES DRUMMOND BURNS, 1857.

103.Always near.

One gift, my God, I seek, —
To know thee always near;
To feel thy hand, to see thy face,
Thy blessed voice to hear.

Where'er I go, my God,
O let me find thee there:
Where'er I stay, stay thou with me,
A presence everywhere.

And if thou bringest peace,
Or if thou bringest pain,
But come thyself with all that comes,
And all shall go for gain.

To walk with thee, my God,
O blessed, blessed grace;
My earthly features then shall shine
With looking in thy face.

Long listening to thy words,
My voice shall catch thy tone,
And, locked in thine, my hand shall grow
All loving like thine own.

104. 'The inward Light.'

When shadows gather on our way,
Fast deepening as the night,
Be thou, O God, the spirit's stay,
Our inward Light.

Amid the outward toil and strife,
The world's dull roar and din,
Still speak thy word of higher life,
Thou Voice within.

When burdens sore upon us press,
And vexing cares increase,
Spring thou, a fount of quietness,
Our hidden Peace.

Though fond hopes fail, and joy depart,
And friends should faithless prove,
O, save us from the bitter heart,
Indwelling Love!

FREDERICK LUCIAN HOSMER, 1904.

105. Hail, sacred day of earthly rest.

Hail! sacred day of earthly rest,
From toil and trouble free;
Hail! day of light, that bringest light
And joy to me.

A holy stillness, breathing calm
On all the world around,
Uplifts my soul, O God, to thee,
Where rest is found.

No sound of jarring strife is heard,
As weekly labors cease,
No voice, but those that sweetly sing
Sweet songs of peace.

For those who sing with saints below
Glad songs of heavenly love,
Shall sing, when songs on earth have ceased,
With saints above.

Accept, O God, our hymn of praise
That thou this day hast given,
Sweet foretaste of that endless day
Of rest in heaven.

GODFREY THRING, 1863.

'Whom but Thee.'

Thou Life within my life, than self more near,
Thou veiled Presence infinitely clear,
From all illusive shows of sense I flee,
To find my center and my rest in thee.

Below all depths thy saving mercy lies,
Through thickest glooms I see thy light arise;
Above the highest heavens thou art not found
More surely than within this earthly round.

Take part with me against these doubts that rise,
And seek to throne thee far in distant skies;
Take part with me against this self that dares
Assume the burden of these sins and cares.

How shall I call thee who art always here?
How shall I praise thee who art still most dear?
What may I give thee save what thou hast given,
And whom but thee have I in earth or heaven?

The baptism of the Spirit.

Spirit of God, descend upon my heart;
Wean it from earth, thro' all its pulses move;
Stoop to my weakness, mighty as thou art,
And make me love thee as I ought to love.

I ask no dream, no prophet-ecstasies;
No sudden rending of the veil of clay;
No angel-visitant, no opening skies;—
But take the dimness of my soul away.

Teach me to feel that thou art always nigh;
Teach me the struggles of the soul to bear,
To check the rising doubt, the rebel sigh;
Teach me the patience of unanswered prayer.

Teach me to love thee as thine angels love,
One holy passion filling all my frame;
The baptism of the heaven-descended Dove,
My heart an altar, and thy love the flame.

'The Quest.'

I cannot find thee. Still on restless pinion
My spirit beats the void where thou dost dwell,
I wander lost through all thy vast dominion,
And shrink beneath thy light ineffable.

I cannot find thee. E'en when most adoring,
Before thy throne I bend in lowliest prayer;
Beyond these bounds of thought my thought upsoaring
From farthest quest comes back: thou art not there.

Yet high above the limits of my seeing,
And folded far within the inmost heart,
And deep below the deeps of conscious being,
Thy splendor shineth: there, O God, thou art.

I cannot lose thee. Still in thee abiding,
The end is clear, how wide soe'er I roam;
The hand that holds the worlds my steps is guiding,
And I must rest at last in thee, my home.

'The inward witness of God.'

'Where is your God?' they say:
 Answer them, Lord most holy!
 Reveal thy secret way
 Of visiting the lowly, —
 Not wrapped in moving cloud,
 Or nightly-resting fire;
 But veiled within the shroud
 Of silent, high desire.

Come not in flashing storm,
 Or bursting frown of thunder:
 Come in the viewless form
 Of wakening love and wonder; —
 In duty grown divine
 The restless spirit still:
 In sorrows taught to shine
 As shadows of thy will.

O God, the pure alone,
 E'en in their deep confessing,
 Can see thee as their own
 And find thy perfect blessing;
 Yet to each waiting soul
 Speak in thy still, small voice,
 Till broken love be whole,
 And saddened hearts rejoice.

Love of love, and Light of light.

Love of love, and Light of light,
Heavenly Father all maintaining;
Wisdom hid in highest height,
To thy creature fondly deigning;
Maker wonderful and just,
Thou hast called my heart to trust.

What are life's unnumbered cares,
Sorrow, torment, passing measure?
O'er my short-lived pains and fears
Surely ruleth thy good pleasure.
Boundless is thy love for me,
Boundless then my trust shall be.

Every burden weigheth light,
Since in thee my hope abideth;
Sweetly bright my darkest night,
While on thee my mind confideth.
Give thy gift, I thee implore,
Thee to trust forevermore.

His Holy Place.

The Lord is in his Holy Place
In all things near and far;
Shekinah of the snow-flake, he,
And Glory of the star.

Our art may build its house of God,
Our feet on Sinai stand,
But Holiest of Holies knows
No tread, no touch of hand.

He hides himself within the love
Of those whom we love best;
The smiles and tones that make our homes
Are shrines by him possessed.

He tents within the lonely heart,
And shepherds every thought;
We find him not by seeking long, —
We lose him not, unsought.

The listening soul makes Sinai still Wherever we may be,
And in the vow, 'Thy will be done,'
Lies all Gethsemane.

O everywhere his Holy Place,
If love unseal the eyes,
And everywhere the waiting Face
To welcome and surprise!

The world is his garment.

Thy seamless robe conceals thee not
From earnest hearts and true:
The glory of thy perfectness
Shines all its texture through.

And on its flowing hem we read,
As thou dost linger near,
The message of a love more deep
Than any depth of fear.

And so no more our hearts shall plead
For miracle and sign;
Thine order and thy faithfulness
Are all in all divine.

These are thy revelations vast
From earliest days of yore;
These are our confidence and peace:
We cannot wish for more.

Psalm LXXXIV.

How lovely are thy dwellings fair!
O Lord of hosts, how dear
The pleasant tabernacles are
Where thou dost dwell so near!

My soul doth long and almost die
Thy courts, O Lord, to see;
My heart and flesh aloud do cry,
O living God, for thee.

Happy who in thy house reside,
Where thee they ever praise;
Happy whose strength in thee doth bide,
And in their hearts thy ways.

They journey on from strength to strength,
With joy and gladsome cheer,
Till all before our God at length
In Zion do appear.

II4.Wrestling with God.*

Come, O thou Traveller unknown,
Whom still I hold, but cannot see!
My company before is gone,
And I am left alone with thee;
With thee all night I mean to stay,
And wrestle till the break of day.

Wilt thou not yet to me reveal
Thy new, unutterable name?
Tell me, I still beseech thee, tell;
To know it now resolved I am;
Wrestling, I will not let thee go,
Till I thy name, thy nature know.

My prayer hath power with God; the grace
Unspeakable I now receive;
Through faith I see thee face to face,
I see thee face to face, and live!
In vain I have not wept and strove;
Thy nature and thy name is Love.

'T is Love! 't is Love, thou lovest me!
I hear thy whisper in my heart;
The morning breaks, the shadows flee,
Pure, universal love thou art;
To me, to all, thy mercies move;
Thy nature and thy name is Love.

CHARLES WESLEY, 1742. Adapted.

II5.Fountain of light.

Fountain of light and living breath,
Whose mercies never fail or fade,
Fill me with life that hath no death,
Fill me with light that hath no shade;
Appoint the remnant of my days
To see thy power and sing thy praise.

When winter fortunes cloud the brows
Of summer friends, when eyes grow strange,
When plighted faith forgets its vows,
When earth and all things in it change,
Thy mercies, Lord, are ever sure,
Thy love shall evermore endure.

II6.'The Love of God.'

Thou Grace Divine, encircling all,
A shoreless, soundless sea,
Wherein at last our souls must fall, —
O love of God most free!

When over dizzy heights we go,
One soft hand blinds our eyes,
The other leads us safe and slow, —
O love of God most wise!

And though we turn us from thy face,
And wander wide and long,
Thou hold'st us still in thine embrace, —
O love of God most strong!

The saddened heart, the restless soul,
The toil-worn frame and mind,
Alike confess thy sweet control, —
O love of God most kind!

And, filled and quickened by thy breath,
Our souls are strong and free
To rise o'er sin and fear and death,
O love of God, to thee!

ELIZA SCUDDER, 1852.

II7.God's care.

When all thy mercies, O my God,
My rising soul surveys,
Transported with the view, I'm lost
In wonder, love, and praise.

Unnumbered comforts to my soul
Thy tender care bestowed,
Before my infant heart conceived
From whom those comforts flowed.

When worn with sickness, oft hast thou
With health renewed my face;
And, when in sins and sorrows sunk,
Revived my soul with grace.

Ten thousand thousand precious gifts
My daily thanks employ;
Nor is the least a cheerful heart,
That tastes those gifts with joy.

Psalm XXIII.

The King of love my shepherd is,
Whose goodness faileth never:
I nothing lack if I am his,
And he is mine forever.

Where streams of living water flow
My wayward soul he leadeth,
And where the verdant pastures grow
With food celestial feedeth.

Perverse and foolish oft I strayed,
But yet in love he sought me
And on his shoulder gently laid
And home rejoicing brought me.

In death's dark vale, I fear no ill
With thee, dear Lord, beside me,
Thy rod and staff my comfort still,
Thy light before to guide me.

Thou spread'st a table in my sight,
Thy unction grace bestoweth,
And O! what transport of delight
From thy pure chalice floweth!

And so through all the length of days
Thy goodness faileth never;
Good Shepherd, may I sing thy praise
Within thy house forever.

HENRY WILLIAMS BAKER,* 1868.

I21. God is wisdom, God is love.

God is love; his mercy brightens
All the path in which we rove;
Bliss he wakes, and woe he lightens:
God is wisdom, God is love.

Chance and change are busy ever,
Man decays, and ages move;
But his mercy waneth never:
God is wisdom, God is love.

E'en the hour that darkest seemeth
Will his changeless goodness prove;
From the mist his brightness streameth:
God is wisdom, God is love.

He with earthly cares entwineth
Hope and comfort from above;
Everywhere his glory shineth:
God is wisdom, God is love.

JOHN BOWRING, 1825.

I22. For strength, not ease.

Father, hear the prayer we offer:
Not for ease that prayer shall be;
But for strength, that we may ever
Live our lives courageously.

Not forever in green pastures
Do we ask our way to be;
But the steep and rugged pathway
May we tread rejoicingly.

Not forever by still waters
Would we idly quiet stay;
But would smite the living fountains
From the rocks along our way.

Be our strength in hours of weakness;
In our wanderings, be our guide;
Through endeavor, failure, danger,
Father, be thou at our side!

123.

When I awake, I am still with thee.

Still, still with thee, when purple morning breaketh,
When the bird waketh and the shadows flee;
Fairer than morning, lovelier than the daylight,
Dawns the sweet consciousness, I am with thee.

Alone with thee, amid the mystic shadows,
The solemn hush of nature newly born;
Alone with thee in breathless adoration,
In the calm dew and freshness of the morn.

Still, still with thee; as to each new-born morning
A fresh and solemn splendor still is given,
So doth this blessed consciousness, awaking,
Breathe, each day, nearness unto thee and heaven.

When sinks the soul, subdued by toil, to slumber,
Its closing eye looks up to thee in prayer;
Sweet the repose beneath thy wings o'ershading,
But sweeter still to wake and find thee there.

So shall it be at last, in that bright morning,
When the soul waketh, and life's shadows flee:
O in that hour, fairer than daylight dawning,
Shall rise the glorious thought, I am with thee.

MORNING HYMN. L. M.

FRANÇOIS HIPPOLITE BARTHÉLÉMON, 1791.

I29. 'A Morning Hymn.'

Awake, my soul, and with the sun
Thy daily stage of duty run,
Shake off dull sloth, and joyful rise
To pay thy morning sacrifice.

Shine on me, Lord! new life impart,
Fresh ardors kindle in my heart:
One ray of thine all-quickenning light
Dispels the sloth and clouds of night.

Direct, control, suggest this day
All I design, or do, or say, —
That all my powers, with all their might,
In thy sole glory may unite.

Lord, I my vows to thee renew:
Disperse my sins as morning dew,
Guard my first springs of thought and will,
And with thyself my spirit fill.

THOMAS KEN, 1695.

I30. Lord God of morning.

Lord God of morning and of night,
We thank thee for thy grace of light;
As in the dawn the shadows fly,
Thy presence shines on us more nigh.

Fresh hopes have wakened in the heart,
Fresh force to take the loftier part;
Thy slumber-balms our strength restore,
Throughout the day to serve thee more.

Yet whilst thy will we would pursue,
Oft what we would we cannot do;
The sun may stand in zenith skies,
But on the soul thick midnight lies.

O Lord of lights, 't is thou alone
Canst make our darkened hearts thine own
Though this new day with joy we see,
Great dawn of God, we cry for thee.

An evening hymn.

All praise to thee, my God, this night,
For all the blessings of the light;
Keep me, O keep me, King of kings,
Beneath thine own almighty wings.

When in the night I sleepless lie,
My soul with heavenly thought supply;
Let no ill dreams disturb my rest,
No powers of darkness me molest.

Teach me to live, that I may dread
The grave as little as my bed;
That with the world, myself and thee,
I, ere I sleep, at peace may be.

O may my soul on thee repose,
And may sweet sleep mine eyelids close,
Sleep that shall me more vigorous make
To serve my God when I awake.

Giver of all.

O Father, thou who givest all
The bounty of thy perfect love,
We thank thee that upon us fall
Such tender blessings from above.

We thank thee for the grace of home,
For mother's love and father's care;
For friends and teachers — all who come
Our joys and hopes and fears to share.

For eyes to see and ears to hear,
For hands to serve and arms to lift,
For shoulders broad and strong to bear,
For feet to run on errands swift.

For faith to conquer doubt and fear,
For love to answer every call,
For strength to do, and will to dare,
We thank thee, O thou Lord of all.

I33. 'A Morning Hymn.'

God of the morning, at whose voice
The cheerful sun makes haste to rise,
And like a giant doth rejoice
To run his journey through the skies, —

O, like the sun may I fulfil
The appointed duties of the day,
With ready mind and active will
March on, and keep my heavenly way!

Lord, thy commands are clean and pure,
Enlightening our beclouded eyes,
Thy threatenings just, thy promise sure;
Thy gospel makes the simple wise.

Give me thy counsel for my guide,
And then receive me to thy bliss:
All my desires and hopes beside
Are faint and cold, compared with this.

ISAAC WATTS, 1707.

I34. 'The Christian Race.'

Awake, our souls! away, our fears!
Let every trembling thought be gone!
Awake, and run the heavenly race,
And put a cheerful courage on!

True, 't is a strait and thorny road,
And mortal spirits tire and faint;
But they forget the mighty God
That feeds the strength of every saint, —

The mighty God, whose matchless power
Is ever new and ever young,
And firm endures while endless years
Their everlasting circles run.

From thee, the overflowing spring,
Our souls shall drink a fresh supply,
While such as trust their native strength
Shall melt away, and droop, and die.

Swift as an eagle cuts the air,
We'll mount aloft to thine abode;
On wings of love our souls shall fly,
Nor tire amidst the heavenly road.

New every morning.

New every morning is the love
Our wakening and uprising prove;
Through sleep and darkness safely
brought,
Restored to life and power and thought.

New mercies, each returning day,
Hover around us while we pray;
New perils past, new sins forgiven,
New thoughts of God, new hopes of heaven.

If on our daily course our mind
Be set to hallow all we find,
New treasures still, of countless price,
God will provide for sacrifice.

Old friends, old scenes, will lovelier be,
As more of heaven in each we see:
Some softening gleam of love and prayer
Shall dawn on every cross and care.

The trivial round, the common task,
Will furnish all we ought to ask, —
Room to deny ourselves, a road
To bring us daily nearer God.

JOHN KEBLE, 1822.

136.

An evening prayer.

Our Father, God of life and light,
Ere evening's hour hath ebbed away,
Before thy throne of grace to-night
We offer up this closing day.

We bring thee all this day hath brought,
Its storm and sunshine, joy and pain;
Its every word and deed and thought;
Its hope and fear, its loss and gain.

We lay before thy pitying gaze
Its joys to bless, its wounds to cure;
We bring it all to speak thy praise,
To tell of thy compassion sure.

On eyes that weep, on hearts that bleed,
May all thy richest blessings fall!
We ask thy help for all in need,
And, asking this, we pray for all.

M. L. B.*

I37. 'Lux ecce surgit aurea.'

Now with creation's morning song
 Let us, as children of the day,
 With wakened heart and purpose strong,
 The works of darkness cast away.

O may the morn so pure, so clear,
 Its own sweet calm in us instil!
 A guileless mind, a heart sincere,
 Simplicity of word and will.

And ever, as the day glides by,
 May we the busy senses rein;
 Keep guard upon the hand and eye,
 Nor let the conscience suffer stain.

Grant us, O God, in love to thee,
 Clear eyes to measure things below;
 Faith, the invisible to see;
 And wisdom, thee in all to know.

I38. 'Vesper Hymn.'

Again, as evening's shadow falls,
 We gather in these hallowed walls;
 And vesper hymn and vesper prayer
 Rise mingling on the holy air.

May struggling hearts that seek release
 Here find the rest of God's own peace;
 And, strengthened here by hymn and
 prayer,
 Lay down the burden and the care.

O God, our Light, to thee we bow;
 Within all shadows standest thou;
 Give deeper calm than night can bring;
 Give sweeter songs than lips can sing.

Life's tumult we must meet again,
 We cannot at the shrine remain;
 But, in the spirit's secret cell,
 May hymn and prayer forever dwell.

SAMUEL LONGFELLOW, 1860.

139.

'Evening.'

'T is gone, that bright and orbéd blaze,
Fast fading from our wistful gaze;
Yon mantling cloud has hid from sight
The last faint pulse of quivering light.

Sun of my soul, forever dear,
It is not night if thou be near;
O may no earth-born cloud arise,
To hide thee from thy servant's eyes.

Abide with me from morn till eve,
For without thee I cannot live;
Abide with me when night is nigh,
For without thee I dare not die.

If some poor wandering child of thine
Have spurned to-day the voice divine,
Now, Lord, the gracious work begin;
Let him no more lie down in sin.

Watch by the sick; enrich the poor
With blessings from thy boundless store;
Be every mourner's sleep to-night,
Like infant slumbers, pure and light.

Come near and bless us when we wake,
Ere through the world our way we take;
Till in the 'ocean of thy love
We lose ourselves in heaven above.

PETERBOROUGH OLD. C. M.

RALPH HARRISON, 1786.

140. When I awake, I am with thee.

O Lord of life, thy quickening voice
Awakes my morning song;
In gladsome words I would rejoice
That I to thee belong.

I see thy light, I feel thy wind,
The world it is thy word;
Whatever wakes my heart and mind
Thy presence is, my Lord.

Therefore I choose my highest part,
And turn my face to thee;
Therefore I stir my inmost heart
To worship fervently.

Within my heart, speak, Lord, speak on,
My heart alive to keep
Till comes the night, and, labor done,
In thee I fall asleep.

GEORGE MACDONALD, 1860.

141. 'Evening Prayer.'

As darker, darker, fall around
The shadows of the night,
We gather here, with hymn and prayer,
To seek the Eternal Light.

Father in heaven, to thee are known
Our many hopes and fears,
Our heavy weight of mortal toil,
Our bitterness of tears.

We pray thee for our absent ones,
Who have been with us here;
And in our secret heart we name
The distant and the dear.

For weary eyes, and aching hearts,
And feet that from thee rove,
The sick, the poor, the tried, the fallen,
We pray thee, God of love.

We bring to thee our hopes and fears,
And at thy footstool lay;
And, Father, thou who lovest all
Wilt hear us as we pray.

Hymns of the Spirit, 1864.

I42.The day that is past.*

While sinks our land to realms of night,
 And twilight skies grow dim,
 We raise again with joyful hearts
 Our parting evening hymn.

We bless thee for the warm, rich glow
 Of this our hallowed day,
 And for the love that year by year
 Shines o'er our onward way.

And now, O Father, from on high
 List to our evening prayer,
 Shed o'er our hearts a blissful calm,
 And keep us in thy care.

JANET STEEL PATTINSON.

I43.'Evening hymn.'

The evening winds begin to blow,
 The shadows now grow long;
 But still we linger, ere we go,
 To sing our latest song.

Sing praise to God for sun and shade,
 For summer's smiles and tears,
 For all the blessings he has laid,
 Upon our teeming years.

Sing to each other truer love,
 Affection's kindly glow,
 The tenderness of God above
 In human hearts below.

E'en as the dew now gently fall,
 So, smiling on the day,
 May God at eve upon us all
 His benediction lay.

JOHN DAVIS LONG.

I44. Through the long night-watches.

Now the day is over,
Night is drawing nigh;
Shadows of the evening
Steal across the sky.

Father, give the weary
Calm and sweet repose;
With thy tenderest blessing
May mine eyelids close.

Grant to little children
Visions bright of thee;
Guard the sailors tossing
On the deep blue sea.

Comfort every sufferer,
Watching late in pain;
Those who plan some evil
From their sin restrain.

Through the long night-watches
May thine angels spread
Their white wings above me,
Watching round my bed.

When the morning wakens,
Then may I arise
Pure, and fresh, and sinless
In thy holy eyes.

SARNE BARING-GOULD,* 1865.

I45. 'The Silent Hour.'

As the storm retreating
Leaves the vales in peace,
Let the world's vain noises
O'er our spirits cease.

Sounds of wrath and striving,
Man with man at war,
Hearts with heaven contending,
Hear we now no more.

Now the hours of stillness
Wondrous visions show;
Heaven unfolds before us,
Angels come and go.

Holy human faces
From earth's shadows free
Look with love upon us,
Bid us patient be.

Almost we discern them,
Almost read their smile,
Almost hear them saying:
'Wait a little while.'

Thus in hours of stillness
Faith to heaven shall rise,
Till death's last, deep silence
Quite unseals our eyes.

THEODORE CHICKERING WILLIAMS, 1887.

146.

God has turned my night to day.

Now the wings of day are furled
 And the earth has gone to rest:
 Take me, Shepherd of the world,
 Home to sleep upon thy breast.

All the night from dream to dream,
 Keep my spirit pure and bright,
 Fill the darkness with the stream
 Of thine everlasting light.

If I waken, calm and fair
 Be the thoughts that in me rise,
 And thy presence in the air
 Make my heart a paradise;

But if trouble in my heart,
 Or fierce pain me restless keep,
 Then to me thy peace impart,
 Give me, thy beloved, sleep.

So, when morning with his wing
 Wakens me to work and play,
 I may rise with joy and sing:
 'God has turned my night to day.'

147.The earth's ceaseless praise.*

The day thou gavest, Lord, is ended,
 The darkness falls at thy behest;
 To thee our morning hymns ascended,
 Thy praise shall hallow now our rest.

The sun, that bids us rest, is waking
 Our brethren 'neath the western sky,
 And hour by hour fresh lips are making
 Thy wondrous doings heard on high.

As o'er each continent and island
 The dawn leads on another day,
 The voice of prayer is never silent,
 Nor dies the strain of praise away.

So be it, Lord; thy throne shall never,
 Like earth's proud empires, pass away;
 Thy kingdom stands and grows forever,
 Till all thy creatures own thy sway.

The Unfailing Light.

O Thou who turnest into morning
The shadows of the passing night,
Again to conscious life returning,
We bless thee for the new-born light.

Grant us that light, to all unfailing
Who seek to do thy perfect will,
That we, o'er doubt and fear prevailing,
May trust thy good above all ill;

That we may offer thee thanksgiving
Beyond our prayers and songs that rise,
In greater faithfulness of living,
In deeper love through sacrifice.

'The Miracle Unbroken.'

Now while the day in trailing splendor
Gives way to glories of the night,
Thanksgiving to thy name we render,
O Lord of darkness and of light!

Daily from thee we have our being,
In all this wondrous order set;
Thine omnipresence blinds our seeing,
And in thy gifts we thee forget.

Touch thou our eyes, their blindness healing,
Until the common earth and air
To our illumined sight and feeling
Thy glory and thyself declare.

Till storied marvel, sign and token,
All pale before the nearer thought
Of the vast miracle unbroken
From hour to hour around us wrought.

'Seele du musst munter werden.'

Come, my soul, thou must be waking,
Now is breaking

O'er the earth another day;
Come to him who made this splendor
See thou render
All thy feeble strength can pay.

Gladly hail the sun returning;
Ready burning

Be the incense of thy powers;
For the night is safely ended:
God hath tended
With his care thy helpless hours.

Pray that he may prosper ever
Each endeavor

When thine aim is good and true;
But that he may ever thwart thee,
And convert thee,
When thou wouldest ill pursue.

Only God's free gifts abuse not,
Light refuse not,

But his Spirit's voice obey;
Thou with him shalt dwell, beholding
Light enfolding
All things in unclouded day.

Father above!

Softly the silent night
Falleth from God,
On weary wanderers
Over life's road;
And as the stars on high
Light up the darkening sky,
Lord, unto thee we cry, —
Father above!

Slowly on failing wing
Daylight has passed:
Sleep, like an angel kind,
Folds us at last.

Peace be our lot this night,
Safe be our slumber light,
Watched by thine angels bright,
Father above!

And when the gleam of morn
Touches our eyes,
And the returning day
Bids us arise, —
Happy beneath thy will,
Steadfast in joy or ill,
Lord, may we serve thee still,
Father above!

He shall give his angels charge over thee.

God that madest earth and heaven,
Darkness and light;
Who the day for toil hast given,
For rest the night, —
May thine angel-guards defend us,
Slumber sweet thy mercy send us,
Holy dreams and hopes attend us,
This livelong night.

When the constant sun returning
Unseals our eyes,
May we, reborn like the morning,
To labor rise;
Gird us for the tasks that call us,
Let not ease and self enthrall us,
Strong through thee whate'er befall us,
O God most wise!

Τὴν ἡμέραν διελθών

The day is past and over:

All thanks, O Lord, to thee!

I pray thee that offenseless

The hours of dark may be.

O Father, keep me in thy sight,

And guard me through the coming night!

The joys of day are over:

I lift my heart to thee;

And call on thee that sinless

The hours of gloom may be.

O Father, make their darkness light,

And guard me through the coming night!

The toils of day are over;

I raise the hymn to thee,

And ask that free from peril

The hours of dark may be;

O Father, keep me in thy sight,

And guard me through the coming night!

Be thou my soul's Preserver,

O God! for thou dost know

How many are the perils

Through which I have to go.

O loving Father, hear my call,

And guard and save me from them all.

'A Vesper Hymn.'

Now, on land and sea descending,
Brings the night its peace profound;
Let our vesper hymn be blending
With the holy calm around.
Soon as dies the sunset glory,
Stars of heaven shine out above,
Telling still the ancient story, —
Their Creator's changeless love.

Now, our wants and burdens leaving
To his care who cares for all,
Cease we fearing, cease we grieving;
At his touch our burdens fall.
As the darkness deepens o'er us,
Lo! eternal stars arise;
Hope and faith and love rise glorious,
Shining in the spirit's skies.

155.

A prayer in darkness.

When the light of day is waning,
When the night is dark and drear,

God of Love, in stillness reigning,
Teach me to believe thee near.
When my heart is faint and drooping,
When my faith is dead and cold,
Kindly to my weakness stooping,
Draw me upwards, as of old, —

Nearer to the peace unbroken,
Nearer to the changeless calm,
All my wish a prayer unspoken,
All my life a silent psalm.
Teach me to abide in patience
All the little storms of time,
Making every day's temptations
Steps for faltering feet to climb.

Let me find thee in my sorrow,
Nor forget thee in my joy;
And from thee my sunshine borrow,
And by thee my gloom destroy.
God of day, the dark dispelling,
Guide, Redeemer, Father, Friend;
God of Love, in stillness dwelling,
Lead me to my journey's end.

The shadows of the evening hours.

The shadows of the evening hours
 Fall from the darkening sky;
 Upon the fragrance of the flowers
 The dews of evening lie.
 Before thy throne, O Lord of heaven,
 We kneel at close of day:
 Look on thy children from on high,
 And hear us while we pray.

Slowly the rays of daylight fade;
 So fade within our heart
 The hopes in earthly love and joy
 That one by one depart.
 Slowly the bright stars, one by one,
 Within the heavens shine;
 Give us, O Lord, fresh hopes in heaven,
 And trust in things divine.

Let peace, O Lord, — thy peace, O God, —
 Upon our souls descend,
 From midnight fears and perils thou
 Our trembling hearts defend.
 Give us a respite from our toil,
 Calm and subdue our woes;
 Through the long day we suffer, Lord, —
 O give us now repose.

An evening prayer.

O Shadow in a sultry land,
We gather to thy breast,
Whose love, enfolding like the night,
Brings quietude and rest,
Glimpse of the fairer life to be,
In foretaste here possessed.

From aimless wanderings we come,
From drifting to and fro;
The wave of being mingles deep
Amid its ebb and flow:
The grander sweep of tides serene
Our spirits yearn to know.

That which the garish day had lost
The twilight vigil brings;
While softer the vesper bell
Its silver cadence rings, —
The sense of an immortal trust,
The brush of angel wings.

Drop down behind the solemn hills
O day with golden skies!
Serene, above its fading glow,
Night, starry-crowned, arise!
So beautiful may heaven be
When life's last sunbeam dies.

Beyond, beyond that boundless sea,
Above that dome of sky,
Further than thought itself can flee,
Thy dwelling is on high:
Yet dear the awful thought to me
That thou, my God, art nigh.

We hear thy voice when thunders roll
Through the wide fields of air,
The waves obey thy dread control,
But still thou art not there:
Where shall I find him, O my soul,
Who yet is everywhere?

O not in circling depth nor height,
But in the conscious breast,
Present to faith, though veiled from sight,
There doth his Spirit rest.
O come, thou Presence infinite,
And make thy creature blest.

Alleluia! Alleluia! Alleluia!

O Lord, it is a blessed thing
To thee both morn and night to bring
Our worship's lowly offering;

Alleluia.

And from the strife of tongues away,
Ere toil begins, to meet and pray
For blessings on the coming day;

Alleluia.

And night by night, forevermore
Again with blended voice to pour
Deep thanks for mercies gone before.

And to thyself our footsteps guide,
At morn, and noon, and eventide.

Bless us, Father.

Father Almighty, bless us with thy blessing,

Answer in love thy children's supplication;
Hear thou our prayer, the spoken and unspoken;

Hear us, our Father!

Shepherd of souls, who bringest all who seek thee

To pastures green, beside the peaceful waters;

Tenderest guide, in ways of cheerful duty,
Lead us, good Shepherd!

Father of mercy, from thy watch and keeping

No place can part, nor hour of time remove us:

Give us thy good, and save us from our evil,
Infinite Spirit!

'Die Nacht ist kommen drin wir ruhen sollen.'

Now God be with us, for the night is closing, —

The light and darkness are of his disposing,

And 'neath his shadow here to rest we yield us,

For he will shield us.

Let holy thoughts be ours when sleep o'er-takes us,

Our earliest thoughts be thine when morning wakes us;

All day serve thee, in all that we are doing
Thy praise pursuing.

We have no refuge; none on earth to aid
us,

Save thee, O Father, who thine own hast made us;

But thy dear Presence will not leave them lonely,

Who seek thee only.

Father, thy name be praised, thy kingdom given.

Thy will be done on earth as 't is in

Keep us in life, forgive our sins, deliver
Us now and ever.

The Lord shall give his people the blessing of peace. Psalm XXIX.

Father, again to thy dear name we raise,
With one accord, our parting hymn of praise;
We stand to bless thee ere our worship cease,
Then, lowly kneeling, wait thy word of peace.

Grant us thy peace upon our homeward way;
With thee began, with thee shall end the day;
Guard thou the lips from sin, the hearts from shame,
That in this house have called upon thy name.

Grant us thy peace, Lord, through the coming night;
Turn thou for us its darkness into light;
From harm and danger keep thy children free,
For dark and light are both alike to thee.

Grant us thy peace throughout our earthly life,
Our balm in sorrow, and our stay in strife;
Then, when thy voice shall bid our conflict cease,
Call us, O Lord, to thine eternal peace.

163.

Abide with us, for it is toward evening.

Abide with me! fast falls the eventide;
The darkness deepens: Lord, with me abide!
When other helpers fail, and comforts flee,
Help of the helpless, O abide with me!

Swift to its close ebbs out life's little day;
Earth's joys grow dim, its glories pass away;
Change and decay in all around I see:
O thou who changest not, abide with me!

I need thy presence every passing hour:
What but thy grace can foil the tempter's power?
Who like thyself my guide and stay can be?
Through cloud and sunshine, O abide with me!

I fear no foe, with thee at hand to bless:
Ills have no weight, and tears no bitterness:
Where is death's sting? where, grave, thy victory?
I triumph still, if thou abide with me!

HENRY FRANCIS LYTE, 1847.

164.

Hymn for midday.

Behold us, Lord, a little space
From daily tasks set free,
And met within thy holy place
To rest awhile with thee.

Around us rolls the ceaseless tide
Of business, toil, and care;
And scarcely can we turn aside
For one brief hour of prayer.

Yet these are not the only walls
Wherein thou mayst be sought;
On homeliest work thy blessing falls,
In truth and patience wrought.

Thine is the loom, the forge, the mart,
The wealth of land and sea,
The worlds of science and of art
Revealed and ruled by thee.

Work shall be prayer, if all be wrought
As thou wouldst have it done,
And prayer, by thee inspired and taught,
Itself with work be one.

The Divine Renewer.

The glory of the spring, how sweet!
The new born life how glad!
What joy the happy earth to greet
In new, bright raiment clad!

Divine Renewer, thee I bless;
I greet thy going forth;
I love thee in the loveliness
Of thy renewéd earth.

But O these wonders of thy grace,
These nobler works of thine,
These marvels sweeter far to trace,
These new births more divine, —

These sinful souls thou hallowest,
These hearts thou makest new,
These mourning souls by thee made
blest,
These faithless hearts made true!

Creator Spirit, work in me
These wonders sweet of thine!
Divine Renewer, graciously
Renew this heart of mine!

Thy summer.

I walk amidst thy beauty forth,
My joy thy praise declares;
I bless thee with thy blooming earth,
I drink thy vernal airs.

Those old eternal hills of thine,
What mighty cheer they breathe!
What fulness of delight divine
Thy solemn stars bequeath!

Each wonder of thy hand still makes
My gladness fresh and strong;
The glory of my God still wakes
The glory of my song.

When cheer and strength my heart doth lack,
Thy gladness makes me whole;
Amidst thy summer I win back
The summer of my soul.

The summer days.

The summer days are come again;
Once more the glad earth yields
Her golden wealth of ripening grain,
And breath of clover fields,
And deepening shade of summer woods,
And glow of summer air,
And winging thoughts and happy moods
Of love and joy and prayer.

The summer days are come again;
The birds are on the wing;
God's praises, in their loving strain,
Unconsciously they sing.
We know who giveth all the good
That doth our cup o'erbrim;
For summer joy in field and wood
We lift our song to him.

'Winter Glory.'

All beautiful the march of days,
 As seasons come and go;
 The hand that shaped the rose hath wrought
 The crystal of the snow;
 Hath sent the hoary frost of heaven,
 The flowing waters sealed,
 And laid a silent loveliness
 On hill and wood and field.

O'er white expanses sparkling pure
 The radiant morns unfold;
 The solemn splendors of the night
 Burn brighter through the cold;
 Life mounts in every throbbing vein,
 Love deepens round the hearth,
 And clearer sounds the angel-hymn,
 'Good-will to men on earth!'

O Thou from whose unfathomed law
 The year in beauty flows,
 Thyself the vision passing by
 In crystal and in rose,
 Day unto day doth utter speech,
 And night to night proclaim,
 In ever-changing words of light,
 The wonder of thy name!

Autumn.

O God! in thine autumnal skies
 The dying woodlands glow and flame;
 And wheresoe'er we turn our eyes,
 All conquering Life! we trace thy name.

Bright emblem of that tranquil faith
 Whose evening beams 'Good Morrow' give,
 Each leaf, transfigured, mutely saith,
 'As dying, and, behold, we live.'

God of the living, — not the dead!
 Like autumn leaves we fade and flee;
 Yet reigns eternal spring o'erhead,
 Where souls forever live to thee.

O help us meekly, bravely tread
 The path of righteousness and love,
 Till, joined to all the immortal dead,
 We walk in cloudless light above.

Winter.

'T is winter now: the fallen snow
 Has left the heavens all coldly clear;
 Through leafless boughs the sharp winds
 blow,
 And all the earth lies dead and drear.

And yet God's love is not withdrawn:
 His life within the keen air breathes,
 His beauty paints the crimson dawn,
 And clothes the boughs with glittering wreaths.

And though abroad the sharp winds blow,
 And skies are chill, and frosts are keen,
 Home closer draws her circle now,
 And warmer glows her light within.

O God, who giv'st the winter's cold,
 As well as summer's joyous rays,
 Us warmly in thy love enfold,
 And keep us through life's wintry days.

I71. 'God crowning the year with his goodness.'

Eternal Source of every joy,
Well may thy praise our lips employ,
While in thy temple we appear,
Whose goodness crowns the circling year.

The flowery spring at thy command
Embalms the air and paints the land;
The summer rays with vigor shine,
To raise the corn, and cheer the vine.

Thy hand in autumn richly pours
Through all our coasts abundant stores;
And winters, softened by thy care,
No more a face of horror wear.

Seasons and months and weeks and days
Demand successive songs of praise;
Still be the cheerful homage paid
With opening light and evening shade.

O may our more harmonious tongues
In worlds unknown pursue the songs;
And in those brighter courts adore,
Where days and years revolve no more!

I72. 'Help obtained of God.'

Great God, we sing that mighty hand
By which supported still we stand:
The opening year thy mercy shows;
That mercy crowns it till it close.

By day, by night, at home, abroad,
Still are we guarded by our God,
By his incessant bounty fed,
By his unerring counsel led.

With grateful hearts the past we own:
The future, all to us unknown,
We to thy guardian care commit,
And, peaceful, leave before thy feet.

In scenes exalted or depressed,
Thou art our joy, and thou our rest;
Thy goodness all our hopes shall raise,
Adored through all our changing days.

The ever-changing seasons.

The ever-changing seasons
In silence come and go;
But thou, Eternal Father,
No time or change canst know.

O pour thy grace upon us,
That we may worthier be,
Each year that passes o'er us,
To dwell in heaven with thee.

Behold the bending orchards
With bounteous fruit are crowned;
Lord, in our hearts more richly
Let heavenly fruits abound.

O by each mercy sent us,
And by each grief and pain,
By blessings like the sunshine,
And sorrows like the rain, —

Our barren hearts make fruitful
With every goodly grace,
That we thy name may hallow,
And see at last thy face.

WILLIAM WALSHEAM HOW.

I 74.

Wir pflügen und wir streuen.

The musical score is written for a four-part choir (Soprano, Alto, Tenor, Bass) in 4/4 time, with a key signature of one flat (B-flat). The melody is primarily in the Soprano part. The lyrics are as follows:

1 We plow the fields, and scat - ter The good seed on the land, But it is fed and watered
By God's al-migh - ty hand; He sends the snow in win - ter, The warmth to swell the grain,
The breez - es and the sun - shine, And soft re - fresh - ing rain. All good gifts a - round us
Are sent from heaven above; Then thank the Lord, O thank the Lord For all his love. A - MEN.

2 He only is the Maker
Of all things near and far;
He paints the wayside flower,
He lights the evening star;
The winds and waves obey him,
By him the birds are fed;
Much more to us, his children,
He gives our daily bread.
All good gifts around us
Are sent from heaven above;
Then thank the Lord, O thank the Lord
For all his love.

3 We thank thee, then, O Father,
For all things bright and good,
The seed-time and the harvest,
Our life, our health, our food;
Accept the gifts we offer,
For all thy love imparts,
And what thou most desirest, —
Our humble, thankful hearts.
All good gifts around us
Are sent from heaven above,
Then thank the Lord, O thank the Lord
For all his love.

JOHANN RUDOLF AHLE, 1664.

Alternative Tune: St. George's, Windsor.

I75. All things present to God.

Mighty God, the first, the last,
What are ages in thy sight
But as yesterday when past,
Or a watch within the night?

All that being ever knew,
Down, far down, ere time had birth,
Stands as clear within thy view
As the present things of earth.

All that being e'er shall know,
On, still on, through farthest years,
All eternity can show,
Bright before thee now appears.

In thine all-embracing sight,
Every change its purpose meets,
Every cloud floats into light,
Every woe its glory greets.

Whatsoe'er our lot may be,
Calmly in this thought we'll rest, —
Could we see as thou dost see,
We should choose it as the best.

WILLIAM GASKELL, 1837.

I76. Habakkuk, III. 17, 18.

Praise to God, immortal praise,
For the love that crowns our days!
Bounteous Source of every joy,
Let thy praise our tongues employ.

For the blessings of the field,
For the stores the gardens yield:
Flocks, that whiten all the plain,
Yellow sheaves of ripened grain:

All that spring with bounteous hand
Scatters o'er the smiling land;
All that liberal autumn pours
From her rich o'erflowing stores, —

These to thee, our God, we owe,
Source whence all our blessings flow;
And for these our souls shall raise
Grateful vows and solemn praise.

And should rising whirlwinds tear
From its stem the ripening ear;
Should the vine put forth no more,
Nor the olive yield her store;

Yet to thee our souls should raise
Grateful vows and solemn praise;
And, when every blessing's flown,
Love thee for thyself alone.

The joy of harvest.

Come, ye thankful people, come,
Raise the song of harvest-home:
All is safely gathered in
Ere the winter storms begin:
God, our Maker, doth provide
For our wants to be supplied;
Come to God's own temple, come,
Raise the song of harvest-home.

All the world is God's own field,
Fruit unto his praise to yield;
Wheat and tares together sown,
Unto joy or sorrow grown:
First the blade, and then the ear,
Then the full corn shall appear:
Lord of harvest, grant that we
Wholesome grain and pure may be.

HENRY ALFORD, 1844.

I78.

'The Year of the Lord.'

Praise to God and thanks we bring, —
Hearts, bow down, and voices, sing!

Praises to the Glorious One,
All his year of wonder done!
Praise him for his budding green,
April's resurrection-scene;
Praise him for his shining hours,
Starring all the land with flowers!

Praise him for his summer rain,
Feeding day and night the grain;
Praise him for his tiny seed,
Holding all his world shall need;
Praise him for his garden root,
Meadow grass and orchard fruit;
Praise for hills and valleys broad,
Each the table of the Lord!

Praise him now for snowy rest,
Falling soft on nature's breast;
Praise for happy dreams of birth,
Brooding in the quiet earth!
For his year of wonder done,
Praise to the All-glorious One!
Hearts, bow down, and voices, sing
Praise, and love, and thanksgiving!

WILLIAM CRANKING GANNETT, 1882.

179.The coming year.*

Father, throughout the coming year,
 We know not what shall be;
 But we would leave without a fear
 Its ordering all to thee.

It may be we shall toil in vain
 For what the world holds fair;
 And all its good we thought to gain
 Deceive, and prove but care.

It may be it shall bring us days
 And nights of lingering pain,
 And bid us take our farewell gaze
 Of these loved haunts of men.

But calmly, Lord, on thee we rest,
 No fears our trust shall move;
 Thou knowest what for each is best;
 And thou art perfect love.

Shadows.

Like shadows gliding o'er the plain,
Or clouds that roll successive on,
Man's busy generations pass;
And while we gaze their forms are gone.

'He lived, — he died;' behold the sum,
The abstract, of the historian's page!
Alike in God's all-seeing eye
The infant's day, the patriarch's age.

O Father, in whose mighty hand
The boundless years and ages lie,
Teach us thy boon of life to prize,
And use the moments as they fly, —

To crowd the narrow span of life
With wise designs and virtuous deeds.
So shall we wake from death's dark night
To share the glory that succeeds.

181.

For a watch-night service.

Across the sky the shades of night
This winter's eve are fleeting:
We deck thine house, O Lord, with light,
In solemn worship meeting:
And as the year's last hours go by,
We lift to thee our earnest cry,
Once more thy love entreating.

And, while we kneel, we lift our eyes
To dear ones gone before us;
Safe housed with thee in paradise,
Their spirits hovering o'er us:
And beg of thee, when life is past,
To re-unite us all at last,
And to our lost restore us.

We gather up, in this brief hour,
The memory of thy mercies;
Thy wondrous goodness, love, and power
Our grateful song rehearses:
For thou hast been our Strength and Stay,
In many a dark and dreary day
Of sorrow and reverses.

Then, O great God, in years to come,
Whatever fate betide us,
Right onward through our journey home
Be thou at hand to guide us:
Nor leave us till, at close of life,
Safe from all perils, toil, and strife,
Heaven shall enfold and hide us.

JAMES HAMILTON,* 1882.

(Wer nur den lieben Gott lässt walten.)

The musical score is written for a four-part setting (Soprano, Alto, Tenor, Bass) in 4/4 time, with a key signature of one flat (B-flat). The melody is in the Soprano part. The score consists of four systems of staves. The first three systems are in 4/4 time, and the fourth system is in 2/2 time. The piece concludes with a double bar line and a fermata. The text 'A - MEN.' is written below the final staff.

182.

'Hilf, Herr Jesus, lass gelingen.'

Help us, O Lord! behold, we enter
 Upon another year to-day;
 In thee our hopes and thoughts now center;
 Renew our courage for the way.
 New life, new strength, new happiness,
 We ask of thee. O hear and bless!
 May every plan and undertaking
 This year be all begun with thee;
 When I am sleeping or am waking,
 Still let me know thou art with me;

Abroad, do thou my footsteps guide,
 At home, be ever at my side!

And grant, Lord, when the year is over,
 That it for me in peace may close;
 In all things care for me, and cover
 My head in time of fears and woes;
 So may I, when my years are gone,
 Appear with joy before thy throne.

New Year's hymn.

Another year is dawning!
 Dear Father, let it be
 In working or in waiting
 Another year with thee!
 Another year of leaning
 Upon thy loving breast,
 Another year of trusting,
 Of quiet, happy rest.

Another year of mercies,
 Of faithfulness and grace;
 Another year of gladness
 In the shining of thy face.

Another year of progress,
 Another year of praise,
 Another year of proving
 Thy presence 'all the days.'

Another year of service,
 Of witness for thy love;
 Another year of training
 For holier work above.
 Another year is dawning!
 Dear Father, let it be
 On earth, or else in heaven,
 Another year for thee.

FRANCES RIDLEY HAVERGAL[®], 1874.

184.

God of the changing year.

God of the changing year! whose arm of power
 In safety leads through danger's darkest hour, —
 Here in thy temple bow thy children down,
 To bless thy mercy and thy might to own.

Thine are the beams that cheer us on our way,
 And pour around the gladdening light of day;
 Thine is the night, and the fair orbs that shine
 To cheer its hours of darkness; — all are thine.

If round our path the thorns of sorrow grew,
 And mortal friends were faithless, thou wast true;
 Did sickness shake the frame, or anguish tear
 The wounded spirit, thou wast present there.

O lend thine ear, and lift our voice to thee;
 Where'er we dwell, still let thy mercy be;
 From year to year still nearer to thy shrine
 Draw our frail hearts, and make them wholly thine!

Immutabilis mutans omnia.

Lord God, by whom all change is wrought,
By whom new things to birth are brought,
In whom no change is known,
Whate'er thou dost, whate'er thou art,
Thy people still in thee have part,
Still, still, thou art our own.

Spirit who makest all things new,
Thou leadest onward; we pursue
The heavenly march sublime;
'Neath thy renewing fire we glow,
And still from strength to strength we go,
From height to height we climb.

Darkness and dread we leave behind;
New light, new glory, still we find,
New realms divine possess,
New births of grace new raptures bring;
Triumphant the new song we sing,
The great Renewer bless.

186.

The mighty cloud of witnesses.

Oft as we run the weary way
That leads through shadows unto day,
With trial sore amazed,
We deem our sorrows are unknown,
Our battle joined and fought alone,
Our victory unpraised.

Faithless and blind, we cannot trace
The witnesses who watch our race
Beyond our senses' ken:
The mighty cloud of all who died
With faithful rapture, humble pride,
For love of God and man.

For heaven is round us as we move:
Our days are compassed with its love,
Its light is on our road;
And when the knell of death is rung,
Sweet alleluias shall be sung
To welcome us to God.

'Nun danket alle Gott.'

Now thank we all our God,
With heart and hands and voices,
Who wondrous things hath done,
In whom his world rejoices;
Who from our mother's arms
Hath blessed us on our way
With countless gifts of love,
And still is ours to-day.

O may this bounteous God
Through all our life be near us,
With ever joyful hearts
And blessed peace to cheer us;
And keep us in his grace,
And guide us when perplexed,
And free us from all ills
In this world and the next.

The Living God.

Not, Lord, thine ancient works alone,
Thy wonders to past ages shown,
Make our glad spirits glow:
Our eyes behold thy works of might;
On us full beam thy wonders bright;
The living God we know.

We joy not only to be told,
How with thy saints and seers of old
Thou madest sweet abode.
We of thy presence bright can tell;
Thou in thy living saints dost dwell;
We feel the living God.

Thou settest us each task divine;
We bless that helping hand of thine,
That strength by thee bestowed.

Thou minglest in the glorious fight;
Thine own the cause — thine own the might;
We serve the living God.

Ah, soon we droop! ah, soon we tire!
Our fainting souls new strength require,
Again would quickened be.
We ask no priest; we seek no shrine;
To thee we come for life divine,
Thou living God, to thee.

O more than satisfy our need;
Our most divine desire exceed;
Our daily quickener be.
Thou living God, possess us still;
Thy wondrous life in us fulfil,
Our blessed life in thee.

'Christmas song.'

Calm, on the listening ear of night,
Come heaven's melodious strains,
Where wild Judea stretches far
Her silver-mantled plains.

Celestial choirs, from courts above,
Shed sacred glories there;
And angels, with their sparkling lyres,
Make music on the air.

The answering hills of Palestine
Send back the glad reply;
And greet, from all their holy heights,
The Dayspring from on high.

O'er the blue depths of Galilee
There comes a holier calm;
And Sharon waves, in solemn praise,
Her silent groves of palm.

'Glory to God!' the sounding skies
Loud with their anthems ring;
'Peace to the earth, good will to men,
From heaven's eternal King!'

Light on thy hills, Jerusalem!
The Savior now is born!
And bright, on Bethlehem's joyous plains,
Breaks the first Christmas morn.

Alternative Tune: Beatitude.

190.

To-day be joy.

To-day be joy in every heart,
For lo, the angel throng
Once more above the listening earth
Repeats the advent song:

'Peace on the earth, good will to men;'
Before us goes the star
That leads us on to holier births
And life diviner far.

Ye men of strife, forget to-day
Your harshness and your hate;
Too long ye stay the promised years
For which the nations wait.

And ye upon the tented field,
Sheathe, sheathe to-day the sword;
By love, and not by might, shall come
The kingdom of the Lord.

O star of human faith and hope!
Thy light shall lead us on,
Until it fades in morning's glow
And heaven on earth is won.

Peace on earth.

- 1 It came upon the midnight clear,
That glorious song of old,
From angels bending near the earth,
To touch their harps of gold:
'Peace on the earth, good-will to men,
From heaven's all-gracious King.'
The world in solemn stillness lay
To hear the angels sing.
- 2 Still through the cloven skies they come,
With peaceful wings unfurled;
And still their heavenly music floats
O'er all the weary world:
Above its sad and lowly plains
They bend on hovering wing,
And ever o'er its Babel sounds
The blessed angels sing.

CAROL. C. M. D. (Second Tune)

191. (Continued.)

Alternative Tune: Aspiration or St. Leonard.

3 But with the woes of sin and strife
The world has suffered long;
Beneath the angel-strain have rolled
Two thousand years of wrong;
And man, at war with man, hears not
The love song which they bring:
O hush the noise, ye men of strife,
And hear the angels sing!

4 And ye, beneath life's crushing load
Whose forms are bending low,
Who toil along the climbing way,
With painful steps and slow, —
Look now; for glad and golden hours
Come swiftly on the wing:
O rest beside the weary road,
And hear the angels sing!

5 For, lo! the days are hastening on
By prophet bards foretold,
When with the ever-circling years
Comes round the age of gold:
When peace shall over all the earth
Its ancient splendors fling,
And the whole world give back the song
Which now the angels sing.

EDMUND HAMILTON SEARS, 1849.

192.

What means this glory?

'What means this glory round our feet,'
 The magi mused, 'more bright than morn?'
 And voices chanted clear and sweet,
 'To-day the Prince of Peace is born.'

'What means that star,' the shepherds said,
 'That brightens through the rocky glen?'
 And angels, answering overhead,
 Sang, 'Peace on earth, good will to men.'

All round about our feet shall shine
 A light like that the wise men saw,
 If we our loving wills incline
 To that sweet life which is the law.

So shall we learn to understand
 The simple faith of shepherds then,
 And clasping kindly hand in hand,
 Sing, 'Peace on earth, good will to men.'

And they who to their childhood cling,
 And keep at eve the faith of morn,
 Shall daily hear the angels sing,
 'To-day the Prince of Peace is born.'

193.

I heard the bells on Christmas day.

I heard the bells on Christmas day
 Their old familiar carols play,
 And wild and sweet
 The words repeat,
 Of 'Peace on earth, good will to men!'

 And thought how, as the day had come,
 The belfries of all Christendom
 Had rolled along
 The unbroken song,
 Of 'Peace on earth, good will to men!'

 Till ringing, singing on its way,
 The world revolved from night to day, —
 A voice, a chime,
 A chant sublime,
 Of 'Peace on earth, good will to men!'

 And in despair I bowed my head;
 'There is no peace on earth,' I said,
 'For hate is strong
 And mocks the song
 Of peace on earth, good will to men!'

 Then pealed the bells more loud and deep:
 'God is not dead; nor doth he sleep!
 The wrong shall fail,
 The right prevail,
 With peace on earth, good will to men!'

194.

Watchman, what of the night?

Watchman, tell us of the night,
What its signs of promise are.
Traveller, o'er yon mountain's height
See that glory-beaming star.
Watchman, doth its beauteous ray
Aught of hope or joy foretell?
Traveller, yes, it brings the day,
Promised day of Israel.

Watchman, tell us of the night,
Higher yet that star ascends.
Traveller, blessedness and light,
Peace and truth its course portends.
Watchman, will its beams alone
Gild the spot that gave them birth?
Traveller, ages are its own,
See! it bursts o'er all the earth.

Watchman, tell us of the night,
For the morning seems to dawn.
Traveller, darkness takes its flight,
Doubt and terror are withdrawn.
Watchman, let thy wanderings cease,
Hie thee to thy quiet home.
Traveller, lo! the Prince of Peace,
Lo! the Son of God is come!

Joy to the world!

Joy to the world! the Lord is come:
Let earth receive her King;
Let every heart prepare him room,
And heaven and nature sing.

Joy to the earth! the Savior reigns:
Let men their songs employ,
While fields and floods, rocks, hills, and plains
Repeat the sounding joy.

No more let sins and sorrows grow,
Nor thorns infest the ground:
He comes to make his blessings flow
As far as sin is found.

He rules the world with truth and grace,
And makes the nations prove
The glories of his righteousness,
And wonders of his love.

ISAAC WATTS,* 1719.

'Hymn for Advent.'

The Lord is come. On Syrian soil
 The child of poverty and toil,
 The man of sorrows, born to know
 Each varying shade of human woe,
 His joy, his glory, to fulfil
 In earth and heaven his Father's will;
 On lonely mount, by festive board,
 On bitter cross, — despised, adored,
 The Lord is come. Dull hearts to wake,
 He speaks, as never man yet spake,
 The truth which makes his servants free,
 The royal law of liberty.

Though heaven and earth shall pass away,
 His living words our spirits stay,
 And from his treasures, new and old,
 The eternal mysteries unfold.

The Lord is come. In every heart
 Where truth and mercy claim a part,
 In every land where right is might,
 And deeds of darkness shun the light,
 In every church where faith and love
 Lift earthward thoughts to things above,
 In every holy, happy home, —
 We bless thee, Lord, that thou hast come.

The Day-spring from on high.

Thank we now the Lord of heaven
For the day-spring he has given;
For the light of truth and grace
Shining from the Master's face.
Years have come and years have gone,
Still that light is shining on:
Still the holy child is born
Every blessed Christmas morn.

Still his words of truth and grace
In a holier world we trace;
Where our hearts to love are stirred,
Still the angels' song is heard.
'Glory be to God on high!'
Sing, ye angels from the sky;
Mortals, raise the glad refrain,
'Peace on earth, good will to men.'

HENRY WARBURTON HAWKES.

198.

O little town of Bethlehem.

O little town of Bethlehem,
 How still we see thee lie!
 Above thy deep and dreamless sleep
 The silent stars go by:
 Yet in thy dark streets shineth
 The everlasting light;
 The hopes and fears of all the years
 Are met in thee to-night.

For Christ is born of Mary,
 And gathered all above,
 While mortals sleep, the angels keep
 Their watch of wondering love.
 O morning stars, together
 Proclaim the holy birth!
 And praises sing to God the King,
 And peace to men on earth!

How silently, how silently,
 The wondrous gift is given!
 So God imparts to human hearts
 The blessings of his heaven.
 No ear may hear his coming,
 But in this world of sin,
 Where meek souls will receive him, still
 The dear Christ enters in.

O holy Child of Bethlehem,
 Descend to us, we pray,
 Cast out our sin, and enter in,
 Be born in us to-day!
 We hear the Christmas angels
 The great glad tidings tell;
 O come to us, abide with us,
 Our Lord Emmanuel!

Christ's entry into Jerusalem.

Ride on, ride on in majesty:
Hark! all the tribes 'Hosanna' cry:
Thine humble beast pursues his road,
With palms and scattered garments
strewed.

Ride on, ride on in majesty;
In lowly pomp ride on to die:
O Christ! thy triumphs now begin,
O'er captive death and conquered sin.

Ride on, ride on in majesty:
The wingéd squadrons of the sky
Look down with sad and wondering eyes
To see the approaching sacrifice.

Ride on, ride on in majesty;
In lowly pomp ride on to die;
Bow thy meek head to mortal pain,
Then take, O Christ! thy power, and reign.

'Macht hoch die Thür, das Thor macht weit.'

Lift up your heads, ye mighty gates,
Behold the king in glory waits.
The Prince of Peace is drawing near,
The hope of longing hearts is here;
The end of all our woe he brings,
Wherefore the earth is glad and sings.

O blest the land, the city blest,
Where Christ the ruler is confest!
O happy hearts and happy homes
To whom this king in triumph comes!
His kingly crown is holiness,
His scepter, pity in distress.

Fling wide the portals of your heart,
Make it a temple set apart
From earthly use for heaven's employ,
Adorned with prayer, and love, and joy;
So shall your sovereign enter in,
And new and nobler life begin.

The reign of the Messiah.

Hail to the Lord's Anointed,
Great David's greater son!
Hail, in the time appointed,
His reign on earth begun!
He comes to break oppression,
To set the captive free,
To take away transgression,
And rule in equity.

He comes with succor speedy
To those who suffer wrong;
To help the poor and needy,
And bid the weak be strong;
To give them songs for sighing,
Their darkness turn to light,
Whose souls, condemned and dying,
Were precious in his sight.

He shall come down like showers
Upon the fruitful earth,
And joy and hope, like flowers,
Spring in his path to birth:
Before him on the mountains
Shall peace, the herald, go;
And righteousness in fountains
From hill to valley flow.

O'er every foe victorious,
He on his throne shall rest,
From age to age more glorious,
All blessing and all blest.
The tide of time shall never
His covenant remove;
His name shall stand forever:
That name to us is Love.

JAMES MONTGOMERY, 1821.

202.

The triumphal entry.

Descend to thy Jerusalem, O Lord!
 Her faithful children cry with one accord;
 Come, ride in triumph on! behold, we lay
 Our guilty lusts and proud wills in thy way!

Welcome, O welcome to our hearts, Lord! here
 Thou hast a temple too, and full as dear
 As that in Zion, and as full of sin:
 How long shall thieves and robbers dwell therein?

Enter and chase them forth, and cleanse the floor!
 Destroy their strength, that they may never more
 Profane with traffic vile that holy place,
 Which thou hast chosen, there to set thy face.

And then, if our stiff tongues shall silent be
 In praises of thy finished victory,
 The temple stones shall cry, and loud repeat
 Hosanna! and thy glorious footsteps greet!

203.

'The Crucifixion.'

'It is finished!' Man of sorrows!
 From thy cross our frailty borrows
 Strength to bear and conquer thus.
 While extended there we view thee,
 Mighty Sufferer, draw us to thee, —
 Sufferer victorious!

Not in vain for us uplifted,
 Man of sorrows, wonder-gifted,
 May that sacred emblem be!
 Lifted high amid the ages,
 Guide of heroes, saints, and sages,
 May it guide us still to thee!

Still to thee, whose love unbounded
 Sorrow's depths for us has sounded,
 Perfected by conflicts sore.
 Honored be thy cross forever;
 Star, that points our high endeavor,
 Whither thou hast gone before!

Easter gladness.

O day of light and gladness,
Of prophecy and song,
What thoughts within us waken,
What hallowed memories throng!
The soul's horizon widens,
Past, present, future blend;
And rises on our vision
The life that hath no end.

Earth feels the season's joyance;
From mountain range to sea
The tides of life are flowing
Fresh, manifold and free.
In valley and on upland,
By forest pathways dim,
All nature lifts in chorus
The resurrection hymn.

O Lord of life eternal,
To thee our hearts upraise
The Easter song of gladness,
The Passover of praise.
Thine are the many mansions,
The dead die not to thee,
Who fillest from thy fulness
Time and eternity.

Easter hymn.

The Light along the ages
 Shines higher as it goes;
 From age to age more glorious
 Its radiant splendor grows.
 Man's life, begun so lowly,
 Now soars to heaven above,
 To share in life eternal
 The joys of endless love!

We thank thee, O our Father,
 For every gift of thine;
 All speak alike the bounty
 Of tenderness divine;
 But every gift surpassing,
 This wondrous gift we own, —
 The Son of Man is risen
 To dwell before thy throne!

Wherever goodness reigneth
 The soul of Christ lives on,
 And every Christ-like spirit
 Shall rise where he hath gone:
 Earth's dust hath served its mission;
 Henceforth the soul is free,
 And through the heights of being
 Ascends, O God, to thee!

The day of days.

Lo, the day of days is here,
Earth puts on her robes of cheer:
Day of hope and prophecy,
Feast of immortality!

Fields are smiling in the sun,
Loosened streamlets seaward run,
Tender blade and leaf appear,
'T is the spring-tide of the year!

Day of hope and prophecy,
Feast of immortality!

Lo, the day of days is here,
Hearts, awake and sing with cheer!
He who robes his earth anew
Careth for his children too.
They who look to him in faith

Triumph over fear and death;
Speaks the angel by the door
'They are risen' evermore.

Day of hope and prophecy,
Feast of immortality!

Lo, the day of days is here,
Music thrills the atmosphere.
Join, ye people all, and sing
Love and praise and thanksgiving!
Rocky steep or flowery mead,
One the Shepherd that doth lead;
One the hope within us born,
One the joy of Easter morn!

Day of hope and prophecy,
Feast of immortality!

FREDERICK LUCIAN HOSMER, 1890.

'Unto Him all live.'

ALLELUIA! ALLELUIA! ALLELUIA!
 O Lord of Life, where'er they be,
 Safe in thine own eternity,
 Our dead are living unto thee.

Alleluia!

All souls are thine, and, here or there,
 They rest within thy sheltering care;
 One providence alike they share.

Alleluia!

Thy word is true, thy ways are just;
 Above the requiem, 'Dust to dust,'
 Shall rise our psalm of grateful trust.

Alleluia!

O happy they in God who rest,
 No more by fear and doubt oppressed!
 Living or dying they are blest.

Alleluia!

FREDERICK LUCIAN HOSMER, 1888.

208.

Victory over pain and death.

ALLELUIA! ALLELUIA! ALLELUIA!
 Past are the cross, the scourge, the thorn
 The scoffing tongue, the gibe, the scorn,
 And brightly breaks the Easter morn.

Alleluia!

Gone are the gloomy clouds of night;
 The shades of death are put to flight;
 And from the tomb beams heavenly light.

Alleluia!

And so in sorrow dark and drear,
 Though black the night, the morn is near;
 Soon shall the heavenly day appear.

Alleluia!

And when death's darkness dims our eyes,
 From out the gloom our souls shall rise
 In deathless glory to the skies.

Alleluia!

Then let us raise the glorious strain,
 Love's triumph over sin and pain,
 Faith's victory over terror's reign!

Alleluia!

209.

He is risen.

Where is he that came to save?
Where is he that lived to bless?
Lying in the silent grave,
Sorrow-stricken hearts confess.

In the grave, yet not to earth
Wholly sink heroic lives,
While the memory of their worth
In the heart of man survives.

Watching weary nights in tears,
Thinking of the words he said,
Lo! to them again appears
Image of the sacred dead.

Round the holy sepulchre
Never-dying glories shine;
Midst its hallowed silence stir
Echoes of a voice divine.

Oft in weakness, fear, and gloom,
Now, as then, despairing eyes,
Turning to the Master's tomb,
See, with joy, his spirit rise, —

Rise triumphant from its dust,
Rise again to save and bless,
Spirit of immortal trust,
Breath of truth and holiness.

SETH CURTIS BEACH, 1877.

210.

He maketh all things new.

Lo, the earth is risen again
From the winter's bond and pain!
Bring we leaf and flower and spray
To adorn this holy day.

Once again the word comes true,
Lo, he maketh all things new!
Now the dark, cold days are o'er,
Light and gladness are before.

How our hearts leap with the spring!
How our spirits soar and sing!
Light is victor over gloom,
Life triumphant o'er the tomb.

Change, then, mourning into praise,
And, for dirges, anthems raise:
All our fears and griefs shall be Lost in immortality.

SAMUEL LONGFELLOW, 1876.

2II. O happy Easter morn.

On eyes that watch through sorrow's night,
On aching hearts and worn,
Rise thou with healing in thy light,
O happy Easter morn!

The dead earth wakes beneath thy rays,
The tender grasses spring;
The woods put on their robes of praise,
And birds returning sing.

O shine within the spirit's skies,
Till, in thy kindling glow,
From out the buried memories
Immortal hopes shall grow:

Till from the seed oft sown in grief,
And wet with bitter tears,
Our faith shall bind the harvest sheaf
Of the eternal years.

FREDERICK LUCIAN HOSMER, 1890.

2I2. The larger faith.

Our Father! while our hearts unlearn
The creeds that wrong thy name,
Still let our hallowed altars burn
With faith's undying flame!

Not by the lightning-gleams of wrath
Our souls thy face shall see, —
The star of love must light the path
That leads to heaven and thee.

Help us to read our Master's will
Through every darkening stain
That clouds his sacred image still,
And see him once again,

The brother man, the pitying friend,
Who weeps for human woes,
Whose pleading words of pardon blend
With cries of raging foes.

If, mid the gathering storms of doubt
Our hearts grow faint and cold,
The strength we cannot live without
Thy love will not withhold.

Our prayers accept; our sins forgive;
Our youthful zeal renew;
Shape for us holier lives to live
And nobler work to do!

'In the cross of Christ I glory.'

In the cross of Christ I glory,
Towering o'er the wrecks of time;
All the light of sacred story
Gathers round its head sublime.

When the woes of life o'ertake me,
Hopes deceive, and fears annoy,
Never shall the cross forsake me;
Lo! it glows with peace and joy.

When the sun of bliss is beaming
'Light and love upon my way,

From the cross the radiance streaming
Adds more luster to the day.

Bane and blessing, pain and pleasure,
By the cross are sanctified;
Peace is there that knows no measure,
Joys that through all time abide.

In the cross of Christ I glory,
Towering o'er the wrecks of time;
All the light of sacred story
Gathers round its head sublime.

'The Conflict of Life.'

Onward, onward, though the region
 Where thou art be drear and lone;
 God hath set a guardian legion
 Very near thee, — press thou on!

By the thorn-road, and none other,
 Is the mount of vision won;
 Tread it without shrinking, brother!
 Jesus trod it, — press thou on!

By thy trustful, calm endeavor,
 Guiding, cheering, like the sun,
 Earth-bound hearts thou shalt deliver;
 O, for their sake, press thou on!

Be this world the wiser, stronger,
 For thy life of pain and peace;
 While it needs thee, O no longer
 Pray thou for thy quick release;

Pray thou, undisheartened, rather,
 That thou be a faithful son;
 By the prayer of Jesus, — 'Father,
 Not my will, but thine, be done!'

The Lord of love.

When the Lord of love was here,
 Happy hearts to him were dear,
 Though his heart was sad;
 Worn and lonely for our sake,
 Yet he turned aside to make
 All the weary glad.

Meek and lowly were his ways,
 From his loving grew his praise,
 From his giving, prayer:
 All the outcasts thronged to hear,
 All the sorrowful drew near
 To enjoy his care.

When he walked the fields, he drew
 From the flowers and birds and dew,
 Parables of God;
 For within his heart of love
 All the soul of man did move,
 God had his abode.

Lord, be ours thy power to keep
 In the very heart of grief,
 And in trial, love;
 In our meekness to be wise,
 And through sorrow to arise
 To our God above.

The way, the truth, the life.

O thou great friend to all the sons of men,
 Who once appeared in humblest guise below,
 Sin to rebuke, to break the captive's chain,
 And call thy brethren forth from want and woe!

We look to thee: thy truth is still the light
 Which guides the nations, groping on their way,
 Stumbling and falling in disastrous night,
 Yet hoping ever for the perfect day.

Yes: thou art still the life; thou art the way
 The holiest know, — light, life, and way of heaven;
 And they who dearest hope, and deepest pray,
 Toil by the light, life, way, which thou hast given.

'Our Master.'

He cometh not a king to reign,
The world's long hope is dim;
The weary centuries watch in vain
The clouds of heaven for him.

But warm, sweet, tender, even yet
A present help is he;
And faith has still its Olivet,
And love its Galilee.

The healing of his seamless dress
Is by our beds of pain;
We touch him in life's throng and press,
And we are whole again.

Through him the first fond prayers are said
Our lips of childhood frame;
The last low whispers of our dead
Are burdened with his name.

O Lord and Master of us all!
Whate'er our name or sign,
We own thy sway, we hear thy call,
We test our lives by thine.

JOHN GREENLEAF WHITTIER, 1866.

218.

O Love! O Life!

O Love! O Life! our faith and sight
Thy presence maketh one.
As, through transfigured clouds of white,
We trace the noon-day sun,

So, to our mortal eye subdued,
Flesh-veiled but not concealed,
We know in thee the fatherhood
And heart of God revealed.

We faintly hear, we dimly see,
In differing phrase we pray;
But, dim or clear, we own in thee
The light, the truth, the way.

To do thy will is more than praise,
As words are less than deeds;
And simple trust can find thy ways
We miss with chart of creeds.

Our Friend, our Brother, and our Lord;
What may thy service be? —
Nor name, nor form, nor ritual word,
But simply following thee.

JOHN GREENLEAF WHITTIER, 1866.

Alternative Tune: Monk.219.Love and duty.

A voice by Jordan's shore!
 A summons stern and clear:
 Reform! be just! and sin no more!
 God's judgment draweth near!

A voice by Galilee,
 A holier voice I hear:
 Love God! thy neighbor love! for see,
 God's mercy draweth near!

O voice of duty, still
 Speak forth, I hear with awe;
 In thee I own the sovereign will,
 Obey the sovereign law.

Thou higher voice of love,
 Yet speak thy word in me;
 Through duty let me upward move
 To thy pure liberty!

SAMUEL LONGFELLOW, 1864.

220.Following.

Thou say'st, 'Take up thy cross,
 O man, and follow me';
 The night is black, the feet are slack,
 Yet we would follow thee.

Comes faint and far thy voice
 From vales of Galilee;
 Thy vision fades in ancient shades;
 How should we follow thee?

O heavy cross—of faith
 In what we cannot see!
 As once of yore thyself restore
 And help to follow thee.

If not as once thou cam'st
 In true humanity,
 Come yet as guest within the breast
 That burns to follow thee.

Within our heart of hearts
 In nearest nearness be:
 Set up thy throne within thine own:—
 Go, Lord: we follow thee.

Visions and tasks.

Not long on Hermon's holy height
The heavenly vision fills our sight;
We may not breathe that purer air,
Nor build our tabernacles there.

If with the Master we would go,
Our feet must thread the vale below,
Where dark the lonely pathways wind,
The golden glory left behind.

Where hungry souls ask one to feed,
Where wanderers cry for one to lead,
Where helpless hearts in chains are bound, —
There shall the Master still be found:

There, bending patient o'er his task —
No raiment white our eyes shall ask,
Content, while through each cloud we trace
The glory of the Master's face.

THEODORE CLAUDIUS PEASE, 1891.

222.

'On the mount.'

Not always on the mount may we
Rapt in the heavenly vision be:
The shores of thought and feeling know
The Spirit's tidal ebb and flow.

'Lord, it is good abiding here,'
We cry, the heavenly presence near;
The vision vanishes, our eyes
Are lifted into vacant skies.

Yet hath one such exalted hour
Upon the soul redeeming power,
And in its strength through after days
We travel our appointed ways,
Till all the lowly vale grows bright,
Transfigured in remembered light,
And in untiring souls we bear
The freshness of the upper air.

The mount for vision: but below
The paths of daily duty go,
And nobler life therein shall own
The pattern on the mountain shown.

FREDERICK LUCIAN HOSMER, 1882.

223.

Christ in the city.

Where cross the crowded ways of life,
 Where sound the cries of race and clan,
 Above the noise of selfish strife,
 We hear thy voice, O Son of Man.

In haunts of wretchedness and need,
 On shadowed thresholds dark with fears,
 From paths where hide the lures of greed,
 We catch the vision of thy tears.

From tender childhood's helplessness,
 From woman's grief, man's burdened toil,
 From famished souls, from sorrow's stress,
 Thy heart has never known recoil.

The cup of water given for thee
 Still holds the freshness of thy grace;
 Yet long these multitudes to see
 The sweet compassion of thy face.

O Master, from the mountain side,
 Make haste to heal these hearts of pain;
 Among these restless throngs abide,
 O tread the city's streets again;

Till sons of men shall learn thy love,
 And follow where thy feet have trod;
 Till glorious from thy heaven above,
 Shall come the City of our God.

Alternative Tune: Ward.224.Our Father God!

Our Father God! not face to face
 May mortal sense commune with thee,
 Nor lift the curtains of that place
 Where dwells thy secret majesty;
 Yet wheresoe'er our spirits bend
 In reverent faith and humble prayer,
 Thy promised blessing will descend,
 And we shall find thy spirit there.

Lord! be the spot where now we meet
 An open gateway into heaven;
 Here may we sit at Jesus' feet,
 And feel our deepest sins forgiven;

Here may desponding care look up,
 And sorrow lay its burden down,
 Or learn of him to drink the cup,
 To bear the cross, and win the crown.

Here may the sick and wandering soul,
 To truth still blind, to sin a slave,
 Find better than Bethesda's pool,
 Or than Siloam's healing wave;
 And may we learn, while here apart
 From the world's passion and its strife,
 That thy true shrine's a loving heart,
 And thy best praise a holy life.

Going about doing good.

O Master, let me walk with thee
In lowly paths of service free;
Tell me thy secret; help me bear
The strain of toil, the fret of care.

Help me the slow of heart to move
By some clear, winning word of love;
Teach me the wayward feet to stay,
And guide them in the homeward way.

Teach me thy patience; still with thee
In closer, dearer company,
In work that keeps faith sweet and strong,
In trust that triumphs over wrong;

In hope that sends a shining ray
Far down the future's broadening way;
In peace that only thou canst give, —
With thee, O Master, let me live!

Our Brother Christ.

We bear the strain of earthly care,
But bear it not alone;
Beside us walks our brother Christ
And makes our task his own.

Through din of market, whirl of wheels,
And thrust of driving trade,
We follow where the Master leads,
Serene and unafraid.

The common hopes that make us men
Were his in Galilee;
The tasks he gives are those he gave
Beside the restless sea.

Our brotherhood still rests in him,
The Brother of us all,
And o'er the centuries still we hear
The Master's winsome call.

Fellow workers with God.

O God, who workest hitherto,
Working in all we see,
Fain would we be, and bear and do,
As best it pleaseth thee.

Where'er thou sendest we will go,
Nor any question ask,
And what thou biddest we will do,
Whatever be the task.

Our skill of hand, and strength of limb,
Are not our own, but thine;
We link them to the work of him
Who made all life divine!

Our brother-friend, thy holy son,
Shared all our lot and strife;
And nobly will our work be done,
If moulded by his life.

'The spirit of Jesus.'

Immortal by their deed and word,
Like light around them shed,
Still speak the prophets of the Lord,
Still live the sainted dead.

The voice of old by Jordan's flood
Yet floats upon the air;
We hear it in beatitude,
In parable and prayer.

And still the beauty of that life
Shines star-like on our way,
And breathes its calm amid the strife
And burden of to-day.

Earnest of life forevermore
That life of duty here, —
The trust that in the darkest hour
Looked forth and knew no fear!

Spirit of Jesus, still speed on!
Speed on thy conquering way,
Till every heart the Father own,
And all his will obey!

FREDERICK LUCIAN HOSMER, 1885.

Mercies ever new.

I little see, I little know,
Yet can I fear no ill:
He who hath guided me till now
Will be my leader still.

No burden yet was on me laid
Of trouble or of care,
But he my trembling step hath stayed,
And given me strength to bear.

He will not leave my soul forlorn;
I still must find him true,
Whose mercies have been new each morn
And every evening new.

Upon his providence I lean,
As lean in faith I must:
The lesson of my life hath been
A heart of grateful trust.

And so my onward way I fare
With happy heart and calm,
And mingle with my daily care
The music of my psalm.

With him of Galilee.

Amid the din of earthly strife,
Amid the busy crowd,
The whispers of eternal life
Are lost in clamors loud;
When lo! I find a healing balm,
The world grows dim to me;
My spirit rests in sudden calm
With him of Galilee.

I linger near him in the throng,
And listen to his voice;
I feel my weary soul grow strong,
My saddened heart rejoice.
Amid the storms that darkly frown
I hear his call to me,
And lay my heavy burden down
With him of Galilee.

'Their silent ministry.'

I cannot think of them as dead
Who walk with me no more;
Along the path of life I tread
They have but gone before.
The Father's house is mansioned fair
Beyond my vision dim;
All souls are his, and here or there
Are living unto him.

And still their silent ministry
Within my heart hath place
As when on earth they walked with me
And met me face to face.
Mine are they by an ownership
Nor time nor death can free;
For God hath given to love to keep
Its own eternally.

'My Psalm.'

No longer forward nor behind
I look in hope or fear,
But, grateful, take the good I find,
The best of now and here.

I plow no more a desert land,
To harvest weed and tare;
The manna dropping from God's hand
Rebukes my painful care.

I break my pilgrim staff, I lay
Aside the toiling oar;
The angel sought so far away
I welcome at my door.

And all the jarring notes of life
Seem blending in a psalm,
And all the angles of its strife
Slow rounding into calm.

And so the shadows fall apart,
And so the west winds play;
And all the windows of my heart
I open to the day.

Resting.

My heart is resting, O my God!
I will give thanks and sing:
My heart is at the secret source
Of every precious thing.

I thirst for springs of heavenly life,
And here all day they rise;
I seek the treasure of thy love,
And close at hand it lies.

Mine be the reverent, listening love
That waits all day on thee,
The service of a watchful heart
Which no one else can see;

The faith that, in a hidden way
No other eye may know,
Finds all its daily work prepared.
And loves to have it so.

My heart is resting, O my God!
My heart is in thy care:
I hear the voice of joy and peace
Resounding everywhere.

Psalm XLII.

As pants the hart for cooling streams
When heated in the chase,
So longs my soul, O God, for thee,
And thy refreshing grace.

For thee, my God, the living God,
My thirsty soul doth pine;
O when shall I behold thy face,
Thou Majesty Divine!

Why restless, why cast down, my soul?
Trust God, and he'll employ
His aid for thee, and change these sighs
To thankful hymns of joy.

Why restless, why cast down, my soul?
Hope still, and thou shalt sing
The praise of him who is thy God,
Thy health's eternal spring.

235.

Author of Good, we rest on thee.

Eternal God, we look to thee,
To thee for help we fly,
Thine eye alone our wants can see,
Thy hand alone supply.

In thine all-gracious providence
Our cheerful hopes confide:
O let thy power be our defense,
Thy love our footsteps guide!

And since, by passion's force subdued,
Too oft, with stubborn will,
We blindly shun the latent good,
And grasp the specious ill, —

Not what we wish, but what we want,
Let mercy still supply:
The good unasked, O Father, grant;
The ill, though asked, deny.

JAMES MERRICK,* 1763.

'Twixt gleams of joy and clouds of doubt.'

'Twixt gleams of joy and clouds of doubt
Our feelings come and go;
Our best estate is tossed about
In ceaseless ebb and flow;

No mood of feeling, form of thought,
Is constant for a day;
But thou, O Lord! thou changest not;
The same thou art alway.

I grasp thy strength, make it mine own,
My heart with peace is blest;
I lose my hold, and then comes down
Darkness and cold unrest.

Let me no more my comfort draw
From my frail hold of thee, —
In this alone rejoice with awe;
Thy mighty grasp of me.

Out of that weak unquiet drift
That comes but to depart,
To that pure heaven my spirit lift
Where thou unchanging art.

Lay hold of me with thy strong grasp,
Let thine almighty arm
In its embrace my weakness clasp,
And I shall fear no harm.

Thy purpose of eternal good
Let me but surely know;
On this I'll lean, let changing mood
And feeling come or go;

Glad when thy sunshine fills my soul;
Not lorn when clouds o'er cast;
Since thou within thy sure control
Of love dost hold me fast.

JOHN CAMPBELL SHARP, 1871.

237. From darkness to light.

Out of the dark the circling sphere
Is rounding onward to the light;
We see not yet the full day here,
But we do see the paling night;

And hope, that lights her fadeless fires,
And faith, that shines, a heavenly will,
And love, that courage re-inspires, —
These stars have been above us still.

Look backward, how much has been won;
Look round, how much is yet to win!
The watches of the night are done;
The watches of the day begin.

O thou, whose mighty patience holds
The night and day alike in view,
Thy will our dearest hopes enfolds,
O keep us steadfast, patient, true.

SAMUEL LONGFELLOW, 1856.

238. The unsearchable God.

Lord, my weak thought in vain would climb
To search the starry vault profound;
In vain would wing her flight sublime,
To find creation's outmost bound.

But weaker yet that thought must prove
To search thy great eternal plan, —
Thy sovereign counsels, born of love,
Long ages ere the world began.

When my dim reason would demand
Why that, or this, thou dost ordain,
By some vast deep I seem to stand,
Whose secrets I must ask in vain.

When doubts disturb my troubled breast,
And all is dark as night to me,
Here, as on solid rock, I rest, —
That so it seemeth good to thee.

Be this my joy, that evermore
Thou rulest all things at thy will;
Thy sovereign wisdom I adore,
And calmly, sweetly, trust thee still.

MELCOMBE. L. M.SAMUEL WEBBE, 1782.
Arranged by WILLIAM HENRY MONK.239.'The Mystery of God.'*

No human eyes thy face may see;
No human thought thy form may know;
But all creation dwells in thee,
And thy great life through all doth flow.

And yet, O strange and wondrous thought!
Thou art a God who hearest prayer,
And every heart with sorrow fraught
To seek thy present aid may dare, —

And though most weak our efforts seem
Into one creed these thoughts to bind,
And vain the intellectual dream
To see and know the Eternal Mind, —

Yet thou wilt turn them not aside,
Who cannot solve thy life divine,
But would give up all reason's pride
To know their hearts approved by thine.

So, though we faint on life's dark hill,
And thought grow weak, and knowledge
flee,
Yet faith shall teach us courage still,
And love shall guide us on to thee.

THOMAS WENTWORTH HIGGINSON.

240.The unseen God.

In thee, O God, the hosts above
Forever live supremely blest;
And we, on earth, like them would love;
Like them upon thy goodness rest.

We may not know thee as thou art,
While here our earthly way we tread;
Yet thank thee that we know in part,
And hourly by thy hand are led.

Unseen, thou dost thyself reveal,
In thine own ways to sense unknown;
Thy hidden glories oft we feel
Come flowing o'er us from thy throne.

The joy, that through our being streams,
New gladness lends to brightest days;
Morn fresher wakes, and evening gleams
More lovely, while we breathe thy praise.

As past us fly the swift-winged years,
Thy mercies all their circuits fill;
Thy goodness, like the sun, appears
Throughout all time resplendent still.

RAY PALMER.*

241. 'Eternal beam of light divine!'

Eternal Source of light divine!
Fountain of unexhausted love!
O let thy glories on me shine
In earth beneath, from heaven above!

Thou art the weary wanderer's rest;
Give me thy easy yoke to bear;
With steadfast patience arm my breast,
With spotless love and lowly fear.

Be thou, O Rock of Ages, nigh!
So shall each murmuring thought be gone;
And grief and fear and care shall fly,
As clouds before the mid-day sun.

Speak to my warring passions, Peace!
Speak to my troubled heart, Be still!
Thy power my strength and fortress is;
For all things serve thy sovereign will.

CHARLES WESLEY,* 1739.

242. God is my light.

Thou rulest, Lord, the lights on high,
Sun, moon, and stars thy servants be;
But every glory of the sky
Is darkness, if I have not thee.

How vast the marvel of the mind,
How far the beams of reason go!
But all the wisdom of mankind —
How blind, how vain, till thee I know.

Where'er I look is light and joy:
A blooming flower, an eagle's wing
Their sinless jubilee employ,
And to thy praise full tribute bring.

Thy gifts to man beyond compare
Like royal crowns and emblems shine,
But bring to failure and despair
Until I hold each gift as thine.

Delight and wisdom, peace and power,
A heart of hope, serene and free,
Through life's dim dream and transient hour

I find, O God, alone in thee.

'Hymn of trust.'

O Love divine, that stooped to share
Our sharpest pang, our bitterest tear,
On thee we cast each earth-born care;
We smile at pain while thou art near.

Though long the weary way we tread,
And sorrow crown each lingering year,
No path we shun, no darkness dread;
Our hearts still whispering, thou art near!

When drooping pleasure turns to grief,
And trembling faith is changed to fear,
The murmuring wind, the quivering leaf,
Shall softly tell us, thou art near!

On thee we fling our burdening woe,
O Love divine, forever dear!
Content to suffer while we know,
Living and dying, thou art near.

244. Paternal providence of God.

Through all the various shifting scene
Of life's mistaken ill or good,
Thy hand, O God! conducts, unseen,
The beautiful vicissitude.

Thou givest with paternal care,
Howe'er unjustly we complain,
To all their necessary share
Of joy and sorrow, health and pain.

All things on earth, and all in heaven,
On thine eternal will depend;
And all for greater good were given,
Would man pursue the appointed end.

Be this my care: to all beside Indifferent let my wishes be;
Passion be calm, and dumb be pride,
And fixed my soul, great God, on thee.

SAMUEL COLLETT, 1763.

245. The Light Divine.

The Lord hath said, 'Seek ye my face,'
Thy face, O Lord, we fain would see;
Though with the eyes in any place
This glorious vision may not be.

But to the pure in heart is given
A calm and blessed inward light,
By which they see the things of heaven,
Though hidden from all outward sight.

We lift our hearts, O Lord, to thee
To beg that thou wilt make them pure,
That we by light divine may see
And live the life that shall endure.

May no unhallowed thought or care,
No passion base, no sordid love,
That mirror bright in us impair,
In which are imaged things above.

246. 'I will arise, and go unto my Father.'

To thine eternal arms, O God,
Take us, thine erring children, in;
From dangerous paths too boldly trod,
From wandering thoughts and dreams of sin.

Those arms were round our childish ways,
A guard through helpless years to be;
O leave not our maturer days,
We still are helpless without thee!

We trusted hope and pride and strength:
Our strength proved false, our pride was vain,
Our dreams have faded all at length, —
We come to thee, O Lord, again!

A guide to trembling steps yet be,
Give us of thine eternal powers!
So shall our paths all lead to thee,
And life smile on, like childhood's hours.

THOMAS WENTWORTH HIGGINSON, 1847.

247. 'Trust and submission.'

My God, I thank thee! may no thought
E'er deem thy chastisements severe;
But may this heart, by sorrow taught,
Calm each wild wish, each idle fear.

Thy mercy bids all nature bloom;
The sun shines bright, and man is gay:
Thine equal mercy spreads the gloom
That darkens o'er his little day.

Full many a throb of grief and pain
Thy frail and erring child must know;
But not one prayer is breathed in vain,
Nor does one tear unheeded flow.

Thy various messengers employ,
Thy purposes of love fulfil;
And, mid the wreck of human joy,
Let kneeling faith adore thy will.

The shadow of the cross.

Beneath the shadow of the cross,
As earthly hopes remove,
His new commandment Jesus gives, —
His blessed word of love.

O bond of union, strong and deep!
O bond of perfect peace!
Not even the lifted cross can harm
If we but hold to this.

Then, Jesus, be thy spirit ours,
And swift our feet shall move
To deeds of pure self-sacrifice,
And the sweet tasks of love.

Unworthy to be called thy son.

Unworthy to be called thy son,
I come with shame to thee,
Father, O more than father thou
Hast always been to me.

Help me to break the heavy chains
The world has round me thrown,
And know the glorious liberty
Of an obedient son.

That I may henceforth heed whate'er
Thy voice within me saith,
Fix deeply in my heart of hearts
The mighty power of faith, —

Faith that, like armor to my soul,
Shall keep all evil out,
More mighty than an angel host
Encamping round about.

250. 'Though he slay me, yet will I trust him.'

Thy way is in the deep, O Lord;
E'en there we 'll go with thee:
We 'll meet the tempest at thy word,
And walk upon the sea.

Poor tremblers at his rougher wind,
Why do we doubt him so?
Who gives the storm a path will find
The way our feet shall go.

A moment may his hand be lost,
Drear moment of delay;
We cry, 'Lord, help the tempest-tost,'
And safe we 're borne away.

O happy soul of faith divine,
Thy victory how sure!
The love that kindles joy is thine,
The patience to endure.

JAMES MARTINEAU, 1840.

251. Worship in spirit and in truth.

Lord, when we bend before thy throne,
And our confessions pour,
Teach us to feel the sins we own,
And hate what we deplore.

Our contrite spirits pitying see;
True penitence impart;
Then let a healing ray from thee
Beam hope on every heart.

When we disclose our wants in prayer,
May we our wills resign,
And not a thought our bosom share,
Which is not wholly thine.

Let faith each meek petition fill,
And waft it to the skies,
And teach our hearts 't is goodness still,
That grants it, or denies.

252. In time of pestilence.

O Lord of life and death, we come
In sorrow to thy throne,
Yet not bewildered, blind, and dumb,
Before some power unknown.

The scourge is in our Father's hand,
The plague comes forth from thee:
O give us hearts to understand,
And faith thy ways to see!

Forgive the foul neglect that brought
Thy chastening to our door, —
The homes uncleansed, the souls untaught,
The unregarded poor;

The slothful ease, the greed of gain,
The wasted years, forgive;
Purge out our sins by needful pain,
Then turn, and bid us live!

So shall the lives for which we plead
Be spared to praise thee still,
And we, from fear and danger freed,
Be strong to do thy will.

JOHN ELLERTON, 1871.

253. 'The Eternal Goodness.'

I see the wrong that round me lies,
I feel the guilt within;
I hear, with groan and travail-cries,
The world confess its sin:

Yet in the maddening maze of things,
And tossed by storm and flood,
To one fixed stake my spirit clings, —
I know that God is good.

Not mine to look where cherubim
And seraphs may not see:
But nothing can be good in him
Which evil is in me.

The wrong that pains my soul below
I dare not throne above;
I know not of his hate, — I know
His goodness and his love.

And thou, O Lord, by whom are seen
Thy creatures as they be,
Forgive me, if too close I lean
My human heart on thee!

'He turneth the shadow of death into morning.'

Around my path life's mysteries
Their deepening shadows throw;
And as I gaze and ponder,
They dark and darker grow.
Yet still, amid the darkness,
I feel the light is near;
And in the awful silence
God's voice I seem to hear:

But hear it as the thunder,
Or murmuring of the sea;
The secret it is telling, —
But tells it not to me.
Yet hark! a voice above me,
Which says, 'Wait, trust, and pray:
The night will soon be over;
And light will come with day.'

Amen! the light and darkness
Are both alike to thee:
Then to thy waiting servant
Alike they both shall be.
That great, unending future!
I cannot pierce its shroud;
But I nothing doubt, nor tremble:
God's bow is on the cloud.

To him I yield my spirit;
On him I lay my load:
Fear ends with death; beyond it
I nothing see but God:
Thus moving toward the darkness,
I calmly wait his call:
Seeing and fearing nothing;
Hoping and trusting all!

255. For the dedication of a hospital.

Thou Lord of life, our saving health,
Who mak'st thy suffering ones our care,
Our gifts are still our truest wealth,
To serve thee our sincerest prayer.

As on the river's rising tide
Flow strength and coolness from the sea,
So through the ways our hands provide
May quickening life flow in from thee

To heal the wound, to still the pain,
And strength to failing pulses bring,
Till the lame feet shall leap again,
And the parched lips with gladness sing.

Bless thou the gifts our hands have brought;
Bless thou the work our hearts have planned:
Ours is the hope, the will, the thought;
The rest, O God, is in thy hand.

SAMUEL LONGFELLOW, 1886.

256. 'Made perfect through suffering.'

I bless thee, Lord, for sorrows sent
To break my dream of human power;
For now, my shallow cisterns spent,
I find thy founts, and thirst no more.

I take thy hand, and fears grow still;
Behold thy face, and doubts remove;
Who would not yield his wavering will
To perfect truth and boundless love?

That love this restless soul doth teach
The strength of thine eternal calm;
And tune its sad and broken speech
To join, on earth, the angels' psalm.

O be it patient in thy hands,
And drawn, through each mysterious hour,
To service of thy pure commands,
The narrow way to love and power.

SAMUEL JOHNSON.

257.

In our dark and doubtful strife.

In our dark and doubtful strife,
Through the careful days of life,
When we wander, wide and far,
Lord, be thou our stay and star.

In the darker wastes of thought,
In the net of passions caught,
When the sorrow of the heart
Deepens, — do not thou depart!

Thou dost never leave us, though,
In the unbelief of woe,
We have seemed to lose thy hand,
Stumbling through a lonely land,

Yet because we see thee not,
Vainly think we are forgot,
Let thy love, persistent still,
Seem to seek us on the hill.

Through the mist and blinding rack,
Bring us from our wandering back;
Over rocks, through haunted cleft,
Lead us to the fold we left.

There, where Love's sweet waters flow,
Through thy meadows soft and low,
Let thy joy in mercy spread
Trees of comfort o'er our head.

Comfort of Love.

O love of God most full,
O love of God most free,
Thou warm'st my heart, thou fill'st my soul,
With might thou strengthenest me.

No foe can cast me down,
No fear can make me flee,
No sorrow fill my life with ill;
Thy love surroundeth me.

The wildest sea is calm,
The tempest brings no fear,
The darkest night is full of light,
Because thy love is near.

I triumph over sin,
I put temptation down:
The love of God doth give me strength
To win the victor's crown.

O love of God most full,
O love of God most free,
Come warm my heart, come fill my soul,
Come lead me unto thee!

'Litany.'

When the world around us throws
All its proud, deceiving shows,
Yet the heart no danger knows;
Help us, Lord most holy.

In thy light alone to see,
By thy truth to be made free,
And to lean on none but thee;
Help us, Lord most holy.

By the joys that look above,
By the pains our faith to prove,
By the conquering power of love;
Help us, Lord most holy.

To our sinful selves to die,
Base desires to crucify,
And to set our hearts on high;
Help us, Lord most holy.

Thus to do thy will below,
Daily in thy grace to grow,
More and more thy love to know;
Help us, Lord most holy.

Thou art Love.

We cannot always trace the way
Where thou, our gracious Lord, dost move,
But we can always surely say
That thou art love.

When fear its gloomy cloud will fling
O'er earth, — our souls to heaven above,
As to their sanctuary, spring;
For thou art love.

When mystery shrouds our darkened path,
We'll check our dread, our doubts reprove;
In this our soul sweet comfort hath,
That thou art love.

Yes, thou art love; and truth like this
Can every gloomy thought remove,
And turn all tears, all woes to bliss;
Our God is love.

'Thy will is done.'

O God, not only in distress,
In pain, and want, and weariness,
Thy tender Spirit stoops to bless,
Thy will is done;

But oftener on the wings of peace
And girt about with tenderness,
Thou comest, and all troubles cease;
Thy will is done.

In all that nature hath supplied,
In flowers along the country side,
In morning light, in eventide,
Thy will is done.

In youthful days, when joys increase,
In light, in hope, in happiness,
In quiet times of trustful peace,
Thy will is done.

And when the burdened heart can bring
Its sorrow to thy feet, and cling
Till hope surpasses sorrowing,
Thy will is done.

Thy will is pure, O Lord, and just,
And we, frail creatures of the dust,
Through good or ill, can only trust
Thy will is done.

Thy will be done.

My God and Father, while I stray,
Far from my home, in life's rough way,
O teach me from my heart to say,
 'Thy will be done.'

Though thou hast called me to resign
What most I prized, it ne'er was mine:
I have but yielded what was thine, —
 'Thy will be done.'

Let but my fainting heart be blest
With thy sweet spirit for its guest,
My God, to thee I leave the rest, —
 'Thy will be done.'

Renew my will from day to day,
Blend it with thine, and take away
All that now makes it hard to say,
 'Thy will be done.'

'The pillar of the cloud.'

Lead, kindly Light, amid the encircling gloom,
 Lead thou me on.
 The night is dark, and I am far from home, —
 Lead thou me on.
 Keep thou my feet; I do not ask to see
 The distant scene, — one step enough for me.
 I was not ever thus, nor prayed that thou
 Shouldst lead me on;
 I loved to choose and see my path; but now
 Lead thou me on.
 I loved the garish day, and, spite of fears,
 Pride ruled my will; remember not past years.
 So long thy power hath blest me, sure it still
 Will lead me on,
 O'er moor and fen, o'er crag and torrent, till
 The night is gone;
 And with the morn those angel faces smile
 Which I have loved long since, and lost awhile.

2 He leads us on,— through all the unquiet years;
Past all our dreamland hopes, and doubts, and fears
He guides our steps; through all the tangled maze
Of losses, sorrows, and o'erclouded days
We know his will is done;
And still he leads us on.

3 And he, at last, after the weary strife,
After the restless fever we call life,
After the dreariness, the aching pain,
The wayward struggles which have proved in vain,
After our toils are past,
Will give us rest at last.

'When winds are raging.'

When winds are raging o'er the upper ocean,
And billows wild contend with angry roar,
'T is said, far down beneath the wild commotion
That peaceful stillness reigneth evermore.

Far, far beneath, the noise of tempest dieth,
And silver waves chime ever peacefully;
And no rude storm, how fierce soe'er he flieth,
Disturbs the sabbath of that deeper sea.

So to the soul that knows thy love, O Purest,
There is a temple, peaceful evermore;
And all the babble of life's angry voices
Dies in hushed stillness at its sacred door.

Far, far away, the noise of passion dieth,
And loving thoughts rise ever peacefully;
And no rude storm, how fierce soe'er he flieth,
Disturbs that deeper rest, O Lord, in thee.

O troubled sea of Galilee.

O troubled sea of Galilee,
When run thy billows high,
And through thy dreaded storms I see
That pain and death are nigh;
O when thy threatening clouds appear
And floods impending chill,
Through surge and tempest may I hear
A voice say, 'Peace, be still.'

O storied sea of Galilee,
Through all the changing years,
Thy stress is type of storms to be
And sign of rising fears;
Thy tempests drive our hopes across
The floods of human ill;
The conquest o'er all pain and loss
Is in thy 'Peace, be still.'

Thou vaster sea than Galilee,
Where may I look for peace?
What wondrous power commanding thee
Can cause thy winds to cease?
Praise God! that o'er all surging tides
There broods his sovereign will;
That in each inmost soul abides
His conquering 'Peace be still.'

A prayer of repentance.

Thou knowest, Lord! thou know'st my life's deep story,
And all the mingled good and ill I do!
Thou seest my shame, my few stray gleams of glory,
Where I am false and where my soul rings true.

Lord! I am glad thou know'st my inmost being,
Glad thou dost search the secrets of my heart;
I would not hide one folly from thy seeing,
Nor shun thy healing touch to save the smart.

Like warp and woof the good and ill are blended,
Nor do I see the pattern that I weave;
Yet in thy love the whole is comprehended,
And in thy hand my future lot I leave.

Only, dear Lord, make plain the path of duty;
Let not my shame and sorrow weigh me down,
Lest in despair I fail to see its beauty,
And weeping vainly miss the victor's crown.

268.'For divine Strength.'*

Father, in thy mysterious presence kneeling,
Fain would our souls feel all thy kindling love;
For we are weak, and need some deep revealing
Of trust and strength and calmness from above.

Lord, we have wandered forth through doubt and sorrow,
And thou hast made each step an onward one;
And we will ever trust each unknown morrow, —
Thou wilt sustain us till its work is done.

In the heart's depths a peace serene and holy Abides; and when pain seems to have its will,
Or we despair, O may that peace rise slowly,
Stronger than agony, and we be still!

Now, Father, now, in thy dear presence kneeling,
Our spirits yearn to feel thy kindling love:
Now make us strong, we need thy deep revealing
Of trust and strength and calmness from above.

'I hear thy voice.'

I hear thy voice, within the silence speaking;
Above earth's din it rises, calm and clear;
Whatever goal my wayward will is seeking,
Its whispered message tells me thou art near.

In sorrow's hour, when frowning storm-clouds hide thee,
And faith can see no friendly stars above,
Still, through the gloom, thy words of comfort guide me,
And I find light and shelter in thy love.

When evil reigns, life's darker depths revealing,
And all the good seems sadly marred by wrong,
Amidst the discord, like sweet music stealing,
Thy voice, abiding, fills my soul with song.

When I forget the measure of thy kindness,
And spurn the Love that hourly gives me breath,
Thy voice, persuading still my wilful blindness,
Calls back my straying feet from ways of death.

O living voice, within the silence calling!
My spirit answers, wheresoe'er I roam;
Through life's brief day still keep my feet from falling,
And lead me, through the evening shadows, home.

Touch thou mine eyes, — the somber shadows falling
 Shut from my sight the kindly light of day!
 Out of the depths my soul to thee is calling,
 Touch thou mine eyes, I can not see the way!
 Dark is the path, through desert places leading,
 Alone I tread the wastes of doubt and fear;
 Fainting, I fall, with bruised feet and bleeding,
 O touch mine eyes, that I may know thee near!
 Fain would I see, as in the olden story,
 Thy shining hosts encamped on every side;
 Angels of light, armed with thy power and glory,
 To guard my steps, whatever may betide.
 Frail is the flesh that waits for thine appearing,
 And blind the dust that turns to thee for sight;
 Thy power must quicken earthly sight and hearing,
 Thy word impart the Spirit's life and light.
 Life of the life that hour by hour is dying,
 In death, I live, by thy sustaining grace!
 Father, who hearest all thy children's crying,
 Touch thou mine eyes, that I may see thy face!

'Prayer for purity.'

Father, to us thy children, humbly kneeling,
Conscious of weakness, ignorance, sin, and shame,
Give such a force of holy thought and feeling,
That we may live to glorify thy name,

That we may conquer base desire and passion,
That we may rise from selfish thought and will,
O'ercome the world's allurements, threat, and fashion,
Walk humbly, gently, leaning on thee still.

Let all thy goodness by our minds be seen,
Let all thy mercy on our souls be sealed:

'Father, to thee.'

Father, to thee we look in all our sorrow,
 Thou art the fountain whence our healing flows;
 Dark though the night, joy cometh with the morrow;
 Safely they rest who on thy love repose.

When fond hopes fail and skies are dark before us,
 When the vain cares that vex our life increase, —
 Comes with its calm the thought that thou art o'er us,
 And we grow quiet, folded in thy peace.

Nought shall affright us on thy goodness leaning,
 Low in the heart faith singeth still her song;
 Chastened by pain we learn life's deeper meaning,
 And in our weakness thou dost make us strong.

Patient, O heart, though heavy be thy sorrows!
 Be not cast down, disquieted in vain;
 Yet shalt thou praise him when these darkened furrows,
 Where now he ploweth, wave with golden grain.

Come unto me.

Come unto me when shadows darkly gather,
 When the sad heart is weary and distressed,
 Seeking for comfort from your heavenly Father;
 Come unto me, and I will give you rest,

Ye who have mourned when the spring flowers were taken,
 When the ripe fruit fell richly to the ground,
 When the loved slept, in brighter homes to waken,
 Where their pale brows with spirit-wreaths are crowned.

Large are the mansions in your Father's dwelling,
 Glad are the homes that sorrows never dim;
 Sweet are the harps in holy music swelling,
 Soft are the tones which raise the heavenly hymn.

There, like an Eden blossoming in gladness,
 Bloom the fair flowers the earth too rudely pressed:
 Come unto me, all ye who droop in sadness,
 Come unto me, and I will give you rest.

Make him but room, he seeks to enter in,
To bring thee peace for pain, and heal thy sin.

His heart is wide, and none will he cast out.

Come then in trust and unto God draw nigh,
Live in his life, and thou shalt never die.

Prayer.

Prayer is the soul's sincere desire,
Uttered or unexpressed,
The motion of a hidden fire,
That trembles in the breast.

Prayer is the burden of a sigh,
The falling of a tear,
The upward glancing of an eye,
When none but God is near.

Prayer is the simplest form of speech
That infant lips can try,
Prayer the sublimest strains that reach
The Majesty on high.

O thou by whom we come to God, —
The life, the truth, the way, —
The path of prayer thyself hast trod,
Lord, teach us how to pray!

That will not murmur nor complain
Beneath the chastening rod,
But, in the hour of grief or pain,
Can lean upon its God, —

A faith that shines more bright and clear
When tempests rage without,
That when in danger knows no fear,
In darkness feels no doubt.

Lord, give me such a faith as this,
And then, whate'er may come,
I taste e'en now the hallowed bliss
Of an eternal home.

A - MEN.

278.Resignation.

One prayer I have,— all prayers in one,—
When I am wholly thine:
Thy will, my God, thy will be done;
And let that will be mine.

All-wise, almighty, and all-good,
In thee I firmly trust;
Thy ways, unknown or understood,
Are merciful and just.

May I remember that to thee,
Whate'er I have I owe;
And back in gratitude from me
May all thy bounties flow.

Thy gifts are only then enjoyed
When used as talents lent;
Those talents only well employed
When in thy service spent.

And, though thy wisdom takes away,
Shall I arraign thy will?
No: let me bless thy name, and say,
'The Lord is gracious still.'

'My Psalm.'

All as God wills, who wisely heeds
To give or to withhold,
And knoweth more of all my needs
Than all my prayers have told.

Enough that blessings undeserved
Have marked my erring track;
That, wheresoe'er my feet have swerved,
His chastening turned me back;

That more and more a providence
Of love is understood,
Making the springs of time and sense
Sweet with eternal good;

That death seems but a covered way
Which opens into light,
Wherein no blinded child can stray
Beyond the Father's sight.

No longer forward nor behind
I look, in hope or fear,
But grateful take the good I find,
God's blessing now and here.

JOHN GREENLEAF WHITTIER,* 1859.

Come, mighty Spirit.

Come, mighty Spirit, penetrate
This heart and soul of mine,
And my whole being with thy grace
Pervade, O Life divine!

As this clear air surrounds the earth,
Thy grace around me roll;
As the fresh light pervades the air,
So pierce and fill my soul;

As from these clouds drops down in love
The precious summer rain,
So from thyself pour down the flood
That freshens all again:

Thus life within our lifeless hearts
Shall make its glad abode,
And we shall shine in beauteous light,
Filled with the light of God.

God our dwelling-place.

O God, our dwelling-place,
Our times are thine;
Through all our years we trace
Love's large design.
Lure us to high desire
And with celestial fire
In all our souls inspire
Thy life divine.

O Fount, unspent and pure,
The fainting soul
Thou canst from death restore,
Its grief console.
Health thou alone canst give
O let all hearts receive!
Bid us arise and live,
By thee made whole.

Bless thou our thought of thee,
To error prone;
In holier song may we
Thy name enthrone.
By widening duties cast
Within thy purpose vast,
May we know thee at last
As we are known.

In service strong and fair
Forth may we go
Thy kingdom to prepare,
Thy truth to know.
For temples let us raise
Pure hearts that sing thy praise;
And unto endless days
Thy glory show.

282.

Stayed on Thee.

Not what I am, O Lord, but what thou art!
That, that alone can be my soul's true rest;
Thy love, not mine, bids fear and doubt depart,
And stills the tempest of my tossing breast.

It blesses now, and shall forever bless;
It saves me now, and shall forever save;
It holds me up in days of helplessness,
It bears me safely o'er each swelling wave.

Girt with the love of God on every side,
Breathing that love as heaven's own healing air,
I work or wait, still following my Guide,
Braving each foe, escaping every snare.

'T is what I know of thee, my Lord and God,
That fills my soul with peace, my lips with song;
Thou art my health, my joy, my staff, my rod,
Leaning on thee, in weakness I am strong.

283.

'Abide in me and I in you.'

Abide in me; o'ershadow by thy love
Each half-formed purpose and dark thought of sin;
Quench, ere it rise, each selfish, low desire,
And keep my soul as thine, calm and divine.

As some rare perfume in a vase of clay
Pervades it with a fragrance not its own,
So when thou dwellest in a mortal soul,
All heaven's own sweetness seems around it thrown.

Abide in me; there have been moments blest,
When I have heard thy voice and felt thy power;
Then evil lost its grasp, and passion, hushed,
Owned the divine enchantment of the hour.

These were but seasons beautiful and rare;
Abide in me, and they shall ever be;
Fulfil at once thy precept and my prayer, —
Come and abide in me, and I in thee.

HARRIET BEECHER STOWE, 1855.

284.

'They looked unto him and were lightened.'

I look to thee in every need,
 And never look in vain;
 I feel thy strong and tender love,
 And all is well again:
 The thought of thee is mightier far
 Than sin and pain and sorrow are.

Discouraged in the work of life,
 Disheartened by its load,
 Shamed by its failures or its fears,
 I sink beside the road;
 But let me only think of thee,
 And then new heart springs up in me.

Thy calmness bends serene above,
 My restlessness to still;
 Around me flows thy quickening life,
 To nerve my faltering will;
 Thy presence fills my solitude;
 Thy providence turns all to good.

Embosomed deep in thy dear love,
 Held in thy law, I stand;
 Thy hand in all things I behold,
 And all things in thy hand;
 Thou ledest me by unsought ways,
 And turn'st my mourning into praise.

285.

Dear Lord and Father of mankind!

Dear Lord and Father of mankind!
 Forgive our foolish ways!
 Reclothe us in our rightful mind,
 In purer lives thy service find,
 In deeper reverence, praise.

In simple trust like theirs who heard,
 Beside the Syrian sea,
 The gracious calling of the Lord,
 Let us, like them, without a word,
 Rise up and follow thee.

O Sabbath rest by Galilee!
 O calm of hills above,
 Where Jesus knelt to share with thee
 The silence of eternity
 Interpreted by love!

With that deep hush subduing all
 Our words and works that drown
 The tender whisper of thy call,
 As noiseless let thy blessing fall
 As fell thy manna down.

Drop thy still dews of quietness,
 Till all our strivings cease;
 Take from our souls the strain and stress,
 And let our ordered lives confess
 The beauty of thy peace.

286.

'Love and life.'

O Love that wilt not let me go,
 I rest my weary soul in thee;
 I give thee back the life I owe,
 That in thine ocean depths its flow
 May richer, fuller be.

O Light that followest all my way,
 I yield my flickering torch to thee;
 My heart restores its borrowed ray,
 That in thy sunshine's blaze its day
 May brighter, fairer be.

O Joy that seekest me through pain,
 I cannot close my heart to thee;
 I trace the rainbow through the rain,
 And feel the promise is not vain
 That morn shall tearless be.

O Cross that liftest up my head,
 I dare not ask to fly from thee;
 I lay in dust life's glory dead,
 And from the ground there blossoms red
 Life that shall endless be.

Alternative Tune : St. Edmund.

287.

Nearer, my God, to Thee.

Nearer, my God, to thee;
Nearer to thee!
E'en though it be a cross
That raiseth me,
Still all my song shall be,
Nearer, my God, to thee,
Nearer to thee!

Though like the wanderer,
The sun gone down,
Darkness be over me,
My rest a stone,
Yet in my dreams I'd be
Nearer, my God, to thee,
Nearer to thee.

There let the way appear
Steps unto heaven;
All that thou sendest me
In mercy given;
Angels to beckon me
Nearer, my God, to thee,
Nearer to thee.

Then, with my waking thoughts
Bright with thy praise,
Out of my stony griefs
Bethel I'll raise;
So by my woes to be
Nearer, my God, to thee,
Nearer to thee.

Or if on joyful wing
Cleaving the sky,
Sun, moon, and stars forgot,
Upwards I fly,
Still all my song shall be,
Nearer, my God, to thee,
Nearer to thee!

'Verborgne Gottesliebe du.'

'Remembrance of the presence of God.'

Thou hidden love of God, whose height,
Whose depth unfathomed no man knows,
I see from far thy beauteous light,
Inly I sigh for thy repose;
My heart is pained; nor can it be
At rest till it find rest in thee.

Thy secret voice invites me still
The sweetness of thy yoke to prove:
And fain I would; but though my will Seem fixed, yet wide my passions rove;
Yet hindrances strew all the way;
I aim at thee, yet from thee stray.

'Tis mercy all, that thou hast brought
My mind to seek her peace in thee:

Yet, while I seek, but find thee not,
No peace my wandering soul shall see.
O when shall all my wanderings end,
And all my steps to thee-ward tend?

O Love, thy sovereign aid impart
To save me from low-thoughted care;
Chase this self-will through all my heart,
Through all its latent mazes there;
Make me thy duteous child, that I
Ceaseless may 'Abba, Father,' cry!

Each moment draw from earth away
My heart, that lowly waits thy call;
Speak to my inmost soul, and say,
'I am thy Love, thy God, thy All!'
To feel thy power, to hear thy voice,
To taste thy love, be all my choice.

GERHARD TERSTEEGEN, 1720.
TRANS. JOHN WESLEY, 1738.

289. 'He that dwelleth in the secret place of the Most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.'

O Thou with whom in sweet content,
The soul that loves thee shall abide,
Grant that thy Spirit may be sent,
That by its influence purified
And touched and blessed, we may be free,
Father and Friend, to dwell with thee.

O fire our hearts with quenchless love
For men, and for thy truth divine,
That we may guide to things above,
Where in thy heavens eternal shine
The strong attractions of that home
From which, when found, no soul can roam.

And if upon our lonely way,
We faint and cry to thee for aid,
Then, O our Father, grant, we pray,
That, by us trembling and afraid,
May walk the Leader of our race,
Filling with light and joy the place.

Crown us with love, and so with peace,
Transfigure duty to delight;
Our lips inspire, our faith increase,

Brighten with hope our darkest night.
Bring us from earthly bondage free,
To find our heaven in serving thee.

HENRY WILDER FOOTE, 1861.

290. 'For those at sea.'

Eternal Peace, whose word of old
In the great basins poured the main,
And shut within their rocky fold
The unnumbered flocks of ocean's plain:
O hear us! while the billows roar,
For those who sail from shore to shore.

Great God, whose path upon the deep
Is still unknown, but who didst keep Thine ancient people, when the wind
And Egypt followed fast behind;
O hear us, when our prayer to thee
Ascends for those we love at sea.

O thou, who for the psalmist made
The storm a calm, and brought him through
The surging ocean unafraid,
Unto the home he longed to view:
To all who sail the waters rude,
Give equal trust and fortitude.

STOFFORD AUGUSTUS BROOKE, 1891.

291. 'My times are in thy hand.'

Father, I know that all my life
Is portioned out for me,
And the changes that are sure to come
I do not fear to see;
But I ask thee for a present mind
Intent on pleasing thee.

I ask thee for a thoughtful love,
Through constant watching wise,
To meet the glad with joyful smiles,
And to wipe the weeping eyes;
And a heart at leisure from itself,
To soothe and sympathize.

Wherever in the world I am,
In whatsoe'er estate,
I have a fellowship with hearts
To keep and cultivate;
And a work of lowly love to do
For the Lord on whom I wait.

ANNA LETITIA WARING, 1850.

292. 'My times are in thy hand.'

I ask thee for the daily strength,
To none that ask denied;
And a mind to blend with outward life
While keeping at thy side:
Content to fill a little space,
If thou be glorified.

And if some things I do not ask
In my cup of blessing be,
I would have my spirit filled the more
With grateful love to thee,—
More careful, not to serve thee much,
But to please thee perfectly.

In a service which thy will appoints,
There are no bonds for me;
For my inmost heart is taught 'the truth'
That makes thy children 'free':
And a life of self-renouncing love
Is a life of liberty.

ANNA LETITIA WARING, 1850.

And our eternal home!

294.

A song of trust.

O Love divine, of all that is
The sweetest still and best,
Fain would I come and rest my heart
Upon thy faithful breast.
I pray thee turn me not away,
For, sinful though I be,
Thou knowest everything I need,
And all my need of thee.

I do not pray because I would;
I pray because I must:
There is no meaning in my prayer
But thankfulness and trust;
And thou wilt hear the thought I mean
And not the words I say;
Wilt hear the thanks among the words
That only seem to pray.

Thou dost not wait until I urge
My wayward steps to thee,
But in the darkness of my life
Art coming still to me.
And, even while it sighed, my heart
Has sung itself to rest,
O Love divine, forever near,
Upon thy faithful breast.

'So near, so far.'

O Thou, in all thy might so far,
In all thy love so near,
Beyond the range of sun and star,
And yet beside us here, —

• What heart can comprehend thy name,
Or, searching, find thee out,
Who art within, a quickening flame,
A presence round about.

Yet though I know thee but in part,
I ask not, Lord, for more:
Enough for me to know thou art,
To love thee and adore.

O sweeter now than aught besides,
The tender mystery
That like a veil of shadow hides
The light I may not see!

And dearer than all things I know
Is childlike faith to me,
That makes the darkest way I go
An open path to thee.

FREDERICK LUCIAN HOSMER, 1876.

296.

'They that know thy name will put their trust in thee.'

O Name, all other names above,
What art thou not to me,
Now I have learned to trust thy love
And cast my care on thee!

What is our being but a cry,
A restless longing still,
Which thou alone canst satisfy,
Alone thy fulness fill!

Thrice blessed be the holy souls
That lead the way to thee,
That burn upon the martyr-rolls
And lists of prophecy.

And sweet it is to tread the ground
O'er which their faith hath trod;
But sweeter far, when thou art found,
The soul's own sense of God!

The thought of thee all sorrow calms,
Our anxious burdens fall;
His crosses turn to triumph-palms
Who finds in God his all!

297. All the earth is holy land.

We go not on a pilgrimage,
As those who went of old;
The Holy Land around us lies
Of which we have been told.

I see it when the morning sun
Doth rise o'er land and sea;
The moon's mild beams, the silent stars
Reveal it unto me.

In all that's good, in all that's fair,
I see its glory shine;
As in the Holy Land of old,
The ancient Palestine.

And brighter yet, in days to come,
Shall shine its wondrous light,
Till all the earth is holy land,
With heavenly radiance bright.

We go not on a pilgrimage,
As those who went of old;
The Holy Land around us lies,
Of which we have been told.

298. 'A Psalm of Trust.'

I came not hither of my will
Or wisdom of mine own:
That higher Power upholds me still,
And still must bear me on.

I knew not of this wondrous earth,
Nor dreamed what blessings lay
Beyond the gates of human birth
To glad my future way.

And what beyond this life may be
As little I divine, —
What love may wait to welcome me,
What fellowships be mine.

I know not what beyond may lie,
But look, in humble faith,
Into a larger life to die
And find new birth in death.

Upon his providence I lean,
As lean in faith I must;
The lesson of my life hath been
A heart of grateful trust.

FREDERICK LUCIAN HOSMER, 1883.

299. 'Light shining out of Darkness.'

God moves in a mysterious way
His wonders to perform:
He plants his footsteps in the sea,
And rides upon the storm.

Deep in unfathomable mines
Of never-failing skill,
He treasures up his bright designs,
And works his sovereign will.

Judge not the Lord by feeble sense,
But trust him for his grace:
Behind a frowning providence
He hides a smiling face.

His purposes will ripen fast,
Unfolding every hour:
The bud may have a bitter taste,
But sweet will be the flower.

Blind unbelief is sure to err,
And scan his work in vain:
God is his own interpreter,
And he will make it plain.

WILLIAM COWPER, 1774.

300. 'The Right must Win.'

Workman of God, O lose not heart,
But learn what God is like!
And, in the darkest battle-field,
Thou shalt know where to strike.

O blest is he to whom is given
The instinct that can tell
That God is on the field when he Is most invisible!

Blest too is he who can divine
Where real right doth lie,
And dares to take the side that seems
Wrong to man's blindfold eye.

He always wins who sides with God,
To him no chance is lost:
God's will is sweetest to him when
It triumphs at his cost.

For right is right, since God is God;
And right the day must win;
To doubt would be disloyalty,
To falter would be sin.

God's Glory.

God's glory is a wondrous thing,
Most strange in all its ways;
And, of all things on earth, least like
What men agree to praise.

He hides himself so wondrously,
As though there were no God;
He is least seen when all the powers
Of ill are most abroad.

Ah, God is other than we think;
His ways are far above,
Far beyond reason's height, and reached
Only by childlike love.

My God, how wonderful thou art,
Thy majesty how bright!
How beautiful thy mercy-seat
In depths of burning light!

FREDERICK WILLIAM FABER, 1849.

302.

The Will of God.

I worship thee, sweet will of God!
And all thy ways adore;
And every day I live, I long
To love thee more and more.

When obstacles and trials seem Like prison-walls to be,
I do the little I can do,
And leave the rest to thee.

Man's weakness waiting upon God
Its end can never miss;
For men on earth no work can do
More angel-like than this.

He always wins who sides with God,
To him no chance is lost:
God's will is sweetest to him when
It triumphs at his cost.

Ill that God blesses is our good,
And unblest good is ill;
And all is right that seems most wrong,
If it be his dear will!

Psalm XXIII.

The Lord's my Shepherd, I'll not want,
He makes me down to lie
In pastures green, he leadeth me
The quiet waters by.

My soul he doth restore again;
And me to walk doth make
Within the paths of righteousness,
Ev'n for his own name's sake.

Yea, though I walk in death's dark vale,
Yet will I fear no ill;

For thou art with me, and thy rod
And staff me comfort still.

My table thou hast furnishéd
In presence of my foes;
My head thou dost with oil anoint,
And my cup overflows.

Goodness and mercy all my life
Shall surely follow me;
And in God's house forevermore
My dwelling-place shall be.

Abiding under the shadow of the Almighty.

While thee I seek, protecting Power,
Be my vain wishes stilled;
And may this consecrated hour
With better hopes be filled.

Thy love the powers of thought bestowed,
To thee my thoughts would soar;
Thy mercy o'er my life has flowed,
That mercy I adore.

In each event of life how clear
Thy ruling hand I see,
Each blessing to my soul more dear
Because conferred by thee.

In every joy that crowns my days,
In every pain I bear,
My heart shall find delight in praise,
Or seek relief in prayer.

When gladness wings my favored hour,
Thy love my thoughts shall fill;
Resigned, when storms of sorrow lower,
My soul shall meet thy will.

My lifted eye without a tear
The lowering storm shall see;
My steadfast heart shall know no fear,
That heart will rest on thee.

Psalm XXIII.

The Lord is my shepherd, no want shall I know:
 I feed in green pastures, safe folded I rest;
 He leadeth my soul where the still waters flow,
 Restores me when wandering, redeems when oppressed.

Through the valley and shadow of death though I stray,
 Since thou art my guardian, no evil I fear:
 Thy rod shall defend me, thy staff be my stay;
 No harm can befall, with my comforter near.

In the midst of affliction, my table is spread;
 With blessings unmeasured my cup runneth o'er;
 With perfume and oil thou anointest my head:
 O what shall I ask of thy providence more?

Let goodness and mercy, my bountiful God,
 Still follow my steps till I meet thee above.
 I seek, by the path which my forefathers trod
 Through the land of their sojourn, thy kingdom of love.

The hidden Source of calm repose.

Thou hidden Source of calm repose,
Thou all-sufficient Love Divine,
My help and refuge from my foes,
Secure I am while thou art mine:
And, lo! from sin and grief and shame
I hide me, Father, in thy name.

Thy mighty name salvation is,
And keeps my happy soul above;
Comfort it brings, and power and peace,
And joy and everlasting love:
To me, with thy dear name are given
Pardon and holiness and heaven.

Father, my all in all thou art,
My rest in toil, my ease in pain;
The balm to heal my broken heart;
In war my peace, in loss my gain;
My smile beneath the tyrant's frown;
In shame, my glory and my crown;

In want, my plentiful supply;
In weakness, my almighty power;
In bonds, my perfect liberty;
My light in evil's darkest hour;
In grief, my joy unspeakable:
My life in death, my all in all.

CHARLES WESLEY,* 1740.

307. 'Sow in the morn thy seed.'

Sow in the morn thy seed,
At eve hold not thy hand;
To doubt and fear give thou no heed,
Broadcast it o'er the land.
Beside all waters sow,
The highway furrows stock,
Drop it where thorns and thistles grow,
Scatter it on the rock.

The good, the fruitful ground
Expect not here nor there;
O'er hill and dale by plots 't is found;
Go forth, then, everywhere.
Thou know'st not which may thrive,
The late or early sown;
Grace keeps the precious germs alive
When and whenever strown.

And duly shall appear
In verdure, beauty, strength,
The tender blade, the stalk, the ear,
And the full corn at length.
Thou canst not toil in vain;
Cold, heat, the moist and dry,
Shall foster and mature the grain
For garners in the sky.

JAMES MONTAGUE, 1822.

308. 'Befiehl du deine Wege.'

Give to the winds thy fears;
Hope, and be undismayed:
God hears thy sighs and counts thy tears;
God shall lift up thy head.
Still heavy is thy heart?
Still sink thy spirits down?
Cast off the weight, let fear depart,
And every care be gone.

Commit thou all thy griefs
And ways into his hands,
To his sure truth and tender care,
Who earth and heaven commands.
Who points the clouds their course,
Whom winds and seas obey,
He shall direct thy wandering feet,
He shall prepare thy way.

He everywhere hath sway,
And all things serve his might;
His every act pure blessing is,
His path unsullied light.
Leave to his sovereign will
To choose and to command:
With wonder filled, thou then shalt own
How wise, how strong his hand.

'Herzlich thut mich verlangen.'

May be sung in unison.

The musical score is written for a single voice part in 4/4 time, with a key signature of one sharp (F#). It consists of four systems of music, each with a vocal line and a corresponding German lyric line. The lyrics are: '1 Com - mit thou all thy griefs . . And ways in - to his hands; To his sure truth and ten - der care Who earth and heav'n com-mands. Who points the clouds their cours - es, Whom winds and seas o - bey; He shall di - rect thy wand - 'ring feet, He shall pre - pare thy way. A - MEN.'

2 Thou on the Lord rely,
So safe shalt thou go on;
Fix on his work thy steadfast eye,
So shall thy work be done.
No profit canst thou gather
By self-consuming care;
To him commend thy cause, his ear
Attends the softest prayer.

3 Thou seest our weakness, Father;
Our hearts are known to thee;
O lift thou up the sinking hand,
Confirm the feeble knee!

And publish with our latest breath
Thy love and guardian care!

310. My God, my strength, my hope.

My God, my strength, my hope,
On thee I cast my care,
With humble confidence look up,
And know thou hear'st my prayer.

Give me on thee to wait,
Till I can all things do, —
On thee, almighty to create,
Almighty to renew.

I want a true regard,
A single, steady aim,
Unmoved by threatening or reward,
To thee and thy great name;

A zealous, just concern
For thine immortal praise;
A pure desire that all may learn,
And glorify thy grace.

I rest upon thy word;
The promise is for me:
My succor and salvation, Lord,
Shall surely come from thee.

But let me still abide,
Nor from my hope remove,
Till thou my patient spirit guide
Into thy perfect love.

CHARLES WESLEY, 1742.

311. 'Forever with the Lord.'

'Forever with the Lord!'
Amen; so let it be;
Life from the dead is in that word,
'T is immortality.

Here in the body pent,
Absent from him I roam,
Yet nightly pitch my moving tent
A day's march nearer home.

'Forever with the Lord!'
Father, if 't is thy will,
The promise of that faithful word,
Even here to me fulfil.

Be thou at my right hand,
Then can I never fail;
Uphold thou me, and I shall stand,
Fight, and I must prevail.

'God's Care a Remedy for ours.'

How gentle God's commands!
How kind his precepts are!
Come, cast your burdens on the Lord,
And trust his constant care.

While Providence supports,
Let saints securely dwell:
That hand which bears all nature up
Shall guide his children well.

Why should this anxious load
Press down your weary mind?
Haste to your heavenly Father's throne,
And sweet refreshment find.

His goodness stands approved
Down to the present day:
I'll drop my burden at his feet,
And bear a song away.

Psalm XVIII.

O God, my strength and fortitude,
Of force I must love thee!
Thou art my castle and defense
In my necessity:

My God, my rock in whom I trust,
The worker of my wealth,
My refuge, buckler, and my shield,
The horn of all my health.

I when beset with pain and grief
Did pray to God for grace,
And he forthwith did hear my plaint
Out of his holy place.

Unspotted are the ways of God,
His word is purely tried;
He is a sure defense to such
As in his faith abide.

The Lord will give his people strength
Whereby they shall increase;
And he will bless his chosen flock
With everlasting peace.

314. 'Ein' feste Burg ist unser Gott.'

A mighty fortress is our God,
A bulwark never failing;
Our helper he amid the flood
Of mortal ills prevailing.
For still our ancient foe
Doth seek to work us woe;
His craft and power are great;
And, armed with cruel hate,
On earth is not his equal.

God's word above all earthly powers —
No thanks to them — abideth;
The spirit and the gifts are ours,
Through him who with us sideth.
Let goods and kindred go,
This mortal life also;
The body they may kill,
God's truth abideth still;
His kingdom is for ever.

MARTIN LUTHER, 1520.
TRANS. FREDERIC HENRY HEDGE, 1852.

315. Psalm CXXXV. 1.

Rejoice to-day with one accord,
Sing out with exultation;
Rejoice and praise our mighty Lord,
Whose arm hath brought salvation;
His works of love proclaim
The greatness of his name;
For he is God alone,
Who hath his mercy shown;
Let all his saints adore him.

When in distress to him we cried,
He heard our sad complaining;
O trust in him, whate'er betide,
His love is all-sustaining;
Triumphant songs of praise
To him our hearts shall raise:
Now every voice shall say,
'O praise our God alway;'
Let all his saints adore him.

Gratitude.

My God, I thank thee who hast made
The earth so bright,
So full of splendor and of joy;
Beauty and light;
So many glorious things are here,
Noble and right.

I thank thee, too, that thou hast made
Joy to abound;
So many gentle thoughts and deeds
Circling us round,
That in the darkest spot of earth
Some love is found.

I thank thee more that all our joy
Is touched with pain;
That shadows fall on brightest hours,
That thorns remain;
So that earth's bliss may be our guide,
And not our chain.

For thou who knowest, Lord, how soon
Our weak heart clings,
Hast given us joys, tender and true,
Yet all with wings;
So that we see, gleaming on high,
Diviner things.

I thank thee, Lord, that thou hast kept
The best in store;
We have enough, yet not too much
To long for more; —
A yearning for a deeper peace,
Not known before.

A hymn of thankfulness.

I bring my hymn of thankfulness
To thee, dear Lord, to-day,
Though not for joys thy name I bless
And not for gifts I pray.
The griefs that know not man's redress
Before thy feet I lay.

I thank thee for the life of grief
I share with all below,
Wherein I learn the sure relief
My brother's heart to know,
And in the wisdom taught of pain
To soothe and share his woe.

I thank thee for my vain desires
That no fulfilment knew,
For life's consuming, cleansing fires,
That searched me through and through
Till I could say to him 'Forgive,
They know not what they do.'

What fulness of my earthly store,
What shine of harvest sun,
What joyful song of thankfulness,
Here ended or begun,
Shall mate with mine who learn so late
To know thy will is done?

Perfect peace.

In quiet hours the tranquil soul
Reflects the beauty of the sky:
No passions rise or billows roll,
And only God and heaven are nigh.

The tides of being ebb and flow,
Creating peace without alloy:
A sacred happiness we know,
Too high for mirth, too deep for joy.

Like birds that slumber on the sea,
Unconscious where the current runs,
We rest on God's infinity
Of bliss, that circles stars and suns.

His perfect peace has swept from sight
The narrow bounds of time and space,
And looking up with still delight
We catch the glory of his face.

Come, Holy Spirit.

Spirit of power, and truth, and love,
Who sitt'st enthroned in light above,
Descend, and bear us on thy wings
Far from these low and fleeting things.

Compassed by foes on every side,
By sin and sore temptation tried,
Where can we look or whither flee
If not, great Strengtheners, to thee?

Come, Holy Spirit, like the fire,
With burning zeal our souls inspire,
Come like the south wind breathing balm,
Our joys refresh, our passions calm.

Come like the sun's enlightening beam,
Come like the cooling, cleansing stream,
With all thy graces present be:
Spirit of God, we wait for thee.

320. More light, more love, more life.

I thank thee, Lord, for precious things
Which thou into my life hast brought;
More gratefully my spirit sings
Its thanks for all I yet have not.

How fair thy world to me has been!
How dear the friends who breathe its air!
But who can guess what waits within Thine opening realms, thy worlds more fair?

At friendly shores, at peaceful isles
I touch, but may not long delay;
Where thy flushed East with mystery smiles
I steer into the unrisen day.

For veils of hope before thee drawn,
For mists that hint the immortal coast
Hid in thy farthest, faintest dawn, —
My God, for these I thank thee most.

Joy, joy! to see, from every shore
Whereon my step makes pressure fond,
Thy sunrise reddening still before, —
More light, more love, more life beyond!

LUCY LARCOM.

321. Common gifts.

For common gifts we bless thee, Lord —
The hearing ear, the eye to see,
Beauty forever round us poured
In sweet and varied ministry.

We bless thee for the wholesome air,
For showers that fall and suns that warm,
For darkness, and the truce to care
Sleep brings with many a soothing charm.

For gentle courtesies of life,
For dear communion, friend with friend,
Those hours with sacred meaning rife
When love looks to no earthly end.

We yield thee praise for sovereign power
That steadies us o'er gulfs of pain;
Shall we forget thee in the hour
That leads us back to strength again?

Let not our gratitude delay
Till good withheld constrains the prayer,
Give clearer vision, that we may
Hold common blessings as if rare.

'Pilgrim's Song.'

Rise, my soul, and stretch thy wings,
Thy better portion trace,
Rise from transitory things
Towards heaven, thy native place!
Sun and moon and stars decay,
Time shall soon this earth remove:
Rise, my soul, and haste away
To seats prepared above!

Rivers to the ocean run,
Nor stay in all their course;
Fire, ascending, seeks the sun;
Both speed them to their source:
So my soul, derived from God,
Pants to view his glorious face,
Forward tends to his abode
To rest in his embrace.

God's ceaseless care.

See the Lord, thy Keeper, stand,
Omnipotently near;
Lo! he holds thee by the hand,
And banishes thy fear;
Shadows with his wings thy head;
Guards from all impending harms;
Round thee and beneath are spread
The everlasting arms.

God shall bless thy going out,
Shall bless thy coming in;
Kindly compass thee about,
And guard from every sin.
He is still our sure defense,
We his ceaseless care shall prove,
Kept by watchful providence
And ever-waking love.

'The Ascending Way.'

Holy, holy Lord,
 We with one accord
 Own with joy the sovereign power
 That has led us to this hour
 When as freemen we
 Grateful worship thee.

Ere the dawn of life
 In primeval strife,
 Ere from whirling desolation
 Issued fresh thy fair creation,
 Thine eternal plan
 Predetermined man.

Up the rugged way,
 Toiling toward the day,
 Clinging, climbing, striving, bleeding,
 Call of God forever heeding,
 Thou didst lead us on
 Till man's state was won.

Thou hast wrought relief
 From our pain and grief:
 Phantom fear no longer frightens,
 Truth with freedom now enlightens;
 We together stand
 Sure beneath thy hand.

Guide me, O thou great Jehovah!
 Pilgrim through this barren land:

 Hold me with thy powerful hand:
 Bread of heaven!
 Bread of heaven!
 Feed me till I want no more.

Open now the crystal fountain,
 Whence the healing waters flow:
 Let the fiery, cloudy pillar
 Lead me all my journey through:
 Strong Deliverer!
 Strong Deliverer!
 Be thou still my strength and shield.

When I tread the verge of Jōrdan,
 Bid my anxious fears subside:
 Cleave the flood, and stay the waters;
 Land me safe on Canaan's side:
 Songs of praises,
 Songs of praises,
 I will ever give to thee.

God the upholder.

He who suns and worlds upholdeth
Lends us his upholding hand;
He the ages who unfoldeth
Doth our times and ways command.
God is for us; God is for us;
In his strength and stay we stand.

He who sage and seer instructed
Will not keep from us his lore;
Who those ancient saints conducted
Hath not given his guiding o'er.
God is for us; God is for us;
Helpful now as heretofore.

Onward, upward, doth he beckon;
Onward, upward, would we press;
As his own our burdens reckon,
As our own his strength possess.
God is for us; God is for us;
God, our Helper, still we bless.

God is love.

God is love, by him upholden,
Hang the glorious orbs of light,
In their language glad and golden
Telling to us day and night
Their great story, their great story,
God is love and God is might.

And the teeming earth rejoices
In that message from above,
With ten thousand, thousand voices,
Telling back from hill and grove
Her glad tidings, her glad tidings,
God is might and God is love.

Up to him let each affection
Daily rise and round him move;
Our whole lives one resurrection
To the life of life above;
Hallelujah, hallelujah!
God is life and God is love.

And enters where it may;
The eyes of all earth's children

So let the mind's true sunshine

And fill all human spirits,
As the waters fill the sea.

Then let each waiting spirit

And spread the truth of heaven
As wide as heaven's own light;
Till earth becomes God's temple;
And every human heart
Shall join in one great service,
Each happy in his part.

The spread of the gospel.

The morning light is breaking,
The darkness disappears,
The sons of earth are waking
To penitential tears;
Each breeze that sweeps the ocean
Brings tidings from afar,
Of nations in commotion,
Prepared for Zion's war.

Rich dew's of grace come o'er us
In many a gentle shower,
And brighter scenes before us
Are opening every hour;
Each cry to heaven going
Abundant answers brings,
And heavenly gales are blowing,
With peace upon their wings.

Blest river of salvation,
Pursue thy onward way;
Flow thou to every nation,
Nor in thy richness stay:

Stay not, till all the lowly
Triumphant reach their home;
Stay not, till all the holy Proclaim, The Lord has come!

Psalm XXVII.

God is my strong salvation:
What foe have I to fear?
In darkness and temptation,
My light, my help, is near.
Though hosts encamp around me,
Firm to the fight I stand:
What terror can confound me
With God at my right hand?

Place on the Lord reliance,
My soul, with courage wait;
His truth be thine affiance,
When faint and desolate.
His might thine heart shall strengthen,
His love thy joy increase,
Mercy thy days shall lengthen,
The Lord will give thee peace.

How shall we show our love to thee,

Take my life, and let it be Consecrated, Lord, to thee.
Take my moments and my days;
Let them flow in ceaseless praise.

Take my hands, and let them move
At the impulse of thy love.
Take my feet, and let them be
Swift and beautiful for thee.

Take my voice, and let me sing
Always, only, for my King.
Take my lips, and let them be Filled with messages from thee.

Take my silver and my gold;
Not a mite would I withhold.
Take my intellect, and use
Every power as thou shalt choose.

Take my will, and make it thine;
It shall be no longer mine.
Take my heart, it is thine own;
It shall be thy royal throne.

Take my love; my Lord, I pour
At thy feet its treasure-store.
Take myself, and I will be Ever, only, all for thee.

Gratitude for humble tasks.

What thou wilt, O Father, give!
All is gain that I receive.
Let the lowliest task be mine,
Grateful, so the work be thine.

Let me find the humblest place
In the shadow of thy grace:
Blest to me were any spot
Where temptation whispers not.

If there be some weaker one,
Give me strength to help him on;
If a blinder soul there be,
Let me guide him nearer thee.

Clothe with life the weak intent,
Let me be the thing I meant;
Let me find in thy employ
Peace that dearer is than joy;

Out of self to love be led,
And to heaven acclimated,
Until all things sweet and good
Seem my natural habitude.

I thank thee for my quiet home,
Mid cold and storm,
And that beyond my need is room
For friend forlorn:
I thank thee much for place to rest,
But more for shelter for my guest.

I thank thee, Lord, for lavish love
On me bestowed,
Enough to share with loveless folk

The law of Love.

Make channels for the streams of love,
Where they may broadly run;
And love has overflowing streams,
To fill them every one.

But if at any time we cease

Will soon be parched and dried.

For we must share, if we would keep,

Influence.

Scorn not the slightest word or deed,
Nor deem it void of power;
There's fruit in each wind-wafted seed,
That waits its natal hour.

A whispered word may touch the heart,
And call it back to life;
A look of love bid sin depart,
And still unholy strife.

No act falls fruitless; none can tell
How vast its power may be,
Nor what results infolded dwell
Within it silently.

Work on, despair not; bring thy mite,
Nor care how small it be;
God is with all that serve the right,
The holy, true and free.

We turn from seeking thee afar,
And in unwonted ways,
To build from out our daily lives
The temples of thy praise.

And if thy casual comings, Lord,
To hearts of old were dear,
What joy shall dwell within the faith
That feels thee ever near!

And nobler yet shall duty grow,
And more shall worship be,
When thou art found in all our life,
And all our life in thee.

Think not in sleep to fold thy hands,
Forgetful of thy Lord's commands:
From duty's claim no life is free, —
Behold, to-day hath need of thee.

Thrust in thy sickle, nor delay
The work that calls for thee to-day;
To-morrow, if it come, will bear
Its own demands of toil and care.

The present hour allots thy task:
For present strength and patience ask,
And trust his love whose sure supplies
Meet all thy needs as they arise.

While the day lingers, do thy best!
Full soon the night will bring its rest;
And, duty done, that rest shall be
Full of beatitudes to thee.

EDWARD MILLER, 1790.

347. He liveth long who liveth well.

He liveth long who liveth well!
All else is being flung away;
He liveth longest who can tell
Of true things truly done each day.

Fill up each hour with what will last,
Buy up the moments as they go;
The life above, when this is past,
Is the ripe fruit of life below.

Sow truth if thou the truth wouldst reap,
Who sows the false shall reap the vain;
Erect and sound thy conscience keep,
From hollow words and deeds refrain.

Sow love, and taste its fruitage pure,
Sow peace, and reap its harvest bright,
Sow sunbeams on the rock and moor,
And find a harvest-home of light.

HORATIUS BONAR, 1864.

348. 'Co-workers with God.'

Creation's Lord, we give thee thanks
That this thy world is incomplete;
That battle calls our marshalled ranks,
That work awaits our hands and feet;

That thou hast not yet finished man,
That we are in the making still, —
As friends who share the Maker's plan,
As sons who know the Father's will.

Beyond the present sin and shame,
Wrong's bitter, cruel, scorching blight,
We see the beckoning vision flame,
The blessed Kingdom of the Right.

What though the Kingdom long delay,
And still with haughty foes must cope?
It gives us that for which to pray,
A field for toil and faith and hope.

Since what we choose is what we are,
And what we love we yet shall be,
The goal may ever shine afar, —
The will to win it makes us free.

WILLIAM DE WITT HYDE, 1903.

349. 'Father of all, whose powerful voice.'

Spirit of grace and health and power,
Fountain of life and light below,
Abroad thy healing influence shower,
O'er all the nations let it flow.

Inspire our hearts with perfect love;
In us the work of faith fulfil;
So not heaven's host shall swifter move
Than we on earth to do thy will.

Father, 't is thine each day to yield
Thy children's wants a fresh supply:
Thou cloth'st the lilies of the field,
And hearest the young ravens' cry.

In faith we wait and long and pray
To see that time, by prophets told,
When nations, new-born into day,
Shall be ingathered to thy fold.

We cannot doubt thy gracious will,
Thou mighty, merciful, and just!
And thou wilt speedily fulfil
The word in which thy servants trust.

CHARLES WESLEY.

350. 'Wisdom and virtue sought from God.'

Supreme and universal Light!
Fountain of reason! Judge of right!
Parent of good! whose blessings flow
On all above and all below:

Assist us, Lord, to act, to be,
What nature and thy laws decree;
Worthy that intellectual flame
Which from thy breathing spirit came

Our moral freedom to maintain,
Bid passion serve, and reason reign,
Self-poised and independent still
On this world's varying good or ill.

May our expanded souls disclaim
The narrow view, the selfish aim;
But with a generous zeal embrace
Whate'er is friendly to our race.

O Father, grace and virtue grant!
No more we wish, no more we want:
To know, to serve thee, and to love,
Is peace below, is bliss above.

HENRY MOORE.*

Alternative Tune: Wareham.

351. 'The Character of a Happy Life.'

How happy is he born or taught
Who serveth not another's will;
Whose armor is his honest thought,
And simple truth his highest skill;

Whose passions not his masters are;
Whose soul is still prepared for death,
Untied unto the world by care
Of prince's ear or vulgar breath;

Who hath his life from rumors freed,
Whose conscience is his strong retreat,
Whose state can neither flatterers feed,
Nor ruin make oppressors great;

Who God doth late and early pray
More of his grace than goods to lend;
And walks with man, from day to day,
As with a brother and a friend.

This man is freed from servile bands
Of hope to rise, or fear to fall;
Lord of himself, though not of lands,
And having nothing, yet hath all.

HENRY WOTTON.*

352. The true worship.

The uplifted eye and bended knee
Are but vain homage, Lord, to thee;
In vain our lips thy praise prolong,
The heart a stranger to the song.

Can rites and forms and flaming zeal
The breaches of thy precepts heal?
Or fast and penance reconcile
Thy justice, and obtain thy smile?

The pure, the humble, contrite mind,
Thankful, and to thy will resigned,
To thee a nobler offering yields
Than Sheba's groves or Sharon's fields.

Love God and man: this great command
Doth on eternal pillars stand;
This did thine ancient prophets teach,
And this thy Well-beloved preach.

Isaiah XL. 30, 31.

Walk with the Lord! along the road
Your strength he will renew;
Wait on the everlasting God,
And he will wait on you.

Ye shall not faint, ye shall not fail,
Still in the Spirit strong;
Each task divine ye still shall hail,
And blend the exulting song.

Aspiring eyes ye still shall raise,
And heights sublime explore;
Like eagles ye shall sunward gaze,
Like eagles, heavenward soar.

Your wondrous portion shall be this,
Your life below, above, —
Eternal youth, eternal bliss,
And everlasting love.

THOMAS HORNBLOWER GILL, 1868.

354.

Walk in the Light.

Walk in the light! so shalt thou know
That fellowship of love
His spirit only can bestow
Who reigns in light above.

Walk in the light! and thou shalt find
Thy heart made truly his,
Who dwells in cloudless light enshrined,
In whom no darkness is.

Walk in the light! and thou shalt own
Thy darkness passed away,
Because that light hath on thee shone
In which is perfect day.

Walk in the light! and thine shall be
A path, though thorny, bright;
For God, by grace, shall dwell in thee,
And God himself is light.

355.

A prayer for wisdom.

Almighty God, in humble prayer
To thee our souls we lift;
Do thou our waiting minds prepare
For thy most needful gift.

We ask not golden streams of wealth
Along our path to flow;
We ask not undecaying health,
Nor length of years below.

We ask not honors which an hour
May bring or take away;
We ask not pleasure, pomp, nor power,
Lest we should go astray.

We ask for wisdom. Lord, impart
The knowledge how to live:
A wise and understanding heart
To all before thee give.

JAMES MONTGOMERY, 1825.

356.

The peace serene and deep.

We bless thee for thy peace, O God,
Deep as the unfathomed sea,
Which falls like sunshine on the road
Of those who trust in thee.

We ask not, Father, for repose
Which comes from outward rest,
If we may have through all life's woes
Thy peace within our breast:

That peace which suffers and is strong,
Trusts where it cannot see,
Deems not the trial-way too long,
But leaves the end with thee;

That peace which flows serene and deep,
A river in the soul,
Whose banks a living verdure keep —
God's sunshine o'er the whole.

O Father, give our hearts this peace,
Whate'er the outward be,
Till all life's discipline shall cease,
And we go home to thee.

The breath of God.

Breathe on me, Breath of God,
Fill me with life anew,
That I may love what thou dost love,
And do what thou wouldst do.

Breathe on me, Breath of God,
Until my heart is pure,
Until with thee I will one will
To do or to endure.

Breathe on me, Breath of God,
Blend all my soul with thine,
Until this earthly part of me
Glows with thy fire divine.

Breathe on me, Breath of God,
So shall I never die,
But live with thee the perfect life
Of thine eternity.

358.

The upward path.

Believe not those who say
The upward path is smooth,
Lest thou shouldst stumble in the way
And faint before the truth.

It is the only road
Unto the realms of joy;
But he who seeks that blest abode
Must all his powers employ.

Arm, arm thee for the fight;
Cast useless loads away;
Watch through the darkest hours of night;
Toil through the hottest day.

To labor and to love,
To pardon and endure,
To lift thy heart to God above,
And keep thy conscience pure, —

Be this thy constant aim,
Thy hope, thy chief delight;
What matter who should whisper blame
Or who should scorn or slight,

If but thy God approve,
And if, within thy breast,
Thou feel the comfort of his love,
The earnest of his rest?

ANNE BRONTË, 1850.

Alternative Tune: St. Andrew.

359.

The Divine Comrade.

O Thou who art my king,
Submissive to thy law,
I yield my soul, unquestioning,
In reverential awe.

Father, who art in heaven,
Helpless I lean on thee,
And trust, each day, grace may be given
To meet earth's poverty.

O Comrade of life's way,
With all my strength I rise,
Eager with thee to serve each day,
In love's blest enterprise.

More dear than yielding will,
Or faith's humility,
O God, is this deep-pulsing thrill
Of comradeship with thee.

GEORGE HENRY BADGER, 1910.

360. Watch and fight and pray.

My soul, be on thy guard!
Ten thousand foes arise;
The hosts of sin are pressing hard
To draw thee from the skies.

O watch and fight and pray!
The battle ne'er give o'er;
Renew it boldly every day,
And help divine implore.

Ne'er think the victory won,
Nor lay thine armor down:
Thine arduous work will not be done
Till thou obtain thy crown.

Fight on, my soul, till death
Shall bring thee to thy God!
He'll take thee at thy parting breath
Up to his blest abode.

GEORGE HEATH, 1781.

361. 'The active Christian.'

Ye servants of the Lord,
Each in his office wait,
Observant of his heavenly word,
And watchful at his gate.

Let all your lamps be bright,
And trim the golden flame:
Gird up your loins, as in his sight,
For awful is his name.

Watch: 'tis your Lord's command;
And while we speak, he's near;
Mark the first signal of his hand,
And ready all appear.

O happy servant he,
In such a posture found!
He shall his Lord with rapture see,
And be with honor crowned.

362.

Rise up, O men of God.

Rise up, O men of God!
Have done with lesser things,
Give heart and soul and mind and strength
To serve the King of kings.

Rise up, O men of God!
His kingdom tarries long.
Bring in the day of brotherhood
And end the night of wrong.

Rise up, O men of God!
The church for you doth wait,
Her strength unequal to her task;
Rise up, and make her great!

Lift high the cross of Christ!
Tread where his feet have trod;
As brothers of the Son of Man
Rise up, O men of God!

WILLIAM PIERSON MERRILL, 1911.

363.

Freely ye have received, freely give.

We give thee but thine own,
Whate'er the gift may be;
All that we have is thine alone,
A trust, O Lord, from thee.

May we thy bounties thus
As stewards true receive,
And gladly, as thou blessest us,
To thee our first-fruits give.

To comfort and to bless,
To find a balm for woe,
To tend the lone and fatherless,
Is angels' work below.

The captive to release,
To God the lost to bring,
To teach the way of life and peace,
It is a Christ-like thing.

And we believe thy word,
Though dim our faith may be,
Whate'er for thine we do, O Lord,
We do it unto thee.

CHRISTMAS. C. M.GEORG FRIEDRICH HÄNDEL, 1728.*364. 'Pressing on in the Christian Race.'

Awake, my soul, stretch every nerve,
And press with vigor on!
A heavenly race demands thy zeal,
:And an immortal crown.:

A cloud of witnesses around
Hold thee in full survey:
Forget the steps already trod,
:And onward urge thy way!:

'Tis God's all-animating voice
That calls thee from on high;
'Tis his own hand presents the prize
:To thine aspiring eye, —:

That prize, with peerless glories bright,
Which shall new luster boast
When victors' wreaths and monarchs' gems
:Shall blend in common dust.:

PHILIP DODDRIDGE.365. The army of the faithful.

Come let us join with faithful souls
Our song of faith to sing,
One brotherhood in heart are we,
:And one our Lord and King.:

Faithful are all who love the truth
And dare the truth to tell,
Who steadfast stand at God's right hand,
:And strive to serve him well.:

O mighty host! no tongue can tell
The numbers of its throng;
No words can sound the music vast
:Of its grand battle-song.:

O Lord of hosts, our faith renew,
And grant us, in thy love,
To sing the songs of victory
:With faithful souls above.:

WILLIAM GEORGE TARRANT, 1892.

Alternative Tune: Christmas.

366.

'On the Lord's Side.'

God's trumpet wakes the slumbering world:

Now, each man to his post!

The red-cross banner is unfurled:

Who joins the glorious host?

He who, in fealty to the truth,

And counting all the cost,

Doth consecrate his generous youth, —

He joins the noble host!

He who, no anger on his tongue,

Nor any idle boast,

Bears steadfast witness 'gainst all wrong, —

He joins the sacred host!

He who, with calm, undaunted will,

Ne'er counts the battle lost,

But, though defeated, battles still, —

He joins the faithful host!

He who is ready for the cross,

The cause despised loves most;

And shuns not pain or shame or loss, —

He joins the martyr host!

All these, the messengers of God,

To every age and coast

Proclaim his righteous will abroad, —

One glad triumphant host!

GETHSEMANE. 7-7-7-7-7-7.RICHARD REDHEAD, 1853.367.God our defense.

When thy soldiers take their swords,
When they speak the solemn words,
When they kneel before thee here,
Feeling thee, their Father, near;
These thy children, Lord, defend;
To their help thy Spirit send.

When the world's sharp strife is nigh,
When they hear the battle-cry,
When they rush into the fight,
Knowing not temptation's might;
These thy children, Lord, defend;
To their zeal thy wisdom lend.

When their hearts are lifted high
With success or victory,
When they feel the conqueror's pride;
Lest they grow self-satisfied,
These thy children, Lord, defend:
Teach their souls to thee to bend.

When the vows that they have made,
When the prayers that they have prayed,
Shall be fading from their hearts;
When their first warm faith departs;
These thy children, Lord, defend;
Keep them faithful to the end.

'His banner over me.'

Surrounded by unnumbered foes,
Against my soul the battle goes;
Yet, though I weary sore distressed,
I know that I shall reach my rest.
I lift my tearful eyes above,
His banner over me is Love.

Its sword my spirit will not yield,
Though flesh may faint upon the field;
He waves before my fading sight
The branch of palm — the crown of light.
I lift my brightening eyes above,
His banner over me is Love.

My cloud of battle-dust may dim,
His veil of splendor curtain him,
And in the midnight of my fear
I may not feel him standing near;
But, as I lift mine eyes above,
His banner over me is Love.

Hymn for admission into the church.

Arm these thy soldiers, mighty Lord,
With shield of faith and Spirit's sword;
Forth to the battle may they go,
And boldly fight against the foe,
With banner of the cross unfurled,
And by it overcome the world;
And so at last receive from thee
The palm and crown of victory.

Come, ever-blessed Spirit, come,
And make thy servants' hearts thy home;
Thus consecrated, Lord, to thee,
May each a living temple be;
Enrich that temple's holy shrine
With seven-fold gifts of grace divine:
With wisdom, light, and knowledge bless,
Strength, counsel, fear, and godliness.

Untiring in your holy fight,
Still treading each temptation down,

'A thanksgiving of faith.'

We praise thee, God, for harvests earned,
The fruits of labor garnered in;
But praise thee more for soil unturned
From which the yield is yet to win!

We praise thee for the harbor's lee,
And moorings safe in waters still;
But more for leagues of open sea,
Where favoring gales our canvas fill.

We praise thee for the journey's end,
The inn, all warmth and light and cheer;
But more for lengthening roads that wend
Through dust and heat to hilltops clear.

We praise thee for the conflicts won,
For captured strongholds of the foe;
But more for fields whereon the sun
Lights us when we to battle go.

We praise thee for life's gathered gains,
The blessings that our cup o'erbrim;
But more for pledge of what remains

Go forth to life, O child of earth!
Still mindful of thy heavenly birth:
Thou art not here for ease, or sin,
But manhood's noble crown to win.

Though passion's fires are in thy soul,
Thy spirit can their flames control;
Though tempters strong beset thy way,
Thy spirit is more strong than they.

Go on from innocence of youth
To manly pureness, manly truth:
God's angels still are near to save,

Thou Power and Peace, in whom we find
All holiest strength, all purest love,
The rushing of the mighty wind,

From hand to hand the greeting flows,
From eye to eye the signals run,

One in the freedom of the truth,
One in the joy of paths untrod,
One in the soul's perennial youth,
One in the larger thought of God; —

376. 'The soldiers of the cross.'

Thou Lord of Hosts, whose guiding hand
Has brought us here, before thy face,
Our spirits wait for thy command,
Our silent hearts implore thy peace.

Those spirits lay their noblest powers
As offerings on thy holy shrine:
Thine was the strength that nourished ours;
The soldiers of the cross are thine.

While watching on our arms at night,
We saw thine angels round us move;
We heard thy call, we felt thy light,
And followed, trusting to thy love.

Send us where'er thou wilt, O Lord!
Through rugged toil and wearying fight:
Thy conquering love shall be our sword,
And faith in thee our truest might.

Forward! be our watchword,
Steps and voices joined;
Seek the things before us,
Not a look behind.
Burns the fiery pillar
At our army's head:
Who shall dream of shrinking,
By our Captain led?
Forward through the desert,
Through the toil and fight;
Jordan flows before us,
Zion beams with light!

Glories upon glories
Hath our God prepared,
By the souls that love him
One day to be shared.
Eye hath not beheld them,
Ear hath never heard,

Nor of these hath uttered
Thought or speech a word.
Forward, marching eastward
Where the heaven is bright,
Till the veil be lifted,
Till our faith be sight!

Far o'er yon horizon
Rise the city towers
Where our God abideth:
That fair home is ours.
Flash the streets with jasper,
Shine the gates with gold;
Flows the gladdening river
Shedding joys untold.
Thither, onward thither,
In the Spirit's might;
Pilgrims to your country,
Forward into light!

Spirit of God, in thunder speak.

Spirit of God, in thunder speak
To rouse us from our sluggish joy;
Our soft content accurséd make,
Our peace with sharpest pain alloy.

Bid us go forth where doubt hath wrung
Man's hope from out his aching breast;
Where all is dark, and for his feet,
Far-wandering, there is no rest.

Wherever right her flag unfurls,
And justice shows a better way,
Where truth and freedom spurn the night,
And hail the burnished spears of day, —

There be our place! O there be heard
Thy voice a clarion ringing clear, —
To rouse the sleepers, wake the dead,
And stay the faint with hope and cheer!

'The hope of man.'

The past is dark with sin and shame,
 The future dim with doubt and fear;
 But, Father, yet we praise thy name,
 Whose guardian love is always near.

For man has striven, ages long,
 With faltering steps, to come to thee;
 And, in each purpose high and strong,
 The influence of thy grace could see.

He could not breathe an earnest prayer
 But thou wast kinder than he dreamed,
 As age by age brought hopes more fair,
 And nearer still thy kingdom seemed.

But never rose within his breast
 A trust so calm and deep as now:
 Shall not the weary find a rest?
 Father, Preserver, answer thou!

'Tis dark around, 'tis dark above,
 But through the shadow streams the sun;
 We cannot doubt thy certain love;
 And man's true aim shall yet be won!

Judge Eternal, throned in splendor.

Judge eternal, throned in splendor,
Lord of lords and King of kings,
With thy living fire of judgment
Purge this land of bitter things;
Solace all its wide dominion
With the healing of thy wings.

Still the weary folk are pining
For the hour that brings release,
And the city's crowded clangor
Cries aloud for sin to cease;
And the homestead and the woodland
Plead in silence for their peace.

Crown, O God, thine own endeavor;
Cleave our darkness with thy sword;
Feed the faint and hungry people
With the richness of thy word;
Cleanse the body of this nation
Through the glory of the Lord.

HENRY SCOTT HOLLAND, 1902.

O God, save thy people.

When wilt thou save the people?
 O God of mercy, when?
 Not kings and lords, but nations!
 Not crowns and thrones, but men!
 Flowers of thy heart, O God, are they;
 Let them not pass like weeds away,
 Their heritage a sunless day!
 God! save the people!

Shall crime bring crime for ever,
 Strength aiding still the strong?
 Is it thy will, O Father,
 That man should toil for wrong?

'No!' say thy mountains; 'No!' thy skies;
 'Man's clouded sun shall brightly rise,
 And songs be heard instead of sighs.'
 God! save the people!

When wilt thou save the people?
 O God of mercy, when?
 The people, Lord, the people!
 Not crowns and thrones, but men!
 God! save the people! thine they are,
 Thy children, as the angels fair;
 Save them from bondage and despair!
 God! save the people!

Rise, God!

Rise, God! judge thou the earth in might,
This wicked earth redress!
For thou art he who shall by right
The nations all possess.

Before thee righteousness shall go,
Thy royal harbinger.
Then wilt thou come, and not be slow;
Thy footsteps cannot err.

Truth from the earth, like to a flower,
Shall bud and blossom then,
And justice, from her heavenly bower,
Look down on mortal men.

The nations all whom thou hast made
Shall come, and all shall frame
To bow them low before thee, Lord,
And glorify thy name.

For great thou art, and wonders great
By thy strong hand are done:
Thou, in thine everlasting seat,
Remainest God alone.

(Christus, der ist mein Leben.)

384.

We fight for truth, we fight for God.

O God of truth, whose living word
 Upholds whate'er hath breath,
 Look down on thy creation, Lord,
 Enslaved by sin and death;

Set up thy standard, Lord, that we
 Who claim a heavenly birth
 May march with thee to smite the lies
 That vex thy groaning earth.

We fight for truth, we fight for God,
 Poor slaves of lies and sin.
 He who would fight for thee on earth
 Must first be true within.

Thou God of truth, for whom we long,
 Thou who wilt hear our prayer,
 Do thine own battle in our hearts,
 And slay the falsehood there.

Yea, come! then tried as in the fire,
 From every lie set free,
 Thy perfect truth shall dwell in us,
 And we shall live in thee.

385.

'Until the day dawn, and the day-star arise in your hearts.'

O Lord of life, thy kingdom is at hand!
 Blest reign of love and liberty and light;
 Time long foretold by seers of every land;
 The cherished dream of watchers through the night.

Lo! in our hearts shines forth the morning star,
 Shedding its luster on our darkened way;
 And we behold, as pilgrims from afar,
 The holy dawning of thy perfect day.

Now gleams at last upon our waiting eyes
 The glory of the kingdom that shall be;
 When truth in conquering grandeur shall arise,
 And man shall rule the world with equity.

Father, we hail with joy this hallowed hour!
 Transcendent vision breaking on our sight!
 Cheered by thy presence, quickened by thy power,
 We face the splendor of the heavenly light!

Forward again we move at thy command!
 The flaming pillar leading on anew;
 One in the faith of all thy prophet band,
 Onward we press to make the vision true!

386.

Thy Kingdom Come!

'Thy kingdom come!' O Lord, we daily cry,
 Weary and sad with earth's long strife and pain:
 'How long, O Lord!' thy suffering children sigh,
 'Speed thou the dawn, and o'er the nations reign!'

Thy kingdom come! then all the din of war
 Like some dark dream shall vanish with the night:
 Peace, holy peace, her myriad gifts shall pour,
 Resting secure from danger and affright.

Thy kingdom come! no more shall deeds of shame,
 Brutish and base, destroy the soul divine:
 Bright with thy love's all-purifying flame
 Thy human temples evermore shall shine.

Thy kingdom come! mad greed for wealth and power
 No more shall grind the weaklings in the dust;
 Then mind and strength shall share thy ample dower,
 Brothers in thee, and one in equal trust.

Thy kingdom come! then shall thy blessed will Rule all the souls in thy fair image made:
 Angels and men thy every thought fulfil;
 In earth and heaven thy mandates be obeyed.

387. Thy kingdom come, O Lord.

Thy kingdom come, O Lord,
Wide-circling as the sun;
Fulfil of old thy word
And make the nations one; —

One in the bond of peace,
The service glad and free
Of truth and righteousness,
Of love and equity.

Speed, speed the longed-for time
Foretold by raptured seers —
The prophecy sublime,
The hope of all the years; —

Till rise at last, to span
Its firm foundations broad,
The commonwealth of man,
The city of our God.

FREDERICK LUCIAN HOSMER, 1905.

388. Thy kingdom come, O God!

Thy kingdom come, O God!
Thy rule, O Lord, begin;
Break with thy righteous rod
The tyrannies of sin.

Where is thy reign of peace,
And purity and love?
When shall all hatred cease,
As in the realms above?

When comes the promised time
That war shall be no more, —
Oppression, lust, and crime
Shall flee thy face before?

We pray thee, Lord, arise
And come in thy great might;
Revive our longing eyes
Which languish for the sight.

LEWIS HENSLEY,* 1867.

389.

Reveal thy truth!

Reveal thy truth, O Lord!
 The truth that sets us free;
 And let thy hallowed word
 Be more than liberty.

Be truth a kindling fire
 To set our hearts aflame,
 That we, with great desire,
 May glorify thy name.

Thy truth be meat and drink
 To strengthen us each day,
 Lest we should fear and shrink
 When danger bars the way.

Thy truth be sword and shield
 To arm us for the fight,
 That we may never yield
 When battling for the right.

Thy truth sweet succor give
 When shadows round us lie;
 Uphold us while we live,
 And bless us when we die!

390. Send down thy truth, O God!

Send down thy truth, O God!
 Too long the shadows frown;
 Too long the darkened way we've trod:
 Thy truth, O Lord, send down!

Send down thy spirit free,
 Till wilderness and town
 One temple for thy worship be:
 Thy spirit, O send down!

Send down thy love, thy life,
 Our lesser lives to crown,
 And cleanse them of their hate and strife
 Thy living love send down!

Send down thy peace, O Lord!
 Earth's bitter voices drown
 In one deep ocean of accord:
 Thy peace, O God, send down!

EDWARD ROWLAND SILL, 1867.

391. 'The voice of conscience.'

Give forth thine earnest cry,
 O conscience, voice of God!
 To young and old, to low and high,
 Proclaim his will abroad.

Within the human breast
 Thy strong monitions plead;
 Still thunder thy divine protest
 Against the unrighteous deed.

Show the true way of peace,
 O thou our guiding light!
 From bondage of the wrong release,
 To service of the right.

Hymns of the Spirit.

392. 'Come, kingdom of our God.'

Come, kingdom of our God,
 Sweet reign of light and love!
 Shed peace, and hope, and joy abroad,
 And wisdom from above.

Over our spirits first
 Extend thy healing reign;
 There raise and quench the sacred thirst
 That never pains again.

Come, kingdom of our God,
 And make the broad earth thine!
 Stretch o'er her lands and isles the rod
 That flowers with grace divine.

Soon may all tribes be blest
 With fruit from life's glad tree;
 And in its shade like brothers rest,
 Sons of one family.

JOHN JOHNS, 1837.

ST. BEES. 7.7.7.7.

JOHN BACCHUS DYKES, 1862.

393. 'Father, let thy kingdom come.'

Father, let thy kingdom come,
Let it come with living power;
Speak at length the final word,
Usher in the triumph hour.

As it came in days of old,
In the deepest hearts of men,
When thy martyrs died for thee,
Let it come, O God, again.

Tyrant thrones and idol shrines,
Let them from their place be hurled;
Enter on thy better reign,
Wear the crown of this poor world.

Break, triumphant day of God,
Break at last, our hearts to cheer;
Eager souls and holy songs
Wait to hail thy dawning here.

Empires, temples, scepters, thrones,
May they all for God be won;
And on earth made one with heaven,
Father, let thy kingdom come.

JOHN PAGE HOPPS, 1876.

394. 'Inspiration.'

Life of ages, richly poured,
Love of God, unspent and free,
Flowing in the prophet's word
And the people's liberty,—

Never was to chosen race
That unstinted tide confined;
Thine is every time and place,
Fountain sweet of heart and mind.

Breathing in the thinker's creed,
Pulsing in the hero's blood,
Nerving simplest thought and deed,
Freshening time with truth and good,

Consecrating art and song,
Holy book and pilgrim track,
Hurling floods of tyrant wrong
From the sacred limits back,—

Life of ages, richly poured,
Love of God, unspent and free,
Flow still in the prophet's word
And the people's liberty!

SAMUEL JOHNSON, 1864.

395.

The Everlasting God.

O God, the Rock of Ages,
 Who evermore hast been,
 What time the tempest rages,
 Our dwelling-place serene:
 Before thy first creations,
 O Lord, the same as now,
 To endless generations
 The everlasting Thou!

Our years are like the shadows
 On sunny hills that lie,
 Or grasses in the meadows
 That blossom but to die;
 A sleep, a dream, a story,
 By strangers quickly told,
 An unremaining glory
 Of things that soon are old.

O Thou, who canst not slumber,
 Whose light grows never pale,
 Teach us aright to number
 Our years before they fail.
 On us thy mercy lighten,
 On us thy goodness rest;
 And let thy spirit brighten
 The hearts thyself hath blessed.

396. 'Man frail and God eternal.'

O God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Our shelter from the stormy blast,
And our eternal home,

Before the hills in order stood,
Or earth received her frame,
From everlasting thou art God,
To endless years the same.

A thousand ages in thy sight
Are like an evening gone,
Short as the watch that ends the night
Before the rising sun.

Time, like an ever-rolling stream,
Bears all its sons away:
They fly forgotten, as a dream
Dies at the opening day.

O God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Be thou our guard while troubles last,
And our eternal home.

ISAAC WATTS, 1719.

397. Our Dwelling-place forever.

O God, while generations flee
Like leaves before thy face,
Through endless ages thou wilt be
Thy children's dwelling-place;

Great Shepherd of the countless flock,
Where'er they rest or roam,
Their cheering sun, their sheltering rock,
Their everlasting home.

Our sainted fathers — where are they?
They slept, they woke in thee,
And here in memory's light to-day
They walk serene and free.

O Thou who led'st our sires of old,
Their grateful children lead;
Thy flock in shelter safe enfold,
In sunny pastures feed.

Still guide our footsteps in the way
That climbs the morning height,
Thy law, O God, our cloud by day,
Thy love our fire by night.

ANON., 1880.

GEORG JOSEPHI, circa 1657.

398. 'For an increase of Grace.'

O for that flame of living fire
Which shone so bright in saints of old,
Which bade their souls to heaven aspire,
Calm in distress, in danger bold, —

That spirit which, from age to age,
Proclaimed thy love and taught thy ways,
Brightened Isaiah's vivid page
And breathed in David's hallowed lays!

Is not thy grace as mighty now
As when Elijah felt its power,
When glory beamed from Moses' brow,
Or Job endured the trying hour?

Remember, Lord, the ancient days,
Renew thy work, thy grace restore,
Warm our cold hearts to prayer and praise,
And teach us how to love thee more!

WILLIAM HILEY BATHURST, 1831.

399. Blessed are the eyes that see the things that ye see.

O blest the souls that see and hear
The things of God to-day revealed,
Of old to longing saint and seer
Within the future closely sealed:

The stir of nations near and far,
The wakened hearts that beat as one,
The flow of peace, the ebb of war,
The passing night, the risen sun!

Be ours the vision, ours the will
To follow, though the faithless ban;
The love that triumphs over ill,
The trust in God and hope for man.

And thou whose tides of purpose bear
These mortal lives that come and go,
Give us to feel through toil and prayer
Thy deep eternal underflow!

400. 'He was very confident the Lord had more light and truth yet to break forth out of his holy word.'

Who dares to bind to his dull sense
The oracles of heaven,
For all the nations, tongues, and climes,
And all the ages given?
That universe, how much unknown!
That ocean unexplored!
The Lord hath yet more light and truth
To break forth from his word.

Darkling our great forefathers went
The first steps of the way;
'T was but the dawning, yet to grow
Into the perfect day:—
And grow it shall; our glorious Sun
More fervid rays afford;
The Lord hath yet more light and truth
To break forth from his word.

The valleys past, ascending still
Our souls would higher climb,
And look down from supernal heights
On all the bygone time.
Upward we press; the air is clear,
And the sphere-music heard;
The Lord hath yet more light and truth
To break forth from his word.

'Faith of our fathers.'

Faith of our fathers, living still,
In spite of dungeon, fire and sword,
O how our hearts beat high with joy,
Whene'er we hear that glorious word!
Faith of our fathers, holy faith,
We will be true to thee till death.

Our fathers, chained in prisons dark,
Were still in heart and conscience free;
And blest would be their children's fate
If they, like them, should die for thee:
Faith of our fathers, holy faith,
We will be true to thee till death.

Faith of our fathers, faith and prayer
Have kept our country brave and free,
And through the truth that comes from
God,
Her children have true liberty.
Faith of our fathers, holy faith,
We will be true to thee till death.

Faith of our fathers, we will love
Both friend and foe in all our strife,
And preach thee, too, as love knows how,
By kindly words and virtuous life;
Faith of our fathers, holy faith,
We will be true to thee till death.

FREDERICK WILLIAM FABER,* 1849.

402.

Psalm LXXVIII.

Give ear, ye children, to my law
 Devout attention lend,
 Let the instructions of my mouth
 Deep in your hearts descend.

My tongue, by inspiration taught,
 Shall parables unfold:
 Dark oracles, but understood,
 And owned for truths of old,

Which we from sacred registers
 Of ancient times have known,
 And our forefathers' pious care
 To us has handed down.

Let children hear the mighty deeds,
 Which God performed of old,
 Which in our younger years we saw,
 And which our fathers told.

Our lips shall tell them to our sons,
 And they again to theirs, —
 That generations yet unknown,
 May teach them to their heirs.

403.

'The Golden Chain.'

We come unto our fathers' God;
 Their rock is our salvation;
 The eternal arms, their dear abode,
 We make our habitation:
 We bring thee, Lord, the praise they brought,
 We seek thee as thy saints have sought
 In every generation.

Their joy unto their Lord we bring;
 Their song to us descendeth;
 The Spirit who in them did sing,
 To us his music lendeth;

His song in them, in us, is one;
 We raise it high, we send it on, —
 The song that never endeth!

Ye saints to come, take up the strain,
 The same sweet theme endeavor;
 Unbroken be the golden chain,
 Keep on the song forever;
 Safe in the same dear dwelling-place,
 Rich with the same eternal grace,
 Bless the same boundless Giver.

'A people blest of God.'

Uplift the song of praise
To him, our fathers' God!
Who led them o'er the watery ways
To lands untrod:
Seed of a race to be,
Upon his new-world shore;
The home of law and liberty
Forevermore.

Lift high the song of praise,
O nation grown in power!
Hold fast through good and evil days
Thy glorious dower!
The age-long hope fulfil,
New-quicken'd at thy birth;
Thy strength thy God, whose righteous will
Rules heaven and earth.

Uplift the song of praise!
His love and wisdom own,
Who leadeth still in unseen ways,
By paths unknown.
His purposes of old
And promises endure,
And through the circling years unfold,
Forever sure.

Lift high the song of praise
And bless his holy name!
Whose care above the passing days
Abides the same:
Our fathers' confidence,
Through all their pilgrimage;
Our dwelling-place and our defense
From age to age.

405. Sicut patribus sit Deus nobis.

O God! beneath thy guiding hand
Our exiled fathers crossed the sea;
And, when they trod the wintry strand,
With prayer and psalm they worshipped
thee.

Thou heard'st, well pleased, the song, the prayer;
Thy blessing came; and still its power
Shall onward through all ages bear
The memory of that holy hour.

Law, freedom, truth, and faith in God
Came with those exiles o'er the waves;
And where their pilgrim feet have trod,
The God they trusted guards their graves.

And here thy name, O God of love,
Their children's children shall adore,
Till these eternal hills remove,
And spring adorns the earth no more.

LEONARD BACON, 1838.

406. 'Remembrance of our Fathers.'

In pleasant lands have fallen the lines
That bound our goodly heritage;
And safe beneath our sheltering vines
Our youth is blest, and soothed our age.

What thanks, O God, to thee are due,
That thou didst plant our fathers here;
And watch and guard them as they grew,
A vineyard, to the Planter dear.

The toils they bore our ease have wrought;
They sowed in tears, — in joy we reap;
The birthright they so dearly bought
We'll guard till we with them shall sleep.

Thy kindness to our fathers, shown
In weal and woe through all the past,
Their grateful sons, O God, shall own,
While here their name and race shall last.

'The Founders.'

Like pilgrims sailing through the night
In search of shores more wide and free,
A dauntless few, they went apart
To gain a grander liberty.

The living seed they planted then
Has known the increase of the years,
And now a harvest-time has come;
We garner in the precious ears.

Brave-hearted ones have passed beyond
Into that land whence none return.
With such a cloud of witnesses.
Should not their hope within us burn?

O Thou, who led'st the founders on
In paths untrod and trouble-fraught,
Help us with fervor to enlarge
The liberty for which they wrought.

FLORENCE HARRIS, 1907.

408.

The coming race.

These things shall be,— a loftier race
Than e'er the world hath known shall rise
With flame of freedom in their souls,
And light of knowledge in their eyes.

They shall be gentle, brave, and strong
To spill no drop of blood, but dare
All that may plant man's lordship firm
On earth, and fire, and sea, and air.

Nation with nation, land with land,
Unarmed shall live as comrades free;
In every heart and brain shall throb
The pulse of one fraternity.

New arts shall bloom of loftier mould,
And mightier music thrill the skies,
And every life shall be a song
When all the earth is paradise.

There shall be no more sin, nor shame,
Though pain and passion may not die,
For man shall be at one with God
In bonds of firm necessity.

409.

The right is marching on.

From age to age they gather, all the brave of heart and strong,
In the strife of truth with error, of the right against the wrong;
I can see their gleaming banner, I can hear their triumph song:
The truth is marching on!

'In this sign we conquer:' 't is the symbol of our faith,
Made holy by the might of love triumphant over death;
'He finds his life who loseth it,' forevermore it saith:
The right is marching on!

The earth is circling onward out of shadow into light;
The stars keep watch above our way, however dark the night;
For every martyr's stripe there glows a bar of morning bright,
And love is marching on!

Lead on, O cross of martyr faith, with thee is victory;
Shine forth, O stars and reddening dawn, the full day yet shall be;
On earth his kingdom cometh, and with joy our eyes shall see;
Our God is marching on!

THE BATTLE HYMN OF THE REPUBLIC.

ANON.

410.

'The Battle Hymn of the Republic.'

Mine eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord;
He is trampling out the vintage where the grapes of wrath are stored;
He hath loosed the fateful lightning of his terrible swift sword;
His truth is marching on.

Glory, glory, hallelujah,
Glory, glory, hallelujah,
Glory, glory, hallelujah;
His truth is marching on.

He has sounded forth a trumpet that shall never call retreat;
He is sifting out the hearts of men before his judgment seat,

O be swift, my soul, to answer him: be jubilant, my feet;
Our God is marching on.

Glory, glory, hallelujah, etc.
Our God is marching on.

In the beauty of the lilies Christ was born across the sea,
With a glory in his bosom that transfigures you and me;
As he died to make men holy, let us die to make men free,
While God is marching on.

Glory, glory, hallelujah, etc.
While God is marching on.

JULIA WARD HOWE, 1861.

4II.

Recessional.

God of our fathers, known of old,
 Lord of our far-flung battle-line,
 Beneath whose awful hand we hold
 Dominion over palm and pine —
 Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet,
 Lest we forget — lest we forget!

The tumult and the shouting dies;
 The captains and the kings depart:
 Still stands thine ancient sacrifice,
 An humble and a contrite heart.
 Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet,
 Lest we forget — lest we forget!

Far-called, our navies melt away;
 On dune and headland sinks the fire:
 Lo, all our pomp of yesterday
 Is one with Nineveh and Tyre!
 Judge of the nations, spare us yet,
 Lest we forget — lest we forget!

If, drunk with sight of power, we loose
 Wild tongues that have not thee in awe,
 Such boastings as the Gentiles use,
 Or lesser breeds without the Law —
 Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet,
 Lest we forget — lest we forget!

For heathen heart that puts her trust
 In reeking tube and iron shard,
 All valiant dust that builds on dust,
 And guarding, calls not thee to guard,
 For frantic boast and foolish word —
 Thy mercy on thy people, Lord!

412.

O God of earth and altar.

O God of earth and altar,
Bow down and hear our cry,
Our earthly rulers falter,
Our people drift and die;
The walls of gold entomb us,
The swords of scorn divide,
Take not thy thunder from us,
But take away our pride.

From all that terror teaches,
From lies of tongue and pen,
From all the easy speeches
That comfort cruel men,
From sale and profanation
Of honor and the sword,
From sleep and from damnation,
Deliver us, good Lord.

Tie in a living tether
The priest and prince and thrall,
Bind all our lives together,
Smite us and save us all;
In ire and exultation
Aflame with faith, and free,
Lift up a living nation,
A single sword to thee.

GILBERT KEITH CHESTERTON.

413.

Guard and bless our Fatherland.

To thee, our God, we fly
 For mercy and for grace;
 O hear our lowly cry,
 And hide not thou thy face.
 O Lord, stretch forth thy mighty hand,
 And guard and bless our fatherland.

Arise, O Lord of hosts,
 Be jealous for thy name,
 And drive from out our coasts
 The sins that put to shame.
 O Lord, stretch forth thy mighty hand,
 And guard and bless our fatherland.

The powers ordained by thee
 With heavenly wisdom bless;
 May they thy servants be,
 And rule in righteousness.
 O Lord, stretch forth thy mighty hand,
 And guard and bless our fatherland.

Give peace, Lord, in our time;
 O let no foe draw nigh,
 Nor lawless deed of crime
 Insult thy majesty.
 O Lord, stretch forth thy mighty hand,
 And guard and bless our fatherland.

'Hymn for America.'

Great and fair is she, our land,
High of heart and strong of hand;
Dawn is on her forehead still,
In her veins youth's arrowy thrill.
Hers are riches, might and fame;
All the earth resounds her name;
In her roadsteads navies ride:
Hath she need of aught beside?

Power Unseen, before whose eyes
Nations fall and nations rise,
Grant she climb not to her goal
All-forgetful of the Soul!
Firm in honor be she found,
Justice-armed and mercy-crowned,
Blest in labor, blest in ease,
Blest in noiseless charities.

Unenslaved by things that must Yield full soon to moth and rust
Let her hold a light on high
Men unborn may travel by.
Mightier still she then shall stand,
Moulded by thy secret hand,
Power Eternal, at whose call
Nations rise and nations fall!

'The People's Thanksgiving.'

Not alone for mighty empire,
Stretching far o'er land and sea,
Not alone for bounteous harvests,
Lift we up our hearts to thee:
Standing in the living present,
Memory and hope between,
Lord, we would with deep thanksgiving
Praise thee more for things unseen.

Not for battle-ship and fortress,
Not for conquests of the sword,
But for conquests of the spirit
Give we thanks to thee, O Lord;
For the heritage of freedom,
For the home, the church, the school,
For the open door to manhood
In a land the people rule.

For the armies of the faithful,
Lives that passed and left no name;
For the glory that illumines
Patriot souls of deathless fame;
For the people's prophet-leaders,
Loyal to thy living word, —
For all heroes of the spirit,
Give we thanks to thee, O Lord.

God of justice, save the people
From the war of race and creed,
From the strife of class and faction, —
Make our nation free indeed;
Keep her faith in simple manhood
Strong as when her life began,
Till it find its full fruition
In the brotherhood of man!

Goodly were thy tents, O Israel.

Goodly were thy tents, O Israel,
Spread along the river's side,
Bright thy star which rose prophetic,
Herald of dominion wide;
Fairer are the homes of freemen,
Scattered o'er our broad domain;
Brighter is our rising day-star,
Ushering in a purer reign.

Welcome to the glorious freedom,
Which our fathers hither brought;
Welcome to the priceless treasure,
Which with constant faith they sought;
See, from every nation gathering,
Swarming myriads throng our coasts,
Hear, with steady steps advancing,
Ceaseless tread of countless hosts.

God of nations! our Preserver,
Hear our prayers, our counsels bless;
Lift o'er all thy radiant banner,
On these souls thy love impress;
From thy throne of boundless blessing,
O'er our land thy Spirit pour;
In the grandeur of thine empire,
Reign supreme from shore to shore.

Our Fathers.

Gone are those great and good
Who here, in peril, stood
And raised their hymn.
Peace to the reverend dead!
The light that on their head
The passing years have shed
Shall ne'er grow dim.

Ye temples, that to God
Rise where our fathers trod,
Guard well your trust, —
The faith that dared the sea,
The truth that made them free,
Their cherished purity,
Their garnered dust.

Thou high and holy One,
Whose care for sire and son
All nature fills, —
While day shall break and close,
While night her crescent shows,
O let thy light repose
On these our hills!

My Country, to thy shore
Far-wandering pilgrims pour
To build in thee
new republic's plan,
new truth of loftier span,

New brotherhood of man,
And liberty.

In thy wide-watered plains,
Thy mountains' liberal veins
And forests fair,
Large, golden gifts are found,
And in thy garden ground
Earth's proudest fruits abound
For all to share.

Thy cities strong and wise
Shall lift to cloudless skies
Fraternal towers.
What toil and genius gave
To serve men, not enslave,
In thee shall help and save
Man's noblest powers.

Young heroes smiling died;
True hearts have sanctified
Long life for thee.
Heirs of a free-born land,
Free may our children stand,
And God's almighty hand
Their guidance be.

May Freedom clothed in light
Obey the Eternal Right
From sun to sun;
And to all lands display
Her blest and righteous way,
Until, in God's own day,
Mankind be one.

'America, the beautiful.'

O beautiful for spacious skies,
For amber waves of grain,
For purple mountain majesties
Above the fruited plain!
America! America!
God shed his grace on thee,
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea!

O beautiful for pilgrim feet,
Whose stern, impassioned stress,
A thoroughfare for freedom beat
Across the wilderness!
America! America!
God mend thine every flaw,
Confirm thy soul in self-control,
Thy liberty in law!

O beautiful for glorious tale
Of liberating strife,
When valiantly for man's avail,
Men lavished precious life!
America! America!
May God thy gold refine,
Till all success be nobleness,
And every gain divine!

O beautiful for patriot dream
That sees beyond the years
Thine alabaster cities gleam
Undimmed by human tears!
America! America!
God shed his grace on thee,
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea!

My Country, 't is of thee.

My country 't is of thee,—
Sweet land of liberty,
Of thee I sing:
Land where my fathers died,
Land of the pilgrims' pride,
From every mountain side
Let freedom ring!

My native country, thee, —
Land of the noble free, —
Thy name I love:
I love thy rocks and rills,
Thy woods and templed hills;
My heart with rapture thrills
Like that above.

Let music swell the breeze,
And ring from all the trees
Sweet freedom's song!
Let mortal tongues awake;
Let all that breathe partake;
Let rocks their silence break,
The sound prolong!

Our fathers' God, to thee,
Author of liberty, —
To thee we sing:
Long may our land be bright
With freedom's holy light;
Protect us by thy might,
Great God, our King.

421.

Our Country.

God bless our native land.
Firm may she ever stand
Through storm and night!
When the wild tempests rave,
Ruler of wind and wave,
Do thou our country save,
By thy great might!

For her our prayers shall be,
Our fathers' God, to thee,
On thee we wait!
Thou who art ever nigh,
Guarding with watchful eye,
To thee aloud we cry,
God save the state!

Lord of all truth and right,
In whom alone is might,
On thee we call!
And may the nations see
That men should brothers be,
And form one family!
God save us all!

International hymn.

Two empires by the sea,
Two nations great and free,
One anthem raise.
One race of ancient fame,
One tongue, one faith we claim,
One God, whose glorious name
We love and praise.

What deeds our fathers wrought,
What battles we have fought,
Let fame record.
Now, vengeful passion, cease,

Come, victories of peace;
Nor hate nor pride's caprice
Unsheath the sword.

Though deep the sea and wide
'Twixt realm and realm, its tide
Binds strand to strand.
So be the gulf between
Gray coasts and islands green,
With bonds of peace serene
And friendship spann'd.

Now may our God above
Guard the dear lands we love,
Both east and west.
Let love more fervent glow
As peaceful ages go,
And strength yet stronger grow,
Blessing and blest.

GEORGE HUNTINGTON.

423.

God bless our land!

God bless our native land,
May heaven's protecting hand
Still guard our shore.
May peace her power extend,
Foe be transformed to friend,
And all our rights depend
On war no more.

May just and righteous laws
Uphold the public cause,
And peaceful reign.
Home of the brave and free,
Stronghold of liberty —
We pray that still on thee
There be no stain.

And not this land alone,
But be thy mercies known
From shore to shore;
Lord, make the nations see
That men should brothers be,
And form one family
The wide world o'er.

'O Beautiful, my Country.'

'O Beautiful, my Country!
Be thine a nobler care
Than all thy wealth of commerce,
Thy harvests waving fair;
Be it thy pride to lift up
The manhood of the poor;
Be thou to the oppressed
Fair freedom's open door!

For thee our fathers suffered;
For thee they toiled and prayed;
Upon thy holy altar
Their willing lives they laid.
Thou hast no common birthright,
Grand memories on thee shine;
The blood of pilgrim nations
Commingle flows in thine.

O beautiful, our country!
Round thee in love we draw;
Thine is the grace of freedom,
The majesty of law.
Be righteousness thy scepter,
Justice thy diadem;
And on thy shining forehead
Be peace the crowning gem!

425.Our country.*

Lord, while for all mankind we pray,
Of every clime and coast,
O hear us for our native land, —
The land we love the most!

O guard our shores from every foe,
With peace our borders bless;
With prosperous times our cities crown,
Our fields with plenteousness.

Unite us in the sacred love
Of knowledge, truth, and thee;
And let our hills and valleys shout
The songs of liberty.

Lord of the nations, thus to thee
Our country we commend;
Be thou her refuge and her trust,
Her everlasting Friend.

JOHN REYNELL WRELFORD, 1837.

426.God of the nations.

God of the nations, near and far,
Ruler of all mankind,
Bless thou thy peoples as they strive
The paths of peace to find.

The clash of arms still shakes the sky,
King battles still with king;
Wild through the frightened air of night
The bloody tocsins ring.

But clearer far the friendly speech
Of scientists and seers,
The wise debate of statesmen, and
The shouts of pioneers.

And stronger far the clasped hands
Of labor's teeming throngs,
Who in a hundred tongues repeat
Their common creeds and songs.

From shore to shore the peoples call
In loud and sweet acclaim;
The gloom of land and sea is lit
With pentecostal flame.

O Father, from the curse of war
We pray thee give release;
And speed, O speed thy blessed day
Of justice, love, and peace.

'The City of our Hopes.'

Hail the glorious golden city,
Pictured by the seers of old:
Everlasting light shines o'er it,
Wondrous things of it are told.
Only righteous men and women
Dwell within its gleaming wall;
Wrong is banished from its borders,
Justice reigns supreme o'er all.

We are builders of that city.
All our joys and all our groans
Help to rear its shining ramparts;
All our lives are building stones.

Whether humble or exalted,
All are called to task divine;
All must aid alike to carry
Forward one sublime design.

And the work that we have builded
Oft with bleeding hands and tears,
Oft in error, oft in anguish,
Will not perish with our years:
It will live and shine transfigured
In the final reign of right:
It will pass into the splendors
Of the city of the light.

The new Jerusalem.

I saw the city of the Lord,
Eternal its foundation,
On high its gleaming turrets soared,
The joy of every nation;
Four-square to all the lands it stood,
And through its portals wending,
The true, the brave, the wise, the good,
Flowed on, a stream unending.

There princes came on pilgrimage
With million-handed labor,
There came the simple and the sage,
Each happy with his neighbor;
At peace within those mansions fair
They dwelt with one another,
And every man was welcome there
Who made a man his brother.

A temple of the Lord I saw,
All beautiful and holy,
Its light was love, its highest law
Compassion for the lowly;
And thence arose a mighty voice
Of countless voices blended,
The song of singers that rejoice,
Their night of sorrow ended.

I saw that city from afar,
A city of salvation,
And still it shineth like a star
To every generation;
And I, a pilgrim too, would press
Where God the host is guiding,
To reach the gates of righteousness,
A citizen abiding.

429.

Hear, O ye Nations!

Hear, hear, O ye nations, and hearing obey
The cry from the past and the call of to-day!
Earth wearies and wastes with her fresh life outpoured,
The glut of the cannon, the spoil of the sword.

Lo, dawns a new era, transcending the old,
The poet's rapt vision, by prophet foretold!
From war's grim tradition it maketh appeal
To service of all in a world's commonweal.

Home, altar, and school, the mill, and the mart,
The workers afield, in science, in art,
Peace-circled and sheltered, shall join to create
The manifold life of the firm-built state.

Then, then shall the empire of right over wrong
Be shield to the weak and a curb to the strong;
Then justice prevail and, the battle-flags furled,
The high court of nations give law to the world.

And thou, O my country, from many made one,
Last-born of the nations, at morning thy sun,
Arise to the place thou art given to fill,
And lead the world-triumph of peace and good will!

430.

The promised time.

Now is the time approaching,
By prophets long foretold,
When all shall dwell together,
One shepherd and one fold.
Let war be learned no longer,
Let strife and tumult cease,
All earth his blessed kingdom,
The Lord and Prince of Peace.

Let all that now divides us
Remove and pass away,
Like shadows of the morning
Before the blaze of day.
Let all that now unites us
More sweet and lasting prove,
A closer bond of union,
In a blest land of love.

O long-expected dawning,
Come with thy cheering ray!
Yet shall the morning brighten,
The shadows flee away.
O sweet anticipation!
It cheers the watchers on,
To pray, and hope, and labor,
Till the dark night be gone.

431.The city of God.*

Not given to us from out the skies,
Perfect, complete, to glad our eyes;
On earth the new Jerusalem
Is built by earnest, loving men.

Four-square with truth that city lies,
Its shining walls toward heaven arise,
And its foundations, strong and sure,
In righteousness and faith endure.

Its gates stand open day and night,
While issuing from them, rayed in light,
A happy throng life's highways press,
With loving zeal to serve and bless.

O city, dreamed by ancient seer!
Our faithfulness must bring thee near;
Our toil and sorrow, hope and prayer,
Alone can lift thy walls in air.

Yet not to us, to him the praise,
Whose wisdom guides and guards our ways;
Let all our hearts adoring own
The Master-Builder, God alone.

432.'Give peace in our time, O God.'

O God of love, O King of peace,
Make wars throughout the world to cease;
The wrath of sinful man restrain;
Give peace, O God, give peace again.

Remember, Lord, thy works of old,
And wonders that our fathers told;

Remember not our sin's dark stain;
Give peace, O God, give peace again.

Whom shall we trust but thee, O Lord?
Where rest but on thy faithful word?
None ever called on thee in vain:
Give peace, O God, give peace again.

Where saints and angels dwell above,
All hearts are knit in holy love;
O bind us in that heavenly chain:
Give peace, O God, give peace again.

433.'The day of the Lord.'

Kingdom of God! the day how blest
When to thy fold as to their home,
From north and south, from east and west,
Thine own of every name shall come!

Day of the Lord! thine hour draws nigh,
We see the radiant dawn afar;
The light of truth illumines the sky,
Resplendent as the morning star.

Not ours the noon, but ours the dawn,
The prelude to the full-orbed day;
And ours to bid the clouds be gone,
And give the light unhindered way.

All glory, gracious God, to thee!
We lift our eyes unto the hills,
And lo! the blessed prophecy,
By thy strong arm, its course fulfils.

'A Prayer for Peace.'

Let there be light, Lord God of Hosts!
Let there be wisdom on the earth!
Let broad humanity have birth!
Let there be deeds, instead of boasts!

Within our passionate hearts instill
The calm that endeth deadly strife;
Make us thy ministers of life;
Purge us from lusts that curse and kill.

Give us the peace of vision clear
To see our brothers' good our own,
To joy and suffer not alone:
The love that casteth out all fear.

Let woe and waste of warfare cease,
That useful labor yet may build
Its homes with love and laughter filled.
God, give thy wayward children peace!

One Lord there is, all lords above.

One Lord there is, all lords above;
His name is Truth, his name is Love,
His name is Beauty, it is Light,
His will is Everlasting Right.

But ah! to wrong what is his name?
This Lord is a Consuming Flame
To every wrong beneath the sun;
He is one Lord, the Holy One.

Lord of the Everlasting Name,
Truth, Beauty, Light, Consuming Flame!
Shall I not lift my heart to thee,
And ask thee, Lord, to rule in me?

If I be ruled in other wise,
My lot is cast with all that dies,
With things that harm, and things that hate,
And roam by night, and miss the Gate, -

Thy happy Gate, which leads to where
Love is like sunshine in the air,
And Love and Law are both the same,
Named with an Everlasting Name.

436. 'Thanksgiving for Saints and Prophets.'

To thee, Eternal Soul, be praise!
Who, from of old to our own days
Through souls of saints and prophets, Lord,
Hast sent thy light, thy love, thy word.

We thank thee for each mighty one
Through whom thy living light hath shone;
And for each humble soul and sweet
That lights to heaven our wandering feet.

We thank thee for the love divine
Made real in every saint of thine;
That boundless love itself that gives
In service to each soul that lives.

We thank thee for the word of might
The Spirit spake in darkest night;
Spake through the trumpet voices loud
Of prophets at thy throne who bowed.

Eternal Soul, our souls keep pure!
That like thy saints we may endure;
Forever through thy servants, Lord,
And thou thy light, thy love, thy word.

RICHARD WATSON GILDER.

437. 'Anniversary Hymn.'

Thou glorious God, before whose face
The generations pass away,
As to our eyes the tender grace
And marvel of each shining day,

We thank thee for the joy sublime
Of years so radiant with thy power
That all the best of endless time
Seems granted to the fleeting hour.

We praise thee for the surer right,
The clearer message from above,
The lengthening day, the shortening night,
The wiser ministries of love.

We bless thee for the friends we miss,
Who wrought out peace and stilled our pain;
And trust thee, on some height of bliss,
That thou wilt make us one again.

We magnify thy holy name;
And, while in thee our hearts rejoice,
Strong be our wills through praise and shame
To do the bidding of thy voice.

'Universal Worship.'

O Thou to whom in ancient time
The lyre of Hebrew bards was strung,
Whom kings adored in song sublime,
And prophets praised with glowing tongue!

Not now on Zion's height alone
Thy favored worshipper may dwell;
Nor where, at sultry noon, thy Son
Sat weary by the patriarch's well.

From every place below the skies,
The grateful song, the fervent prayer,
The incense of the heart, may rise
To heaven and find acceptance there.

O Thou to whom in ancient time
The lyre of prophet bards was strung!
To thee, at last, in every clime,
Shall temples rise, and praise be sung.

'In lonely vigil.'

O thou in lonely vigil led
To follow Truth's new-risen star
Ere yet her morning skies are red,
And vale and upland shadowed are, —

Gird up thy loins and take thy road,
Obedient to the vision be:
Trust not in numbers; God is God,
And one with him majority!

Soon pass the judgments of the hour,
Forgotten are the scorn and blame;
The Word moves on, a gladdening power,
And safe enshrines the prophet's fame.

Now, as of old, in lowly plight
The Christ of larger faith is born:
The watching shepherds come by night,
And then, the kings of earth at morn!

Thou mighty God!

Thou mighty God, who didst of old
The psalmist's wondrous song inspire,
Our hearts are glad that every age
Is touched by thine immortal fire.

We bless thee for the radiant bands
Whose voices sound from every shore,
Making a music clear and sweet
That man shall love forevermore.

How can we thank thee, gracious God,
For what no worth of ours has bought,—
The heritage of faith and hope,
The wider vision, nobler thought?

Our earth a deeper wonder shows,
Our skies a mightier host reveal,
The bells of God their changes ring
With fuller chords and grander peal.

All things, O God, thou makest new!
From age to age thy plastic hand
Unceasing moulds to fairer forms
The worlds that rose at thy command.

The unchanging God.

Eternal One, thou living God,
Whom changing years unchanged reveal,
With thee their way our fathers trod;
The hand they held, in ours we feel.

The same our trust, the same our need,
In sorrow's stress, in duty's hour;
We keep their faith, if not their creed,
That faith the fount of all our power.

We bless thee for the growing light,
The advancing thought, the widening view,
The larger freedom, clearer sight,
Which from the old unfolds the new.

With wider view, come loftier goal;
With fuller light, more good to see;
With freedom, truer self-control,
With knowledge, deeper reverence be.

Anew we pledge ourselves to thee,
To follow where thy truth shall lead;
Afloat upon its boundless sea,
Who sails with God is safe indeed!

442.

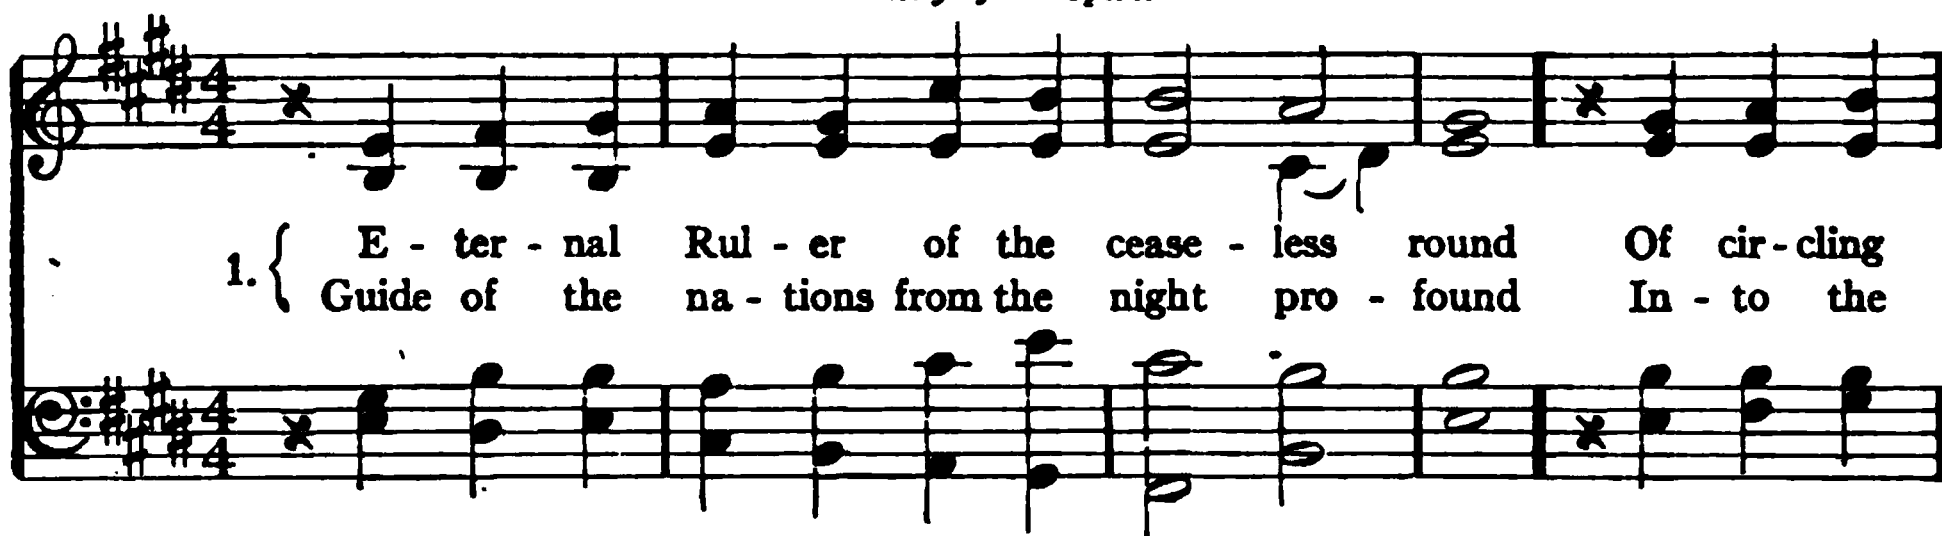

The witness of the past.

The past yet lives in all its truth, O God!
 Where thy great spirit speaks for us to hear;
 Where holy lives their lofty witness bear,
 And, by their glory, make our course more clear.

That such as these have trod the world's steep path,
 Wrestling from sin its strength, from wrong its throne,
 In every age and clime the leaders true
 By whom the way of life to man is shown, —

We, with our spirits waked to higher aims,
 Would thank thee, Holy Father of our souls,
 Taking to heart the prophecy of might
 That from their burning deeds forever rolls.

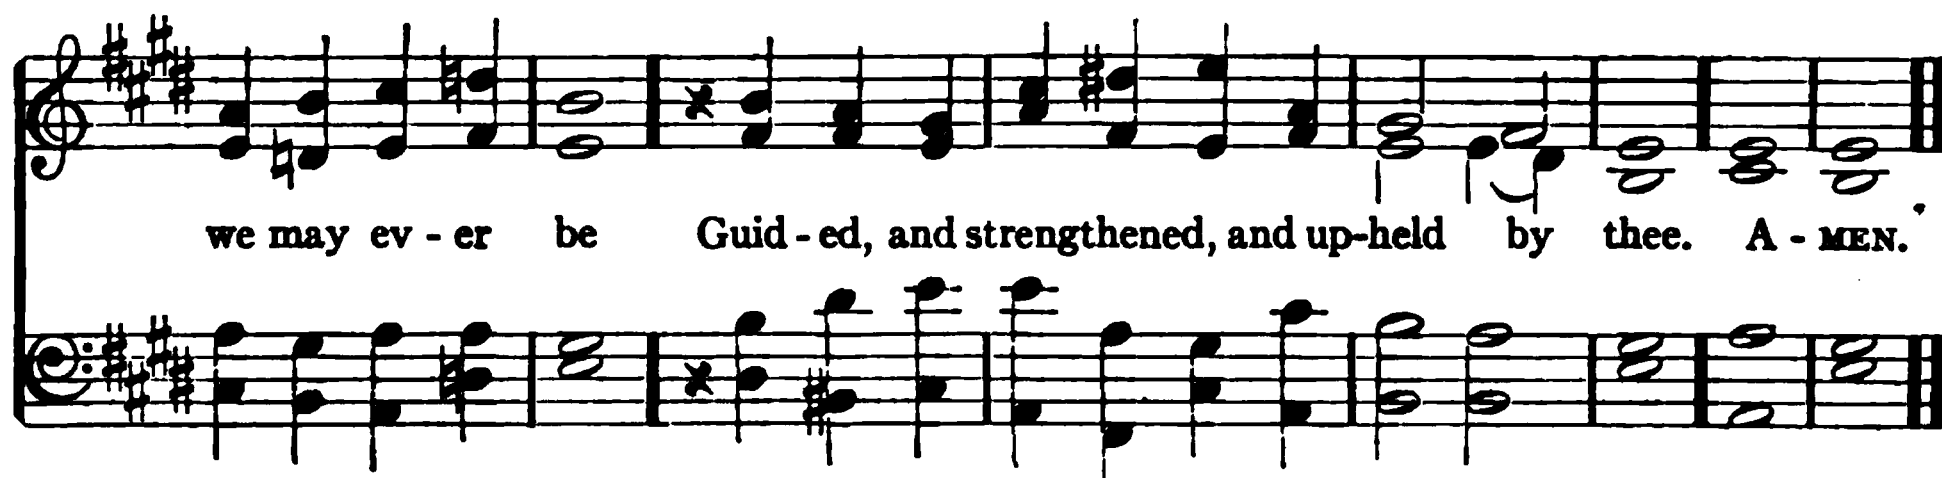

O lead us, Father! break all bonds that keep
 Our souls from heeding thee, and only thee;
 Teach us that they who serve the living truth
 Hallow all time, and move eternity.

We are of thee, the children of thy love,
The brothers of thy well-belovéd son.
Descend, O Holy Spirit, like a dove,
Into our hearts, that we may be as one,—
As one with thee, to whom we ever tend;
As one with him, our brother and our

We would be one in hatred of all wrong,
One in our love of all things sweet and fair,
One with the joy that breaketh into song,
One with the grief that trembles into
prayer,

One in the power that makes thy children free
To follow truth, and thus to follow thee.

Enough to know that we are serving thee.

'Light is sown for the righteous.'

Behold a Sower! from afar
 He goeth forth with might;
 The rolling years his furrows are,
 His seed the growing light;
 For all the just his word is sown,
 It springeth up alway;
 The tender blade is hope's young dawn,
 The harvest, love's new day.

O Lord of life, to thee we lift
 Our hearts in praise for those,
 Thy prophets, who have shown thy gift
 Of grace that ever grows,
 Of truth that spreads from shore to shore,
 Of wisdom's widening ray,
 Of light that shineth more and more thy perfect day.

Shine forth, O Light, that we may see,
 With hearts all unafraid,
 The meaning and the mystery
 Of things that thou hast made:
 Shine forth, and let the darkling past
 Beneath thy beam grow bright;
 Shine forth, and touch the future vast
 With thine untroubled light.

Light up thy word; the fettered page
 From killing bondage free:
 Light up our way; lead forth this age
 In love's large liberty.
 O Light of light! within us dwell,
 Through us thy radiance pour,
 That word and life thy truths may tell,
 And praise thee evermore.

The prophets.

O sing with loud and joyful song,
The seers of every name!
O sing the prophets high and true,
And saints of holy fame!
From age to age their voice is heard,
One solemn cry, one living word.

They came, the Lord's anointed ones,
To every age and shore;
And ever-blesséd tidings brought,
And holy witness bore;
Witness of Love's celestial light,
Of holy and eternal Right.

O thanks that all the ages down
The same love is outpoured!
O thanks that every prophet-voice
Proclaims one truth, one Lord! •
O holy throng, ye show the store
Of endless life from more to more.

446. 'Igjennem Nat og Trængsel.'

Through the night of doubt and sorrow
Onward goes the pilgrim band,
Singing songs of expectation,
Marching to the promised land.
And before us through the darkness
Gleams and burns the guiding light;
Brother clasps the hand of brother,
And steps fearless through the night.

One the light of God's own presence
O'er his faithful people shed,
Chasing far the gloom and terror,
Brightening all the path we tread:
One the object of our journey,
One the faith which never tires,
One the earnest looking forward,
One the hope our God inspires:

One the strain which lips of thousands
Lift as from the heart of one;
One the conflict, one the peril,
One the march in God begun:
One the gladness of rejoicing,
On the far eternal shore,
Where the one Almighty Father
Reigns in love forevermore.

447. 'The future peace and glory of the church.'

Hear what God, the Lord, hath spoken:
O my people, faint and few,
Comfortless, afflicted, broken,
Fair abodes I build for you;
Scenes of heartfelt tribulation
Shall no more perplex your ways:
You shall name your walls 'Salvation,'
And your gates shall all be 'Praise.'

There, like streams that feed the garden,
Pleasures without end shall flow;
For the Lord, your faith rewarding,
All his bounty shall bestow:
Still in undisturbed possession
Peace and righteousness shall reign;
Never shall you feel oppression,
Hear the voice of war again.

Ye, no more your suns descending,
Waning moons no more shall see;
But, your griefs forever ending,
Find eternal noon in me:
God shall rise, and, shining o'er you,
Change to day the gloom of night;
He, the Lord, shall be your glory,
God your everlasting light.

'Godminster.'

The ages one great minster seem
That throbs with praise and prayer;
From Calvary shines the altar's gleam,
The church's east is there:
And all the way from Calvary down
The carven pavement shows
Their graves who won the martyr's crown,
And safe in God repose.

And as the mystic aisles we pace,
By aureoled workmen built,
Lives ending at the cross we trace
Alike through grace and guilt.

Moravian hymn and Roman chant
In one devotion blend,
To speak the soul's eternal want
Of God, the inmost Friend.

O chime of sweet Saint Charity,
Peal soon that Easter morn
When Christ for all shall risen be,
And in all hearts new-born!
That Pentecost when utterance clear
To all men shall be given,
When all shall say 'my brother' here,
And hear 'my son' in heaven!

Gather us in.

Gather us in, thou Love that fillest all;
 Gather our rival faiths within thy fold;
 Rend each man's temple-veil, and bid it fall,
 That we may know that thou hast been of old.

Gather us in: we worship only thee;
 In varied names we stretch a common hand;
 In diverse forms a common soul we see;
 In many ways we seek one promised land.

Thine is the mystic life great India craves;
 Thine is the Parsee's sin-destroying beam;
 Thine is the Buddhist's rest from tossing waves;
 Thine is the empire of vast China's dream.

Thine is the Roman's strength without his pride;
 Thine is the Greek's glad world without its graves;
 Thine is Judea's law with love beside,
 The truth that censures and the grace that saves.

Some seek a Father in the heavens above;
 Some ask a human image to adore;
 Some crave a Spirit vast as life and love: —
 Within thy mansions we have all and more.

450.

*Forgive, O Lord, our severing ways,
The rival altars that we raise,
The wrangling tongues that mar thy praise!*

ALLELUIA! ALLELUIA! ALLELUIA!

Thy grace impart! In time to be
Shall one great temple rise to thee, —
Thy Church our broad humanity.

Alleluia!

White flowers of love its walls shall climb,
Soft bells of peace shall ring its chime,
Its days shall all be holy time.

Alleluia!

A sweeter song shall then be heard,
Confessing, in a world's accord,
The inward Christ, the living Word.

Alleluia!

That song shall swell from shore to shore,
One hope, one faith, one love restore
The seamless robe that Jesus wore.

Alleluia!

451. 'The City of God.'

City of God, how broad and far
 Outspread thy walls sublime!
 The true thy chartered freemen are,
 Of every age and clime.

One holy Church, one army strong,
 One steadfast, high intent,
 One working band, one harvest-song,
 One King omnipotent!

How purely hath thy speech come down
 From man's primeval youth!
 How grandly hath thine empire grown
 Of freedom, love, and truth!

How gleam thy watch-fires through the night,
 With never-fainting ray!
 How rise thy towers, serene and bright,
 To meet the dawning day!

In vain the surge's angry shock,
 In vain the drifting sands;
 Unharmed, upon the Eternal Rock,
 The eternal city stands.

SAMUEL JOHNSON, 1864.

452. The Church Universal.

One holy Church of God appears
 Through every age and race,
 Unwasted by the lapse of years,
 Unchanged by changing place.

From oldest time, on farthest shores,
 Beneath the pine or palm,
 One Unseen Presence she adores,
 With silence or with psalm.

Her priests are all God's faithful sons,
 To serve the world raised up;
 The pure in heart her baptized ones;
 Love, her communion-cup.

The truth is her prophetic gift,
 The soul her sacred page;
 And feet on mercy's errands swift
 Do make her pilgrimage.

O living Church! thine errand speed;
 Fulfil thy task sublime;
 With bread of life earth's hunger feed;
 Redeem the evil time!

SAMUEL LONGFELLOW, 1860.

453.

Inspiration.

Light of ages and of nations,
 Every race, and every time,
 Has received thine inspirations,
 Glimpses of thy truth sublime.
 Always spirits in rapt vision
 Passed the heavenly veil within,
 Always hearts bowed in contrition
 Found salvation from their sin.

Reason's noble aspiration
 Truth in growing clearness saw;
 Conscience spoke its condemnation,
 Or proclaimed the eternal law.
 While thine inward revelations
 Told thy saints their prayers were heard,
 Prophets to the guilty nations
 Spoke thine everlasting word.

Lord, that word abideth ever;
 Revelation is not sealed;
 Answering now to our endeavor,
 Truth and right are still revealed.

That which came to ancient sages,
 Greek, Barbarian, Roman, Jew,
 Written in the soul's deep pages,
 Shines to-day, forever new!

SAMUEL LONGFELLOW.

454.

The city of God.

Glorious things of thee are spoken,
 Zion, city of our God;
 He, whose word cannot be broken,
 Formed thee for his own abode:
 On the Rock of Ages founded,
 What can shake thy sure repose?
 With salvation's walls surrounded,
 Thou mayst smile at all thy foes.

See, the streams of living waters,
 Springing from eternal love,
 Well supply thy sons and daughters,
 And all fear of want remove.
 Who can faint while such a river
 Ever flows their thirst to assuage?
 Grace, which, like the Lord the Giver,
 Never fails from age to age.

VULPIUS. C. M.*(Christus, der ist mein Leben.)MELCHIOR VULPIUS, 1609.Alternative Tune: Winchester Old.455. 'The goodly fellowship of the prophets.'

From age to age how grandly rise
The prophet souls in line!
Above the passing centuries
Like beacon-lights they shine.

Through differing accents of the lip
One message they proclaim,
One growing bond of fellowship,
Above all names one Name.

They witness to one heritage,
One Spirit's quickening breath,
One widening reign, from age to age,
Of freedom and of faith.

Their kindling power our souls confess;
Though dead they speak to-day:
How great the cloud of witnesses
Encompassing our way!

Through every race, in every clime,
One song shall yet be heard:
Move onward in thy course sublime,
O Word!

FREDERICK LUCIAN HOSMER, 1890.456.The reformers.

O pure reformers! not in vain
Your trust in human kind;
The good which bloodshed could not gain,
Your peaceful zeal shall find.

The truths ye urge are borne abroad
By every wind and tide;
The voice of nature and of God
Speaks out upon your side.

The weapons which your hands have found
Are those which heaven hath wrought,
Light, truth, and love; your battleground,
The free, broad field of thought.

O may no selfish purpose break
The beauty of your plan,
No lie from throne or altar shake
Your steady faith in man.

Press on! and, if we may not share
The glory of your fight,
We'll ask at least, in earnest prayer,
God's blessing on the right.

457. 'One Life, Law, Love.'

O prophet souls of all the years,
Bend o'er us from above;
Your far-off vision, toils, and tears
Now to fulfilment move!

From tropic clime and zones of frost
They come, of every name, —
This, this our day of Pentecost,
The Spirit's tongue of flame.

One Life together we confess,
One all-indwelling Word,
One holy Call to righteousness
Within the silence heard:

One Law that guides the shining spheres
As on through space they roll,
And speaks in flaming characters
On Sinais of the soul:

One Love, unfathomed, measureless,
An ever-flowing sea,
That holds within its vast embrace
Time and eternity.

458. 'The Day of God.'

Thy kingdom come, — on bended knee
The passing ages pray;
And faithful souls have yearned to see
On earth that kingdom's day.

But the slow watches of the night
Not less to God belong,
And for the everlasting Right
The silent stars are strong.

And lo! already on the hills
The flags of dawn appear;
Gird up your loins, ye prophet souls,
Proclaim the day is near!

The day in whose clear-shining light
All wrong shall stand revealed;
When justice shall be throned in might,
And every hurt be healed:

When knowledge hand in hand with peace
Shall walk the earth abroad, —
The day of perfect righteousness,
The promised day of God.

'Let us go to seek the Lord.'

O saints of old! not yours alone
 The search for God shall be;
 We take the glory for our own;
 Lord! we are seeking thee.

Not only when ascends the song
 And soundeth sweet the word;
 Not only with the Sabbath throng,
 Our souls would seek the Lord.

We mingle with another throng,
 And other words we speak;
 To other business we belong,
 Yet still our Lord we seek.

We would not to our daily task
 Without our God repair,
 But in the world his presence ask,
 And seek his glory there.

O everywhere, O every day,
 Thy grace is still outpoured:
 We work, we watch, we strive, we pray,
 Behold thy seekers, Lord!

The field is the world.

Thou, whose glad summer yields
Fit increase of the spring,
In faith we sow these living fields,
Bless thou the harvesting.

Thy church must lead aright
Life's work, left all undone,
Till, founded fast in love and light,
Earth home to heaven be won.

Grant, then, thy servants, Lord,
Fresh strength from hour to hour;
Through speech and deed the living word
Find utterance with power,

To keep the child's faith bright,
To strengthen manhood's truth,
And set the age-dimmed eye alight
With heaven's eternal youth;

That in the time's stern strife,
With saints we speed reform,
Unresting in the calm of life,
Unshrinking in the storm.

For all thy saints.

For all thy saints, O Lord,
Who strove in thee to live,
Who followed thee, obeyed, adored,
Our grateful hymn receive.

For all thy saints, O Lord,
Accept our thankful cry,
Who counted thee their great reward,
And strove in thee to die.

They all in life and death,
With thee, their Lord, in view,
Learned from thy Holy Spirit's breath
To suffer and to do.

For this, thy name we bless,
And humbly beg that we
May follow them in holiness,
And live and die in thee.

'All nations shall flow unto it.'

Ten thousand times ten thousand,
 In sparkling raiment bright,
 The armies of the ransomed saints
 Throng up the steeps of light:
 'T is finished, all is finished,
 Their fight with death and sin;
 Fling open wide the golden gates,
 And let the victors in.

What rush of alleluias
 Fills all the earth and sky!
 What ringing of a thousand harps
 Bespeaks the triumph nigh!
 O day, for which creation
 And all its tribes were made!
 O joy, for all its former woes,
 A thousand-fold repaid!

O then what raptured greetings
 On Canaan's happy shore,
 What knitting severed friendships up,
 Where partings are no more!
 Then eyes with joy shall sparkle,
 That brimmed with tears of late,
 Orphans no longer fatherless,
 Nor widows desolate.

Ten thousand times ten thousand,
 In sparkling raiment bright,
 The armies of the ransomed saints
 Throng up the steeps of light:
 'T is finished, all is finished,

The cloud of witnesses.

For all the saints, who from their labors rest,
 Who thee by faith before the world confessed,
 Thy name, O Jesus, be forever blessed.

Alleluia!

Thou wast their rock, their fortress, and their might;
 Thou, Lord, their captain in the well-fought fight;
 Thou, in the darkness drear, their one true light.

Alleluia!

O may thy soldiers, faithful, true, and bold,
 Fight as the saints, who nobly fought of old,
 And win with them the victor's crown of gold.

Alleluia!

O blest communion, fellowship divine!
 We feebly struggle, they in glory shine;
 Yet all are one in thee, for all are thine.

'Pilgrims of the Night.'

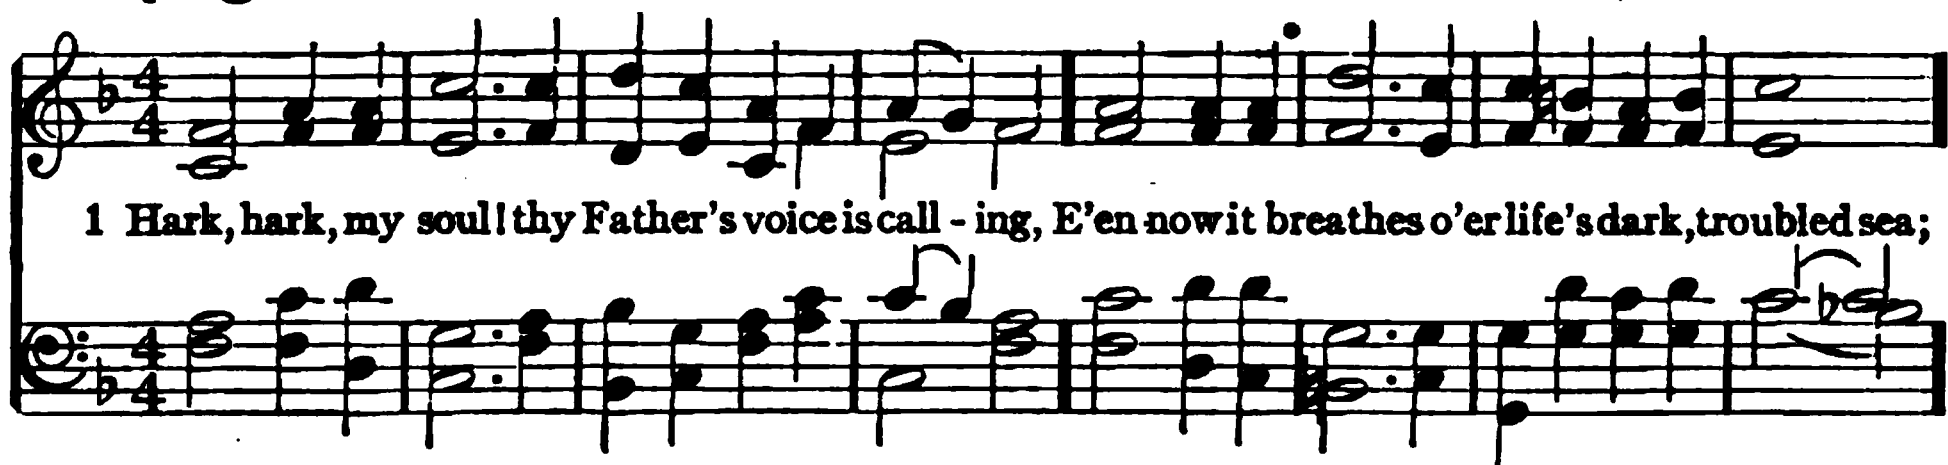

Hark, hark, my soul! angelic songs are swelling
O'er earth's green fields and ocean's wave-beat shore:
How sweet the truth those blessed strains are telling
Of that new life when sin shall be no more!
Angels of Jesus, angels of light,
Singing to welcome the pilgrims of the night!

Far, far away, like bells at evening pealing,
The voice of Jesus sounds o'er land and sea,
And laden souls by thousands meekly stealing,
Kind Shepherd, turn their weary steps to thee.
Angels of Jesus, angels of light,
Singing to welcome the pilgrims of the night!

Onward we go, for still we hear them singing,
'Come, weary souls, for Jesus bids you come';
And through the dark, its echoes sweetly ringing,
The music of the gospel leads us home.
Angels of Jesus, angels of light,
Singing to welcome the pilgrims of the night!

Psalm XXIII. 4.

In heavenly love abiding,
No change my heart shall fear;
And safe is such confiding,
For nothing changes here.
The storm may roar without me,
My heart may low be laid;
But God is round about me,
And can I be dismayed?

Wherever he may guide me,
No want shall turn me back;
My Shepherd is beside me,
And nothing can I lack.

His wisdom ever waketh,
His sight is never dim;
He knows the way he taketh,
And I will walk with him.

Green pastures are before me,
Which yet I have not seen;
Bright skies will soon be o'er me
Where darkest clouds have been.
My hope I cannot measure,
My path in life is free:
My Father has my treasure,
And he will walk with me.

'Urbs Sion aurea.'

Jerusalem, the golden,
 With milk and honey blest!
 Beneath thy contemplation
 Sink heart and voice opprest.
 I know not, O I know not
 What joys await us there,
 What radiancy of glory,
 What bliss beyond compare.

They stand, those halls of Zion,
 All jubilant with song,
 And bright with many an angel,
 And all the martyr throng.

The Prince is ever in them,
 The daylight is serene;
 The pastures of the blessed
 Are decked in glorious sheen.

There is the throne of David;
 And there, from care released,
 The shout of them that triumph,
 The song of them that feast;
 And they who, with their leader,
 Have conquered in the fight,
 Forever and forever
 Are clad in robes of white.

468.

The land of pure delight.

There is a land of pure delight
 Where saints immortal reign,
 Infinite day excludes the night,
 And pleasures banish pain.

There everlasting spring abides,
 And never withering flowers;
 Death, like a narrow sea, divides
 This heavenly land from ours.

Sweet fields beyond the swelling flood
 Stand dressed in living green:
 So to the Jews old Canaan stood,
 While Jordan rolled between.

But timorous mortals start and shrink
 To cross this narrow sea,
 And linger shivering on the brink,
 And fear to launch away.

O! could we make our doubts remove,
 Those gloomy doubts that rise —
 And see the Canaan that we love
 With unclouded eyes:

Could we but climb where Moses stood,
 And view the landscape o'er;
 Not Jordan's stream, nor death's cold flood,
 Should fright us from the shore.

Assured.

I long for household voices gone,
For vanished smiles I long;
But God hath led my dear ones on,
And he can do no wrong.

I know not what the future hath
Of marvel or surprise,
Assured alone that life and death
His mercy underlies.

And if my heart and flesh are weak
To bear an untried pain,
The bruised reed he will not break,
But strengthen and sustain.

I know not where his islands lift
Their fronded palms in air;
I only know I cannot drift
Beyond his love and care.

And so beside the silent sea
I wait the muffled oar;
No harm from him can come to me
On ocean or on shore.

470.

The dearer trust.

My God, I rather look to thee
Than to my fancies fond;
And wait till thou reveal to me
That fair and far Beyond.

I seek not of thine Eden-land
The forms and hues to know,
What trees in mystic order stand,
What strange, sweet waters flow;

What duties fill the heavenly day,
Or converse glad and kind;
Or how along each shining way
The bright processions wind.

O sweeter far to trust in thee
While all is yet unknown,
And through the death-dark cheerily
To walk with thee alone!

In thee my powers, my treasures live,
To thee my life must tend;
Giving thyself, thou all dost give,
O soul-sufficing Friend!

'At last.'

When on my day of life the night is falling,
And, in the winds from unsunned spaces blown,
I hear far voices out of darkness calling
My feet to paths unknown,
Thou, who hast made my home of life so pleasant,
Leave not its tenant when its walls decay;
O Love Divine, O Helper ever present,
Be thou my strength and stay!
Be near me when all else is from me drifting:
Earth, sky, home's pictures, days of shade and shine,
And kindly faces to my own uplifting
The love which answers mine.

I have but thee, my Father! let thy spirit
Be with me then to comfort and uphold;
No gate of pearl, no branch of palm I merit
Nor street of shining gold.

Suffice it if — my good and ill unreckoned,
And both forgiven through thine
abounding grace —
I find myself by hands familiar beckoned
Unto my fitting place.

Some humble door among thy many mansions,
Some sheltering shade where sin and striving cease,
And flows forever, through heaven's green
expansions,
The river of thy peace.

There from the music round about me stealing,
I fain would learn the new and holy song,
And find at last, beneath thy trees of healing,
The life for which I long.

JOHN GREENLEAF WHITTIER, 1882.

God of the living.

God of the living, in whose eyes
Unveiled thy whole creation lies,
All souls are thine; we must not say
That those are dead who pass away;
From this our world of flesh set free,
We know them living unto thee.

Released from earthly toil and strife,
With thee is hidden still their life;
Thy word is true, thy will is just;
To thee we leave them, Lord, in trust;
For well we know, where'er they be,
Our dead are living unto thee.

O Breather into man of breath,
O Holder of the keys of death,
O Quickener of the life within,
Save us from death, the death of sin;
That body, soul, and spirit be Forever living unto thee!

'The Abiding Love.'

It singeth low in every heart,
We hear it each and all,
A song of those who answer not,
However we may call:
They throng the silence of the breast,
We see them as of yore,
The kind, the brave, the true, the sweet,
Who walk with us no more.

'Tis hard to take the burden up,
When these have laid it down;
They brightened all the joy of life,
They softened every frown:
But O 't is good to think of them,
When we are troubled sore;
Thanks be to God that such have been,
Though they are here no more.

More homelike seems the vast unknown,
Since they have entered there;
To follow them were not so hard,
Wherever they may fare;
They cannot be where God is not,
On any sea or shore;
Whate'er betides, thy love abides,
Our God, forevermore.

'Fought a Good Fight.'

Calmly, calmly lay him down:
He hath fought a noble fight,
He hath battled for the right,
He hath won the fadeless crown.

Memories, all too bright for tears,
Crowd around us from the past:
He was faithful to the last,
Faithful through long, toilsome years.

All that makes for human good,
Freedom, righteousness and truth, —
These, the objects of his youth,
Unto age he still pursued.

Kind and gentle was his soul,
Yet it had a glorious might:
Clouded minds it filled with light,
Wounded spirits it made whole.

Calmly, calmly lay him down:
He hath fought the noble fight,
He hath battled for the right,
He hath won the fadeless crown.

Our blessed rest art thou;
And we, in love that hath no fear,
Take refuge with thee now.

And weary with the way;
We seek thy shelter from the heat
And burden of the day.

O welcome in the wilderness

Then go rejoicing on our way,

For swift temptation, aid:
Our stormy souls once more are calm,
Our wandering steps are stayed.

The holy words our ears have heard,
By saints and prophets given,
Within our silent hearts have stirred
The music sweet of heaven.

Our night has turned to sunny noon
Beneath thy quickening ray:
Life seems again a wondrous boon
Since thou hast blessed our way.

We trace with willing feet,
And bless thee for this bread of thine;

'Remember me,' the Master said,
On that forsaken night,
When from his side the nearest fled,
And death was close in sight.

Through all the following ages' track
The world remembers yet;
With love and worship gazes back,
And never can forget.

But who of us has seen his face,
Or heard the words he said?
And none can now his look retrace
In breaking of the bread.

O blest are they, who have not seen,
And yet believe him still.
They know him, when his praise they mean,
And when they do his will.

We hear his word along our way;
We see his light above;
Remember when we strive and pray,
Remember when we love.

Awaiting here thy touch of grace,
Thy heavenly mystery.

Thy lovely world, thy spoken word,
The doing thy sweet will,

Giving thy children living bread,
Leading thy weak ones on,

Proper dispositions for the communion.

O here, if ever, God of love,
Let strife and hatred cease;
And every thought harmonious move,
And every heart be peace!

Not here, where met to think on him
Whose latest thoughts were ours,
Shall mortal passions come to dim
The prayer devotion pours.

No: gracious Master, not in vain
Thy life of love hath been:
The peace thou gav'st may yet remain,
Though thou no more art seen.

Communion hymn.

O thou whose gracious presence shone
A light to bless thy fellowmen,
To thee we fondly turn again,
As to a friend that we have known.

Thy grace and truth, thy life that shed
Undying radiance through all time,
Thy tender love, thy faith sublime,—
Remembering these, we break the bread.

And lo! again we seem to hear
Thy blessing on the loaf and cup;
The presence that was lifted up
Again to loving hearts brought near.

Our lesser lives, thus touching thine,
Are joined, with all the pure and good,
In truer, nobler brotherhood
That lifts the world to realms divine.

The fellowship of Jesus.

Wherever through the ages rise
The altars of self-sacrifice,
Where love its arms hath opened wide,
Or man for man has calmly died,

We see the same white wings outspread,
That hovered o'er the Master's head;
And in all lands beneath the sun
The heart affirmeth, 'Love is one.'

Up from undated time they come,
The martyr-souls of heathendom,
And to his cross and passion bring
Their fellowship of suffering.

And the one marvel of their death
To the one order witnesseth, —
Each, in his measure, but a part
Of thine unmeasured loving heart.

When the Paschal evening fell,
Deep on Kedron's hallowed dell,
When around the festal board
Sat the apostles with their Lord,
Then his parting word he said,
Blessed the cup and brake the bread.
'This whene'er ye do or see,
Evermore remember me!'

Years have past, in every clime,
Changing with the changing time,
Varying through a thousand forms,
Torn by factions, rocked by storms.
Still the sacred table spread,
Flowing cup and broken bread,
With that parting word agree,
'Drink and eat; remember me.'

When, in this thanksgiving feast,
We would give to God our best,
From the treasures of his might,
Seeking life, and love, and light,
Then, O friend of human kind,
Make us true and firm of mind,
Pure of heart, in spirit free,
Thus may we remember thee.

O Perfect Love.

O perfect Love, all human thought transcending,
Lowly we kneel in prayer before thy throne,
That theirs may be the love which knows no ending,
Whom thou forevermore dost join in one.

O perfect Life, be thou their full assurance
Of tender charity and steadfast faith,
Of patient hope, and quiet, brave endurance,
With childlike trust that fears nor pain nor death.

Grant them the joy which brightens earthly sorrow;
Grant them the peace which calms all earthly strife;

'The Cornerstone.'

Almighty Builder, bless, we pray,
The cornerstone that here we lay;
And fair above it may we see
A house to serve mankind and thee!

In truth be these foundations laid,
Each ordered course in wisdom made,
That firm these rising walls may stand,
Thy witness in a waiting land.

So shall thy people honor yet
The sure foundation thou hast set,
In prophets and apostles known,
With Jesus Christ the cornerstone.

Eternal One, to thee we raise
This house of service and of praise;
Thy love and glory shall not fade
When all earth's temples low are laid.

Hymn on removing from an ancient house of worship.

O Thou to whom in prayer and praise
We here have turned with constant heart,
Attend once more the song we raise,
As from this hallowed place we part.

Hallowed, indeed, this temple stands
By faithful witness to thy truth,
By memories dear to hearts and hands
Bound to our own in age and youth.

What names still linger in our love!
What faces our remembrance paints!
One fellowship, below, above, —
The bright procession of thy saints.

Whatever changes we may know,
Be thou, unchanging, our defence;
And let thy presence with us go,
Or carry not thy people hence.

And bless, we pray, this house once more,
Still pledged unto thy service high,
As here beside its closing door
We linger with a fond good-bye.

'The true priest.'

Lord, who dost the voices bless
Crying in the wilderness,
And the lovely gifts increase
Of the messengers of peace,
Thou, whose temple is with men,
Show us thy true priest again.

In the holy place may he
Thy immediate presence see;
Or through deserts, Father, led,
Show thy people heavenly bread,
While his lips at thy control,
Warn, instruct, inspire, console.

Give him to his priestly dress
Faith and zeal and righteousness.
Then, lest all thy gifts be lost,
Breathe thy gift of Pentecost, —
Love, whose many-languaged fire
Finds each listening soul's desire.

THEODORE CHICKERING WILLIAMS, 1881.

490.

'Behold! the fields are white.'

O still in accents sweet and strong
 Sounds forth the ancient word, —
 'More reapers for white harvest fields,
 More laborers for the Lord.'

We hear the call; in dreams no more
 In selfish ease we lie,
 But girded for our Father's work,
 Go forth beneath his sky.

Where prophets' word, and martyrs' blood,
 And prayers of saints were sown,
 We, to their labors entering in,
 Would reap where they have strown.

O Thou whose call our hearts has stirred,
 To do thy will we come;
 Thrust in our sickles at thy word,
 And bear our harvest home.

491.

'Cloisters of the spirit.'

God laid his rocks in courses,
His forest crowned the hill,
He yoked his ancient forces,
And lent them to man's will;
The will he woke to duty,
He graced the hand that wrought, —
Till in the temple's beauty
The soul its Maker sought.

To cloisters of the spirit
These aisles of quiet lead:
Here shall the vision gladden,
The voice within us plead;
And may the dear All-Father,
Who maketh trouble cease,
Here send his three strong angels,
Contrition, hope and peace!

The song these walls shall echo
Be song the heart within,
The prayer in consecration's
Sweet privacies begin!
Work on, O silent Builder,
Perfect thy inner shrine,
Till song pass into service,
Prayer into life divine!

Here be no man a stranger;
No holy cause be banned;
No good for one be counted,
Not good for all the land;
And here for prophet-voices
The message never fail, —
'God reigns! his truth shall conquer,
And right and love prevail!'

The House of God.

O Thou whose hand has brought us
Unto this joyful day,
Accept our glad thanksgiving,
And listen as we pray;
And may our preparation
For this day's service be
With one accord to offer
Ourselves, O Lord, to thee.

And oft as here we gather,
And hearts in worship blend,
May truth reveal its power,
And fervent prayer ascend;
Here may the busy toiler
Rise to the things above,
The young, the old, be strengthened,
And all men learn thy love.

And, as the years roll over,
And strong affections twine,
And tender memories gather
About this sacred shrine,
May this its chief distinction,
Its glory, ever be,
That multitudes within it
Have found their way to thee.

Lord God, our fathers' helper,
Our joy and hope and stay,
Grant now a gracious earnest
Of many a coming day.
Our yearning hearts thou knowest;
We wait before thy throne;
O come, and by thy presence
Make this new house thine own.

'The House of God.'

To hold thy glory, Lord of all,
The whole round world and starry skies
Were but a dwelling-place too small,
Though measureless to mortal eyes.

Yet in creation's endless round,
No shining star where thou art not,
No place in which thou art not found,
Nor where thy wisdom has not wrought.

Though to thy name thy children raise
This house of prayer and call it thine,
Not here alone thy name we praise,
Nor to these walls our prayer confine.

For gift and offering we bring
Our nobler thought and best desires,
And in fraternal anthem sing
The faith by which each soul aspires.

The longings every heart has known,
The truth and good that keep us free,
The joy or anguish most our own,
Are lifted up to heaven and thee.

Lord of all life in earth and skies,
Here make our erring souls thy care,
Here bless our common sacrifice,
Till each shall find thee everywhere.

Dedication of a parish house.

Through willing heart and helping hand,
Behold achieved our long desire!
And gathered here, a household band,
We light to-night the household fire.

Be welcomed here the old, the young,
The rich, the poor, the prince and thrall:
Be Jesus' motto high uphung, —
Who serveth most is chief of all.

Here mirth and pastime speed the hour,
The lighter moods that ease our care:
Here graver themes, through lips of power,
Give guidance to the ways we fare!

May human fellowship here take
A radiance from the altar's glow,
And kindlier hearts, here quickened, make
From purer founts its worship flow!

O Thou whose service, wide and free,
Is inward strength and light and cheer, —
Be that our bond of unity
And fire the souls that gather here!

ANGELUS. L. M.GEORG JOSEPHI, circa 1657.495.Dedication of a church.*

All things are thine; no gift have we
Lord of all gifts, to offer thee:
And hence with grateful hearts to-day
Thine own before thy feet we lay.

Thy will was in the builders' thought;
Thy hand unseen amidst us wrought;
Through mortal motive, scheme and plan,
Thy wise, eternal purpose ran.

In weakness and in want we call
On thee for whom the heavens are small;
Thy glory is thy children's good,
Thy joy, thy tender Fatherhood.

O Father, deign these walls to bless;
Fill with thy love their emptiness;
And let their door a gateway be
To lead us from ourselves to thee.

496.Reunion.

Thou gracious Power, whose mercy lends
The light of home, the smile of friends,
Our gathered flock thine arms enfold
As thou didst keep thy folk of old.

For all the blessings life has brought,
For all its sorrowing hours have taught,
For all we mourn, for all we keep,
The hands we clasp, the loved that sleep,

The noontide sunshine of the past,
These brief, bright moments fading fast,
The stars that gild our darkening years,
The twilight ray from holier spheres,

We thank thee, Father; let thy grace
Our loving circles still embrace,
Thy mercy shed its heavenly store,
Thy peace be with us evermore.

With loving hearts and hands we rear
This house of praise and prayer,
Assured that he will meet us here
Who meets us everywhere.

O God! the heavens contain thee not
In all their starry halls;
And wilt thou condescend to dwell
Within these earthen walls?

Thy home is in the highest place,
And in the lowliest mind;
Where'er thy children seek thy grace,
They there thy grace shall find.

Within this sanctuary, Lord,
Fulfil our hearts' desire;
And on our lowly altar now
Let fall the heavenly fire.

498. 'How amiable are thy tabernacles.'

Thou, whose unmeasured temple stands
Built over earth and sea,
Accept the walls that human hands
Have raised, O God, to thee.

And let the Comforter and Friend,
Thy Holy Spirit, meet
With those who here in worship bend
Before thy mercy-seat.

May they who err be guided here
To find the better way,
And they who mourn and they who fear
Be strengthened as they pray.

May faith grow firm, and love grow warm,
And hallowed wishes rise,
While round these peaceful walls the storm
Of earth-born passion dies.

WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT, 1820.

499. In spirit and in truth.

The offerings to thy throne which rise,
Of mingled praise and prayer,
Are but a worthless sacrifice,
Unless the heart is there.

Upon thine all-discerning ear
Let no vain words intrude;
No tribute but the vow sincere,—
The tribute of the good.

My offerings will indeed be blest,
If sanctified by thee;
If thy pure spirit touch my breast
With its own purity.

Oh, may that spirit warm my heart
To piety and love,
And to life's lowly vale impart
Some rays from heaven above!

'On opening an organ.'

All nature's works his praise declare,
To whom they all belong;
There is a voice in every star,
In every breeze a song.
Sweet music fills the world abroad
With strains of love and power;
The stormy sea sings praise to God,
The thunder and the shower.

To God the tribes of ocean cry,
And birds upon the wing;
To God the powers that dwell on high
Their tuneful tribute bring.
Like them, let man the throne surround,
With them loud chorus raise,
While instruments of loftier sound
Assist his feeble praise.

Great God, to thee we consecrate
Our voices and our skill;
We bid the pealing organ wait
To speak alone thy will.
O teach its rich and swelling notes
To lift our souls on high,
And while the music round us floats,
Let earth-born passion die.

'Hymn of departure.'
(On leaving a house of worship.)

The works, O Lord, our hands have wrought,
 The symbols of our deepest thought,
 The labors of our day;
 How dear soe'er those works may be Within thy vast eternity
 They rise and pass away.

We thank thee, Lord of light and love, —
 Whose dwelling-place is not above
 More truly than below, —
 That when we leave this house of prayer
 Thy Spirit meets us everywhere
 And guides us as we go.

In moments when the heavenly flame
 Of Pentecostal quickening came,
 And touched our spirits here;
 Through friends and scenes and hallowed days
 Our hearts in gratitude and praise
 Have felt thy presence near.

O blessed Soul, where'er we fare
 Still keep us in thy sheltering care,
 Still bless by thy commands;
 Through faith we here have sought to win
 Prepare us for thy peace within
 The house not made with hands.

LEWIS GILBERT WILSON, 1912.

502.

The house our fathers built to God.

We love the venerable house
 Our fathers built to God;
 In heaven are kept their grateful vows,
 Their dust endears the sod.

Here holy thoughts a light have shed
 From many a radiant face,
 And prayers of humble virtue spread
 The perfume of the place.

And anxious hearts have pondered here
 The mystery of life,
 And prayed the Eternal Light to clear
 Their doubts and aid their strife.

From humble tenements around
 Came up the pensive train,
 And in the church a blessing found,
 That filled their homes again;

For faith, and peace, and mighty love,
 That from the Godhead flow,
 Showed them the life of heaven above
 Springs from the life below.

They live with God, their homes are dust;
 Yet here their children pray,
 And in this fleeting lifetime trust
 To find the narrow way.

503.

'Church anniversary.'

O Light, from age to age the same,
 Forever living Word,
 Here have we felt thy kindling flame,
 Thy voice within have heard.

Here holy thought and hymn and prayer
 Have winged the spirit's powers,
 And made these walls divinely fair, —
 Thy temple, Lord, and ours.

What visions rise above the years,
 What tender memories throng,
 Till the eye fills with happy tears,
 The heart with grateful song!

Vanish the mists of time and sense;
 They come, the loved of yore,
 And one encircling Providence
 Holds all forevermore.

O not in vain their toil who wrought
 To build faith's freer shrine,
 Nor theirs whose steadfast love and thought
 Have watched the fire divine.

Burn, holy fire, and shine more wide!
 While systems rise and fall,
 Faith, hope, and charity abide,
 The heart and soul of all.

504.

Anniversary hymn.

We honor those whose work began
 With praise to God and prayer for man;
 The altar fire they kindled here
 Shines brightly forth from year to year.

Here groping sorrow found the light;
 Here wills of weakness turned to might;
 Here brotherhood rejoiced to be;
 Here rose the sons of God set free.

O Source divine, give all this hour
 Fresh faith in truth's triumphal power;
 New hope for never-ending life,
 More love subduing hate and strife.

These earthly temples, Lord, decay,
 For mortal glories have their day;
 But praise and prayer live on sublime
 Above the wreck and wrath of time.

EDWARD AUGUSTUS HORTON, 1912.

505.

Dedication of a church.

God of our fathers, hear our prayer:
 Thy holy throne is everywhere;
 Thine arm upheld thy saints of old,
 And still is strong to guard thy fold.

Our fathers loved to hear thy word,
 Ere freedom's sacred voice was heard;
 And faithful kept, from age to age,
 The truth, our noblest heritage.

Not as of old, with silent fear,
 We raise our home and altar here;
 Ours is the brighter, fairer day
 Of reason's light and freedom's way.

Father, give thou thy blessing here,
 Since to thy name this house we rear,
 That ages yet unborn may share
 The trust committed to our care.

Here let thy church, devout and free,
 Arise devoted, Lord, to thee; —
 Our faith divine, our worship pure,
 Our work abiding, firm and sure.

506.

The memorial of virtue is immortal.

Within this temple, reared of old
 By faithful men and true,
 We keep the faith our fathers kept,
 Their vows to God renew.
 They fought the fight, they sank from sight
 Beneath the sacred sod;
 Though dead, they yet speak on, — they live:
 Their souls do rest in God!
 They nobly battled for the right, —
 Come many or come few, —
 The stainless banner of God's truth
 Above them proudly flew.
 Undauntedly they testified,
 Again, and yet again.
 They slumbered not on ward or watch:
 They quitted them like men!
 And manfully they took their post
 When conscience gave the word;
 No earthly lure availed to tempt
 Those servants of the Lord.

They faced the persecutor's power,
 Nor feared the world's dark frown,
 The wrath of man was turned aside:
 The Lord was with his own!

Within these hallowed walls were found
 Pure witnesses for truth,
 Of sweet and sainted womanhood,
 And bright and buoyant youth;
 Like angels fair, in memory's realm,
 They float in holy light,
 And softly waft their message down:
 Be steadfast in the right!

Eternal One! before whose face
 Men rise and pass away
 Whose holy will our fathers sought,
 As we would seek to-day.
 Be with us thou, who wert with them,
 Lead on by staff or rod,
 We ask thy blessing, Lord, this day:
 We trust our fathers' God.

Anniversary hymn.

O Thou whose perfect goodness crowns
With peace and joy this sacred day,
Our hearts are glad for all the years
Thy love has kept us in thy way.

For common tasks of help and cheer,
For quiet hours of thought and prayer,
For moments when we seemed to feel
The breath of a diviner air;

For mutual love and trust that keep
Unchanged through all the changing time;
For friends within the veil who thrill
Our spirits with a hope sublime, —

For truth that evermore makes free
From bounds of sect and bonds of creed;
For light that shines that we may see
Our own in every brother's need;

For this and more than words can say,
We praise and bless thy holy name.
Come life or death; enough to know
That thou art evermore the same!

The present God.

Far off, O God, and yet most near,
Unseen, yet shining clear in all.
Thy presence moves, thy ways appear
In system's rise and sparrow's fall.

Thy purpose through the ages ran,
Thy word thy prophets bore abroad,
Thy love became a son of man
To make men with him sons of God.

Our eyes thy loveliness discern,
Where nature weaves thy wondrous dress,
And in sweet human lives we learn
The beauty of thy holiness.

Our lives within thy being stand;
Our sciences omniscience prove;
Thy law is but thy clasping hand,
Thine order is thy perfect love.

Our hymns are sung, our prayers are said;
Once more we homeward wend our ways,
And some have eaten heavenly bread,
And some have soared on wings of praise.

Yet, Lord, we leave thee not behind,
As from our house of prayer we go;
Thy presence in the world we find,
When here thy love we learn to know.

Here we have heavenward raised our eyes;
Again to earth our thoughts descend:
O let the glory of thy skies
With earthly joys and sorrows blend.

Our homes be brightened by thy smile;
Our work be done as unto thee:
Let no dark thought our mirth defile;
No sin enslave our liberty.

So grant us, Father, that each spot
May catch the sunlight of thy face;
And whatsoe'er may be our lot
Let it be hallowed by thy grace.

Give thou us grace to bring

And shall we not adore thee

Over land and sea,
Happy light is flowing,

All earth's thousand voices
Swell the psalm of praise.

God's free mercy streameth
Over all the world,
And his banner gleameth

Broad and deep and glorious
As the heaven above,
Shines in might victorious
His eternal love.

Lord, upon our blindness
Thy pure radiance pour;
For thy loving-kindness
Make us love thee more.
And when clouds are drifting
Dark across the sky,
Then, the mist uplifting,

We are children of one Father,
All alike his children dear;
When around his feet we gather,
Every voice he bends to hear:
Every whisper, every whisper

All our blessings he has given;
All we have to him belongs:
We are here to build up heaven
In the place of sins and wrongs:
To our Father, to our Father,
Loving deeds are sweetest songs.

Children, every hour is bringing

Would you join his angels' singing?
Share his angels' mission, too.

Father, lead me day by day,
Ever in thine own sweet way;
Teach me to be pure and true,
Show me what I ought to do.

When in danger, make me brave;
Make me know that thou canst save:
Keep me safe by thy dear side;
Let me in thy love abide.

When I'm tempted to do wrong,
Make me steadfast, wise, and strong;
And when all alone I stand,
Shield me with thy mighty hand.

When my heart is full of glee,
Help me to remember thee,
Happy most of all to know
That my Father loves me so.

When my work seems hard and dry,
May I press on cheerily;
Help me patiently to bear
Pain and hardship, toil and care.

May I see the good and bright,
When they pass before my sight;
May I hear the heavenly voice
When the pure and wise rejoice.

May I do the good I know,
Be thy loving child below,
Then at last go home to thee,
Evermore thy child to be.

Not a bird that doth not sing
Sweetest praises to thy name,
Not an insect on the wing
But thy wonders doth proclaim.

Far and near, o'er land and sea,
Mountain top and wooded dell,
All in singing, sing of thee,
Songs of love ineffable.

May we all, with songs of praise,
Whilst on earth, thy name adore,
Till with angel choirs we raise
Songs of praise forevermore.

525. The children's hymn.

Lord, this day thy children meet,
In thy courts with willing feet;
Unto thee this day they raise
Grateful hearts in hymns of praise.

Not alone the day of rest
With thy worship shall be blest;
In our pleasure and our glee,
Lord, we would remember thee.

Help us unto thee to pray,
Hallowing our happy day;
From thy presence thus to win
Hearts all pure and free from sin.

All our pleasures here below,
Father, from thy mercy flow:
Little children thou dost love,
Draw our hearts to thee above.

'A Morning Hymn for a Child.'

O God, I thank thee that the night
In peace and rest hath passed away,
And that I see in this fair light
My Father's smile that makes it day.

Be thou my Guide, and let me live
As under thine all-seeing eye;
For thou each day my bread dost give,
And thou wilt all my wants supply.

'An Evening Hymn for a Child.'

Another day its course hath run,
And still, O God, thy child is blest;
For thou hast been by day my sun,
And thou wilt be by night my rest.

Sweet sleep descends, my eyes to close;
And now, when all the world is still,
I give my body to repose,
My spirit to my Father's will.

Hear us, O our Father!

Father from thy throne on high,
Far above the bright blue sky,
Look on us with loving eye, —
Hear us, O our Father!

Children's lives may be divine,
Little deeds of love may shine,
Youthful hearts be wholly thine, —
Hear us, O our Father!

Be thou with us every day,
In our work and in our play,
When we learn and when we pray, —
Hear us, O our Father!

Make us brave, without a fear;
Make us happy, full of cheer,
Sure that thou art always near, —
Hear us, O our Father!

Heavenly Shepherd.

Heavenly Shepherd, true and holy,
Hear, O hear us while we pray!
Let thy children, weak and lowly
Be thy care in life's young day.

We are thine; do thou befriend us,
Be the guardian of our way;
Keep thy flock, from sin defend us;
Seek us when we go astray.

Little children, wake and listen!

Little children, wake and listen!
 Songs are breaking o'er the earth;
 While the stars in heaven glisten
 Hear the news of Jesus' birth.

Long ago, to lonely meadows
 Angels brought the message down;
 Still each year through midnight shadows,
 It is heard in every town.

What is this that they are telling,
 Singing in the quiet street?
 While their voices high are swelling,
 What sweet words do they repeat?

Words to bring us greater gladness,
 Though our hearts from care are free;
 Words to chase away our sadness,
 Cheerless though our hearts may be.

'Praise to God!' The angels' chorus
 Rings through all the earth again.
 Sweetly sounds the echo o'er us,
 'Peace on earth, good-will to men.'

Little children, wake and listen!
 Songs are ringing through the earth;
 While the stars in heaven glisten,
 Hear the news of Jesus' birth.

IN THE LONELY MIDNIGHT. 6.5.6.5.6.5.6.5.

ALONZO POTTER HOWARD.

531.

In the lonely midnight,
On the wintry hill,
Shepherds heard the angels
Singing, 'Peace, good-will.'
Listen, O ye weary,
To the angels' song,
Unto you the tidings
Of great joy belong.
Though in David's city
Angels sing no more,
Love makes angel music
On earth's darkest shore;

Though no heavenly glory
Meet your wondering eyes,
Love can make your dwelling
Bright as paradise.
Though the child of Mary,
Sent from heaven on high,
In his manger cradle
May no longer lie,
Love is King forever,
Though the proud world scorn;
If ye truly seek him,
Christ your King is born.

The beautiful old story.

O the beautiful old story!
 Of the little child that lay
 In a manger on that morning,
 When the stars sang in the day;
 When the happy shepherds kneeling,
 As before a holy shrine,
 Blessed God and the tender mother
 For a life that was divine.

O the pleasant, peaceful story!
 Of the youth who grew so fair,
 In his father's humble dwelling,
 Poverty and toil to share,
 Till around him, in the temple,
 Marvelling, the old men stood,
 As through his wise innocence
 Shone the meek boy's angelhood.

O the wonderful, true story!
 Of the messenger from God,
 Who among the poor and lowly,
 Bravely and devoutly trod,
 Working miracles of mercy,
 Preaching peace, rebuking strife,
 Blessing all the little children,
 Lifting up the dead to life.

O the sad and solemn story!
 Of the cross, the crown, the spear,
 Of the pardon, pain, and glory
 That have made this name so dear.
 This example let us follow,
 Fearless, faithful to the end,
 Walking in the sacred footsteps
 Of our brother, master, friend.

'Adeste, fideles, laeti triumphantes.'

O come, all ye faithful,
Joyful and triumphant,
Come ye, O come ye to Bethlehem.
There shall we see him
Lying in a manger,
:O come, let us behold him:
Mary's child!

Lo, humble shepherds,
Hasting to his cradle,
Leaving their flocks in the fields, draw near.

We, too, with gladness,
Thither bend our footsteps.
:O come, let us behold him:
Wondrous child!

Sing, choirs of angels,
Sing with exultation!
Sing, O ye citizens of earth and heaven!
Praise to the Father,
Worship and thanksgiving!
:O come, let us adore him:
God the Lord!

Guiding travelers on their way,
Who their gold and incense bring,
Offerings to the promised king,
Child of David's line,

Angel voices wake the air;
'Glory be to God in heaven;

Lend-a-Hand Song.

From city and from prairie
 From every happy home,
 To help the faint and weary,
 Our Father's children come.
 As far as sunlight reaches,
 As high as mountains stand
 Our gladsome gospel teaches
 How all shall lend a hand.

The boys shall tell their mothers,
 The fathers tell the boys,
 The sisters tell their brothers,
 Till all the lands rejoice.
 As far as sunlight reaches,
 Glad news to eager men,
 And every learner teaches
 That 'Ten times one is ten.'

In every home of sorrow,
 Some loving comfort bring,
 And something more to-morrow,
 While all unite and sing,
 Look upward to his heaven,
 Look forward at his call,
 And use the strength he's given,
 To lend a hand to all.

The students' hymn.

In life's earnest morning,
When our hope was high,
Came thy voice in summons,
Not to be put by:
Nor in toil nor sorrow,
Weakness nor dismay,
Need we ever falter, —
Art not thou our stay?

Teach us, Lord, thy wisdom,
While we seek men's lore:
May the mind be humbled
As we know thee more:
Let the larger vision
Bring the childlike heart,
And our deeper knowledge
Holier zeal impart.

Should thy face be clouded
To our spirits' sight,
Speak through human kindness,
Shine through nature's light,
In the face of loved ones,
Or the ties of home —
Only, gracious Father,
To thy children come.

EBENEZER SHERMAN OAKLEY, 1885.

538.

The city of the Lord.

The fathers built this city
In ages long ago,
And, busy in its busy streets,
They hurried to and fro;
The children played around them
And sang the songs of yore,
Till, one by one, they fell asleep,
To work and play no more.

Yet still the city standeth,
A hive of toiling men,
And mother's love makes happy home
For children now as then;
O God of ages, help us
Such citizens to be
That children's children here may sing
The songs of liberty.

Let all the people praise thee,
Give all thy saving health,
Or vain the laborer's strong right arm
And vain the merchant's wealth.
Send forth thy light to banish
The shadows and the shame,
Till all the civic virtues shine
Around our city's name.

A commonweal of brothers,
United, great and small;
Upon our banner blazoned be
The charter, 'Each for all!'
Nor let us cease from battle,
Nor weary sheathe the sword,
Until this city is become
The city of the Lord.

*(Land of our birth, we pledge to thee
Our love and toil in the years to be,
When we are grown and take our place
As men and women with our race.)*

Father in heaven, who lovest all,
O help thy children when they call;
That they may build from age to age
An undefiled heritage.

Teach us to bear the yoke in youth,
With steadfastness and careful truth;
That, in our time, thy grace may give
The truth whereby the nations live.

Teach us to rule ourselves alway,
Controlled and cleanly night and day;
That we may bring, if need arise,
No maimed or worthless sacrifice.

Teach us to look in all our ends
On thee for Judge and not our friends;
That we, with thee, may walk uncowed
By fear or favor of the crowd.

Teach us the strength that cannot seek,
By deed or thought, to hurt the weak;
That, under thee, we may possess
Man's strength to comfort man's distress.

Teach us delight in simple things,
And mirth that has no bitter springs,
Forgiveness free of evil done,
And love to all men 'neath the sun.

*(Land of our birth, our faith, our pride,
For whose dear sake our fathers died;
O Motherland, we pledge to thee
Head, heart, and hand through the years to be.)*

Isaiah VI, 8.

The voice of God is calling
Its summons unto men;
As once he spake in Zion,
So now he speaks again.
Whom shall I send to succor
My people in their need?
Whom shall I send to loosen
The bonds of shame and greed?

I hear my people crying
In cot and mine and slum;
No field or mart is silent,
No city street is dumb.
I see my people falling
In darkness and despair.
Whom shall I send to shatter
The fetters which they bear?

We heed, O Lord, thy summons,
And answer: Here are we!
Send us upon thine errand!
Let us thy servants be!
Our strength is dust and ashes,
Our years a passing hour;
But thou canst use our weakness,
To magnify thy power.

From ease and plenty save us,
From pride of place absolve;
Purge us of low desire,
Lift us to high resolve.
Take us, and make us holy,
Teach us thy will and way.
Speak, and, behold! we answer,
Command, and we obey!

 Going on before.

 Brothers, we are treading

 May we not divided,
 But one body be,
 One in hope and duty,
 One in charity. Onward, etc.

Onward, then, ye people,
 Join our happy throng,
 Blend with ours your voices

'The Landing of the Pilgrim Fathers.'

The breaking waves dashed high
 On a stern and rock-bound coast,
 And the woods against a stormy sky
 Their giant branches tossed;
 And the heavy night hung dark,
 The hills and waters o'er,
 When a band of exiles moored their bark
 On the wild New England shore.

Not as the conqueror comes,
 They, the true-hearted, came;
 Not with the roll of stirring drums,
 And the trumpet that sings of fame:
 Not as the flying come,
 In silence and in fear;
 They shook the depths of the desert's gloom
 With their hymns of lofty cheer.

Amidst the storm they sang;
 And the stars heard, and the sea!
 And the sounding aisles of the dim woods rang
 To the anthem of the free.
 The ocean eagle soared
 From his nest by the white wave's foam;
 And the rocking pines of the forest roared;
 This was their welcome home!

What sought they thus afar?
 Bright jewels of the mine?
 The wealth of seas, the spoils of war?
 They sought a faith's pure shrine!
 Ay, call it holy ground,
 The soil where first they trod!
 They have left unstained, what here they found:
 Freedom to worship God.
